

PARISIAN PARTY GOWNS

"Ball gowns" proper in Paris have so far been given but one new shade, a sort of delicate orange, called, however, "peach pink." Otherwise it is pale pink, blue or white that is very slightly tinged with cream. These are trimmed with gold lace, literally speaking, for it is in a cobweb-like insertion of dull gold that the metallic phase finds its favorite expression. Sometimes the gold is intermingled with silver, though the latter is seldom used alone. Whichever may be the metal chosen, it is toned that the effect produced is delicately rich, never the garishness of tinsel.

When closely draped folds of airy chiffon are weighted with these new trimmings the effect is of a certain dramatic grace. And chiffon is more than ever the cry. Each season's experience seems to make us more appreciative of its possibilities, and it becomes correspondingly more dear to the feminine heart.

As for sleeves! They are the season's chiefest coquetterie. A demure little outer sleeve of the material is slashed its full length to display beneath a bewildering affair of white chiffon with ruffles and ruffles of billowy lace. And through these two transparent sleeves the arm is faintly outlined.

MOST TALENTED BOY OF HIS AGE

Composes Music and Writes Stories Although Just Turning Five

This is furnished by Melvyn Edward Hesselberg of Nashville Tenn He is just turning 5 years old but already composes music and writes stories

Hesselberg is a name well known in Nashville for the parent of the wonderful youngster is Edouard Hesselberg a musician of international fame, who has lately taken the chair of music in Belmont College, Nashville

Mr Hesselberg is a Russian grand nephew of Davidoff the world's greatest cellist He too was precocious for a student in Moscow he was permitted to appear at the famous Philharmonic concerts being the only student thus honored When he graduated he received a gold medal the only one tendered to any member of his class and performed Liszt's famous Dance Macabre before a distinguished audience Hesselberg then studied piano with Rubinstein

In 1905 Mr Hesselberg went to Belmont as director of the musical department He and his staff have lifted the college to a place of importance in the South

Mrs Hesselberg is also an artist a writer who makes a specialty of children's stories in the kindergarten form

From this artistic parentage it is easy to see where the youngster gets his talent

Little Hesselberg was born with melody in his soul At the age of 3 and a half years he began humming little melodies which seemed to the musical ear of the father to have originality He questioned the boy and asked where he had heard them

BORN MELODIOUS.

I just made it up, was the boyish answer

Thinking the melody had merely been an accidental hitting of notes that went well together Mr Hesselberg paid no further attention until he began observing that the boy remembered every note of each melody as he sang it the first time and that he kept them all separate and distinct in mind and never confused them together

Then little Hesselberg started giving names to his melodies They were simple, little meaningless names nursery terms, one for instance, being known as "Chimallin, Chimallin Chim," but they showed that he mentally treated them as distinct tunes

By this time thoroughly interested the father sat down with the boy, and had him hum over his little repertoire of airs He wrote them out and on each put the name given by Melvyn

Several days later he called the boy to him "Sing me 'Chimallin, Chimallin, Chim,'" he said The boy went over it note for note without a single change in time or melody Then he did the same thing with each of the melodies, and the father who had copied them down note for note, was astonished to find how faultless the child's memory was

From this time on Melvyn has been composing He is still too young to read or write but he dictates the tunes to his father

Like all children he is very critical, and will not allow a note of what he invents to be changed His father has frequently experimented and purposely made alterations to see if Melvyn would detect them In every case the result has been the same The boy has protested, instantly and compellingly, the air to be played as he first discovered it

Most of the melodies are good, and show originality This could hardly be otherwise, for Melvyn is too young to have observed and studied the ideas of others, and that which he produces must necessarily come entirely from himself

His stories are produced in a similar manner He gets an idea for a tale, thinks it over, and then dictates it to his mother Afterwards she reads it to him, and he expresses every satisfaction provided it is identical with the way he first called it off, but he always complains if any change has been made

All the faults of his English and the immaturity of his ideas must be retained for his wonderful memory is a veritable Sherlock Holmes ready to detect the least error or deception

Melvyn does not look like a genius or a child phenomenon There is nothing of the priggish, precocious child wonder about him He is fat and healthy, in fact, a famous boy beauty

His beautiful features and perfect complexion have made him the winner at numerous beauty shows held over the State At every exhibition of pretty children he is invariably the winner Late at the State Fair he took first prize in a competition against hundreds of children

It is the purpose of Mr Hesselberg to give Melvyn the most advanced musical education He believes that there is in his son the capacity of a musical genius, a great one, and this estimate does not depend alone on the father's fondness, for others who have heard the simple little melodies of the boy, with their freshness and originality, credit him with a natural flow of tunefulness that when refined and developed by art and study ought to make a great composer

But Melvyn will not be taxed too hard The little brain's capacity is not to be overestimated because of its unusually early declaration of power Not until it has matured enough to bear the strain of hard study will the father begin technical training of his child

Meantime Melvyn will continue to dream out his little stories and compose his little nursery jingles, and take the beauty prizes at the fairs and shows

As a sample of the kind of story he writes there is appended a little ale he dictated to his mother a couple of months ago It is simple in form of course but it has a purpose, and shows an understanding of how to present facts in logical order that is really wonderful in such a youngster It follows

THE STORY ABOUT THE BOY WHO MISSED BOTH THE CHANCES OF HIS LIFE.

There was once a boy, who did not listen to his mother, and was always climbing up on top of the house till one day he fell into the chimney and burned up in the fire

There was nothing left of him but ashes somebody took these ashes to a jewelry store and used them to make a doorknob for the store (by adding other things into the ashes)

And again the boy was born (the same boy), God put his soul in another body, and so he came back into this world

But still he would not behave, and did not mind his mama So he climbed up again on the roof and again fell into the chimney, and again was burned up, till nothing was left of him, except ashes

This time they took his ashes and used them in making an old straw hat, and this was the end of the boy, because God had given him two chances

MELVYN EDOUARD HESSELBERG.

Five years old

Dictated Sept 2, 1906

Hotels Robbed of Millions Every Year by Women

Scarcely less prevalent than the practice of pilfering small articles at department stores is this crime which impels women of wealth and culture to rob hotel tables

In the former case women of all classes are the culprits Not so the hotel kleptomaniacs they belong mostly to the wealthy and cultured circles This is it that makes their case so remarkable

Apparently they do not know that they are thieves or more properly perhaps do not admit it They regard it as a refined form of skylarking So far from hiding their spoils in the common pilferer they proudly display them to their friends Women vie with one another in the bulk and costliness of their collections — they never call it swag One leader of New York society has a room in her home decorated with chin, silver and linen articles taken from a thousand hotel tables

SOUVENIR WOMEN.

She is a representative type of hotel souvenir woman

How much do you lose this way in a year? was asked of the hotel man who stood quietly watching the two women guests who had lifted a spoon and cup from the table

And this is the list he made after much figuring

Napkins (three a day at 66 cents) $22.00 Demitasse cups (6 a day at $1 each) $219.00 spoons and demitasse cups (12 a day at $12 a dozen) $480.00 butter side dishes (6 a day at 25 cents) $147.50 salt cellars (100 a year, at 75 cents) $75.00 silver articles (knives, forks, tongs, etc.) $400.00 total value of thefts for a year $8,345.50

This for one hotel

The stuff is going all the time said the hotel man sadly And you'd be surprised at the class of people who take it None of your common kind Why the women who are worth millions are the worst we have to deal with The arrogance of them is something awful Usually they get the things by stealth but often they do it openly as though they didn't care who knew it

The traveling public is peculiar — and the hotel man again heaved a deep sigh "You must handle them with white kid gloves The majority of them think or pretend to that they are being robbed by the hotel people and that they may retaliate by taking things that don't belong to them Yes, I believe there is a certain class of persons who take things, not for souvenirs

but simply for their intrinsic value

The souvenir cranks aren't all bad Very often they ask for some article as a souvenir—openly admitting that they want to prove to their friends when they return home that they have eaten at a high-class hotel We always accede to such requests

Again, there are people who offer to buy spoons or cups as souvenirs Usually this is the case when the woman is accompanied by a male escort who appreciates the depth of honor involved In these instances, too, we prevent the ladies with the articles which they desire, with the compliments of the hotel

So it would appear that honesty is the best policy in a hotel dining room

When asked whether the total figure adduced by him might not be a high estimate, he replied "Why, our china bill alone is $12,000 a year To be sure, a great deal of it is broken and it is impossible to say how much is pilfered

Another manner in which dining room articles are pilfered is in sending meals to rooms he said "In this case guests often appear to think that if an article or two were missing when the tray was returned it would not be noticed Of course it is, always

Every article taken to a room with a meal is kept track of by the waiter But we never say anything—just let it go

And it may surprise you to know of some large things that have been taken One woman actually walked into our parlor in broad daylight—a wealthy one she was too, and took a $75 clock from the shelf and walked away with it We never got trace of her again

ART CHINA STOLEN.

"Another time some one pried open the door of a china closet in the parlor and stole a set of art cups and saucers valued at $125"

"Have you ever had anyone arrested for stealing things from your tables?"

"No, nor even reprimanded anyone, except once On that occasion there was a party of four at a table—three women and a man After the meal the man amused himself by handling small articles of china and silverware around to his friends, and wound up by stuffing his own pockets He was putting a silver cigar, match and ash tray in his coat pocket when I arrived, and, under threat of arrest, compelled the party to disgorge."

The manager of a still larger hotel estimated the thefts from his hotel tables in a year as follows

Coffee spoons (3,000 a year, at $1.25 each) $3,750.00 oyster forks (2,000 a year, at $1 each) $1,000.00, ice cream

forks (2,000 a year, at $1 each) $2,000.00, tongs and other silver articles, $300.00, cigar ash trays (200 a year, at $1 each) $200.00, china (cups and saucers, butter dishes, etc.) $1,000.00 napkins (4,000 a year, at $1.25 each) $50.00, total for year, $9,250

Or five other hotels consulted in one city the estimates were respectively $5,000, $2,000, $3,000, $2,000 and $1,500

And it is estimated that all the other hotels and restaurants in the city combined lost at least $18,000 in the same manner This makes a total for the city of $50,000

It appeared from the estimates of the different hotels that each has its own special designs of articles which are especially attractive, and this makes a difference in the figures For instance, one hotel has a very pretty demitasse cup and spoon, made exclusively for it, and bearing the monogram of the house These articles seem to be the lodestone there Women are unable to resist them

At another hotel the dainty little napkin was the magnet for the souvenir hunters, again, at another place oyster forks and ice cream forks novel in design and shape, go by wholesale

Two New York firms of silversmiths have a contract for continually supplying silverware to a string of hotels which are constantly losing through theft

One hotel manager explained that he kept $80,000 worth of silverware on hand, and was obliged to renew it at the rate of $10,000 worth a year

Some of it goes into the garbage can through accident much more is stolen by waiters and kitchen help, but a very considerable portion, probably the major part, is stolen by guests

One hotel proprietor in the vicinity of a large college has noticed that college boys are as bad as women in the matter of pilfering tableware They are usually young "chappies" who have sweethearts at home and send the articles to them to show where they are getting their meals

Rare ingenuity is used by women in getting away with articles they have stolen from hotel tables

The usual way is to secrete the thefts in a handbag which they lay on the table while eating

RISTORI TRAGIC QUEEN TWO GENERATIONS

An Interview with the Great Tragedienne for whom, after the triumphs of 60 years, the Last Curtain has now rung down

You have deserved High commendation true applause and love."

—As You Like It

How well these words may be applied to Adelaide Ristori, the announcement of whose death on October 9th at her home in Rome brought to a majority of the present generation almost their first intimation that the famous actress had not been in her grave these many years writes Miss Dixie St Cyr in the New York Times. To me it brought keen personal sorrow, for the cable news nearly overtook a letter from Mme Ristori's daughter Signorina Blanca, conveying to me her mother's greetings and assurances of good health.

It was last spring in Rome that I had the privilege of meeting Mme Ristori, then in her eighty-fourth year, and it was to Signor Tommaso Salvini that I owed the pleasure. Indeed, it was with great expectation that I waited her answer, after I had sent her Mr Salvini's note. And one can easily imagine my enthusiasm when the next morning I received the following card:

ADELAIDE CAPRANICO MARCHESA
DEL GRILLO NATA RISTORI riceverà con piacere Miss St Cyr domani Domenica alle 3 1/2 se lora le conviene

76 Via Monterone

The next day I punctually at half-past three I found myself sitting in the drawing room of Mme Ristori, whose wonderful stage career of sixty years had placed her in the foremost rank among the actresses of the nineteenth century. I was received by her daughter who permitted me to look around the rooms which I did eagerly, with a sincere if inquisitive spirit. As I stood there among the souvenirs of such a life it was hard to realize that I was about to meet a woman who had been a regular member of a theatrical company in 1826—eighty years ago—for it was at the age of four that the little Adelaide then known as 'La Piccola' began to earn living and fame behind the footlights. In all the years that have passed few indeed had won fame as an actress equal to hers.

I discovered an old album with a collection of portraits of all the characters Mme Ristori had played. Later the tragedienne gave me a few of these old photographs, which she told me had never been reproduced in any newspaper or magazine. Around the walls I saw many life-sized pictures of Mme Ristori in the characters of Marie Stuart, Beatrice, Lady Macbeth. They revealed the Ristori of old. Her hand could not be regarded as beautiful, but it made up in expression what it lacked in symmetry. Her head was not a Greek classic, but belonged rather to the type of the Madonna for whom she was so often the model. Her face was an oval her features were regular, her nose was perfectly Roman her teeth were beautiful, and her mouth and chin were full of character. And what wonderful eyes what mobility of features!

While I was engrossed in these memories of her past, Mme Ristori came in. For a moment I could not speak, so moved was I by the appearance of the woman of reality. She was old, very old, and a little bent yet her face was still beautiful illuminated by her wonderful eyes. Italian acting is different from the French. We rely a great deal on imcouraged conversation, which proved pulse and inspiration. We are not slaves to our stage properties, and in this connection I shall never forget an incident that occurred when I was playing in the Beatrix of Legouve at the Odeon in Paris. One night, returning to my dressing room, I found one of the stage hands standing at the door. He was trembling and his face was ghastly pale. With tears in his eyes he stammered 'Forgive me, Mme Ristori. I forgot to put a chair up stage near the table on the right. The stage manager is very angry with me for having made such a mistake.'

'What chair do you mean?' I asked, and the poor man went on explaining about his forgotten piece of property. I had been unconscious of its existence, but as they had seen me use it they thought I would certainly need it for every performance.

'Though I retired long ago and belonged to the so-called old school I have been continuously in touch with the new methods of acting. Today they portray more the nervous type, the young generation think and worry too much they are too ambitious—especially the women. Too much psychological study in the end kills the impulse of nature which is always right. I admire Duse's acting immensely—she is unique in her style. Indeed, I honor everything which is new, but I could not adapt myself to the modern school. I acted as I felt. For my part I always endeavored to act in as natural a manner as possible.'

The public seemed always to approve my careful study as well as the efforts I made to make myself really worthy of their favor. Whether the audience was large or small, intelligent or the reverse mattered nothing to me. The possibility that it might contain one cultivated and educated person able justly to decide upon and appreciate an artistic performance was enough to make me attend to the minute details of the part I was playing. I would not omit a single gesture a single idea.

'My way of acting was very simple,' Mme Ristori added. 'I memorized the part sitting quietly near my writing table. Once I knew the part I planned in my mind exactly the way I wanted to act it, making a careful study of my heroine reading all about the history of the period of the play and omitting no detail of the character I was going to interpret. I would put in a little life and go through the mechanical part at the rehearsal, reserving all my strength and passionate ardor for the night of the performance.'

Italian acting is different from the French. We rely a great deal on immediately that her power of speech and her mentality were still marvelously active and youthful.

I am indeed very pleased and grateful,' she began, 'to hear that in America they are still remembering me. You cannot imagine how many warm friends I left in the New World. America is a remarkable young country, where art is venerated much more than we Europeans and perhaps Americans themselves would credit. You open your doors so readily to foreigners, and you understand so quickly our ability in a word, you win at once our gratitude.'

'Though I retired long ago and belonged to the so-called old school I have been continuously in touch with the new methods of acting. Today they portray more the nervous type, the young generation think and worry too much they are too ambitious—especially the women. Too much psychological study in the end kills the impulse of nature which is always right. I admire Duse's acting immensely—she is unique in her style. Indeed, I honor everything which is new, but I could not adapt myself to the modern school. I acted as I felt. For my part I always endeavored to act in as natural a manner as possible.'

The public seemed always to approve my careful study as well as the efforts I made to make myself really worthy of their favor. Whether the audience was large or small, intelligent or the reverse mattered nothing to me. The possibility that it might contain one cultivated and educated person able justly to decide upon and appreciate an artistic performance was enough to make me attend to the minute details of the part I was playing. I would not omit a single gesture a single idea.

'My way of acting was very simple,' Mme Ristori added. 'I memorized the part sitting quietly near my writing table. Once I knew the part I planned in my mind exactly the way I wanted to act it, making a careful study of my heroine reading all about the history of the period of the play and omitting no detail of the character I was going to interpret. I would put in a little life and go through the mechanical part at the rehearsal, reserving all my strength and passionate ardor for the night of the performance.'

Italian acting is different from the French. We rely a great deal on immediately that her power of speech and her mentality were still marvelously active and youthful.

I am indeed very pleased and grateful,' she began, 'to hear that in America they are still remembering me. You cannot imagine how many warm friends I left in the New World. America is a remarkable young country, where art is venerated much more than we Europeans and perhaps Americans themselves would credit. You open your doors so readily to foreigners, and you understand so quickly our ability in a word, you win at once our gratitude.'

'Though I retired long ago and belonged to the so-called old school I have been continuously in touch with the new methods of acting. Today they portray more the nervous type, the young generation think and worry too much they are too ambitious—especially the women. Too much psychological study in the end kills the impulse of nature which is always right. I admire Duse's acting immensely—she is unique in her style. Indeed, I honor everything which is new, but I could not adapt myself to the modern school. I acted as I felt. For my part I always endeavored to act in as natural a manner as possible.'

The public seemed always to approve my careful study as well as the efforts I made to make myself really worthy of their favor. Whether the audience was large or small, intelligent or the reverse mattered nothing to me. The possibility that it might contain one cultivated and educated person able justly to decide upon and appreciate an artistic performance was enough to make me attend to the minute details of the part I was playing. I would not omit a single gesture a single idea.

'My way of acting was very simple,' Mme Ristori added. 'I memorized the part sitting quietly near my writing table. Once I knew the part I planned in my mind exactly the way I wanted to act it, making a careful study of my heroine reading all about the history of the period of the play and omitting no detail of the character I was going to interpret. I would put in a little life and go through the mechanical part at the rehearsal, reserving all my strength and passionate ardor for the night of the performance.'

Italian acting is different from the French. We rely a great deal on immediately that her power of speech and her mentality were still marvelously active and youthful.

I am indeed very pleased and grateful,' she began, 'to hear that in America they are still remembering me. You cannot imagine how many warm friends I left in the New World. America is a remarkable young country, where art is venerated much more than we Europeans and perhaps Americans themselves would credit. You open your doors so readily to foreigners, and you understand so quickly our ability in a word, you win at once our gratitude.'

'Though I retired long ago and belonged to the so-called old school I have been continuously in touch with the new methods of acting. Today they portray more the nervous type, the young generation think and worry too much they are too ambitious—especially the women. Too much psychological study in the end kills the impulse of nature which is always right. I admire Duse's acting immensely—she is unique in her style. Indeed, I honor everything which is new, but I could not adapt myself to the modern school. I acted as I felt. For my part I always endeavored to act in as natural a manner as possible.'

The public seemed always to approve my careful study as well as the efforts I made to make myself really worthy of their favor. Whether the audience was large or small, intelligent or the reverse mattered nothing to me. The possibility that it might contain one cultivated and educated person able justly to decide upon and appreciate an artistic performance was enough to make me attend to the minute details of the part I was playing. I would not omit a single gesture a single idea.

'My way of acting was very simple,' Mme Ristori added. 'I memorized the part sitting quietly near my writing table. Once I knew the part I planned in my mind exactly the way I wanted to act it, making a careful study of my heroine reading all about the history of the period of the play and omitting no detail of the character I was going to interpret. I would put in a little life and go through the mechanical part at the rehearsal, reserving all my strength and passionate ardor for the night of the performance.'

Italian acting is different from the French. We rely a great deal on immediately that her power of speech and her mentality were still marvelously active and youthful.

I am indeed very pleased and grateful,' she began, 'to hear that in America they are still remembering me. You cannot imagine how many warm friends I left in the New World. America is a remarkable young country, where art is venerated much more than we Europeans and perhaps Americans themselves would credit. You open your doors so readily to foreigners, and you understand so quickly our ability in a word, you win at once our gratitude.'

'Though I retired long ago and belonged to the so-called old school I have been continuously in touch with the new methods of acting. Today they portray more the nervous type, the young generation think and worry too much they are too ambitious—especially the women. Too much psychological study in the end kills the impulse of nature which is always right. I admire Duse's acting immensely—she is unique in her style. Indeed, I honor everything which is new, but I could not adapt myself to the modern school. I acted as I felt. For my part I always endeavored to act in as natural a manner as possible.'

The public seemed always to approve my careful study as well as the efforts I made to make myself really worthy of their favor. Whether the audience was large or small, intelligent or the reverse mattered nothing to me. The possibility that it might contain one cultivated and educated person able justly to decide upon and appreciate an artistic performance was enough to make me attend to the minute details of the part I was playing. I would not omit a single gesture a single idea.

'My way of acting was very simple,' Mme Ristori added. 'I memorized the part sitting quietly near my writing table. Once I knew the part I planned in my mind exactly the way I wanted to act it, making a careful study of my heroine reading all about the history of the period of the play and omitting no detail of the character I was going to interpret. I would put in a little life and go through the mechanical part at the rehearsal, reserving all my strength and passionate ardor for the night of the performance.'

Italian acting is different from the French. We rely a great deal on immediately that her power of speech and her mentality were still marvelously active and youthful.

I am indeed very pleased and grateful,' she began, 'to hear that in America they are still remembering me. You cannot imagine how many warm friends I left in the New World. America is a remarkable young country, where art is venerated much more than we Europeans and perhaps Americans themselves would credit. You open your doors so readily to foreigners, and you understand so quickly our ability in a word, you win at once our gratitude.'

'Though I retired long ago and belonged to the so-called old school I have been continuously in touch with the new methods of acting. Today they portray more the nervous type, the young generation think and worry too much they are too ambitious—especially the women. Too much psychological study in the end kills the impulse of nature which is always right. I admire Duse's acting immensely—she is unique in her style. Indeed, I honor everything which is new, but I could not adapt myself to the modern school. I acted as I felt. For my part I always endeavored to act in as natural a manner as possible.'

The public seemed always to approve my careful study as well as the efforts I made to make myself really worthy of their favor. Whether the audience was large or small, intelligent or the reverse mattered nothing to me. The possibility that it might contain one cultivated and educated person able justly to decide upon and appreciate an artistic performance was enough to make me attend to the minute details of the part I was playing. I would not omit a single gesture a single idea.

'My way of acting was very simple,' Mme Ristori added. 'I memorized the part sitting quietly near my writing table. Once I knew the part I planned in my mind exactly the way I wanted to act it, making a careful study of my heroine reading all about the history of the period of the play and omitting no detail of the character I was going to interpret. I would put in a little life and go through the mechanical part at the rehearsal, reserving all my strength and passionate ardor for the night of the performance.'

Italian acting is different from the French. We rely a great deal on immediately that her power of speech and her mentality were still marvelously active and youthful.

I am indeed very pleased and grateful,' she began, 'to hear that in America they are still remembering me. You cannot imagine how many warm friends I left in the New World. America is a remarkable young country, where art is venerated much more than we Europeans and perhaps Americans themselves would credit. You open your doors so readily to foreigners, and you understand so quickly our ability in a word, you win at once our gratitude.'

'Though I retired long ago and belonged to the so-called old school I have been continuously in touch with the new methods of acting. Today they portray more the nervous type, the young generation think and worry too much they are too ambitious—especially the women. Too much psychological study in the end kills the impulse of nature which is always right. I admire Duse's acting immensely—she is unique in her style. Indeed, I honor everything which is new, but I could not adapt myself to the modern school. I acted as I felt. For my part I always endeavored to act in as natural a manner as possible.'

The public seemed always to approve my careful study as well as the efforts I made to make myself really worthy of their favor. Whether the audience was large or small, intelligent or the reverse mattered nothing to me. The possibility that it might contain one cultivated and educated person able justly to decide upon and appreciate an artistic performance was enough to make me attend to the minute details of the part I was playing. I would not omit a single gesture a single idea.

'My way of acting was very simple,' Mme Ristori added. 'I memorized the part sitting quietly near my writing table. Once I knew the part I planned in my mind exactly the way I wanted to act it, making a careful study of my heroine reading all about the history of the period of the play and omitting no detail of the character I was going to interpret. I would put in a little life and go through the mechanical part at the rehearsal, reserving all my strength and passionate ardor for the night of the performance.'

Italian acting is different from the French. We rely a great deal on immediately that her power of speech and her mentality were still marvelously active and youthful.

I am indeed very pleased and grateful,' she began, 'to hear that in America they are still remembering me. You cannot imagine how many warm friends I left in the New World. America is a remarkable young country, where art is venerated much more than we Europeans and perhaps Americans themselves would credit. You open your doors so readily to foreigners, and you understand so quickly our ability in a word, you win at once our gratitude.'

'Though I retired long ago and belonged to the so-called old school I have been continuously in touch with the new methods of acting. Today they portray more the nervous type, the young generation think and worry too much they are too ambitious—especially the women. Too much psychological study in the end kills the impulse of nature which is always right. I admire Duse's acting immensely—she is unique in her style. Indeed, I honor everything which is new, but I could not adapt myself to the modern school. I acted as I felt. For my part I always endeavored to act in as natural a manner as possible.'

The public seemed always to approve my careful study as well as the efforts I made to make myself really worthy of their favor. Whether the audience was large or small, intelligent or the reverse mattered nothing to me. The possibility that it might contain one cultivated and educated person able justly to decide upon and appreciate an artistic performance was enough to make me attend to the minute details of the part I was playing. I would not omit a single gesture a single idea.

'My way of acting was very simple,' Mme Ristori added. 'I memorized the part sitting quietly near my writing table. Once I knew the part I planned in my mind exactly the way I wanted to act it, making a careful study of my heroine reading all about the history of the period of the play and omitting no detail of the character I was going to interpret. I would put in a little life and go through the mechanical part at the rehearsal, reserving all my strength and passionate ardor for the night of the performance.'

Italian acting is different from the French. We rely a great deal on immediately that her power of speech and her mentality were still marvelously active and youthful.

I am indeed very pleased and grateful,' she began, 'to hear that in America they are still remembering me. You cannot imagine how many warm friends I left in the New World. America is a remarkable young country, where art is venerated much more than we Europeans and perhaps Americans themselves would credit. You open your doors so readily to foreigners, and you understand so quickly our ability in a word, you win at once our gratitude.'

'Though I retired long ago and belonged to the so-called old school I have been continuously in touch with the new methods of acting. Today they portray more the nervous type, the young generation think and worry too much they are too ambitious—especially the women. Too much psychological study in the end kills the impulse of nature which is always right. I admire Duse's acting immensely—she is unique in her style. Indeed, I honor everything which is new, but I could not adapt myself to the modern school. I acted as I felt. For my part I always endeavored to act in as natural a manner as possible.'

The public seemed always to approve my careful study as well as the efforts I made to make myself really worthy of their favor. Whether the audience was large or small, intelligent or the reverse mattered nothing to me. The possibility that it might contain one cultivated and educated person able justly to decide upon and appreciate an artistic performance was enough to make me attend to the minute details of the part I was playing. I would not omit a single gesture a single idea.

'My way of acting was very simple,' Mme Ristori added. 'I memorized the part sitting quietly near my writing table. Once I knew the part I planned in my mind exactly the way I wanted to act it, making a careful study of my heroine reading all about the history of the period of the play and omitting no detail of the character I was going to interpret. I would put in a little life and go through the mechanical part at the rehearsal, reserving all my strength and passionate ardor for the night of the performance.'

Italian acting is different from the French. We rely a great deal on immediately that her power of speech and her mentality were still marvelously active and youthful.

I am indeed very pleased and grateful,' she began, 'to hear that in America they are still remembering me. You cannot imagine how many warm friends I left in the New World. America is a remarkable young country, where art is venerated much more than we Europeans and perhaps Americans themselves would credit. You open your doors so readily to foreigners, and you understand so quickly our ability in a word, you win at once our gratitude.'

'Though I retired long ago and belonged to the so-called old school I have been continuously in touch with the new methods of acting. Today they portray more the nervous type, the young generation think and worry too much they are too ambitious—especially the women. Too much psychological study in the end kills the impulse of nature which is always right. I admire Duse's acting immensely—she is unique in her style. Indeed, I honor everything which is new, but I could not adapt myself to the modern school. I acted as I felt. For my part I always endeavored to act in as natural a manner as possible.'

The public seemed always to approve my careful study as well as the efforts I made to make myself really worthy of their favor. Whether the audience was large or small, intelligent or the reverse mattered nothing to me. The possibility that it might contain one cultivated and educated person able justly to decide upon and appreciate an artistic performance was enough to make me attend to the minute details of the part I was playing. I would not omit a single gesture a single idea.

'My way of acting was very simple,' Mme Ristori added. 'I memorized the part sitting quietly near my writing table. Once I knew the part I planned in my mind exactly the way I wanted to act it, making a careful study of my heroine reading all about the history of the period of the play and omitting no detail of the character I was going to interpret. I would put in a little life and go through the mechanical part at the rehearsal, reserving all my strength and passionate ardor for the night of the performance.'

Italian acting is different from the French. We rely a great deal on immediately that her power of speech and her mentality were still marvelously active and youthful.

I am indeed very pleased and grateful,' she began, 'to hear that in America they are still remembering me. You cannot imagine how many warm friends I left in the New World. America is a remarkable young country, where art is venerated much more than we Europeans and perhaps Americans themselves would credit. You open your doors so readily to foreigners, and you understand so quickly our ability in a word, you win at once our gratitude.'

'Though I retired long ago and belonged to the so-called old school I have been continuously in touch with the new methods of acting. Today they portray more the nervous type, the young generation think and worry too much they are too ambitious—especially the women. Too much psychological study in the end kills the impulse of nature which is always right. I admire Duse's acting immensely—she is unique in her style.

DISEASES THAT HIDE IN THE KITCHEN

TYPHOID DIPHTHERIA CANCER AND MANY MORE HOW TO AVOID THEM.

If any room in a house should be raised to the highest possible degree of sanitary excellence there can be but little doubt that it should be the kitchen. For perhaps, of equal importance to the air we breathe is the food we take into our systems.

That hotel and restaurant kitchens are often unsanitary, even filthy is known as the result of many exposures. That the same unwholesome conditions are found to an alarming extent in private kitchens is not so generally admitted.

Experts who realize the situation do not blame the housekeepers or the cooks—although unquestionably they are often to blame, they say the system is wrong. A new standard of kitchen construction and equipment is, they believe, the remedy.

And who are the people that assail the modern kitchen pride of the American household?

The International Homeopathic Congress met at Atlantic City, N. J., last month, and one of the most notable delegates was Dr. William H. Differbach of New York City. During the convention he read a paper in which he dealt with the causes of cancer.

He pointed out that cancer is steadily on the increase in spite of medical progress, and explained that modern life forces upon people the very injuries most likely to result in cancerous affection.

Referring to enamel ware so extensively used in cooking utensils, he said that chipping of the dishes permits minute but dangerous particles of foreign matter to become mixed with the food and that cancerous growth is frequently caused by the abrasions which the hard substance makes in the walls of the stomach.

Only one, and by no means the most perilous, of many treacherous enemies to health that make their hiding place in the modern kitchen is that brought to light at Atlantic City.

Among the physicians who have made such a special study of this subject as to become recognized authorities is Dr. Henry Leffmann, sanitary chemist of unique attainments, who has served as official chemist of the Pennsylvania State Board of Health and professor of hygiene in the Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania. He has written several books on sanitary chemistry as well.

"One of the most prevalent propagators of disease with headquarters in the kitchen," said Dr. Leffmann in an interview, "is the domestic pet animal—the dog, the cat, and even the canary. Gradually, well-informed persons are realizing this and are keeping their animals in the cellar or out of doors. But the great majority take no such precautions."

"No less dangerous are those other animals which are domestic of their own volition—mice and rats. They drag particles of food under the floor or into the dark corners of the cupboard where it decomposes and develops deadly typhoid germs. Mice and rats themselves die and disintegrate beneath the floors—a still more serious trouble."

"This is an argument for cement floors in the kitchen—floors which are unsuitable as the home of rodents or vermin."

"When the sink is not built into the wall you will usually find that the space back of it combined with the dampness and the warmth from the hot water pipe in the cockroaches and vermin, which do untold damage in the dissemination of disease. For the same reason that the sink should be built in there should be no washboards to make hiding places for germs and their disseminators."

"These days there is used to an alarming extent a cheap grade of cooking utensils lined with lead. Every one should know the danger of getting this lead into food or water. It is one of the most insidious of all kitchen dangers, for lead poisoning comes on gradually and is apt to be at first mistaken for less serious trouble."

"Drinking hot water from the spouts is a practice not uncommon and undoubtedly results in much lead poisoning. Water intended for cooking or beverage should be drawn from the cold water spout and boiled in a copper or other sanitary kettle."

Dr. Leffmann told of other guises under which disease germs lurk in the kitchen and elaborated on those which he had summarized.

According to him and other authorities, too much stress cannot be laid on the advisability of keeping domestic animals out of the kitchen, which seems to have been their undisputed home for centuries.

Bad enough, they say, is the practice of having a cat in the living room, where the baby kisses and mauls it, scattering and contracting the diphtheria, scarlet fever and other germs which lurk in its fur, but how much worse to have Tabby scratching her hide in the kitchen at every dig sending clouds of deadly, though invisible, microbes into the air and food!

Giving Pussy her weekly bath decreased the danger, but in one day's wandering she may collect enough microbes to kill a large family. And if the dog's hair is shorter—which it isn't always—he is no less prone to collect microbes, for he is not so choice as to his habits as the cat. Think of a dog wallowing in a puddle which is alive with typhoid and malarial germs, then heating them to greater virulence near the kitchen stove and scattering them about!

How many lives are lost every year from this cause alone no one can say, but physicians assert that they are legion.

If one doubts the dangerous character of cockroaches and other vermin that hide in cracks and crevices all about the kitchen, one should observe under a microscope what Dr. Leffmann and fellow investigators have seen.

By experiments they have proved that a cockroach, after having crawled through putrefaction of one sort or another, may leave a deadly trail of disease germs over a cake, a loaf of bread or other food. Typhoid fever is frequently contracted in this way.

Scarcely less dangerous, it appears than the custom of the Pompeians, who had their lavatories in the kitchen, is the habit of many American housewives of keeping garbage cans in or near that apartment.

This is not, of course, done in the better class of homes, at least not so generally, although even such homes are not proof against carelessness of servants.

Hardly more sanitary, however, are conditions in the country, where there is no system for removing garbage, for there carelessness is even greater, and refuse remains either in or near the kitchen until it putrefies and develops typhoid fever, headache, indigestion, malaria or some other kindred complaint.

One unacquainted with the subject would hardly look for disease propagation to the kitchen range. One will immediately admit, though, that gaseous fumes arising from coal, due to faulty draft, is inimical to health. A greater peril is ashes. In removing ashes from the stove innumerable particles of the fine but hard substances are scattered about, getting into the food, and being inhaled with the breath. Result: Adenoid cancer, nasal, throat or bronchial irritation or, in obscure instances, cancer of the stomach, such as is caused by enamel ware.

In the best regulated kitchens nowadays cooking is done by gas, which is cleaner and more sanitary.

Damp and unclean dishes and pots create more disease than the uninformed person would surmise. Typhoid and malarial germs seem to have a rare fondness for such breeding places.

Primarily, too often the maid or housewife doesn't use boiling water to wash the dishes, or dispenses with the necessary rinsing in hot water. Tap water may cleanse, but it doesn't sterilize. And one must remember that microbes are so infinitesimal in size that they may lurk where to all appearances there is cleanliness.

The difficulty of wiping pots and pans, resulting in imperfect drying, often accounts for disease. Thrown into a dark, damp cupboard, doctors assert, their moisture quickly attracts germs, which remain upon them until they later attach themselves to food in the utensils.

Even china and glass dishes are not always safe, the doctors state, dry and immune to germ affection when they appear to be. Dr. Leffmann suggests that cupboards should not be made of wood, but should be fitted with rustless screen doors, which, while closely woven enough to exclude insects, would permit a current of air to play over the dishes. This would preclude dampness and the propagation of germs.

The use of the kitchen for laundry purposes is tabooed by physicians, especially if the clothes come from a sick room. Bacteria scattered by the

(Continued on Page 6)

Boston's "Dancing Parson" and Children's Church

For 70 Years the Unique Institution Established
by the Rev. Charles F. Barnard
Has Flourished

For seventy years Boston has had a "Children's Church," says the Herald, with all the services especially arranged for the young people, and, in addition, for all this period, certain forms of amusement and instruction have been provided for its young parishioners that, until recently, they could not find elsewhere.

This church is now called Barnard Memorial, and is on Warrenton street, but to the men and women of the past generation it was known as Warren Street Chapel, for that was the name of the street on which it stands, until Roxbury became a part of Boston. That district, too, had a Warren street, to which the people felt it had a better right than had the large municipality that absorbed it. Then the name of the street was changed, but the chapel was called by its old name until the death of its founder, when its present title was chosen.

Barnard Memorial has a Sunday school every Sunday afternoon, except in the hottest weather, followed at 3 o'clock by a service which all the school attends, for the sermon is written especially for the children and the service is planned for them, as it has been for the past seventy years. Frequently the pastor, the Rev. B. F. McDaniel, illustrates his sermon with stereopticon views and that adds to the interest, for children as well as grown people enjoy seeing the subject of a talk right before them.

While the discourses are always for the young, the grown-ups seem to enjoy them also, and with the congregation of 200 children there are many older people. About 100 of the children live in the south end and adjacent portions of the Back Bay, and many of them quite near the chapel. The rest come from the suburbs, and, with a very few exceptions, are from good homes.

Besides the primary idea of religious instruction for children in a way they could understand and enjoy, there has been the conviction that weekday amusement should also be provided for the Sunday school children, and thus link together the Sundays by one or more intervening meetings or festivals.

FOUNDER OF THE CHURCH.

When the Children's Church was founded in 1834 by the Rev. Charles F. Barnard, a Unitarian minister, such an idea was viewed with horror by many of the clergy, as well as their people, and when he encouraged dancing, and even had classes in the art for the children, in one of the rooms connected with the chapel, they immediately called him the "dancing parson," and this name stuck to him for years. As he was tall and angular in stature, grave in aspect, and with a blunt manner, this was not a very good descriptive sobriquet, but, ridiculous as it was, neither that nor the criticism he received caused him the least annoyance nor swerved him from his purpose.

Many of the new ideas he brought to fulfillment at the chapel, and which were considered extremely radical, if not positively wicked, have now become incorporated into the public school system and are a part of the social side of many churches, while others are still carried on at the chapel.

Mr. Barnard, who was a Harvard graduate and Boston born, first worked with Dr. Tuckerman, the Unitarian minister-at-large, and his heart was drawn toward the neglected children of the city, whom he thought might be reached through different methods than those usually employed by ministers and churches.

The beginning of what was to become the Children's church was a little class of three children that met in Miss Dorothia L. Dix's parlor November 11, 1832. It grew rapidly, and Mr. Barnard was obliged to take them to the Hollis Street church, of which the Rev. John Pierpont, grandfather of Pierpont Morgan, the world-renowned financier, was the pastor. The agreement was that Mr. Barnard should hold a special service for the children in the vestry, and afterward they must attend the regular service in the church.

To a staid, old-fashioned congregation like that of Dr. Pierpont, there were features in this new departure which seemed closely allied to an interruption of the barbarians, according to one of Mr. Barnard's biographers, and not unnaturally. Seats were assigned to the children in the gallery during the church service, and it was complained that the tattoo of their heels on the pew boards seriously disturbed the worshippers. Moreover, when an actual transfer of the disturbers to the vestry for a service of their own was decided on, the arrival and departure of the pupils, together with the sound of their singing, were inevitable sources of annoyance.

Mr. Barnard felt that the tattooing of the heels was the revolt of child nature against the preaching for adults they were obliged to listen to, and it showed that, admirable as they were for the grown people, such sermons were pure torture to them. As Dr. Pierpont's congregation wished to get rid of them, Mr. Barnard became more firmly convinced than ever that a new and decided step must be taken in the religious nurture of children.

MEETINGS FOR THE LITTLE ONES

So he decided to hold his meetings in a hall over an old engine house on Brimmer street, where the school house was afterward placed. The services were largely attended, for they were novel and exceedingly interesting to the children, without being sectarian. Some of the other pastors were so vexed at their popularity that they expostulated with Mr. Barnard and made him promise that no child whose parents belong to another church should attend his services without written consent. But this did not lessen his congregations.

Mr. Barnard's methods of talking to street boys was severely criticized. He would stop on the street before a group of boys pitching coppers and would show an interest in the game, instead of setting forth the wickedness of it. Then, perhaps, he would ask them about the books they had read, and would dilate with rapture on the pleasure to be derived from "the Arabian Nights." He would talk about the chapel, tell them of the nice books there for all to read if they wished, and of the excursions and other amusements. He would invite them to come round the next Sunday and try it for themselves.

Mr. Barnard believed in the influence of flowers and works of art on children, and was much blamed for having bouquets and flowers on the pulpit and platform at his services, and sometimes using them as a text, and thus leading the children to think of the goodness of the Giver and the Maker of all their beauty. Strange as it may seem today, no church then allowed flowers to decorate either platform or altar. Some of Mr. Barnard's brethren in the ministry would sneeringly call this sort of preaching "Barnard's skimmed milk for babes."

The hall over the engine house was an unsuitable place for the meetings, and Mr. Barnard soon interested people in a new building, and the cornerstone of the present chapel was laid July 23, 1835. He was supremely happy, as were his boys and girls, in the erection of the building. It was to be their own church, the church of the boys and girls, and it is said not a brick was laid nor a nail driven but that some juvenile eye was on it to make sure it was done in the right way.

THE CHAPEL AND ITS CLASSES.

The chapel was opened the last Sunday of January, 1836, with a Sunday school of 750 children. Among the subscribers to the fund were William Sturgis, Robert G. Shaw, Nathan Appleton, James, Charles and Patrick Jackson, Abbott Lawrence, Ebenezer Francis and John Emmons.

The building contains, besides the large hall for services, parlors, library, classrooms and a gymnasium. It was the idea of the founder that it should be open every day in the week, and he provided many things for instruction and amusement that today are a part of the Y. M. C. A. and of other similar institutions.

He had sewing classes for the girls, and found two from a family where only one needle was owned. He had evening schools long before either Boston or New York had them. He had singing classes for years, and developed some fine musicians. A vacation school was another feature when such a thing was thought absurd, and he had an infant school for the children of mothers who were obliged to go out to work, a sort of forerunner of the day nursery now considered almost a necessity by charitable workers.

A free reading-room and a library of 2000 volumes were freely used by many people until the public library was established.

He was the pioneer in having excursions for children, for such a thing was then unheard of, and he was ridiculed for this also. He started the free rides for invalids, for daily, in good weather, he took out in his big, roomy carriage, which somebody called his "leather conveyance," five or six poor people of whom nobody else ever thought.

Some of his critics said he was putting foolish ideas in the heads of the poor, but that did not trouble him, if they were happy.

FLORAL PARADE AND FESTIVAL.

The children of the chapel always had a floral parade and a festival on the Common on the Fourth of July. This was an annual event for many years.

For more than fifty years the chapel has had a festival on Washington's birthday, with dancing by the children of the Sunday school, and by any other children who wish to join in the fun. For many years it was held in Music Hall, but now it is given in Mechanics' building. Besides adding to the income of the chapel, it is a sort of reunion of the old boys and girls who once shared in the benefits of the Children's church. Frequently three generations of one family may be seen at the festival, for grandpa enjoys telling the younger set how they danced "when I was a boy."

It is estimated that 500 men who had been scholars at the chapel went to the civil war. Mrs. Quincy A. Shaw supported a free kindergarten there until Boston added this feature to the public school system, and the city has the free use of the parlors and the library for this purpose today.

A free day school is now maintained for backward children, who, while not defective, are unable, through physical disability or for some other cause, to attend the public schools. It has a sewing class, with the same teacher, Mrs. L. C. Rand, who has had charge for the past sixteen years. It has classes in dressmaking and elocution, and a dancing class with societies which bring the parents of the children and the teachers together.

The chapel bulletin, the Barnard Memorial, issued ten times in the year, in an edition of 2000 copies, is a bright, newsworthy sheet. It is distributed in an intelligent and careful manner from house to house, and reaches hundreds of families. Each number has a new and attractive cut, and, besides the story of what is going on at the Memorial, it has some other interesting matter for young readers.

HAS A MISSION WHERE IT IS.

The children of the chapel always had a floral parade and a festival on the Common on the Fourth of July. This was an annual event for many years.

For more than fifty years the chapel has had a festival on Washington's birthday, with dancing by the children of the Sunday school, and by any other children who wish to join in the fun. For many years it was held in Music Hall, but now it is given in Mechanics' building. Besides adding to the income of the chapel, it is a sort of reunion of the old boys and girls who once shared in the benefits of the Children's church. Frequently three generations of one family may be seen at the festival, for grandpa enjoys telling the younger set how they danced "when I was a boy."

It is estimated that 500 men who had been scholars at the chapel went to the civil war. Mrs. Quincy A. Shaw supported a free kindergarten there until Boston added this feature to the public school system, and the city has the free use of the parlors and the library for this purpose today.

A free day school is now maintained for backward children, who, while not defective, are unable, through physical disability or for some other cause, to attend the public schools. It has a sewing class, with the same teacher, Mrs. L. C. Rand, who has had charge for the past sixteen years. It has classes in dressmaking and elocution, and a dancing class with societies which bring the parents of the children and the teachers together.

The chapel bulletin, the Barnard Memorial, issued ten times in the year, in an edition of 2000 copies, is a bright, newsworthy sheet. It is distributed in an intelligent and careful manner from house to house, and reaches hundreds of families. Each number has a new and attractive cut, and, besides the story of what is going on at the Memorial, it has some other interesting matter for young readers.

HAS A MISSION WHERE IT IS.

The children of the chapel always had a floral parade and a festival on the Common on the Fourth of July. This was an annual event for many years.

For more than fifty years the chapel has had a festival on Washington's birthday, with dancing by the children of the Sunday school, and by any other children who wish to join in the fun. For many years it was held in Music Hall, but now it is given in Mechanics' building. Besides adding to the income of the chapel, it is a sort of reunion of the old boys and girls who once shared in the benefits of the Children's church. Frequently three generations of one family may be seen at the festival, for grandpa enjoys telling the younger set how they danced "when I was a boy."

It is estimated that 500 men who had been scholars at the chapel went to the civil war. Mrs. Quincy A. Shaw supported a free kindergarten there until Boston added this feature to the public school system, and the city has the free use of the parlors and the library for this purpose today.

A free day school is now maintained for backward children, who, while not defective, are unable, through physical disability or for some other cause, to attend the public schools. It has a sewing class, with the same teacher, Mrs. L. C. Rand, who has had charge for the past sixteen years. It has classes in dressmaking and elocution, and a dancing class with societies which bring the parents of the children and the teachers together.

The chapel bulletin, the Barnard Memorial, issued ten times in the year, in an edition of 2000 copies, is a bright, newsworthy sheet. It is distributed in an intelligent and careful manner from house to house, and reaches hundreds of families. Each number has a new and attractive cut, and, besides the story of what is going on at the Memorial, it has some other interesting matter for young readers.

A free day school is now maintained for backward children, who, while not defective, are unable, through physical disability or for some other cause, to attend the public schools. It has a sewing class, with the same teacher, Mrs. L. C. Rand, who has had charge for the past sixteen years. It has classes in dressmaking and elocution, and a dancing class with societies which bring the parents of the children and the teachers together.

The chapel bulletin, the Barnard Memorial, issued ten times in the year, in an edition of 2000 copies, is a bright, newsworthy sheet. It is distributed in an intelligent and careful manner from house to house, and reaches hundreds of families. Each number has a new and attractive cut, and, besides the story of what is going on at the Memorial, it has some other interesting matter for young readers.

A free day school is now maintained for backward children, who, while not defective, are unable, through physical disability or for some other cause, to attend the public schools. It has a sewing class, with the same teacher, Mrs. L. C. Rand, who has had charge for the past sixteen years. It has classes in dressmaking and elocution, and a dancing class with societies which bring the parents of the children and the teachers together.

The chapel bulletin, the Barnard Memorial, issued ten times in the year, in an edition of 2000 copies, is a bright, newsworthy sheet. It is distributed in an intelligent and careful manner from house to house, and reaches hundreds of families. Each number has a new and attractive cut, and, besides the story of what is going on at the Memorial, it has some other interesting matter for young readers.

A free day school is now maintained for backward children, who, while not defective, are unable, through physical disability or for some other cause, to attend the public schools. It has a sewing class, with the same teacher, Mrs. L. C. Rand, who has had charge for the past sixteen years. It has classes in dressmaking and elocution, and a dancing class with societies which bring the parents of the children and the teachers together.

The chapel bulletin, the Barnard Memorial, issued ten times in the year, in an edition of 2000 copies, is a bright, newsworthy sheet. It is distributed in an intelligent and careful manner from house to house, and reaches hundreds of families. Each number has a new and attractive cut, and, besides the story of what is going on at the Memorial, it has some other interesting matter for young readers.

A free day school is now maintained for backward children, who, while not defective, are unable, through physical disability or for some other cause, to attend the public schools. It has a sewing class, with the same teacher, Mrs. L. C. Rand, who has had charge for the past sixteen years. It has classes in dressmaking and elocution, and a dancing class with societies which bring the parents of the children and the teachers together.

The chapel bulletin, the Barnard Memorial, issued ten times in the year, in an edition of 2000 copies, is a bright, newsworthy sheet. It is distributed in an intelligent and careful manner from house to house, and reaches hundreds of families. Each number has a new and attractive cut, and, besides the story of what is going on at the Memorial, it has some other interesting matter for young readers.

A free day school is now maintained for backward children, who, while not defective, are unable, through physical disability or for some other cause, to attend the public schools. It has a sewing class, with the same teacher, Mrs. L. C. Rand, who has had charge for the past sixteen years. It has classes in dressmaking and elocution, and a dancing class with societies which bring the parents of the children and the teachers together.

The chapel bulletin, the Barnard Memorial, issued ten times in the year, in an edition of 2000 copies, is a bright, newsworthy sheet. It is distributed in an intelligent and careful manner from house to house, and reaches hundreds of families. Each number has a new and attractive cut, and, besides the story of what is going on at the Memorial, it has some other interesting matter for young readers.

A free day school is now maintained for backward children, who, while not defective, are unable, through physical disability or for some other cause, to attend the public schools. It has a sewing class, with the same teacher, Mrs. L. C. Rand, who has had charge for the past sixteen years. It has classes in dressmaking and elocution, and a dancing class with societies which bring the parents of the children and the teachers together.

The chapel bulletin, the Barnard Memorial, issued ten times in the year, in an edition of 2000 copies, is a bright, newsworthy sheet. It is distributed in an intelligent and careful manner from house to house, and reaches hundreds of families. Each number has a new and attractive cut, and, besides the story of what is going on at the Memorial, it has some other interesting matter for young readers.

A free day school is now maintained for backward children, who, while not defective, are unable, through physical disability or for some other cause, to attend the public schools. It has a sewing class, with the same teacher, Mrs. L. C. Rand, who has had charge for the past sixteen years. It has classes in dressmaking and elocution, and a dancing class with societies which bring the parents of the children and the teachers together.

The chapel bulletin, the Barnard Memorial, issued ten times in the year, in an edition of 2000 copies, is a bright, newsworthy sheet. It is distributed in an intelligent and careful manner from house to house, and reaches hundreds of families. Each number has a new and attractive cut, and, besides the story of what is going on at the Memorial, it has some other interesting matter for young readers.

A free day school is now maintained for backward children, who, while not defective, are unable, through physical disability or for some other cause, to attend the public schools. It has a sewing class, with the same teacher, Mrs. L. C. Rand, who has had charge for the past sixteen years. It has classes in dressmaking and elocution, and a dancing class with societies which bring the parents of the children and the teachers together.

The chapel bulletin, the Barnard Memorial, issued ten times in the year, in an edition of 2000 copies, is a bright, newsworthy sheet. It is distributed in an intelligent and careful manner from house to house, and reaches hundreds of families. Each number has a new and attractive cut, and, besides the story of what is going on at the Memorial, it has some other interesting matter for young readers.

A free day school is now maintained for backward children, who, while not defective, are unable, through physical disability or for some other cause, to attend the public schools. It has a sewing class, with the same teacher, Mrs. L. C. Rand, who has had charge for the past sixteen years. It has classes in dressmaking and elocution, and a dancing class with societies which bring the parents of the children and the teachers together.

The chapel bulletin, the Barnard Memorial, issued ten times in the year, in an edition of 2000 copies, is a bright, newsworthy sheet. It is distributed in an intelligent and careful manner from house to house, and reaches hundreds of families. Each number has a new and attractive cut, and, besides the story of what is going on at the Memorial, it has some other interesting matter for young readers.

A free day school is now maintained for backward children, who, while not defective, are unable, through physical disability or for some other cause, to attend the public schools. It has a sewing class, with the same teacher, Mrs. L. C. Rand, who has had charge for the past sixteen years. It has classes in dressmaking and elocution, and a dancing class with societies which bring the parents of the children and the teachers together.

The chapel bulletin, the Barnard Memorial, issued ten times in the year, in an edition of 2000 copies, is a bright, newsworthy sheet. It is distributed in an intelligent and careful manner from house to house, and reaches hundreds of families. Each number has a new and attractive cut, and, besides the story of what is going on at the Memorial, it has some other interesting matter for young readers.

A free day school is now maintained for backward children, who, while not defective, are unable, through physical disability or for some other cause, to attend the public schools. It has a sewing class, with the same teacher, Mrs. L. C. Rand, who has had charge for the past sixteen years. It has classes in dressmaking and elocution, and a dancing class with societies which bring the parents of the children and the teachers together.

The chapel bulletin, the Barnard Memorial, issued ten times in the year, in an edition of 2000 copies, is a bright, newsworthy sheet. It is distributed in an intelligent and careful manner from house to house, and reaches hundreds of families. Each number has a new and attractive cut, and, besides the story

THE THEATERS

A BUNCH OF PRETTY GIRLS IN "THE COLLEGE WIDOW."

Sir Thomas Lipton attended a performance of the Rogers Brothers in Ireland at the Illinois theater on October 17 and was presented with a miniature yacht by the comedians. He thanked them in a speech in which he said this was the first American made yacht he had ever owned.

Fernando Michelardi, violin teacher of San Francisco, has established a studio in New York, and will probably make that city his future home.

Owen Davis has practically completed the dramatization of Arthur Stringer's recent novel, "The Vice-Takers," and arrangements are now under way for its early production.

The Tolson Stock Company, headed by George Tolson, opened a permanent stock company on November 6 at the Zenobia Auditorium, Toledo, Ohio, under the management of Will T. Conlon. Mr. Conlon will also continue his two attractions on the road.

The Ben Greet players begin their fifth American tour on October 2 at the University of Virginia, presenting "Everyman." Mr. Greet has revived "Masks and Faces" in which he has played the part of Triplet over a thousand times.

The dramatization of Martin Reed's novel, "The Master Violin," has been completed by William Kendall Evans of Dayton, Ohio.

Gertrude Rivers, last season a favorite with the Bush Temple audiences at Chicago, is now making a favorable impression as a member of the Winnipeg Stock Company.

The capital stock of the Heuck Opera House Company of Cincinnati, O., has been increased from $200,000 to $300,000. The additional $100,000 will be divided pro rata among the stockholders. Contemplated improvements to the company's property is given as the reason for the increase.

Ray Raymond will soon be starred in "The Can-Can Kid," a new musical comedy under the direction of Kilroy and Britton.

Charlotte Townsend has closed with her company and appeared on October 31 at the Casino Green, Ky., with Katharine Osterman in "The Girl Who Looks Like Me" playing Phyllis Burnham.

O. L. Eisler, business manager of Carolina, closed with that attraction in New York on October 9, to take the management of the Majestic theater of Washington, D. C.

Marcus La Blanche of The Rugged Messenger company was entertained by the newspaper men of Quebec one night recently. The next day he dined with the Rt. Rev. Andrew H. Dunn, D. C. Bishop of Quebec on the following day he was the guest of honor at the Citadel. Several of the officers were in the Boer war at the same time as Mr. La Blanche.

Madame Alla Nazimova, the Russian actress, will appear at the Princess Theater in New York in "Hedda Gabler" on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons beginning on November 12. She will be supported by John Findlay, John Blair, Dadson, Mitchell, Lauri, Hope, Crewe, and Mrs. Thomas Whiffen. Madame Nazimova will speak her lines in English.

Solomon Rabinovitch, known as the Jewish Mark Twain, arrived in New York on October 20. He has written several plays under the pseudonym of Sholem Aleichem.

Sunday matinees for children at the Educational Alliance in New York began on October 21 when Little Lord Fauntleroy was presented.

Adelaide Norwood Brindt, the soprano, who had been engaged to sing the title role in "Madame Butterfly" and who insisted upon singing on the opening night of the opera, has brought suit against Henry W. Savage, claiming a violation of the terms of his contract with her.

The six weeks tour originally laid out for Yvette Guilbert and Albert Chevalier has been extended for four weeks longer, which will carry the entertainers to the Pacific Coast where neither has been seen heretofore. By the time they return to New York they will have covered about 38,000 miles.

Duncan C. Best, who came to New York in expectation of a large salaried engagement, committed suicide by inhaling illuminating gas at a boardinghouse on October 18. It is thought that he became despondent through his failure to secure the expected employment.

The Music Publishers Association gave a dinner and reception at the Hotel Astor on October 19 in honor of Hon. T. P. O'Connor, M. P. The speakers at the banquet were Mr. O'Connor, Victor Herbert, Nathan Burleigh, John Kendrel Bangs, Colonel J. T. Blair, Isidor Wissner, Bronson Howard and Walter Vaughn.

Mrs. H. J. W. Dam (Dorothy Dorr) has renewed the suit brought by her late husband against the Kirk La Shelle Company to establish the claim that the Hen to the Woods is based on a story entitled "The Transmogrification of Dan" written by Mr. Dam.

Paul C. Moore and Harry R. McClain, now playing at the Yale, were entered at a dinner given by the Delta Chi Fraternity of Cornell University when they played Ithaca, N. Y. Mr. McClain is a Cornell graduate.

The Marum Quartette gave the first of its series of chamber concerts in Cooper Union Hall on October 25.

Though the hall is utterly unsuited for such performances, the object in giving them can be gained more surely there than anywhere else. The audience was of course large and very enthusiastic.

Heinrich Conried announced last week that he had secured Charles Simiard, a French baritone to replace Antonio Parvis, who asked to be released from his contract so that he might sing abroad this season. Mr. Simiard has sung at the Opera and the Opera Comique in Paris and will make his debut here as Mercutio in "Romeo et Juliette."

The Marum Quartette gave the first of its series of chamber concerts in Cooper Union Hall on October 25.

Though the hall is utterly unsuited for such performances, the object in giving them can be gained more surely there than anywhere else. The audience was of course large and very enthusiastic.

Heinrich Conried announced last week that he had secured Charles Simiard, a French baritone to replace Antonio Parvis, who asked to be released from his contract so that he might sing abroad this season. Mr. Simiard has sung at the Opera and the Opera Comique in Paris and will make his debut here as Mercutio in "Romeo et Juliette."

The Marum Quartette gave the first of its series of chamber concerts in Cooper Union Hall on October 25.

Though the hall is utterly unsuited for such performances, the object in giving them can be gained more surely there than anywhere else. The audience was of course large and very enthusiastic.

Heinrich Conried announced last week that he had secured Charles Simiard, a French baritone to replace Antonio Parvis, who asked to be released from his contract so that he might sing abroad this season. Mr. Simiard has sung at the Opera and the Opera Comique in Paris and will make his debut here as Mercutio in "Romeo et Juliette."

The Marum Quartette gave the first of its series of chamber concerts in Cooper Union Hall on October 25.

Though the hall is utterly unsuited for such performances, the object in giving them can be gained more surely there than anywhere else. The audience was of course large and very enthusiastic.

Heinrich Conried announced last week that he had secured Charles Simiard, a French baritone to replace Antonio Parvis, who asked to be released from his contract so that he might sing abroad this season. Mr. Simiard has sung at the Opera and the Opera Comique in Paris and will make his debut here as Mercutio in "Romeo et Juliette."

The Marum Quartette gave the first of its series of chamber concerts in Cooper Union Hall on October 25.

Though the hall is utterly unsuited for such performances, the object in giving them can be gained more surely there than anywhere else. The audience was of course large and very enthusiastic.

Heinrich Conried announced last week that he had secured Charles Simiard, a French baritone to replace Antonio Parvis, who asked to be released from his contract so that he might sing abroad this season. Mr. Simiard has sung at the Opera and the Opera Comique in Paris and will make his debut here as Mercutio in "Romeo et Juliette."

The Marum Quartette gave the first of its series of chamber concerts in Cooper Union Hall on October 25.

Though the hall is utterly unsuited for such performances, the object in giving them can be gained more surely there than anywhere else. The audience was of course large and very enthusiastic.

Heinrich Conried announced last week that he had secured Charles Simiard, a French baritone to replace Antonio Parvis, who asked to be released from his contract so that he might sing abroad this season. Mr. Simiard has sung at the Opera and the Opera Comique in Paris and will make his debut here as Mercutio in "Romeo et Juliette."

The Marum Quartette gave the first of its series of chamber concerts in Cooper Union Hall on October 25.

Though the hall is utterly unsuited for such performances, the object in giving them can be gained more surely there than anywhere else. The audience was of course large and very enthusiastic.

Heinrich Conried announced last week that he had secured Charles Simiard, a French baritone to replace Antonio Parvis, who asked to be released from his contract so that he might sing abroad this season. Mr. Simiard has sung at the Opera and the Opera Comique in Paris and will make his debut here as Mercutio in "Romeo et Juliette."

The Marum Quartette gave the first of its series of chamber concerts in Cooper Union Hall on October 25.

Though the hall is utterly unsuited for such performances, the object in giving them can be gained more surely there than anywhere else. The audience was of course large and very enthusiastic.

Heinrich Conried announced last week that he had secured Charles Simiard, a French baritone to replace Antonio Parvis, who asked to be released from his contract so that he might sing abroad this season. Mr. Simiard has sung at the Opera and the Opera Comique in Paris and will make his debut here as Mercutio in "Romeo et Juliette."

The Marum Quartette gave the first of its series of chamber concerts in Cooper Union Hall on October 25.

Though the hall is utterly unsuited for such performances, the object in giving them can be gained more surely there than anywhere else. The audience was of course large and very enthusiastic.

Heinrich Conried announced last week that he had secured Charles Simiard, a French baritone to replace Antonio Parvis, who asked to be released from his contract so that he might sing abroad this season. Mr. Simiard has sung at the Opera and the Opera Comique in Paris and will make his debut here as Mercutio in "Romeo et Juliette."

The Marum Quartette gave the first of its series of chamber concerts in Cooper Union Hall on October 25.

Though the hall is utterly unsuited for such performances, the object in giving them can be gained more surely there than anywhere else. The audience was of course large and very enthusiastic.

Heinrich Conried announced last week that he had secured Charles Simiard, a French baritone to replace Antonio Parvis, who asked to be released from his contract so that he might sing abroad this season. Mr. Simiard has sung at the Opera and the Opera Comique in Paris and will make his debut here as Mercutio in "Romeo et Juliette."

The Marum Quartette gave the first of its series of chamber concerts in Cooper Union Hall on October 25.

Though the hall is utterly unsuited for such performances, the object in giving them can be gained more surely there than anywhere else. The audience was of course large and very enthusiastic.

Heinrich Conried announced last week that he had secured Charles Simiard, a French baritone to replace Antonio Parvis, who asked to be released from his contract so that he might sing abroad this season. Mr. Simiard has sung at the Opera and the Opera Comique in Paris and will make his debut here as Mercutio in "Romeo et Juliette."

The Marum Quartette gave the first of its series of chamber concerts in Cooper Union Hall on October 25.

Though the hall is utterly unsuited for such performances, the object in giving them can be gained more surely there than anywhere else. The audience was of course large and very enthusiastic.

Heinrich Conried announced last week that he had secured Charles Simiard, a French baritone to replace Antonio Parvis, who asked to be released from his contract so that he might sing abroad this season. Mr. Simiard has sung at the Opera and the Opera Comique in Paris and will make his debut here as Mercutio in "Romeo et Juliette."

The Marum Quartette gave the first of its series of chamber concerts in Cooper Union Hall on October 25.

Though the hall is utterly unsuited for such performances, the object in giving them can be gained more surely there than anywhere else. The audience was of course large and very enthusiastic.

Heinrich Conried announced last week that he had secured Charles Simiard, a French baritone to replace Antonio Parvis, who asked to be released from his contract so that he might sing abroad this season. Mr. Simiard has sung at the Opera and the Opera Comique in Paris and will make his debut here as Mercutio in "Romeo et Juliette."

The Marum Quartette gave the first of its series of chamber concerts in Cooper Union Hall on October 25.

Though the hall is utterly unsuited for such performances, the object in giving them can be gained more surely there than anywhere else. The audience was of course large and very enthusiastic.

Heinrich Conried announced last week that he had secured Charles Simiard, a French baritone to replace Antonio Parvis, who asked to be released from his contract so that he might sing abroad this season. Mr. Simiard has sung at the Opera and the Opera Comique in Paris and will make his debut here as Mercutio in "Romeo et Juliette."

The Marum Quartette gave the first of its series of chamber concerts in Cooper Union Hall on October 25.

Though the hall is utterly unsuited for such performances, the object in giving them can be gained more surely there than anywhere else. The audience was of course large and very enthusiastic.

Heinrich Conried announced last week that he had secured Charles Simiard, a French baritone to replace Antonio Parvis, who asked to be released from his contract so that he might sing abroad this season. Mr. Simiard has sung at the Opera and the Opera Comique in Paris and will make his debut here as Mercutio in "Romeo et Juliette."

The Marum Quartette gave the first of its series of chamber concerts in Cooper Union Hall on October 25.

Though the hall is utterly unsuited for such performances, the object in giving them can be gained more surely there than anywhere else. The audience was of course large and very enthusiastic.

Heinrich Conried announced last week that he had secured Charles Simiard, a French baritone to replace Antonio Parvis, who asked to be released from his contract so that he might sing abroad this season. Mr. Simiard has sung at the Opera and the Opera Comique in Paris and will make his debut here as Mercutio in "Romeo et Juliette."

The Marum Quartette gave the first of its series of chamber concerts in Cooper Union Hall on October 25.

Though the hall is utterly unsuited for such performances, the object in giving them can be gained more surely there than anywhere else. The audience was of course large and very enthusiastic.

Heinrich Conried announced last week that he had secured Charles Simiard, a French baritone to replace Antonio Parvis, who asked to be released from his contract so that he might sing abroad this season. Mr. Simiard has sung at the Opera and the Opera Comique in Paris and will make his debut here as Mercutio in "Romeo et Juliette."

The Marum Quartette gave the first of its series of chamber concerts in Cooper Union Hall on October 25.

Though the hall is utterly unsuited for such performances, the object in giving them can be gained more surely there than anywhere else. The audience was of course large and very enthusiastic.

Heinrich Conried announced last week that he had secured Charles Simiard, a French baritone to replace Antonio Parvis, who asked to be released from his contract so that he might sing abroad this season. Mr. Simiard has sung at the Opera and the Opera Comique in Paris and will make his debut here as Mercutio in "Romeo et Juliette."

The Marum Quartette gave the first of its series of chamber concerts in Cooper Union Hall on October 25.

Though the hall is utterly unsuited for such performances, the object in giving them can be gained more surely there than anywhere else. The audience was of course large and very enthusiastic.

Heinrich Conried announced last week that he had secured Charles Simiard, a French baritone to replace Antonio Parvis, who asked to be released from his contract so that he might sing abroad this season. Mr. Simiard has sung at the Opera and the Opera Comique in Paris and will make his debut here as Mercutio in "Romeo et Juliette."

The Marum Quartette gave the first of its series of chamber concerts in Cooper Union Hall on October 25.

Though the hall is utterly unsuited for such performances, the object in giving them can be gained more surely there than anywhere else. The audience was of course large and very enthusiastic.

Heinrich Conried announced last week that he had secured Charles Simiard, a French baritone to replace Antonio Parvis, who asked to be released from his contract so that he might sing abroad this season. Mr. Simiard has sung at the Opera and the Opera Comique in Paris and will make his debut here as Mercutio in "Romeo et Juliette."

The Marum Quartette gave the first of its series of chamber concerts in Cooper Union Hall on October 25.

Though the hall is utterly unsuited for such performances, the object in giving them can be gained more surely there than anywhere else. The audience was of course large and very enthusiastic.

Heinrich Conried announced last week that he had secured Charles Simiard, a French baritone to replace Antonio Parvis, who asked to be released from his contract so that he might sing abroad this season. Mr. Simiard has sung at the Opera and the Opera Comique in Paris and will make his debut here as Mercutio in "Romeo et Juliette."

The Marum Quartette gave the first of its series of chamber concerts in Cooper Union Hall on October 25.

Though the hall is utterly unsuited for such performances, the object in giving them can be gained more surely there than anywhere else. The audience was of course large and very enthusiastic.

Heinrich Conried announced last week that he had secured Charles Simiard, a French baritone to replace Antonio Parvis, who asked to be released from his contract so that he might sing abroad this season. Mr. Simiard has sung at the Opera and the Opera Comique in Paris and will make his debut here as Mercutio in "Romeo et Juliette."

The Marum Quartette gave the first of its series of chamber concerts in Cooper Union Hall on October 25.

Though the hall is utterly unsuited for such performances, the object in giving them can be gained more surely there than anywhere else. The audience was of course large and very enthusiastic.

Heinrich Conried announced last week that he had secured Charles Simiard, a French baritone to replace Antonio Parvis, who asked to be released from his contract so that he might sing abroad this season. Mr. Simiard has sung at the Opera and the Opera Comique in Paris and will make his debut here as Mercutio in "Romeo et Juliette."

The Marum Quartette gave the first of its series of chamber concerts in Cooper Union Hall on October 25.

Though the hall is utterly unsuited for such performances, the object in giving them can be gained more surely there than anywhere else. The audience was of course large and very enthusiastic.

Heinrich Con

DANCE for a KING'S PLEASURE

BEAUTIFUL BALLERINAS OF OLD MADRID THRIVE WHILE ALFONSO RULES

The world will shortly talk about the dancing girls of the young King of Spain.

In New York already the news has stirred up the section of the Spanish colony composed of lovely and world-famous ballerinas. Alfonso is said to be encouraging the constitution of what will be more than a mere troupe of dancing girls from every part of Spain—a troupe unprecedented, unique and utterly admirable in numbers, beauty, youthfulness, fire, grace and choreographic erudition.

It will have no connection with the Madrid opera classic ballet, of which the King of Spain is natural patron. Its stars will know nothing of pointes or jetes battue; they will not dance in maitlots and gauze, but in their own proper skirts; and the dances and the music will not be of French, German or Italian origin, but completely Spanish and home-known.

So from the start, says the Indianapolis Star, it will merit the high title that has been proposed for it—that of the Royal Academy of Spanish National Dances. The aficionados of grand style which young Alfonso backs up in the project—nobles, painters, poets, newspaper proprietors and the civil or military governors of all the Spanish provinces—feel that it may turn out an aesthetic work of national import.

Instead of being danced as they are at the present hour in tobacco-smoking, wine-soaked dives of Madrid, Malaga and Cadiz, amid the riff-raff of the bull ring and the street, the seductive seguidilla, the ferocious fandango, the sable and voluptuous bolero and the slap-dancing flamenco will be made

Paris, it is with averted eyes—they do not speak as they pass by.

Some years ago (say) there existed at Seville two Andalusians of marvelous beauty, one, Conchita, 15 years old, celebrated for her extraordinary science at the fandango; the other, Carmen, 16 years, reputed for her incredible boleros. Carmen was called "the Flower of Granada," and Conchita "the Rose of Seville."

A terrible jealousy reigned between the girls, who were equally beautiful and celebrated. Both had begun dancing "on the roads," from village to village, amid the violence and vice which the gentle heart of young King Alfonso deplores. At 14 years Conchita had already fatally knifed her sweetheart, a banderillo, for putting a rose she had kissed and given him, in the corsage of a cigar girl. Carmen had loved a gipsy—who in turn had loved a gipsy girl. She, therefore, gave herself to a bull puncher; she really detested on condition that he kill the disloyal gipsy.

Few who see them dancing, bejeweled, rich and flattered, in the Parls of today would dream of the slime and mud in which grew up the Rose of Seville and the Flower of Granada, travelling under very different names at present, you may be sure. You will find their photographs among the illustrations herewith; but it is not I who will dare indicate them; more particularly, sufficient to say that when these two successful women meet in turned to cast her triumph at the feet of the pale Pedro she saw that his eyes were hungrily devouring Carmen!

After the performance the two men stood at the stage door talking low. They were agreed. There was no rivalry between them. The big Pepe loved Conchita. The pale signor wanted Carmen. But when the girls came out, one by one, their faces were white and their eyes were burning with a mutual hate and jealousy. It was an awkward moment. Something must be done. The wily signor had an inspiration:

"Let us fight!" he said to the big banjo player. "The best man will take Conchita by right!"

And, before the girls could say a word, the two men were scuffling together in the dark. Of course the weakly signor knew he would be beaten—and have the right to take his beloved Carmen. Of course the big banjo player was content to beat him gently—just enough to have the right to Conchita. But it was dark. And Conchita—raised to hope by the pale signor's words when he proposed to fight for her—whipped out her long and slender poinard and, with one blow in the darkness, equalized his chances. The big banjo player fell. None of the other three had seen Conchita's blow.

"Ha! You strike down my Pepe!"

below the neck—a true bullfighter's blow.

The two men on the sidewalk did not budge. When the girls knelt and touched them, they were stone dead. Then the girls fled.

It is of this sort of stuff that Spanish dancing girls are made; and there are many who declare that the young King of Spain will have hard work to corral them into a correct and decorous Academy of National Dances, and still harder work to train them into anything like the fashionable conventionality of a dainty if perverse opera ballet.

On the other hand it might be pointed out that the homicidal Rose and Flower found their true future, after they had fled from Spain that same week, in conventional and law-abiding Paris. Carmen bid herself in South America, moved on to London, and reached Paris two years later by the way of the 1900 Exposition. Conchita fled to Italy with an English tourist, danced her way to notice in Milan, drifted to affluence in Vienna, and finally settled down in Paris as the best place for a pretty woman.

At the present hour there are, in Paris, thirty and perhaps fifty such. They have engagements, either permanent or desultory, from the ballet of the Opera Comique to the swell music halls. There continually spring up reviews and operettas and musical farces with roles for a Spanish dancer in them. For their fire and grace as Spanish girls; for the color and dash of the costume; and for the passionate and stirring rhythms and airs to planted her knife square in his back brighten the music in the Spanish dance episode is always popular in Paris.

These girls who have "arrived" in Paris are survivors of the fittest who, by ambition, or despite in love, or some dark accident like that of the Rose and the Flower, have quit the hard life of Spain for luxury in Paris.

"The great dance of the fandenco," one of them said to me. "What a dance it is, signor, and what a tragedy! It is the whole of passion in three acts, desire, seduction and abandonment!

"In the south of Spain they say it takes eight years to form a fandenco," she continued. "Perfection is unattainable, because this exhausting dance (twelve minutes—show me a danseuse of the opera, even at Madrid, who will accept a variation of twelve minutes) contains three roles that are absolutely unconnected—the ingénue, the amoureuse and the tragedienne."

This same lovely creature admitted to 35 years herself.

"If I am not faded like so many of the great flamencas, it is thanks to the life of Paris," she told me. "Those of us who remain in Spain wear ourselves out. It is a magnificent public, but its very appreciation uses up the dancer."

If the coming Royal Academy of National Spanish Dances can convince its lovely young subjects of this variety, it will do them great good, both physically and spiritually, but whether it will help their dancing—all of dash and devilry—is another question.

Greenbaum Explains to Betty Martin How He Would Improve Oakland

"I haven't had time to arrange these books yet," said Mr. Will L. Greenbaum, indicating, with a slight wave of his hand, a disordered mass of volumes, piled breast-high on one corner of his office desk. "They came over from the city a few days ago, and I've been too busy to attend to them yet."

"An inheritance from the fire?"

"Yes. They belonged to Al Bouvier. Look, here is a very old copy of Shakespeare."

The book which Mr. Greenbaum took up was big and heavy, like the Bibles of our great grandfathers' time, and equally clear of print. Generously interspersed throughout its pages were steel engravings of once famous actors and actresses, all reproduced from daguerreotypes, which places the copy early in the last century.

But the Shakespeare, interesting as it is, cannot compare with several card-board bound manuscripts in the form of a diary, lacking sign or signature.

"These," Mr. Greenbaum informed me, "contain a written record of every entertainment which occurred in San Francisco from the pioneer days until the latter part of the eighties." Not only comment, but in many instances the cast of the play is given. Think what this means—the entire dramatic history of one of the most famous cities of America! Mr. Greenbaum is indeed a fortunate man to have become possessed of so great a treasure.

In a way, it brings to mind a similar set of books belonging to Mr. Charles Rosenthal of this city, who, though not a theatrical man, never, from the time he was a tiny boy, up to late years, allowed any performance of note to slip by. He has a veritable theatrical history of Oakland in the shape of printed programs, religiously pasted in blank books.

Mr. Greenbaum, while counting the unsigned diary as the greatest of his treasures, has many other books almost as valuable; bound copies of dramatic papers and reviews; press notices and criticisms.

"I suppose you'd hardly care to dispose of that diary, would you?"

Mr. Greenbaum shook his head before replying: "Nothing could induce me to part with anything that had ever belonged to Al Bouvier."

"He was your friend?"

"I was associated with him in business for five years."

"Then you've been in the theatrical field a long time yourself?"

"In a way. You know I was for years in the perfume business.

Don't you remember the firm of Greenbaum & Co. of San Francisco?"

"I should say so."

"Well I used to spend all day in the laboratory, and at night was at the theaters and places of that sort. It's only recently that I've been devoting all my time to theatrical affairs."

"Of course you're fond of it? Which do you prefer, music or drama?"

"Either, so long as it's good. I don't care for anything mediocre. Do you know, I'd rather make five hundred dollars on an artistic performance—something really great—than to realize one thousand dollars on a vaudeville show?"

"Really?"

"Indeed I would. A queer thing about my family"—he continued. "I have three uncles, all of whom were in other lines of work, and now each one is in the theatrical business."

"What is the name?"

"Ackerman. Charles Ackerman has the Chutes. He was an attorney by profession, and did well, too. Sigmund Ackerman was superintendent of the District Telephone Company and my other uncle was in business."

"It must be in the blood. You're living over here?"

"Yes. And I think Oakland is a most beautiful place for a home. Think of Piedmont hills!"

"The view is beautiful. But from a business point of view you think?"

"I believe that it will be a case of New York and Brooklyn."

"And which city will be the Brooklyn?"

Mr. Greenbaum looked his surprise: "Oakland, of course. It's a lovely place to live in."

"Do you know, I hardly agree with you. We do an enormous amount of business over here—especially since the fire."

"But where are your new business houses?" persisted Mr. Greenbaum, pertinently. "I have not seen anything new on Broadway. You've only got one big building—that thirteen story one. Have you been in San Francisco lately? They've put up dozens of big stores, and the shacks

"I should say so."

"Well I used to spend all day in the laboratory, and at night was at the theaters and places of that sort. It's only recently that I've been devoting all my time to theatrical affairs."

"Of course you're fond of it? Which do you prefer, music or drama?"

"Either, so long as it's good. I don't care for anything mediocre. Do you know, I'd rather make five hundred dollars on an artistic performance—something really great—than to realize one thousand dollars on a vaudeville show?"

"Really?"

"Indeed I would. A queer thing about my family"—he continued. "I have three uncles, all of whom were in other lines of work, and now each one is in the theatrical business."

"What is the name?"

"Ackerman. Charles Ackerman has the Chutes. He was an attorney by profession, and did well, too. Sigmund Ackerman was superintendent of the District Telephone Company and my other uncle was in business."

"It must be in the blood. You're living over here?"

"Yes. And I think Oakland is a most beautiful place for a home. Think of Piedmont hills!"

"The view is beautiful. But from a business point of view you think?"

"I believe that it will be a case of New York and Brooklyn."

"And which city will be the Brooklyn?"

Mr. Greenbaum looked his surprise: "Oakland, of course. It's a lovely place to live in."

"Do you know, I hardly agree

swindled out of hundreds of thousands of dollars in the past few years by the sharks

It is men of this stripe who predominate in the fashionable Americus Club of Pittsburg, in which there was such an explosion during this week, an explosion in which W. Joe Johnston, a member caught dealing stud poker with a mirror ring on his finger, was haled to the police court and made to disgorge

The Pittsburg business man will bet on anything. There are but two things one must show the club man here in order to get a bet. First, that he has a chance, second that you have the money to pay him if he wins. Harry C. Pulliam, now president of the National League, a man who never bets himself, but who knows all the leading clubmen of Pittsburg, some years ago made a famous remark about the betting proclivities of the average man of money here. In the Fifth-avenue Hotel, New York, some one in Pulliam's hearing made a slighting remark about the gameness of the average Pittsburg man of honor. Pulliam said:

"Game! Why those Pittsburg fellows don't know what it is to quit on a betting proposition. Why, they'll match pennies for $1000 a toss all day long, and will even bet you you ain't living and will lend you the money to pay if you lose."

It isn't very hard to get a bet out of the average Pittsburg club man on any proposition that has two sides. At the big clubs business men worth millions very frequently discuss deals and close them while "cutting the cards" for $100 a cut. There was, last summer, a poker game on one of the incoming steamers from Europe in which Norman E. Ream is said to have won a $98,000 jack pot in a five-handed game, beating H. C. Frick's full hand with four tens.

WILL GREENBAUM as he looks to a TRIBUNE artist.

Symphony. All the performers are to be from here, as much as possible. If it can be done, I want to make it a permanent affair. It wouldn't take much. If five hundred ladies would subscribe fifty cents apiece the thing would be permanently assured."

"Why don't you interest the club women?"

"Oh," here Mr. Greenbaum smiled, "they are always so busy with teas, receptions and things of that sort."

Here I said something, I've forgotten exactly what, about club receptions, and Mr. Greenbaum voiced a sentiment which I'd heard before.

"I don't believe in clubs."

"No?" This statement surprised me, until I discovered that there was a qualification to it.

"I think they do a great deal of harm."

"In what way?"

"By getting artists—professional people, to perform for them. It isn't fair to ask them to give their services for nothing. Take a singer, for example. A voice lasts only a certain number of years. It takes away an artist's value to sing before clubs and at charity entertainments. Who's going to pay to hear, when they can listen for nothing?"

The question was to the point, and admitted of no controversy.

"I believe," concluded Mr. Greenbaum, "that amateurs should furnish their own entertainments, unless they pay for professional services."

"You are quite right," I agreed. "But how about the symphony concerts at Berkeley. What do you think of them?"

"They are very beneficial, and they're educative, too, but no one can compete with the other thing."

"How are you doing over here, with your concerts?"

"As well as I expected. I'm trying to get Saint-Saens to come here. You know he's the greatest composer living. I've made him an offer."

"Do you think he'll come?"

"I don't know"—doubtfully.

"He was taken sick after he came to New York."

From Saint-Saens and his wonderful compositions the conversation drifted again to San Francisco and symphony concerts.

"The San Francisco symphony concerts were a tremendous success the first season."

"I remember. Who had them in charge?"

"They were supported by subscription. The officers gave their services free of charge. Scheel was musical director."

"Who were the officers?"

"Lou Lisser was president, Philip Rosenthal, treasurer; Dr. Bancan, vice-president; W. L. Carrigan, secretary and I was general manager. We all worked for nothing. The concerts were given in fine style."

"How about the second season?"

"It was not as successful as the first; and the third was a complete failure; people lost interest."

"I think they do a great deal of harm."

"In what way?"

"By getting artists—professional people, to perform for them. It isn't fair to ask them to give their services for nothing. Take a singer, for example. A voice lasts only a certain number of years. It takes away an artist's value to sing before clubs and at charity entertainments. Who's going to pay to hear, when they can listen for nothing?"

"Where are the programs?" inquired an attache, opening the office door.

"Over there."

"It must be late."

"Nearly three o'clock."

"Time for the concert to begin, I'll not stay longer."

"Wouldn't you like to go inside?"

I thought for a moment before replying, and, remembering that at least twelve years had flown since I'd listened to Hugo Mansfeldt, accepted the invitation, and was glad, afterward, that I had.

The house was representative, as musical audiences always are, and, all things considered, fairly sizable. Of enthusiasm there was no lack, for Mansfeldt, graver and graver than of old, lacks none of the art which brought him renown.

"How are you doing over here, with your concerts?"

"As well as I expected. I'm trying to get Saint-Saens to come here. You know he's the greatest composer living. I've made him an offer."

"Do you think he'll come?"

"I don't know"—doubtfully.

"He was taken sick after he came to New York."

I believe, if Mr. Greenbaum persists in his intention to give us the best in an artistic way that Oakland society will respond in kind.

BETTY MARTIN.

Rich Men Who Bet on Any Proposition

"Bet you five that fly to the right reaches that crack before the fellow to the left does."

"Make it $500 and I'll go you."

"You're on."

This conversation took place in one of the fashionable downtown cafes of Pittsburg recently, says a correspondent of the New York World. Two well-known club men seated at one of the tables made the wager. The one who bet on "the fly to the left" won and, with a laugh, the other fellow paid over the money, and, pushing back their chairs, the two men, who are also lights in the business world, returned to their offices.

And they were not gamblers. They were but fair samples of the men for whom the card men and "sure-things" gamblers of the country have for a long time been framing up deals, the same class of men who have been swindled out of hundreds of thousands of dollars in the past few years by the sharks.

It is men of this stripe who predominate in the fashionable Americus Club of Pittsburg, in which there was such an explosion during this week, an explosion in which W. Joe Johnston, a member caught dealing stud poker with a mirror ring on his finger, was haled to the police court and made to disgorge.

The Pittsburg business man will bet on anything. There are but two things one must show the club man here in order to get a bet. First, that he has a chance, second that you have the money to pay him if he wins. Harry C. Pulliam, now president of the National League, a man who never bets himself, but who knows all the leading clubmen of Pittsburg, some years ago made a famous remark about the betting proclivities of the average man of money here. In the Fifth-avenue Hotel, New York, some one in Pulliam's hearing made a slighting remark about the gameness of the average Pittsburg man of honor. Pulliam said:

"Game! Why those Pittsburg fellows don't know what it is to quit on a betting proposition. Why, they'll match pennies for $1000 a toss all day long, and will even bet you you ain't living and will lend you the money to pay if you lose."

It isn't very hard to get a bet out of the average Pittsburg club man on any proposition that has two sides. At the big clubs business men worth millions very frequently discuss deals and close them while "cutting the cards" for $100 a cut. There was, last summer, a poker game on one of the incoming steamers from Europe in which Norman E. Ream is said to have won a $98,000 jack pot in a five-handed game, beating H. C. Frick's full hand with four tens.

There are in Pittsburg now a lot of young bloods, sons of extremely wealthy parents, who will yell murder if the name "Frick" is sprung on them in connection with poker. They have had theirs from Frick. Not long since half a dozen of the wealthy young members of the Pittsburg Country Club were sitting in a game one evening when Mr. Frick came up in his auto. He walked into the card room and nodded to all the young fellows, calling them by their first names.

"Will you sit in, Mr. Frick?" one of them asked.

"Oh, I don't care if I do play a little while," said the man worth $70,000,000 as he sat down. "What's the game?"

"Dollar limit!" answered one of the players, scarcely able to conceal the exultation in his voice. "Here was what looked to the young bloods to be a real 'good thing,' and it seemed a shame to take his money. It surely couldn't be that Frick could afford to waste his time keeping the run of a dollar-limit game, and everyone hitched up his chair closer in order to be able to get a bit of "the pie."

Never will that game be forgotten. Inside of two hours Frick had all the money the gang had with it, and also enough I O U's from the boys to start a bonfire. All the boys had left was the knowledge that "Old Man Frick" was never too busy to attend to business, even if it was only a "dollar limit."

Nor will the lads ever forget the floundish twinkle in Frick's eye as, when going out, he turned and said: "If any of you boys haven't carfare my man will take you home in the auto."

Of course, everybody grinned sheepishly, but there was murder in their young hearts a moment later when they heard Frick snickering, actually laughing to himself as he went downstairs.

It has not been long since there was a pool tournament in the Depression Club here, seven men entering at $10,000 apiece, making a pool of $70

MAYOR SCHMITZ TO BE INDICTED WITHIN 5 DAYS AND ABRAHAM RUEF IF EVIDENCE SUBMITTED MEETS WITH APPROVAL OF GRAND JURY

ARMY BRIDE STOWAWAY TO REACH MANILA

McKinley's Niece
Braved Death
for Love.

MILLIONAIRES ON THE NEVADA DESERT VISIT THEIR FAMOUS MINES SCHWAB'S GOLDEN VISION

CHARLES M. SCHWAB, who with United States Senator W. A. Clark, both multi-millionaires, met on the Nevada desert yesterday, joined hands and cars—and went into Los Angeles together and later left by different routes. Schwab says: "Tell me who will run for President, and I'll tell you who'll be elected." Clark says: "Either Bryan or Roosevelt will be the next President of the United States." Schwab and Clark drank mineral water and talked about millions in mines, railroads and steel.

Senator Clark Forgets Finance to Hope That Bryan Will Be Next President.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10.—Two in-talking about Nevada mines and multi-millionaires of mines, steel and railroads, met out on the bleak Nevada desert yesterday, joined hands and came into Los Angeles together for the day and left by different routes at night. United States Senator W. A. Clark, reputed to be one of the richest men on earth, and Charles M. Schwab, former million dollar a year president of the steel trust and now owner of a thousand fabulous mines, formed the remarkable combination.

The multi-millionaires drank white rock mineral water and talked about the "millions" in mines, railroads, and steel.

They met at Beatty, Nevada, each with a private car. Schwab had his stipend of $12,000 a month after the turn of his household in Pennsylvania, and Senator Clark had his famous rolling palace "No. 200." They hooked the two cars together on a special train and started for Los Angeles, arriving at Salt Lake depot at 10 a.m.

HONEYMOON SPOILED. Hardly had the wedding bells been rung when all their plans for a honeymoon were spoiled. Captain Heldt received orders to go to the Philippines. Miss McKinley might have used her influence to have the order changed, but she was a soldier's wife, and she did not intend to use the prestige of her name to influence the War Department. But she had plans of her own. Though she remembered her husband's opinion of the Philippines no place for women, she secretly arranged to accompany him.

Arriving at San Francisco, Mrs. Heldt final overcame the captain's scruples and agreed that if arrangements could be made he would not oppose her visit to the Philippines. The President's office appealed to the captain's transport Dix on which her husband is to sail. She was respectfully referred to section six, general orders, quartermaster's Department, expressly forbidding women to travel on the transport Dix or any transports used carrying horses.

PERMIT REFUSED. Noting daunted, the girl applied to the attorney general for special permission. General Humphrey said he could do nothing, the military bride was an urgent telegram to Secretary of War. She also enlisted the services of the late President, her uncle.

(Continued on page ten.)

TO BE SOLD AT PUBLIC AUCTION.

Monday, November 12, at 11 a.m., 500 of broke horses; weight from 1,000 to 1,500, at $21 3d street, between Washington and Clay. J. MADERO, Auctioneer.

AUCTION SALE OF CONFECTIONERY AND FIXTURES.

We will sell the entire stock and fixtures of the retail department of the well-known candy manufacturer and confectioner, W. B. Standford No. 10 San Pablo avenue, cor. Broadway and 14th sts., Oakland. The stock sold Tuesday, Nov. 13, at 10:30 a.m., and fixtures at 10:30 a.m., and comprise an entire necessary modern equipment for a first-class candy store and factory; also 3 National Registers. All must and will be

J. A. MUNRO & CO., Auctioneers.

Schwab is busy as a burlesque company press agent. He was more interested in an ostrich farm, a souvenirmatch safe and a reporter who knew him when he was earning $8 a week clerking in a Pennsylvania store, than

(Continued on page ten.)

2 SLAYERS ARRAIGNED SMILE AT CHARGE

Gaspipe Thugs Are on Way to Gallows.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—John Siemsen and Louis Dabner stood defiant before Judge Shortall this afternoon and listened to their arraignment for murder, the specific charge the killing of the Japanese banker, M. Matsumura on Wednesday, October 3d. "John Siemsen, what is your real name?" Judge Shortall was the questioner.

"John Siemsen, J-o-h-n S-i-e-m-s-e-n," spelled out the murderer without a quiver.

"Louis Dabner, what is your name?"

"Louis, Dabner, L-u-i-s D-a-b-n-e-r." The youthful criminal spoke it clearly, trying hard to imitate the cool manner of his guiding companion-in-crime, John Siemsen.

"John Siemsen and Louis Dabner," said Judge Shortall, "I hereby inform you that you are charged with the serious crime of murder, the complainant is sworn to by Captain of Detectives Thomas Duke."

The two stood on tip-toe, pressing forward to see any expression that would pass over the faces of the two men when they heard, for the first time, the formal charge of murder laid against them. But if the onlookers expected to see blanching faces or trembling lips, they were disappointed, for both only smiled slightly. Neither spoke in answer to the charge.

SIX GUARD PRISONERS.

The first scene in the courtroom took place at 11 o'clock in the morning. That was the time set for the arraignment of the self-confessed murderers and six policemen guarded the handcuffed men before the judge's chair.

J. J. Greeley, whom Siemsen and Dabner have appointed to defend them, objected to the immediate arraignment of the prisoners and asked that a postponement of several days be granted. He gave as his reason the fact that he had not been permitted to speak privately with his clients.

Assistant District Attorney Louis Ward consented to a postponement until 1 o'clock this afternoon. Greeley objected, but he was overruled by the court.

At 1 o'clock the courtroom at Devidadero and Bush streets was crowded with the curious public. Well-dressed women were there, peering over the shoulders of police court hangers-on and jostling with vagrants. A murmur passed through the crowd when the police brought in Siemsen and Dabner. There was no sympathy for the two murderers.

In the room, there were the aged father of Louis Dabner, who stood weak and trembling, and the youths' two brothers, Leo and Charles.

Dabner and Siemsen stood side by side, in front and a little to the left of Judge Shortall. Their handcuffs were removed while they stood, heads uncovered, before the man who was to arraign them. Dabner wore a dark suit and a blue sweater. His hair was well combed, black and curly. His eyes did not wander about the room, but he looked at the ground in front of him.

SIEMSEN DEFIANT.

Siemsen, at his side, looked defiantly at all who gazed at him. He wore a dark blue serge suit and his white vest and light cravat betokened the afternoon man of fashion rather than a murderer before the bar. He smiled, while the photographers took his picture. Dabner saw his actions and followed his lead, both men looking straight at Judge Shortall during the arraignment.

As soon as the arraignment of the men was finished, Attorney Graham moved that the case be begun Friday.

Assistant District Attorney Louis Ward objected, urging the immediate commencement of the trial. It was finally agreed to begin the preliminary hearing before Judge Shortall Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, so that the witness for the prosecution, G. Holmes, might be examined then. The case will probably be postponed on Monday until next week.

LOOKS FOR CHILD WIFE.

As Siemsen walked out of the courtroom, handcuffed to two policemen, he looked about him, expecting to see his child bride, Hulda Von Hofen in the room. The look of disappointment which passed over his face when he found that she was not present was apparent to the whole crowd. He was taken to the Bush-street station. Dabner was escorted in a patrol wagon to the O'Farrell-street station.

The police took no chances with the

(Continued on page ten.)

PROOF MOST CONCLUSIVE DECLARE THE DETECTIVES

MAYOR SCHMITZ ON WAY HOME

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world.)

BERLIN, Nov. 10.—MAYOR ENGEDE SCHMITZ OF SAN FRANCISCO HAS SUDDENLY DECIDED TO CUT HIS TOUR FOR EUROPE SHORT AND IS BOOKED TO SAIL TOMORROW FOR NEW YORK ON THE HAMBURG-AMERICAN STEAMER PATRICIA. THIS VESSEL LEFT HAMBURG TODAY, BUT IT IS EXPECTED THAT MAYOR SCHMITZ AND HIS PARTY WILL EMBARK WHEN THE PATRICIA TOUCHES BOLOGNE TOMORROW. IT WAS UNDERSTOOD HERE THAT MAYOR SCHMITZ INTENDED VISITING VIENNA AND OTHER EUROPEAN CAPITALS BEFORE HIS RETURN TO SAN FRANCISCO, BUT HE HAS EVIDENTLY DECIDED TO CHANGE HIS PLANS. HE IS TRAVELING NOW WITH CONSIDERABLE LESS OBSTINATION THAN HE WAS, MAKING THE TOUR OF THE ENGLISH CITIES.

MEETING OF OFFICIALS HELD IN SECRET

Big Sensation Is Soon to Be Sprung.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—IF THE EVIDENCE ALREADY IN THE POSSESSION OF DISTRICT ATTORNEY LANGDON MEETS WITH THE APPROVAL OF THE GRAND JURY, MAYOR SCHMITZ AND ABE RUEF WILL BE INDICTED WITHIN FIVE DAYS.

THIS EVIDENCE, WHICH THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY AND HIS ASSISTANT, FRANCIS J. HENRY, REGARD AS BEING ABSOLUTELY CONCLUSIVE, WAS GATHERED BY SECRET SERVICE AGENT WILLIAM J. BURNS AND HIS CORPS OF ASSISTANTS.

BOTH DISTRICT ATTORNEY LANGDON AND MR. HENRY FEEL THAT THEY HAVE IN THEIR POSSESSION POSITIVE PROOF OF CORRUPTION AND GRAFT INVOLVING THE ADMINISTRATION AND THAT SO DEEPLY ARE SCHMITZ AND RUEF IMMERSED IN THE MIRE THAT THEIR INDICTMENT WILL IMMEDIATELY FOLLOW THE SUBMISSION OF THE TESTIMONY TO THE GRAND JURY.

IT IS MORE THAN LIKELY THAT MAYOR SCHMITZ' fine collection of Turkish and Oriental rugs will be one of the matters investigated by the new Grand Jury.

BY THIS, IT IS NOT MEANT THAT THE JURORS WILL VISIT THE MAYOR'S RESIDENCE AND INSPECT THE NUMEROUS AND HANDSOME FLOOR COVERINGS THAT ORNAMENT HIS HOME, BUT THAT HE MAY BE CALLED ON TO EXPLAIN HOW HE GOT THEM.

MAYOR GIVES THOUSANDS.

ONE OF THE BEST KNOWN LOCAL DEALERS IN RUGS STATED TODAY THAT SHORTLY AFTER THE GREAT FIRE, AT A TIME WHEN MOST PERSONS IN SAN FRANCISCO WERE WONDERING WHAT THEY WERE GOING TO DO WHEN THE RENT CAME ROUND, THE MAYOR PURCHASED AND PAID CASH FOR RUGS VALUED AT NO LESS THAN $3,000. OF THESE, ONE RUG ALONE COST HIM THE TINY SUM OF $1500.

THIS PURCHASE WAS MADE IMMEDIATELY AFTER THE SUPERVISORS GAVE THE UNITED RAILROADS A PERMANENT PERMIT TO OPERATE ITS CARS ON PRACTICALLY ALL THE STREETS OF SAN FRANCISCO BY MEANS OF THE OVERHEAD TROLLEY.

AT THAT TIME IT WAS STATED OPENLY THAT THE SUPERVISORS HAD BEEN PAID UNUSUALLY FOR THE PERMIT.

WONDERED AT ACTION.

"I THOUGHT AT FIRST THAT THE NEWS-PAPER BROADES WERE TOO VIOLENT," SAID THE MERCHANT IN QUESTION TODAY, "BUT WHEN SCHMITZ PAID $1500 FOR ONE RUG, AND INVESTED IN OTHERS, HE BROUGHT HIS BILL UP TO $5000. I CAME TO THE CONCLUSION THAT HE HAD RECEIVED SOME MONEY OTHER THAN HIS SALARY OF $6000 PER YEAR."

SCHMITZ HAS DONE CONSIDERABLE BUSINESS WITH ME IN THE PAST. BEFORE THE UNITED RAILROAD PERMIT WAS GRANTED, HE INvariably PAID HIS ACCOUNT BY CHECK. AFTER THAT DEAL WENT THROUGH, HOWEVER, HE SOLD IN CASH."

WILLING TO TELL STORY.

THESE FACTS WILL BE COMMUNICATED TO THE NEW GRAND JURY. THE RUG DEALER STATED THAT HE IS PERFECTLY WILLING TO APPEAR BEFORE THAT BODY AND TELL WHAT HE KNOWS, AND IT IS HIGHLY PROBABLE THAT HE WILL BE CALLED ON TO DO SO.

OTHER DEALERS IN WORKS OF ART THROUGHOUT THE CITY HAVE SIMILAR STORIES TO TELL. THEY SAY THE MAYOR HAS EXTRAVAGANCE AS WELL AS ARTISTIC TASTE.

ALLEGED FRAUDULENT VOTING.

ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEY HENRY SAYS ONE OF THE FIRST CASES TO BE CONSIDERED WILL BE THE ALLEGED FRAUDULENT VOTING THAT ELECTED JUDGE MEGAN TO THE SUPERIOR BENCH.

IT IS STATED THAT SOME OF THE RETURNS WERE FRAUDULENTLY TABULATED, AND JUDGE HOMMER WILL ASK THE GRAND JURY TO HAVE THE VOTING MACHINES OPENED AND EXAMINED.

WOMAN FLOGS SON AT ORDER OF COURT

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world.)

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 10.—"I see you have a strong arm, lady, so take that boy below and give him a flogging," said Police Judge Wingeay to Mrs. Irma Smith in police court here today. The woman's son Cassius, aged 10, was charged with stealing $15 from his mother, and he entered a plea of guilty. The woman obeyed the instructions of the court and after the lad had been made to take off his coat, she administered to him nearly 200 lashes upon his back. The woman was almost exhausted when she was through with the job.

WOMAN FELLS THREE MEN TO AID A WIFE

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world.)

THE PATROL WAGON ARRIVED THE THREE MEN WERE ARRESTED AND FINED.

OMAHA, Nov. 10.—While Robert McMann was beating his wife, on a side street this afternoon, plucky little Mrs. Palmer, who happened to be passing, stepped up, knocked McMann down twice, and when a couple of bystanders attempted to interfere, she knocked them both down. Somebody called for the police, and when she knocked him down, and when a second bystander interfered he received the same treatment.

INJURED CHINESE HAS OVER $6000 ON PERSON

HANDFULS OF GOLD AND SILVER AND ROLLS OF HUMAN CASH REGISTER WITH GOOD RESULTS, AND WHEN THE MONEY WAS COUNTED, IT WAS FOUND TO AMOUNT TO $6,220.30.

THE INJURED CHINAMAN EXPLAINED THAT HIS WEALTH WAS THE RESULT OF MANY YEARS OF HARD LABOR REEDING CHAIRS, AND HE STATED THAT HE CARRIED HIS SAVINGS WITH HIM FOR SAFE KEEPING, EVIDENTLY NEVER HAVING HEARD OF THE MANY BOLD ROBBERS THAT HAVE BEEN ABRAD IN THIS CITY AND ALAMEDA. LEE MUN RESIDES ON HIGH STREET, ALAMEDA, AND THERE HE HAS EARNED HIS SMALL FORTUNE, INTENDING IN HIS OLD AGE TO RETURN TO CHINA AND LIVE ON THE RESULTS OF HIS TOLLING.

ON CAN'S STEPS.

LEE WAS COMING TO OAKLAND LAST NIGHT AND WAS COMPELLED TO STAND ON THE STEPS OF THE CAR, OWING TO ITS CROWDED CONDITION. A PATRICK WAGON DRAGGED THE CHINAMAN TO THE GROUND, AND SERIOUSLY INJURED HIM. THE UNFORTUNATE CHINAMAN WAS TAKEN TO THE RECEIVING HOSPITAL IN THE PATROL WAGON AND THERE IT WAS FOUND THAT HIS LEG WAS FRACTURED. AFTER BEING ATTENDED BY DR. IRVING AND BELL, LEE WAS TAKEN TO THE PROVIDENCE HOSPITAL.

THE HOSPITAL ATTENDANTS JEALOUSLY SEARCHED THE CHINAMAN'S PERSONAL BELONGINGS.

(Continued on page ten.)

O'CONNOR, MOFFATT & CO.

Curtain and Drapery Department

PORTIERES—Large assortment of Tapestry Portieres, in plain Rep and Amure, with fancy tapestry borders, pair $4.50 to $9.00
COUCH COVERS—A new shipment of Couch Covers, in Oriental, Persian, Bagdad, Turkish designs; a large variety of patterns $2.25 to $7.50
MADRAS CURTAINS—A splendid variety of Madras Curtains; beautiful colors and patterns on cream, black and colored ground from, pair $6.00 to $7.50
UPHOLSTERY MATERIALS—In a very large assortment of colors and designs; Tapestry, Velour, Brocades, Moire, Rep and Taffeta.
DRAPERY SILK—Very choice designs in Drapery Silks, in floral and figured patterns; a large variety of colors, yard 50c and 75c
PILLOW TOPS—Beautiful line of colors and designs in Pillow Tops; Silk, Satin, Velour, Plush, Gobelin Tapestry, Turkish and Indian patterns, ranging in price from 30c to $1.75

SILK PILLOW GIRDLES—All colors, each 50c
WOOL COMFORTERS—Sateen covered, in very handsome colors and patterns, each $4
BLANKETS—Double Bed, Wool Blankets, pair $5.00
 Fine California Wool Blankets; full size and heavy quality, pair $7.50
BED SPREADS—Heavy Marseilles Bed Spreads, $2\frac{1}{4}$ yards wide, $2\frac{1}{2}$ yards long \$2.75
BED PILLOWS—In all sizes and qualities, at very low prices

Table Linens

DAMASK CLOTHS—Good quality, all linen Table Cloths, with finished double borders many handsome designs.
 2x2 yards $2.25 2x2½ yards $2.75 2x3 yards $3.25
 Dinner Napkins to match, dozen $3.00
NAPKINS—Extra value, in a heavy all-linen, 22-inch Dinner Napkin; designs are Marquerite, Tulip, Pansy, Ivy Leaf and Spot, dozen $2.00
LUNCH CLOTHS—Hemstitched, Linen Damask, Lunch Cloths; variety new designs.
 1½ yards long, each $2.50
 2½ yards long, each $3.00
 18x18 Hemstitched Napkins, to match, dozen $3.00
LINEN SCARFS—Hemstitched Linen Scarfs, 18x54 inches; patterns: Clover Blossom, Marquerite, Fleur de Lis, Spot and many other designs, each $1.00
 Large assortment of Tray Cloths, Sideboard Scarfs, Hemstitched Squares and Doilies, Hemstitched Linen Pillow Cases, Embroidered Linen Pillow Cases, Hemstitched Sheets and Pillow Cases.

PHONE EMERGENCY 592
O'Connor, Moffatt & Co.

VAN NESS AVENUE AND PINE STREET.
 SAN FRANCISCO

Wedding Presents

IF YOU WANT SOMETHING REALLY ATTRACTIVE AND PRACTICAL FOR YOUR GIFTS, BE SURE AND GO TO

GUMPS

AS A SUGGESTION, A PRETTY DINNER SET WITH GLASSES, OR A NICELY FRAMED PICTURE.

BIG RANGE IN PRICES

1645 California St. JUST BELOW VAN NESS

TWO SLAYERS ARE ARRAIGNED IN COURT

(Continued from Page Nine.)

prisoners. They feared that Dabner and Siemsen might try to escape the crowd. A squad made a path through the onlookers and this was kept cleared until the murderers had been taken in and out.

"I cannot tell what our defense will be," said Attorney J. J. Greeley, who will defend Siemsen and Dabner. When interviewed tonight, "I have not had a chance to talk with them. I do not know yet whether we will plead guilty or not guilty. I will go over the case with Siemsen and Dabner tomorrow."

...LEA'S...
 Olde English Inn

468 Thirteenth Street

Table d'Hote Dinner $1.00.

Sunday, November 11th, 1906.

Blue Points on Half Shell

Olives Radishes

Cream of Chicken a la Reine

Broiled Salmon Maitre d'Hotel

Sliced Cucumbers

Fricandeau of Veal and Spinach

Punch Surprise

Roast Spring Chicken

Celery Dressing

Mashed Potatoes Garden Peas

Lettuce and Tomato Salad

Vanilla Ice Cream

Fancy Macaroons

Roquefort Cheese

Toasted Crackers

Cafe Noir

Oysters Steaks Chops Game

Everything good to eat and drink.

468 13th St.

Sometimes you worry about your eyes. Stop it. Let us advise.

Lahanier

1228 Broadway

OPTICIAN

Turney's Orchestra.

Union Music furnished for Dancing.

Oakland 304.

INCREASE FOR TRAINMEN

Grand Master of the Brotherhood Secure Flat Betterment.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—P. H. Morrissey, grand master of the Brotherhood of Trainmen, left for Kansas City tonight after having secured a flat increase in salaries of all members of the union of four cents per hour on all the railroads. The increase granted the members of the brotherhood places that organization practically to the fore in the fight which it has been waging against the Switchmen's Union of North America.

Mr. Morrissey went to Kansas City to hold conference with the general conference of the Brotherhood of Railroad Conductors and the Brotherhood of Rail Trainmen, an which plan will be made for a general demand of increased wages from almost every railroad in the country.

Switchmen too.

By the agreement today all switchmen on roads west of Buffalo will be given the increase of four cents at once. Last Thursday, the Switchmen's Union of North America, which has also been dickering with the roads, agreed to accept an increase of three cents an hour and to arbitrate for any additional increase.

By the agreement reached today with the Switchmen's Union of North America, the roads bind themselves to pay all switchmen the increase, and it is thought the members of the Switchmen's Union of North America will abide by the agreement made by the opposition organization.

More than 45,000 men are benefited by the increase, and it is estimated it will cost the roads more than $6,000,000 a year. Twenty-three railroads were represented at the conference.

(Continued from Page Nine.)

MILLIONAIRES VISIT FAMOUS MINES

(Continued from Page Nine.)

to secure the desired order. There was still nothing done.

Then a desperate appeal she asked President Roosevelt to grant the desired permission.

The President was firm—the War Department's rules could not be changed.

He talked rapidly, said much in his ten-minute talk. Here are some of the points of the multi-millionaire's voluntary remarks:

CLARK FOR BRYAN

"In my opinion Bryan or Roosevelt will be next Presidential nominees, and I think Bryan will be elected, I hope so.

"I will retire from politics absolutely when my term ends next March and devote myself entirely to industrial affairs.

"I announced just now extending our branch railroads in Southern Nevada, where it will mean the opening of many millions of dollars to a rapidly progressing country.

"The development of the whole Southwest is proceeding satisfactorily so far as I have seen.

"The steamship line from San Pedro to the Orient has not been dropped or forgotten, but we have been compelled to defer work on it solely because we are so exceedingly busy with internal improvements, the extension of our Salt Lake railroad into the new fields."

Continuing regarding politics and his own recent career, Senator Clark said:

"I published report that I would seek to return to the Senate was false, made up absolutely. When I seen the report, it having been telegraphed from Montana. On every other visit to Chicago I have been besieged with reporters but this time I saw no reporter whatever. I announced that I would not stand for re-election a year as last stated for re-election a year as last

STANFORD == 6

WONDERFUL KICKING
BY PALO ALTO BOYS
WINS HARD VICTORYTen Thousand College Men and Their Supporters Thrilled by Fierce, Swift Football Battle.

(By DEL REYNOLDS.)

BERKELEY, Nov. 10.—Stanford won the first of the big intercollegiate Rugby matches from Berkeley yesterday on California field by the score of 6-3, but it was not until the pistol shot announced the end of the second half that the Cardinal was sure of victory.

A try, made in the first half by Stanford of Los Angeles for California, and which Whitman failed to convert, accounts for the Berkeley three points, and the wonderful kicking of Kenny Fenton, who made a penalty goal each half from placement for the Cardinal, was responsible for the six points allotted to Stanford.

When the game opened California took the lead at once. Her heavy serum outplayed the light Cardinal forwards during the first fifteen minutes of the game and California was continually in possession of the ball. California's backs were all over the field and both in speed and accuracy of passing smothered the Cardinal. After Stanton's try the Stanford team settled down to work and the ball was taken into the Blue and Gold territory, where it remained continuously until the end of the game.

The longer the teams played the better showing the Cardinal aggregation made, while California's defensive work was of a grade to surprise even the most optimistic of her followers.

Throughout the last half of the game the thousands on the bleachers saw a weak serum and that the opposing force drove the ball down the field into California territory by sheer grit and tenacity of passing.

The Stanford men were on top of the ball all the time and the mere fact that the Cardinal did the forcing throughout the last half of the game was all that saved the Palo Alto fifteen.

Owen, Scott, Chalmers, Holman and Fenton were on top of the ball continually. Not one of these men tried to keep the pigskin a second longer than safety permitted, and it was the anxiety to pass that caused Whitman to twice drop the ball and return to the field of play. The Stanford had crumpled California's real line.

Both retreats were ordered because of forward passing on the part of Stanford backs. In the first instance Pemberton was the man at fault and in the second Owen, the wing forward, was responsible.

Long before the hour set for the appearance of the teams—2:30 o'clock—the bleachers and grandstands were packed to overflowing with a crowd of more than 20,000 people. The California rooting section was reserved on the east side of the field and was gay with blue and yellow streamers, while directly opposite the Stanford undergraduates were packed two thousand strong.

Shortly after 1:30 o'clock the Stanford rooters began to fill the bleachers of the section reserved for them and a few minutes later the California undergraduates in white duck suits and blue and gold orange peal hats marched into the grounds headed by a band of 60 pieces.

STANFORD FIRST.

The Stanford team was the first to appear on the field and as the Stanford section rose to greet the players and when it settled down between the seats of the bleachers a great yell "S" was heard. A band of white was revealed, for the men in designated seats donned white caps and coats to form the background for the red rooters' hats worn by the majority of the men in the section.

Five minutes later the California team was welcomed with a roar from the opposing bleachers and as each rooter in the Berkeley section was provided with a yellow megaphone, tinted blue on the inside, the California bleachers was a constantly changing mass of color throughout the game.

Not only were the California men provided with megaphones, but two great mortars were set on the rail in front of the section and at intervals throughout the game parachutes were shot into the air, which on opening showed suspended California banners and streamers.

In former years Stanford has excelled her rivals in the novelty of display, but this year R. S. Kellogg, the Stanford leader, seemed to be lacking in new ideas, while the California band of six pieces stood out in comparison with the smaller number of Cardinal bandmen.

As was natural, the crowd generally backed California, and on both sides of the field the Blue and Gold strode over the State University more than doubled the flags of the Stanford supporters.

The Stanford fifteen, with Coach Lanagan at their head, substitutes following, appeared on the field five minutes before their California rivals. The men were run up and down the field passing the ball, dribbling and punting, while under the shadow of a goal post Kenny Fenton set to work practicing the goal-kicking that

CARDINAL WAVES TRIUMPHANT ABOVE
BLUE AND GOLD ON CALIFORNIA FIELD
SCENE OF HAPPY REVELRY ON BROADWAY
VICTOR AND VANQUISHED CELEBRATE BATTLE, FORGETTING FIERCE RIVALRY
IN OUTBURST OF COLLEGE ENTHUSIASM

Joyousness reigned supreme in this city last night as everybody joined with the pleasure-seeking college boys from Stanford University and the University of California in making their visit to this city the occasion of a big revelry of fun. In the past San Francisco has been the host of the jolly students, but the unpleasantries of April 18 passed the honor to this city, and last night Oakland had more of a metropolitan appearance than ever before. The streets were filled to overflowing and the merry throng sang their songs and yelled their yells over their cups. Armed with the hilarious students walked the streets and reiterated time and again the story of the great battle of Berkeley.

The Womans, the Saddle Hook, the Gas Kitchen, Zinkland's and Newman's College Inn were the rendezvous of the college boys, who drank the good cheer with a vim, spurred on by the spirit of joyousness and Stevens made ment of the day. Bee-hives were not traversed by the merry youths when they wended their way to their homes. Cold towels will be largely in evidence but many students will be found in with mysterious dark brown tastes in their mouths. But the great football game comes but once a year and the college boys make the occasion a great one.

The student started many years ago was held up to the standard last night and Oakland has been put on the college youth map.

The performance of Liberty by the Stanford students and their adherents gathered for the evening had a sudden ending, the curtain being rung down during the last act, because of a band of students, including the leaders, who had come to the scene.

The Womans, the Saddle Hook, the Gas Kitchen, Zinkland's and Newman's College Inn were the rendezvous of the college boys, who drank the good cheer with a vim, spurred on by the spirit of joyousness and Stevens made a short speech during the last act. The assembled students hooted and hissed him off the stage and the performance came to a sudden end.

The audience was freely sprinkled about the audience, making a pretty effect.

The California boys and their admirers held forth an idle talk. The day had been a long one and the management had turned away. Verdis Hartman and his company added to the evening's celebration and made the occasion one long to be remembered. Everybody was good and the atmosphere was one of great merriment, although dragged in the dust during the day.

The smaller theaters also gained a portion of the student patronage. The day to day advertising in the pages of the college boys and they, too, resounded with college yells and songs.

After the merry throngs had left the theaters the celebration went on until the stars were being fired and a few last farewell yells being given.

BERKELEY == 3

VISITORS FORCE THEIR FOES, WHO AMAZE ALL
BY GREAT DEFENSEBerkeley Takes Lead at Once and Keeps Ball Throughout First Half of Splendid Struggle.

BY CHARLES MARKS.

BERKELEY, Nov. 10.—In a game faster by ten times than the inter-collegiate games of previous years, Stanford won the victory, and incidentally the right to do the serpentine on California field this afternoon on the occasion of the first Rugby contest engaged in by two great American universities.

As a spectacle and from a financial standpoint, the game was a complete success, but more than one old "sport" was heard to remark that the game appeared to him more like a game of tag than a good old game of American football. Though the California team was outclassed to the tune of 6 to 3, the rooters of Berkeley, like the spectators, were about to put on American college soil.

Once the game was started there was no let up. One might have been as some said, in eight yards of the end zone of tag, but there was "something doing every minute." The play began fifteen minutes late, at 2:45. At the end of the first half, the score stood 3 to 3. Whitman made the score for California by a free kick at 3:45. The deciding points were made by Fenton of Stanford, on a free kick for goal in the second half.

TIME IS CALLED.

When time was called and it became known to the rooters that the time had been given by California to stem the tide of Crimson victory, or for Stanford to capture the ball, the Berkeley rooters took full possession of the field, drumming and winding in the wake of their band. The California rooters remained in the grandstand rehearsing their songs and yells until the last Stanford rooter had marched out of the stadium.

The Stanford rooters their old refrain:

"I'm the son of a son of a son of a gun of a gambler;

"I'm the son of a son of the son of the son of a gun of a gambler."

From the California rooter section has been shot into the air a California emblem. This time it is a peculiar shaped object which is meant to represent a woman. Her skirt is white, her waist is blue, and upon the front of it there is a brilliant golden "C."

STANFORD ROOTERS.

The Stanford rooters their old refrain:

"I'm the son of a son of a son of a gun of a gambler;

"I'm the son of a son of the son of the son of a gun of a gambler."

From the California rooter section has been shot into the air a California emblem. This time it is a peculiar shaped object which is meant to represent a woman. Her skirt is white, her waist is blue, and upon the front of it there is a brilliant golden "C."

With California playing stiff defensive ball, Dwyer made a twenty-yard gain by a dash just outside the serum and was downed by Whitman on California's twenty-five-yard line.

With California playing stiff defensive ball, Dwyer made a twenty-yard gain by a dash just outside the serum and was downed by Whitman on California's twenty-five-yard line.

FENTON KICKS OUT.

After the Stanford try, Fenton kicked out for Stanford and Chalmers recovered the fumble from Schaefer, the California half. With the ball in his possession and more than half the blue and gold team behind him Chalmers passed to Edwards, who returned when in danger. Chalmers attempted Owen's fake pass that scored the try in the Stanford and Pomona game, but was not aided after a gain of only five yards.

STANFORD ROOTERS.

The Stanford rooters their old refrain:

"I'm the son of a son of a son of a gun of a gambler;

"I'm the son of a son of the son of the son of a gun of a gambler."

From the California rooter section has been shot into the air a California emblem. This time it is a peculiar shaped object which is meant to represent a woman. Her skirt is white, her waist is blue, and upon the front of it there is a brilliant golden "C."

STANFORD ROOTERS.

The Stanford rooters their old refrain:

"I'm the son of a son of a son of a gun of a gambler;

"I'm the son of a son of the son of the son of a gun of a gambler."

From the California rooter section has been shot into the air a California emblem. This time it is a peculiar shaped object which is meant to represent a woman. Her skirt is white, her waist is blue, and upon the front of it there is a brilliant golden "C."

STANFORD ROOTERS.

The Stanford rooters their old refrain:

"I'm the son of a son of a son of a gun of a gambler;

"I'm the son of a son of the son of the son of a gun of a gambler."

From the California rooter section has been shot into the air a California emblem. This time it is a peculiar shaped object which is meant to represent a woman. Her skirt is white, her waist is blue, and upon the front of it there is a brilliant golden "C."

STANFORD ROOTERS.

The Stanford rooters their old refrain:

"I'm the son of a son of a son of a gun of a gambler;

"I'm the son of a son of the son of the son of a gun of a gambler."

From the California rooter section has been shot into the air a California emblem. This time it is a peculiar shaped object which is meant to represent a woman. Her skirt is white, her waist is blue, and upon the front of it there is a brilliant golden "C."

STANFORD ROOTERS.

The Stanford rooters their old refrain:

"I'm the son of a son of a son of a gun of a gambler;

"I'm the son of a son of the son of the son of a gun of a gambler."

From the California rooter section has been shot into the air a California emblem. This time it is a peculiar shaped object which is meant to represent a woman. Her skirt is white, her waist is blue, and upon the front of it there is a brilliant golden "C."

STANFORD ROOTERS.

The Stanford rooters their old refrain:

"I'm the son of a son of a son of a gun of a gambler;

"I'm the son of a son of the son of the son of a gun of a gambler."

From the California rooter section has been shot into the air a California emblem. This time it is a peculiar shaped object which is meant to represent a woman. Her skirt is white, her waist is blue, and upon the front of it there is a brilliant golden "C."

STANFORD ROOTERS.

The Stanford rooters their old refrain:

"I'm the son of a son of a son of a gun of a gambler;

"I'm the son of a son of the son of the son of a gun of a gambler."

From the California rooter section has been shot into the air a California emblem. This time it is a peculiar shaped object which is meant to represent a woman. Her skirt is white, her waist is blue, and upon the front of it there is a brilliant golden "C."

STANFORD ROOTERS.

The Stanford rooters their old refrain:

"I'm the son of a son of a son of a gun of a gambler;

"I'm the son of a son of the son of the son of a gun of a gambler."

From the California rooter section has been shot into the air a California emblem. This time it is a peculiar shaped object which is meant to represent a woman. Her skirt is white, her waist is blue, and upon the front of it there is a brilliant golden "C."

STANFORD ROOTERS.

The Stanford rooters their old refrain:

"I'm the son of a son of a son of a gun of a gambler;

"I'm the son of a son of the son of the son of a gun of a gambler."

From the California rooter section has been shot into the air a California emblem. This time it is a peculiar shaped object which is meant to represent a woman. Her skirt is white, her waist is blue, and upon the front of it there is a brilliant golden "C."

STANFORD ROOTERS.

The Stanford rooters their old refrain:

"I'm the son of a son of a son of a gun of a gambler;

"I'm the son of a son of the son of the son of a gun of a gambler."

From the California rooter section has been shot into the air a California emblem. This time it is a peculiar shaped object which is meant to represent a woman. Her skirt is white, her waist is blue, and upon the front of it there is a brilliant golden "C."

STANFORD ROOTERS.

The Stanford rooters their old refrain:

"I'm the son of a son of a son of a gun of a gambler;

"I'm the son of a son of the son of the son of a gun of a gambler."

From the California rooter section has been shot into the air a California emblem. This time it is a peculiar shaped object which is meant to represent a woman. Her skirt is white, her waist is blue, and upon the front of it there is a brilliant golden "C."

STANFORD ROOTERS.

The Stanford rooters their old refrain:

"I'm the son of a son of a son of a gun of a gambler;

"I'm the son of a son of the son of the son of a gun of a gambler."

From the California rooter section has been shot into the air a California emblem. This time it is a peculiar shaped object which is meant to represent a woman. Her skirt is white, her waist is blue, and upon the front of it there is a brilliant golden "C."

STANFORD ROOTERS.

The Stanford rooters their old refrain:

"I'm the son of a son of a son of a gun of a gambler;

"I'm the son of a son of the son of the son of a gun of a gambler."

From the California rooter section has been shot into the air a California emblem. This time it is a peculiar shaped object which is meant to represent a woman. Her skirt is white, her waist is blue, and upon the front of it there is a brilliant golden "C."

STANFORD ROOTERS.

The Stanford rooters their old refrain:

"I'm the son of a son of a son of a gun of a gambler;

"I'm the son of a son of the son of the son of a gun of a gambler."

From the California rooter section has been shot into the air a California emblem. This time it is a peculiar shaped object which is meant to represent a woman. Her skirt is white, her waist is blue, and upon the front of it there is a brilliant golden "C."

STANFORD ROOTERS.

The Stanford rooters their old refrain:

A LADY OF RARE ABILITY

DA LEE DELMAR
PSYCHIC PALMIST
and Clairvoyant Life Reader

ALMISTRY AND CLAIRVOYANCE

Palmistry is an ancient recognized science. Your life and all that the stars hold is plainly written in your hand. The scientist, palmist reveals your character, capabilities, tares and faults; state of your health, length of your life, what vocations you would best succeed in, etc.

Clairevoyance is one of the rarest gifts of nature, the learned and honest have taken the trouble to investigate, are willing to admit that there are some people gifted with clairvoyant foresight, whose reflex vision enables them to cast shadows of coming events and focalize them upon the mind.

Half the mistakes in life arise from not knowing how to act in harmony with coming events. To be forewarned by one thoroughly conversant with science of palmistry and endowed with clairvoyant foresight solves the problem, and puts you on the right track.

Thousands testify to this success in business, family affairs, matters of the heart, or in the social circle, can be obtained. It only means are used. Troubles, mistakes, accidents and failures, sickness and death can be avoided. If you are warned and act in time. No troubles are so great, no matter what they are to, but what can be helped and usually overcome. Miss Delmar, one of the greatest living psychic palmists and clairvoyants, will actually reveal your entire life, and tell you what the future holds for you. Common sense "Take advantage of this opportunity." Learn who your friends and enemies are. Know what you have, meet the dangers that are before you, and control them. By a change of attitude you may alter your entire life.

COUNTERFEITS AND GENUINE.

We all know that there are genuine as well as counterfeit dollars, good and bad ones, honest lawyers and dishonest ones. Just so with clairvoyants. There are some genuine and some imitations. "Judge her by her work." Miss Delmar's motto is "work and win." She helps her patients in attaining their various ambitions. This is why she has so many clients and why they return to her again and again.

There makes no difference what position you occupy in life, you will be treated in the same courtesy, respect and confidence that has made this gifted woman the most famous clairvoyant living.

Men and gentlemen can visit Miss Delmar without fear of having their confidence betrayed. She has thousands of written testimonials from men and women from all parts of the country, but as she never publishes the name of any of her patrons, as she considers her business a sacred trust.

EXTRA LOW FEE.

It is a matter of advertisement for a short time she has reduced her charges 50 cents for ladies; $1 for men. Hours of consultation daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; evenings, 7 to 8:30 p.m., 1 to 5 p.m.

E DELMAR INSTITUTE OF PSYCHOLOGY

1046—TENTH STREET—1046, between Broadway and Washington.

L'S SOCIETY

GIVES A DANCE.

SANTA CLARA, Nov. 10.—The ladies of the Theta Gamma Society gave a social dance Friday evening in Frank Hall. A very large audience was present.

Copo D'Oro
CUP of GOLD"

BIG PARADE FIESTA NIGHT

Progress of City Will Be Shown by Grand Illumination in December.

The general committee, of which Frank Bilger is chairman, having in charge the arrangements of the proposed Fiesta of Progress to be held in December, met yesterday afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce rooms and decided on a general plan for a night of celebration.

While it is recognized that the introduction of the holiday season and the lighting of the new street lamps should be signalized by some special event, it is also recognized by the committee that at this particular period of the year everybody is too busy to give the time for a big celebration extending over two or three days. It has been decided therefore to have one big, illuminated, musical, oratorical and spectacular night on the central streets of the city on Wednesday, December 12, although this date may be subject to change.

It is proposed to secure the co-operation of the street department in wiring Broadway, Washington and Twelfth streets, so that an industrial or any other kind of parade can have full opportunity to display itself. There will be seven or eight bands of music stationed at different points in the heart of the city, and it is proposed to secure the services of clever speakers so that there may be one ten minute address each hour between eight and twelve at a different point on the line of festivities.

It is also proposed to have one big industrial parade with as many novelties as anybody cares to introduce, subject to the approval of the parade committee. The general idea is that any merchant, wholesaler, auto dealer or any other recognized concern will be permitted to put a float or display in line, provided it be liberally decorated. There will be unlimited music and all the merchants, and, indeed, all the occupants of every building along the line of festivities will be requested to turn on every light possible in the stores and offices and on the streets so that it will be the gayest evening and with the most inspiring night that Oakland has ever known.

Chairman Bilger has appointed the following committees:

Finance—Theo. Gier, chairman; H. C. Campbell, J. P. Logan, W. J. Layman and William Walker.

Musical—Guy Smith, chairman; Frank Graham, C. J. Heeseman, George W. Austin and Paul Carroll.

Speakers—Frank W. Bilger, chairman; F. K. Mott, R. A. Leet, Sol Kahn and F. S. Osgood.

Parade—Edwin Stearns, chairman; C. J. Heeseman, Charles Newman, Clay Harbener and H. H. Clay.

Street and Street Illuminating—Charles F. Ott, chairman; F. A. Leach, W. H. Brown, Chief of Police Wilson.

Store Illuminations and Decorations—F. A. Stearns, chairman; E. Zinkand, F. J. Lea and George Humphreys.

Press—Stuart W. Booth, chairman; H. S. McFarlin, E. A. O'Brien and Glede Davis.

Preliminary estimates made by the general committee indicate that the entire cost of the celebration as planned will not exceed $3500, a portion of which is already in the hands of the treasurer, John F. Conners.

POSTMASTER FISK ANNOUNCES CHANGES

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—Postmaster Fisk has made the following changes in the service of the local postoffice: W. S. Wands, superintendent, Station J to superintendent, Station H; Joseph Gray, money order and registry clerk to clerk in charge Station J; Hy C. J. Touney, special delivery clerk to money order and registry clerk to Station J; Peter J. Fay, money order and registry clerk to special delivery clerk; Reinhold Kaufel, first general delivery clerk to clerk in charge Presidio station; Austin S. Wadsworth, manager to general delivery clerk; George H. Scott, superintendent Station H, to distributor George W. Haberly, record clerk to money order and registry clerk Station G; F. H. Sullivan, distributor to record clerk office superintendent delivery.

The following promotions are reported: Arthur L. Galvin from third class to second class carrier at $800; William P. O'Connor from substitute carrier to third class carrier at $600; Alonso Behrens from substitute carrier to third class carrier at $600; Chris Thomsen, from substitute carrier to son is now insane.

Bottled Sunshine

That's the largest element in the pure, health-giving table wines bearing the golden label

"Copo D'Oro"

The other ingredients are the best the luscious California grape can give, and which it takes largely from the iron-impregnated soil.

No Prescription Equal to This

THE WINEDALE CO.

105 Washington Street, Oakland

Monday Only, 500 Ladies' Embroidered Handkerchiefs, 11c ea.; worth 20c

OAKLAND'S MOST POPULAR STORE

ABRAHAMSONS

Southeast Corner Thirteenth and Washington Streets.
STORE OPENS AT 8:30 A. M. CLOSES AT 5:30 P. M.

200 Pieces of Assorted
Burnt Wood.

Match Cases, Trays, Boxes, Match Holders, etc., etc.

Monday, each, 37c

See Washington St. Case

QUICK SELLING Monday

ACTIVE BUYING

THE STORE IT PAYS TO BUY FROM

For Monday's fast-selling we are giving you some sterling values. Monday this big store is active, very active—more action, more crowds will come when you read of what we are giving you here below for Monday's selling.

25 Extra Heavy Couch Covers, 60 inches wide, 3 yds. long, $2.00 ea.

French Lingerie

JUST RECEIVED—French Lingerie, the largest and most exquisite collection ever put before the public. Made of the finest quality of cambric and trimmed elaborately with the best hand-made embroidery and lace. This assortment comprises about 100 different patterns, in Gowns, Drawers, Corset Covers, Chemises and Skirts. All in all will make a beautiful set of five pieces. See window.

In Our Juvenile Section

We have an immense assortment of Children's Suits, in Buster Brown, Peter Thompson and sailor effects, in Blue, Red, Brown and Grey; sizes, 6 to 14 years. Marked at Special prices for Monday's selling.

Full line of Children's Coats, tailor-made, in all the new shades and styles—in cloth, bear cloth, astrakan with caps to match.

$7.50 buys a Plaid
Silk Waist worth $10.50

New Plaid Silk Waists, just arrived, in a far more beautiful assortment and combination of colors and styles than those admired last week. Long, three-quarter, and elbow sleeves. Values to $10.50. Monday ONLY

$7.50

18x18 in. Hemmed Loom Dice Napkins, Reg. 60c; Monday 45c doz.

Great Day in Dress Goods Monday

Most desirable wool goods today. Monday we put on sale 15 pieces of Grey Mixtures, 50 to 54 inches wide. Extraordinary value at

$1.00 yd

Come early. They will go in a hurry.

Good News in Silks for Monday's Selling

Just received by express, 20 pieces of Fancy Plaid Silks. Excellent patterns. Just what is the great demand. On sale Monday, while they last, at, yard

$1.00

$4, $4.50 and $5
Umbrellas, Monday $2.98

These come with pretty handles in sterling and gold trimmings on selected pearl, horn, ivory, boxwood and turquoise. The covering is of best grade gloria and some are of pure silk. Fine strong rods with paragon frames, worth $5.00 each, for men and ladies, Monday.

See window.

$2.98

Discount Sale on Go-Carts

Monday we will allow 10 per cent off on all our Go-Carts, prices ranging from $7.50 to $30. They are made of fine reed close woven oak and date, reclining polished hand-grip, patent wheel fasteners and brake, 5-8 inch Rubber-Tired Cushion Wheels.

The 10 per cent discount is allowed as a mere introduction to this Busy Department. Come Monday.

CHINA DEPARTMENT.

Fish and Game Sets

The time is near at hand when you'll want a china, fish or game set. The question to you will be: "Where can I get a nice one at a reasonable price?" We feel confident this question will be settled in your mind when you see our magnificent assortment and the low prices. Our prices are much lower than the lowest, ranging from $4.50 to $25.00 per set.

72-inch Silver Bleached Table Damask, Reg. 75c, Monday 50c yd.

SCANDAL HITS BIG WARSHIPS

Steel Company Officers Charged With Furnishing Poor
Tubes.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The indictment of F. L. Emmet and two officers of the Shelby Steel Company on account of alleged furnishing of defective boiler tubes to the United States Government has aroused new interest in the scandal in Washington.

The battleship Louisiana is one of the vessels on which defective tubes might be in use, and this vessel is conveying President Roosevelt to Panama.

The Navy Department ignored the charges when first made. Senator Foraker, however, took up the matter and after that the Navy Department agreed to a second investigation, and also that the Department of Justice might take charge of the case. The indictments are the result.

Navy officers, however, are still very skeptical as to the presence of defective tubes on any of the warships.

Admiral Rae, Chief Engineer, U. S. N., said today:

"The tubes which are said to be defective have been in many boilers as long as four years and we have never had the slightest trouble with them. Neither have the boilers on the newer ships such as the Louisiana and Tennessee, of Washington, ever shown the slightest weakness, and I can not see how the Government has suffered in any way from the alleged attempt to put bad tubes in these vessels."

AMBROSE L. THOMAS

DROPS DEAD.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Ambrose L. Thomas, President of the firm of Lord & Thomas, known to newspapers all over the United States, dropped dead today while making some purchases in a retail dry goods store. Heart disease is thought to have caused his death.

AMBROSE L. THOMAS

PAPER ON PIONEERS OF EMPIRE

SANTA CLARA, Nov. 10.—A meeting of the Santa Clara Chautauqua Circle will be held tomorrow with Mrs. Garrigus. The following program will be rendered:

"Pioneers of Empire" (Robert Clive)

Mrs. Mary Hamilton; "English Government, Chapter IX," Mrs. Baker;

"What is Shakespeare," Chapter III,

"The Winter's Tale," Act II, Mrs. Jackson.

took D'Anna in charge, but later he was released. After addressing a note to his father, Signor D'Anna of Oklahoma, Okla., which read, "Good-bye, Papa, I cannot stand this disgrace—Victor," the young man went to the stable and shot Ghosson, who ran across the street to another stable and died before surgical aid could be summoned. D'Anna escaped arrest and went to the farm of the State Asylum for the Insane, six miles from the city, where he blew out his brains with a gun revolver with which he had

NEW RUSSIAN

CRUISER LAUNCHED.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 10.—The new cruiser Pallada of 7,900 tons and designed to have a speed of twenty-three knots, was launched here today.

She is of the type of armored cruiser

Bayan, now in course of construction here.

The Pallada and the Bayan take the place of the Russian cruisers of those names which were sunk at Port Arthur, refloated by the Japanese and renamed.

A XMAS PHOTOGRAPH

Should be bright—happy—joyous;
a perfect likeness artistically finished
—the regular WEBSTER kind.

Only six weeks to Xmas, so thoughtful, sensible people are getting them NOW at the

F. A. Webster Studio
ELEVEN-ELEVEN WASHINGTON, NEAR 13th

Survival of the College Spirit.

The college spirit is still alive and in its full vigor in California. That was conclusively demonstrated yesterday by the big attendance and the great enthusiasm manifest at the intercollegiate football contest on the California gridiron between the rival universities of California and Stanford. The contest demonstrated also that the maintenance of the college spirit is not dependent upon any particular form of football. The pessimistic predictions of the old paid coaches, trainers, managers, etc., that the abolition of the brutal and deadly and unsportsmanlike intercollegiate football would destroy the college spirit was not fulfilled, as every one who knew anything about the real merits of field sports knew beforehand that they would not. Rugby has demonstrated its ability to hold the interest of the spectators even better than the old game of intercollegiate, for the reason that the actual workings of the rival teams were more in evidence and the play more open. The people saw, in fact, more for their money than intercollegiate football ever revealed to them. As a result of the contest, Rugby is conceded to be a saner and more interesting game, possessing greater action comprehensible to the inexpert onlooker and, therefore, more acceptable from the spectator's standpoint than the old intercollegiate, with its concealed mass plays, in which the brutal instincts of the rival teams had full sway, while the spectators were in total ignorance of what was taking place until the ball emerged from the struggling mass, and the dead or the disabled left on the field were exposed to view and removed on stretchers or carried off in the arms of their friends.

The college spirit has proved its ability to survive any change. Yesterday's contest settled the fact that its survival is not dependent upon the form of the game. And the tremendous enthusiasm which greeted the open work of the Rugby play proves conclusively that the more open play there is to college football the better it will be appreciated by the spectators who flock to these annual college field contests of physical skill and endurance.

The success of Rugby as a college athletic field sport speaks volumes for the future of Association in California. Association football is football, pure and simple, and not carry-ball as the discarded intercollegiate was wholly or as Rugby is in a lesser degree. Moreover, in the home of Rugby, it should be remembered in the days of the triumphant introduction of it in this State, it has been displaced in public favor by the absolutely open game of Association football, and the latter now numbers its votaries by the thousand for each hundred who follow the Rugby game. Probably the University Athletic Committee did wisely, for all that, to introduce Rugby first as a compromise, for the reason that it was the parent of the old game, in order to test the quality and endurance of the college spirit. But the time is close at hand when the open game of Association football, in which every move of the players is visible to the spectators and the changes of the play occur with kaleidoscopic rapidity, will take precedence in intercollegiate field sport contests. Americans love to witness a rapid open game, where they can see everything that is taking place on the field. This is the secret of the success and great popularity of baseball. They will, therefore, sooner or later, concede the superiority of Association football over Rugby as a college field sport, as sincerely as they are now conceding the superiority, from a spectator's standpoint, of Rugby over the condemned intercollegiate football game. It only remains for the University faculty athletic committee to place Association football in the regular list of college field sports and the introduction of intercollegiate Association football contests, to produce this result. And when this happens, THE TRIBUNE predicts that the college spirit and enthusiasm will be more in evidence than ever. This is abundantly guaranteed by the present success of Rugby.

Integrity of Reinforced Concrete.

The collapse of the big Hotel Bixby, at Long Beach, Los Angeles County, while in course of construction, and the large number of casualties among the workmen employed which accompanied it, is a highly deplorable event, in more than one respect. The financial loss to the contractor and to promoters of the hotel is minor matter, although it will probably involve $500,000 or more, when compared with the loss of life and the large number of persons maimed and otherwise injured. The collapse of the building, whose walls were composed of re-inforced concrete, may have a damaging effect upon this promising form of construction material which has recently gained much favor in the building world owing to the splendid examples of resistance to earthquake and fire which survived the San Francisco calamity. Faith in re-inforced concrete should not be shaken, however, by the Hotel Bixby collapse, for the reason that investigation will probably demonstrate the fact that the walls yielded, because of undue haste on the part of a reckless contractor to complete his job, and that, while yet green, they were overloaded with the heavy concrete floors.

Reinforced concrete has been tested satisfactorily in various parts of the world, in the construction of bridges and buildings carrying heavier weights than any other kind of building material and that under exceptionally trying conditions. Of course, the builder who weights down a re-inforced concrete wall, while it is yet green with the load it is designed to carry after it has perfectly set and hardened is little short of an idiot or a criminal. Unseasoned reinforced concrete walls are not expected to carry more than their own weight, and no prudent builder who understands his business will run any risks when constructing them in order to save time. The lesson to be drawn from the Long Beach disaster is, therefore, not that reinforced concrete walls are untrustworthy, but that hasty construction with this material is no safer than with brick and mortar. No builder who understands his business and has due regard for the safety of his men and the security of the property of his clients would venture to load down a brick wall before the mortar holding it together had time to set and harden. Brick walls have, however, collapsed from this very cause; but that has not destroyed anyone's faith in the stability of such a wall when honestly built. For that reason, if for none other, there is no room for doubting the integrity of reinforced concrete, because a structure whose walls were composed of that material collapsed through overloading before it had a reasonable time to set and season. It is an indisputable fact that many of the strongest structures ever erected by man have been built of concrete and they have successfully survived the ravages of time and the elements for many centuries without serious impairment.

Growth of Trade-Unionism in Britain.

In a recent contribution to the Chicago Record-Herald, its London correspondent, William E. Curtis, discusses the growth of Trade-Unionism in the United Kingdom and the effects of its entry into the field of politics. Trade-Unionism has become, of late years, a strong factor in British politics, and is not only now represented in the British House of Commons by fifty of its members, but it has also two representatives in the cabinet, namely, John Burns and David Lloyd-George.

In the early part of October the annual Congress of the British Trades-Unions assembled in Liverpool. There were 458 delegates present representing 218 societies and a total membership of 1,510,000. It is thirty-nine years since Trade-Unionism, as it now exists, became an influential factor in British industries; but it was only at the last general election that it entered politics in earnest, and, joining forces with the anti-conservative Unionists, carried fifty of its representatives into Parliament on the tidal wave which overwhelmed Balfour and Chamberlain, leaving the former discredited, the latter a stranded mental and physical wreck on the plain of his party's Waterloo, surrounded with the flotsam and jetsam of his preferential tariff policy.

Before that election labor had, however, its representatives in the Commons in the persons of John Burns, Keir Hardie and William Abraham. But Burns and Abraham were the sole real representatives of Trades-Unionism. The latter had been returned for several preceding terms by the unionized colliers of the Rhondda Valley, in South Wales and the former represented the unionized London dock and wharf laborers. Keir Hardie was really chosen by a socialistic constituency. In a somewhat narrower sense, Lloyd-George and William Jones represented labor in previous parliaments, because they owed their election largely to the votes of the Carnarvonshire quarrymen. Both are in the present parliament; but they are not representatives of Trades-Unionism as Burns and Abrahams are. The common sense conduct of Burns and Abraham as Trades-Union members of Parliament paved the way for the big success of Trades-Unionism in the last election. These two men raised directly from the ranks of the wage-earners displayed so much tact and sagacity in Parliament that they won the confidence of employers and employees in their respective districts so completely that they have been since invariably selected by both sides as arbitrators to adjust the differences arising between them.

Thirty-nine years ago, Trades-Unionism was represented in its annual congress by only 84 delegates. The unions then had a total membership of only 118,307. The latter has since grown thirteen fold, and it now holds great power politically and industrially. In fact, the power of the Trades-Unions in the British industries is practically supreme and their influence in politics, as demonstrated by the parliamentary representation, is strong enough to materially affect the turn of public affairs.

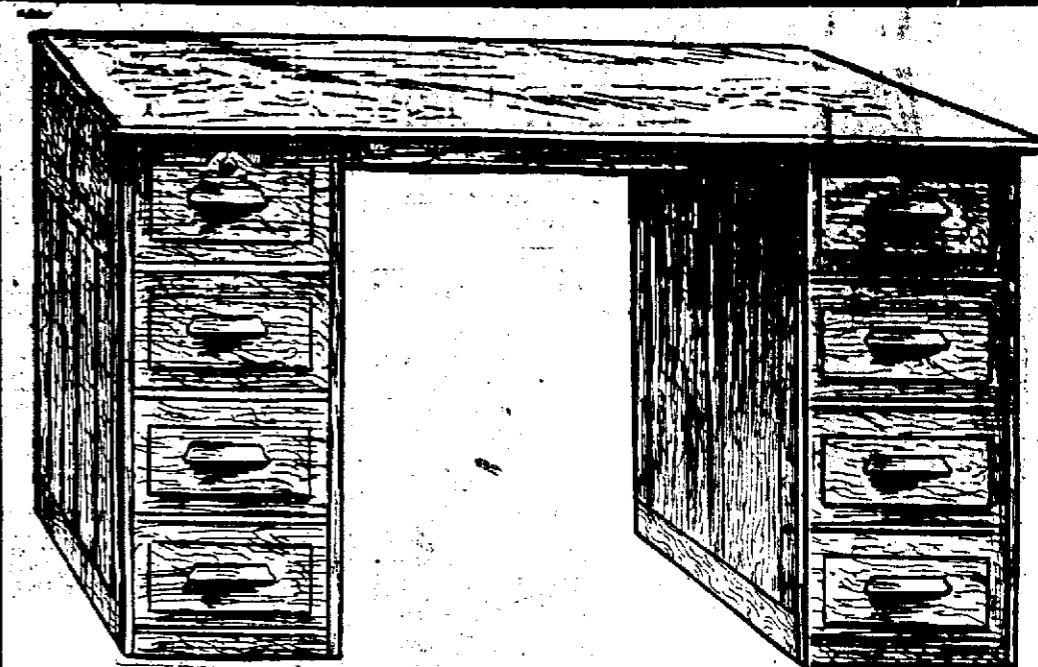

Trades-Unionism in the United Kingdom is, in a very broad sense, a revival of the ancient guilds which started in ancient times as confraternities for the promotion of common interests, for the relief of sickness and mutual protection from violence. In the reign of Henry II guilds could be organized only with royal consent. Those organized without the sanction of the sovereign were subject to severe penalties, and heavy fines were imposed on many, this created. At that time the guilds represented particular trades; their members united for mutual assistance in sickness and for maintaining trade interests. There were guilds of goldsmiths, of weavers, of cordwainers, of pattern-makers, of spectacle-makers and, in fact, of nearly all the skilled mechanical occupations. No craftsman was permitted to practice his particular craft unless he was a member of a guild. These guilds grew so powerful, in the course of time, that they exacted from the sovereign special rights and privileges, which were finally abolished by special acts of parliament, after centuries of undisputed enjoyment, as being contrary to public policy. Prior to the act of 1833, no person could keep a shop for merchandise or exercise certain trades within the borough, in England, unless he was a member of a guild; and, up to 1847, the guilds were given the exclusive right to trade in the Scotch boroughs.

The tendency of the British Trades-Unions in politics is toward the naturalization of all public utilities, such as railways, canals, mines, street tramways and other transportation lines, the operation of electric cars, the manufacture of electric light and the supplying of water. There is an intimation also that it will ultimately favor the naturalization of the land. Resolutions were, in fact, carried at the recent annual congress which, if put into effect at once would probably bankrupt the nation, for no one who took part in the discussion of the various measures had apparently given any consideration to the question of cost. At all events, no reference was made to that feature of the case. The congress nevertheless instructed the labor members of Parliament to prepare and submit a bill for the acquisition of these public utilities without reference to cost. The danger to Trades-Unionism in British politics is that it will over-reach and destroy itself as a potent power by demanding the consummation of the impossible. The perpetration of its strength rests in the development and exercise of a reasonable conservatism in its leaders, for the rank and file, through inconsiderate action born of inexperience and an unripe judgment, are liable to destroy the power it has recently acquired in British politics if its future course is to be governed by their impulses.

A potato famine impends over a large part of the west of Ireland. In the counties of Mayo, Galway, Sligo, Roscommon and Clare blight has invaded the fields, and in the two former counties the crop is already pronounced a failure. Of the 600,000 acres planted to potatoes in Ireland about one-fifth is in the five affected counties. The disease has also made its appearance on the other side of St. George's Channel—in North Wales, where the crop is said to be the worst in twenty years. In Western Scotland, also, it is reported to be rapidly spreading. If the British Isles had a Luther Burbank he would probably produce a seedling tuber for them which would be immune from the blight. The latter is supposed to be due to overplanting the land without changing the seed potato. It has been noted that a long succession of crops obtained from the seed of one variety invariably results in the weakening of the plant and its surrender to the disease.

When some of the leading San Francisco real estate agents are attracted to Oakland and listing properties for sale in the territory which has recently been invaded by business, it is conclusive proof that the field is a good one for investment.

The scarcity of labor and high wages are not California exceptions. Bradstreet's reports that both are common to the United States at large and are directly traceable to the continued prosperity of the nation.

A SENSATIONAL CLEAN-UP OF Flat Top Desks

Two hundred flat-top desks, all of one design, at a bargain while they last. No time for talk—these desks were bought at a sacrifice and must be turned over to the public at once. We have no room to store them and propose to clear them out at the rate of fifty desks a day

They're splendid desks. Not a thing the matter with them. OF SOLID OAK and magnificently well made. They're just like the picture, with four drawers on each side and every drawer with a lock. There are two sliding shelves on each side. These desks are full size, 26x48 inches and 30 inches high. Just the desk for a score of purposes and a desk that will stand, indefinitely, the hardest kind of usage.

you can't equal them anywhere for less than $17.50

See them in the window—come in and examine them closely—then you'll want one. Why, you could use one in your home and two or three in your office. A flat-top desk is always handy—and these solid oak ones are nearly as cheap as good pine table.

Don't overlook this offer! You'll regret it if you do! If we had the room we could, in 2 months, sell every desk in the lot for $17.50.

Sale starts at 8 o'clock to-morrow morning and continues until all are sold

Sale price while they last, net cash

$13.50
Each

Jackson Furniture Co.

$50.00 Worth of Furniture for $1.00 a Week

519-523 12th St. OAKLAND 518-520 11th

OUTSPOKEN SAM JONES

The Georgia Evangelist Was Always Forceful, If Not Elegant, in His Talk.

Sam Jones probably did as much real good as any other man of his generation. Some thirty-five years ago they used to throw him on a dray and haul him home in the afternoon, as he was too drunk to walk or even crawl. I am giving away no secret. Sam told it to his audiences thousands of times, trying himself the youngest young squire in Georgia. His language was that of the backwoods, no conficts on the journey. There are no laces and rickrack; there are my breeches. Mary, I want to have a plain, clear, frank understanding with you. We have agreed to travel the long road of life side by side. There will be things I can do for you, for me to do. Let us make up our minds to do this.

His breeches were his own, and none could have been more apt. His strong was so original and always hit the nail so squarely on the head that even the most hardened of his enemies could not hit him when he "cut loose." He hit as straight from the shoulder as the mighty Becher, and was quite as remarkable a character, quite as independent, quite as fearless.

The best of all that Sam Jones said was that which brought him to a clear understanding with his wife the morning after they were married. He told it in a sermon, off-hand, and every eye in the congregation saw it. Then he was a good old strife in many households, spats between husbands and wives, separations, divorces and other troubles. Sam said: "You go to the ant and stop it. It's an honest ant, but it can't stop at home. Old folks who have been naging at your wives for many years, and been naged back till you have lost your manhood; but I'm going to say something for the young nags and those who contemplate matrimony."

You all recollect when me and Mrs.

Sam got married. Most of you veterans were there that night, and ate of the wedding feast.

We stayed up late. The young folks danced and we looked on. By and by the midnight hour sent me all home and Mrs. Jones and I went to bed. When I went up next morning, there she was sleeping. Her a singer alongside of me.

She was beautiful to look upon—as you all know. She's beautiful yet. God bless her! Beautiful in her love for me and our children, and in her domesticity, in her character. To have such a wife is the pinnacle of hope, the summit of happiness. To think of her is to praise God!

"C'est à Bon, Bon,

C'est à Bon, Bon,

MME. MELBA'S SON TO WED

His Bride-to-Be the Young Daughter of a British Army Officer.

Details have just been received to the recent announcement of engagement of Mme. Melba's son, George Armstrong, to Miss Ruby G.

Jocelyn Otway at Park Lane. It will be a love match pure and respectfully, and the culmination of a spring affair in London spring

after Mme. Melba returns

Lieutenant Colonel Jocelyn Otway, a well known figure in London life. He is the son of Sir George Armstrong, a country in Hertfordshire, and a member of the Army and Navy, the Athenaeum Club, and a host of other excellencies. Mrs. Otway is the possession collection of jewels which have famous throughout England for years.

Mrs. Otway is a blonde, is a above the medium height and is the upper Thame. Mme. Melba had a house on the river not far that of Mme. Melba, and she and Armstrong were introduced at a party. An attachment began which grew last spring the young people anno-that they wished to get married.

raised opposition. Colonel and Mrs.

Armstrong are as well known in England as are the famous young man and his sweetheart were in the purpose, however, and opposed was withdrawn.

Colonel Armstrong, who is some time on a ranch in Texas, is now in the United States. The

Colonel and Mrs. Armstrong, who are well known in the United States,

will be married in the United States

in the fall of this year.

Colonel and Mrs. Armstrong, who are well known in the United States,

will be married in the United States

in the fall of this year.

Colonel and Mrs. Armstrong, who are well known in the United States,

will be married in the United States

in the fall of this year.

Colonel and Mrs. Armstrong, who

Gifted Man

MICHIGAN AT TURNING POINT

Sentiment in Favor of Leaving Western Conference for the Eastern.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—The sentiment that is being developed in Ann Arbor and among the alumni for Michigan to cut loose from the Western Conference college class and get into the Eastern Intercollegiate is increasing as rapidly as a western city after a government opening of an Indian reservation.

There is just one way in which the faculty can regain the old-time popularity with the student body and the alumni, and that is to grant the Michigan team the right to go east and measure athletic strength with the best in the country. The Michigan faculty certainly handled the athletic branch of the university a lemon when they passed the most astounding regulations at the meeting of the representatives last spring.

Professor Harry Bates of the law faculty is an man who has done as much as anyone else for the purity of athletics. Said he: "Some of the regulations are all right. For instance, to bar freshmen from athletic teams will certainly have a tendency to do away with inducing young men to come to college with the sole idea that they are here for athletics, and it will convince the public that athletics are not the principal things about a life in college."

NONSENSICAL RULE.

"But of all the nonsensical rules that I ever heard of is that in which seniors are barred from participation in athletics. Take, for instance, the case of Johnny Garrels. He is one of the most genuine students in the university. His work is up to that standard that he was offered an assistantship in the department of history. According to the rules, he would not be eligible to be on Michigan's track team next spring and yet there is not the slightest doubt about his amateurism and his standing as a student."

The inactu got an awful job from the regents in an unoffical way last spring, when some jealous members sought to do away with Yost, and it was only a big indignation meeting and the expressions of at least three members of the board of regents that called a halt on that movement. The excuse offered by the members of the faculty whose blood does not run any faster when they hear the news from the football games, was that it incited too much bitter rivalry in the western colleges and the ill-feeling aroused was really detrimental to college spirit.

The extreme radicals now generally known as the progressives, and the Labor and the Socialist parties will certainly do their best in the cause.

Meanwhile the motor manufacturers are organizing against the tax, and there is likely to be an avalanche of petitions presented, one by one, to the Government for and against the tax. Those behind the scenes declare that all automobiles will be taxed, with the exception of those owned by medical men and those run in the Government service, such as mail vans.

The great physicians have already formed a committee and they intend to show parliament that it is to the interest of the public that they should not be handicapped by paying a large tax on vehicles which enable them to render speedy help in times of emergency.

CASE OF JEALOUSY.

While it may make some of the learned professors a little hot to bring to their attention and while it may be a little indiscreet to say it, the fact is nevertheless that there is a belief that some of the faculty are inclined to be jealous "grumblers." That plain English is plain English, is being spoken in connection with the matter, and this is no reflection on that department either.

Owing to the elimination of athletes from the football team by graduation and examination and condemnation the team was seriously weakened, but Yost is certainly striving to make a good showing in the east when Michigan goes there on November 17. If Michigan can hold her own in football with Pennsylvania this fall there will be no doubt that the track team next spring with the easterners as Michigan has come away from the invitation meets at Philadelphia for the past four years with enough gold watches in first prize to demonstrate that Fitzpatrick can deliver some first-class goods in the track line.

When the faculty men took the bull by the horns and started out in the taming business they said that the three-year-old rule would not be retroactive as to football, but were silent about track.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world)

CAPETOWN (Cape Colony), Nov. 10.—A disturbance has occurred in the northwestern part of Cape Colony. The official report of the affair was that several Boers, led by a man named Paterson, recently employed to German South Africa, entered the northwestern part of this colony a few days ago and surprised a police camp in the vicinity of Witkop, wounding two troopers, seizing their arms and ammunition and subsequently capturing a corporal of police. At Abiqua-Fortress, who is a Transvaal Colony Boer, gained some recruits and marched to Sewardmoor, about twenty-five miles from the frontier, where he is reported to be compelling the farmers to join his forces, asserting that an uprising in the Transvaal is imminent. The Colonial Government has adopted measures to suppress the disorder.

Moneyback grocer sells Schilling's Best Tea and Coffee.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—H. Dockwile, the consulting engineer who prepared the case for the city in the contest against the Spring Valley Water Company before the Federal Courts, is now engaged in perfecting the records which were destroyed by the fire of last April. When the Spring Valley Company brought suit against the city to restrain the supervisors from enforcing rates fixed by the board, Judge Gilbert, sitting for Judge Morrow, granted an injunction until the issues were tried.

A raid was conducted yesterday afternoon on a gambling joint at 272 Second street in Chinatown by Policeman Cox and Ah Low and Ah Gee were taken to the City Prison and charged with gambling. The former deposited $25 bail for his release and the latter $10.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—H. Dockwile, the consulting engineer who prepared the case for the city in the contest against the Spring Valley Water Company before the Federal Courts, is now engaged in perfecting the records which were destroyed by the fire of last April. When the Spring Valley Company brought suit against the city to restrain the supervisors from enforcing rates fixed by the board, Judge Gilbert, sitting for Judge Morrow, granted an injunction until the issues were tried.

A raid was conducted yesterday afternoon on a gambling joint at 272 Second street in Chinatown by Policeman Cox and Ah Low and Ah Gee were taken to the City Prison and charged with gambling. The former deposited $25 bail for his release and the latter $10.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—H. Dockwile, the consulting engineer who prepared the case for the city in the contest against the Spring Valley Water Company before the Federal Courts, is now engaged in perfecting the records which were destroyed by the fire of last April. When the Spring Valley Company brought suit against the city to restrain the supervisors from enforcing rates fixed by the board, Judge Gilbert, sitting for Judge Morrow, granted an injunction until the issues were tried.

A raid was conducted yesterday afternoon on a gambling joint at 272 Second street in Chinatown by Policeman Cox and Ah Low and Ah Gee were taken to the City Prison and charged with gambling. The former deposited $25 bail for his release and the latter $10.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—H. Dockwile, the consulting engineer who prepared the case for the city in the contest against the Spring Valley Water Company before the Federal Courts, is now engaged in perfecting the records which were destroyed by the fire of last April. When the Spring Valley Company brought suit against the city to restrain the supervisors from enforcing rates fixed by the board, Judge Gilbert, sitting for Judge Morrow, granted an injunction until the issues were tried.

A raid was conducted yesterday afternoon on a gambling joint at 272 Second street in Chinatown by Policeman Cox and Ah Low and Ah Gee were taken to the City Prison and charged with gambling. The former deposited $25 bail for his release and the latter $10.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—H. Dockwile, the consulting engineer who prepared the case for the city in the contest against the Spring Valley Water Company before the Federal Courts, is now engaged in perfecting the records which were destroyed by the fire of last April. When the Spring Valley Company brought suit against the city to restrain the supervisors from enforcing rates fixed by the board, Judge Gilbert, sitting for Judge Morrow, granted an injunction until the issues were tried.

A raid was conducted yesterday afternoon on a gambling joint at 272 Second street in Chinatown by Policeman Cox and Ah Low and Ah Gee were taken to the City Prison and charged with gambling. The former deposited $25 bail for his release and the latter $10.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—H. Dockwile, the consulting engineer who prepared the case for the city in the contest against the Spring Valley Water Company before the Federal Courts, is now engaged in perfecting the records which were destroyed by the fire of last April. When the Spring Valley Company brought suit against the city to restrain the supervisors from enforcing rates fixed by the board, Judge Gilbert, sitting for Judge Morrow, granted an injunction until the issues were tried.

A raid was conducted yesterday afternoon on a gambling joint at 272 Second street in Chinatown by Policeman Cox and Ah Low and Ah Gee were taken to the City Prison and charged with gambling. The former deposited $25 bail for his release and the latter $10.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—H. Dockwile, the consulting engineer who prepared the case for the city in the contest against the Spring Valley Water Company before the Federal Courts, is now engaged in perfecting the records which were destroyed by the fire of last April. When the Spring Valley Company brought suit against the city to restrain the supervisors from enforcing rates fixed by the board, Judge Gilbert, sitting for Judge Morrow, granted an injunction until the issues were tried.

A raid was conducted yesterday afternoon on a gambling joint at 272 Second street in Chinatown by Policeman Cox and Ah Low and Ah Gee were taken to the City Prison and charged with gambling. The former deposited $25 bail for his release and the latter $10.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—H. Dockwile, the consulting engineer who prepared the case for the city in the contest against the Spring Valley Water Company before the Federal Courts, is now engaged in perfecting the records which were destroyed by the fire of last April. When the Spring Valley Company brought suit against the city to restrain the supervisors from enforcing rates fixed by the board, Judge Gilbert, sitting for Judge Morrow, granted an injunction until the issues were tried.

A raid was conducted yesterday afternoon on a gambling joint at 272 Second street in Chinatown by Policeman Cox and Ah Low and Ah Gee were taken to the City Prison and charged with gambling. The former deposited $25 bail for his release and the latter $10.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—H. Dockwile, the consulting engineer who prepared the case for the city in the contest against the Spring Valley Water Company before the Federal Courts, is now engaged in perfecting the records which were destroyed by the fire of last April. When the Spring Valley Company brought suit against the city to restrain the supervisors from enforcing rates fixed by the board, Judge Gilbert, sitting for Judge Morrow, granted an injunction until the issues were tried.

A raid was conducted yesterday afternoon on a gambling joint at 272 Second street in Chinatown by Policeman Cox and Ah Low and Ah Gee were taken to the City Prison and charged with gambling. The former deposited $25 bail for his release and the latter $10.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—H. Dockwile, the consulting engineer who prepared the case for the city in the contest against the Spring Valley Water Company before the Federal Courts, is now engaged in perfecting the records which were destroyed by the fire of last April. When the Spring Valley Company brought suit against the city to restrain the supervisors from enforcing rates fixed by the board, Judge Gilbert, sitting for Judge Morrow, granted an injunction until the issues were tried.

A raid was conducted yesterday afternoon on a gambling joint at 272 Second street in Chinatown by Policeman Cox and Ah Low and Ah Gee were taken to the City Prison and charged with gambling. The former deposited $25 bail for his release and the latter $10.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—H. Dockwile, the consulting engineer who prepared the case for the city in the contest against the Spring Valley Water Company before the Federal Courts, is now engaged in perfecting the records which were destroyed by the fire of last April. When the Spring Valley Company brought suit against the city to restrain the supervisors from enforcing rates fixed by the board, Judge Gilbert, sitting for Judge Morrow, granted an injunction until the issues were tried.

A raid was conducted yesterday afternoon on a gambling joint at 272 Second street in Chinatown by Policeman Cox and Ah Low and Ah Gee were taken to the City Prison and charged with gambling. The former deposited $25 bail for his release and the latter $10.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—H. Dockwile, the consulting engineer who prepared the case for the city in the contest against the Spring Valley Water Company before the Federal Courts, is now engaged in perfecting the records which were destroyed by the fire of last April. When the Spring Valley Company brought suit against the city to restrain the supervisors from enforcing rates fixed by the board, Judge Gilbert, sitting for Judge Morrow, granted an injunction until the issues were tried.

A raid was conducted yesterday afternoon on a gambling joint at 272 Second street in Chinatown by Policeman Cox and Ah Low and Ah Gee were taken to the City Prison and charged with gambling. The former deposited $25 bail for his release and the latter $10.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—H. Dockwile, the consulting engineer who prepared the case for the city in the contest against the Spring Valley Water Company before the Federal Courts, is now engaged in perfecting the records which were destroyed by the fire of last April. When the Spring Valley Company brought suit against the city to restrain the supervisors from enforcing rates fixed by the board, Judge Gilbert, sitting for Judge Morrow, granted an injunction until the issues were tried.

A raid was conducted yesterday afternoon on a gambling joint at 272 Second street in Chinatown by Policeman Cox and Ah Low and Ah Gee were taken to the City Prison and charged with gambling. The former deposited $25 bail for his release and the latter $10.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—H. Dockwile, the consulting engineer who prepared the case for the city in the contest against the Spring Valley Water Company before the Federal Courts, is now engaged in perfecting the records which were destroyed by the fire of last April. When the Spring Valley Company brought suit against the city to restrain the supervisors from enforcing rates fixed by the board, Judge Gilbert, sitting for Judge Morrow, granted an injunction until the issues were tried.

A raid was conducted yesterday afternoon on a gambling joint at 272 Second street in Chinatown by Policeman Cox and Ah Low and Ah Gee were taken to the City Prison and charged with gambling. The former deposited $25 bail for his release and the latter $10.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—H. Dockwile, the consulting engineer who prepared the case for the city in the contest against the Spring Valley Water Company before the Federal Courts, is now engaged in perfecting the records which were destroyed by the fire of last April. When the Spring Valley Company brought suit against the city to restrain the supervisors from enforcing rates fixed by the board, Judge Gilbert, sitting for Judge Morrow, granted an injunction until the issues were tried.

A raid was conducted yesterday afternoon on a gambling joint at 272 Second street in Chinatown by Policeman Cox and Ah Low and Ah Gee were taken to the City Prison and charged with gambling. The former deposited $25 bail for his release and the latter $10.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—H. Dockwile, the consulting engineer who prepared the case for the city in the contest against the Spring Valley Water Company before the Federal Courts, is now engaged in perfecting the records which were destroyed by the fire of last April. When the Spring Valley Company brought suit against the city to restrain the supervisors from enforcing rates fixed by the board, Judge Gilbert, sitting for Judge Morrow, granted an injunction until the issues were tried.

A raid was conducted yesterday afternoon on a gambling joint at 272 Second street in Chinatown by Policeman Cox and Ah Low and Ah Gee were taken to the City Prison and charged with gambling. The former deposited $25 bail for his release and the latter $10.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—H. Dockwile, the consulting engineer who prepared the case for the city in the contest against the Spring Valley Water Company before the Federal Courts, is now engaged in perfecting the records which were destroyed by the fire of last April. When the Spring Valley Company brought suit against the city to restrain the supervisors from enforcing rates fixed by the board, Judge Gilbert, sitting for Judge Morrow, granted an injunction until the issues were tried.

A raid was conducted yesterday afternoon on a gambling joint at 272 Second street in Chinatown by Policeman Cox and Ah Low and Ah Gee were taken to the City Prison and charged with gambling. The former deposited $25 bail for his release and the latter $10.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—H. Dockwile, the consulting engineer who prepared the case for the city in the contest against the Spring Valley Water Company before the Federal Courts, is now engaged in perfecting the records which were destroyed by the fire of last April. When the Spring Valley Company brought suit against the city to restrain the supervisors from enforcing rates fixed by the board, Judge Gilbert, sitting for Judge Morrow, granted an injunction until the issues were tried.

A raid was conducted yesterday afternoon on a gambling joint at 272 Second street in Chinatown by Policeman Cox and Ah Low and Ah Gee were taken to the City Prison and charged with gambling. The former deposited $25 bail for his release and the latter $10.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—H. Dockwile, the consulting engineer who prepared the case for the city in the contest against the Spring Valley Water Company before the Federal Courts, is now engaged in perfecting the records which were destroyed by the fire of last April. When the Spring Valley Company brought suit against the city to restrain the supervisors from enforcing rates fixed by the board, Judge Gilbert, sitting for Judge Morrow, granted an injunction until the issues were tried.

A raid was conducted yesterday afternoon on a gambling joint at 272 Second street in Chinatown by Policeman Cox and Ah Low and Ah Gee were taken to the City Prison and charged with gambling. The former deposited $25 bail for his release and the latter $10.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—H. Dockwile, the consulting engineer who prepared the case for the city in the contest against the Spring Valley Water Company before the Federal Courts, is now engaged in perfecting the records which were destroyed by the fire of last April. When the Spring Valley Company brought suit against the city to restrain the supervisors from enforcing rates fixed by the board, Judge Gilbert, sitting for Judge Morrow, granted an injunction until the issues were tried.

A raid was conducted yesterday afternoon on a gambling joint at 272 Second street in Chinatown by Policeman Cox and Ah Low and Ah Gee were taken to the City Prison and charged with gambling. The former deposited $25 bail for his release and the latter $10.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—H. Dockwile, the consulting engineer who prepared the case for the city in the contest against the Spring Valley Water Company before the Federal Courts, is now engaged in perfecting the records which were destroyed by the fire of last April. When the Spring Valley Company brought suit against the city to restrain the supervisors from enforcing rates fixed by the board, Judge Gilbert, sitting for Judge Morrow, granted an injunction until the issues were tried.

A raid was conducted yesterday afternoon on a gambling joint at 272 Second street in Chinatown by Policeman Cox and Ah Low and Ah Gee were taken to the City Prison and charged with gambling. The former deposited $25 bail for his release and the latter $10.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—H. Dockwile, the consulting engineer who prepared the case for the city in the contest against the Spring

Tomorrow at Samuels

Specials from Several Departments which will be sold VERY CHEAP and are all MOST DESIRABLE Styles.

Dress Goods

Twenty pieces 58-inch Oxford Mixtures—the season's best styles have been selling at $1.00 and $1.25.

Reduced to 75c yard.

(Note the width.)

Twenty-five pieces excellent quality mixed Suitings—36 inches wide.

A great leader at 50c yard.

Black Taffeta Silks

A RARE SPECIAL

Ten pieces 27-inch pure Silk Taffeta, bright Chiffon finish and dependable quality—which we guarantee at 75c yard.

Plaid Silks

A range of handsome Tartan Plaid Silks—24 inches wide and pure silk—exclusive designs.

On sale at $1.00 yard—instead of $1.50.

Ruffled Arabian Bed Sets at $5.50 per Set

Fifty pleasing ruffled Net Bed Sets for Double Beds—made of the very best quality French net.

Real Arabian motif in center and Arabian inserting and edging to match.

Bolster Cases the same—(same effect exactly in white).

Price only $5.50 per set.

Handkerchiefs

500 boxes pure Linen hand woven corded and blocked handkerchiefs for women at 90c box of $\frac{1}{2}$ dozen—value \$1.25 box.

750 dozen pure linen hemstitched Handkerchiefs—all width hems—our 25c handkerchiefs.

Tomorrow at $2.25.

Also at 15c Each

A splendid quality and very sheer blocked handkerchiefs—with hand-made initials—500 dozen of them—always 25c each.

On sale at 15c each.

D. Samuels Lace House Co.

Established over fifty-five years.

S. E. corner Van Ness avenue and Sutter St.
San Francisco.

MAIL ORDER patrons will find that their ders whether for samples or purchases receive most careful attention.

The Latest Store News

To learn the art of careful buying visit our store—watch our ads. for special bargains—and see for yourself how much we save you. The

Real Economy Bargains

that we are offering in all kinds of household goods will be duplicated in the wonderful

Xmas Gifts

which we are going to have. Beautiful things for "young and old" are arriving daily.

THE STORE THAT SAVES YOU MONEY.

THE NEW 5 & 10 Cent Store

46 San Pablo Ave.

near Bell Theater.

TYPOS LOWER ASSESSMENT

Unions Throughout Country Lessen Rate by Two Per Cent.

MAKES FUSS IN THEATER

Newsboy Becomes Hilarious at Macdonough Theater and Is Arrested.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—The Typographical unions throughout the country today cut down their assessments from seven per cent per week to five per cent. The reduction in the assessment will go into effect November 15. The decrease proves that the Typographical unions have won a successful battle for the eight-hour day and increased wages, and that they now have a surplus in their strike benefit fund.

The assessments, which were at one time ten per cent, has been gradual and it is planned that within the near future a further reduction will be made.

SPENDS NIGHT IN THE WATER

Aged Man Attempts to Follow Wife and Falls Into River

NORTH YAKIMA, Nov. 10.—An experience like that which befell old man Adam Mock of South Kittitas avenue, who spent several hours in the ice cold water of the Yakima river recently, would probably have resulted seriously with any other person than this sturdy German of three score years and ten. He slipped down the embankment of the railroad north of Ellensburg about two miles and being injured in the fall stood for several hours in the water up to his waist before he was rescued by the night watchman in the canyon at this point.

Adam Mock is an old German who came to the United States forty years ago. He said he left the old country because he could get only $20 a year and his board laboring in his native land. He had taken a contract with a stage driver in that country to drive a stage for him twelve years at that price, and as soon as his contract expired he came to America and settled in New York State.

He came to the State of Washington twelve years ago, and settled in Kittitas county. He brought his family, a wife and four boys with him. The old man is past 70 years of age.

SELLS THE PLACE

Some time ago he sold his place in Kittitas county to his sons for $2,000. This is far below the real value of the property, but because his sons were the purchasers he let them have it cheaper than any one else could have gotten the property. They only paid him $60 down, and gave their notes for the balance. He gave to his wife her share of the notes, and kept the other half. The sons are supposed to pay interest on these notes, and it seems that the interest of $88 coming to him is past due.

One morning his wife announced her intention, so the old man said, of going to Ellensburg. His story is in substance that he feared his wife and son were trying to beat him out of the money coming to him and that was the reason he wanted to go to Ellensburg at this time.

It so happened, however, that Mrs. Mock missed the train that morning, and had intended to leave the next morning for Ellensburg. The old man decided to walk up to the burg, although he had $40 in gold on his person. He has made the trip many times in a day, but he was younger than he is now.

STARTS ON JOURNEY

Accordingly, he left here some time in the forenoon and had gotten along about seventeen miles from town when darkness overtook him. While trudging slowly in the darkness along the path on the outside of the track he stumbled on a rock and fell down the embankment. It is in the deepest gorge of the Yakima Canyon and the river runs close to the track, but the water's edge is possibly twelve feet below the track level. In the fall the old man injured himself, and when the cold water struck him he became numb and could not move. His face was bruised and his nose badly scarred. He does not know exactly how long he remained in the water, but it was probably three hours before the night watchman on the railroad at that point heard the grunts of the old man and rescued him.

He was taken to the section house at Selah and cared for. The sheriff's office was notified, and Sheriff Grant sent Lew Buckholz after the unfortunate man.

In the meantime his wife had taken the train and gone to Ellensburg, and is up there now.

As a matter of fact, the old man is perhaps a little childish, and the authorities are of the opinion that probably his belief that his wife and sons are trying to beat him out of his money is a fancied injury. They will, however, investigate the matter.

THREATENED BY FLAMES

New Brewery, in Course of Construction, Saved From Loss by Fire.

Fire last night threatened the new brewery building, now under course of construction at the corner of Twenty-eighth and Linden streets. The structure is the property of the Oakland Bottling Works, and is two stories in height.

The blaze, which proved to be an incipient one, started in the roof and had gained but little headway when extinguished by the Fire Department. The roof has recently been coated with tar, and it is thought that one of the workmen carelessly threw a cigarette on the inflammable material while at work yesterday afternoon. The cigarette is supposed to have smouldered in the tar, and to have finally been fanned into a flame, which was discovered by nearby residents, who summoned the Fire Department. The damage was nominal.

WOMAN HIT BY A WAGON

Miss Margaret Lyons Becomes Bewildered by Vehicles and Is Injured.

Young Ernest Burt, a newsboy, became inoculated with the college spirit of joyousness which prevailed in this city last night, and while he was attending the play at the Macdonough Theater became unduly hilarious and was arrested by Special Policeman Starr and taken to the city prison, where he was charged with disturbing the peace.

AN AWFUL RUSH AT THE BIG STORE

GREAT DEMONSTRATION SALE

Of Fine Pianos at Eilers Music Company's Big Store at 1075-1077 CLAY ST., near 12th

REAL PIANO SELLING

THE ABOVE CUT CLEARLY DEMONSTRATES TO THE PEOPLE OF OAKLAND WHERE THE MASSES GO TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE GREATEST SALE OF FINE PIANOS THAT HAS EVER BEEN INAUGURATED ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

OVER FORTY HOMES IN OAKLAND, BERKELEY, FRUITVALE, EMERYVILLE AND RICHMOND HAVE BEEN MADE HAPPY SINCE THIS GIGANTIC SALE WAS STARTED IN THE LAST TEN DAYS.

IT MEANS A SAVING OF 20% AND EVEN MORE THAN CAN BE POSSIBLY OBTAINED ELSEWHERE.

EILERS' METHODS OF PIANO SELLING GIVE YOU FINEST PIANOS FOR LESS MONEY

HERE IS A LIST OF PRICES:

All regular $700.00 pianos	now only $550.00
All regular 650.00 pianos	now only 485.00
All regular 600.00 pianos	now only 448.00
All regular 550.00 pianos	now only 418.00
All regular 500.00 pianos	now only 368.00
All regular 450.00 pianos	now only 307.00
All regular 400.00 pianos	now only 286.00
All regular 350.00 pianos	now only 218.00
All regular 325.00 pianos	now only 196.00
All regular 250.00 pianos	now only 148.00

ON OUR FLOORS WILL BE FOUND THE LARGEST LINE OF PIANOS AND GREATEST OF ASSORTMENTS IN ALL DIFFERENT STYLES AND WOODS. WE HAVE JUST WHAT YOU WANT AND AT PRICES AND TERMS TO SUIT. COME AND SEE THE HAZELTON, DECKER, KIMBALL, SCHUMAN, SCHUBERT, HALLETT & DAVIS, PEASE, HADDORFF, CROWN, WESER BROS., CLARENCE, BAILEY, WHITNEY, HINZE, HAINES BROS. AND SEVERAL OTHER LEADING MAKES. ALSO THE GEUNINE "AUTOPIANO," THE ARTISTIC WELTE PLAYER PIANO, THE PEERLESS ELECTRIC PIANO, THE WELTE ORCHESTRION, THE KIMBALL PIPE ORGAN. ALL FOR SALE AND AT LOWEST PRICES AND EASY TERMS.

Pianos, Tuned, Rented and Repaired

Eilers Music Company

Oakland's Biggest, Busiest and Best Piano Store

E. G. ERBES, Manager

1075-1077 Clay Street

A CARLOAD OF McDougall Kitchen Cabinets To Be Sold at Special Prices

TO INTRODUCE THE FAMOUS McDougall KITCHEN CABINET, BEGINNING TOMORROW MORNING AND FOR THE ENTIRE WEEK, WE WILL OFFER THE PEOPLE OF OAKLAND A GRAND OPPORTUNITY TO BUY ABSOLUTELY THE BEST KITCHEN CABINET IN THE WORLD (THE McDougall) AT PRICES SO LOW THAT YOU POSITIVELY CANNOT AFFORD TO PASS IT BY UNHEeded. THESE CABINETS ARE THE PRODUCT OF YEARS OF EXPERIENCE AND EVERYTHING HAS BEEN DONE TO MAKE THEM PERFECT. EVERY BIT OF SPACE IS UTILIZED TO THE BEST POSSIBLE ADVANTAGE, WITH ONE OF THESE CABINETS IN YOUR KITCHEN YOU CAN REACH EVERY NEEDFUL ARTICLE AND STAND IN ONE PLACE. NOTHING SIMILAR TO THEM WAS EVER BEFORE SHOWN IN OAKLAND. NOTHING ELSE AS GOOD WAS EVER SHOWN ANYWHERE. THE McDougall LEADS THEM ALL. NOW, WE WANT YOU TO SEE THESE CABINETS. WE WANT YOU TO TELL YOUR FRIENDS ABOUT THEM. WE WANT TO PUT THEM IN YOUR HOMES. AND TO INTRODUCE THEM TO THE PEOPLE IN AND AROUND OAKLAND, WE WILL SELL A CARLOAD OF THE FINEST KITCHEN CABINETS MADE (THE McDougall) AT SUCH PRICES AS THESE. "THIS OPPORTUNITY MAY NEVER PRESENT ITSELF AGAIN."

Regular $40.00
Special $28.50

Regular $46.50
Special $31.50

Regular $52.50
Special $36.00

McDOUGALL'S

Regular $52.50
Special $35.50

Regular $47.50
Special $32.50

McDOUGALL'S

Cook Thanksgiving Dinner On a St. Clair Roast the Turkey In a Savory Roaster

THEY'RE FREE!

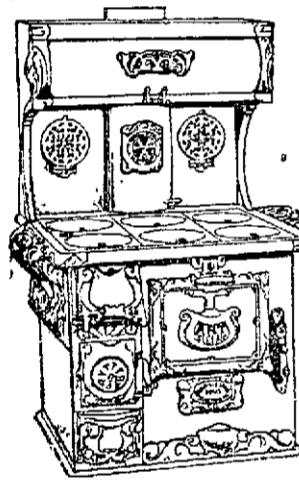

THEY'RE FREE!

THEY'RE FREE!

THEY'RE FREE!

LET US TELL YOU ALL ABOUT IT

Could you imagine a better time than right now to get a good range. You want to cook that Thanksgiving dinner and the old stove won't do it right. OURS WILL. You are using more fuel than you should and that is a big item nowadays. Our ranges will save dollars for you. They are, every one, guaranteed by us, and that Thanksgiving dinner will be a delight and a pride (and not a disappointment) and you will be happy ever after if you get one of our guaranteed ranges. This week FREE with every range is given a famous self-basting SAVORY ROASTER. Read the description below. It is the best. Pay a small payment down and the range will be set up and the roaster delivered free. You pay the balance as you can.

St. Clair Art Steel Range

One of the best steel ranges made; perfectly designed to give absolute satisfaction. Has Wellsville polished steel body. For hard or soft coal or wood. It is a beauty and for home use will last a lifetime.

Price of Range
16-in. oven, $48.50

St. Clair Reliance Steel Range

There were no doubt more of these ranges sold the past year than any other one style range sold in Oakland, and, needless to say, every user is a satisfied customer. It is a range where workmanship and quality has not been spared to make it a dependable leader. You get One Hundred Dollars worth of satisfaction.

Price of Range
14-in. oven, $41.50

Early Breakfast Cast Range

This represents one of the best and most reliable cast ranges made. It is a range of long life, being heavily reinforced and is fully guaranteed in every particular. They are especially popular for their perfect baking qualities. They are ornamental to a kitchen and never disappoint.

Price of the Range

without high back
16-in. oven, $34.50

FREE Self Basting Seamless Savory Roaster

With Every Range Sold this Week.

The great feature of the savory roaster is the OVAL bottom. The juice of the meat flows to the center of the pan, where it is turned into steam; this steam is again absorbed by the meat; therefore it is thoroughly basted with its own juices, thus retaining all the essence of the roast so much lost with the ordinary roaster. It is made of planished steel and is seamless. Easily cleaned and kept clean. No seams, no corners. Its value is $3.00. We gave this roaster away once before with ranges, and the only fault was the fact that we did not have enough.

WILL YOU TRADE YOUR OLD STOVE

If you will, we will allow you all it is worth as part payment on a new range. Pay a little down and the balance as you can.

Phone Oakland 1101.
CASH OR CREDIT
BRALEY GROTE FURNITURE CO.
COMPLETE HOUSE FURNISHERS
Broadway.
Next to Postoffice.

Special $1.50

We can show you a very fine line of coal heaters, gas heaters and oil heaters. To make this fact more impressive, and as a special inducement for this week, we will sell THE HEATER HERE WITH PICTURED, made of sheet steel with nickelized urn; the top of base is oval shaped and measures 12x17 inches and stands 18 inches high. With very little wood or rubbish a very hot fire can be had. Just the stove for an evening fire. Regular $2.50. Special this week $1.50.

NEWSBOY WOULD STAMP PAPERS TO ELECT JUDGE

J. J. Scrivner Has an Interesting Correspondence With the "King of the Gang," Who Offers Support.

The following letter addressed to one of the Alameda county candidates at the recent election will give an idea of a newsboy's idea of "doing politics."

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 2, '06.

Dear Friend Judge:

I thought I would take the pleasure of calling you Judge as I am a boy that once met you and was glad to make your friendship meet with mine. I am only a newsboy, but I hold the office of President in our union and I am very well known on that side of the bay amongst the Sporting Class, so a good friend of yours told me to drop you a line in regards to having a boy friend of mine stamp all the rest of the newsboy's papers, like I am doing on this side of the Bay.

So I wish you would drop me a line or come over and see me. A voter will cast his vote for you because he takes pity on the boy he buys the paper of and when he sees the Hon. Judge Scrivner's name stamped on it he will vote for you because he will think you're the little newsboy's friend.

So I guess I will say goodbye, as I have to go and stamp another paper for a good judge over here. With the best of luck I remain your newsboy's friend and hustler,

PETER J. ENRIGHT,

Better known as "Bowery Red," the King of the News Gang.

THE ANSWER.

To this letter Mr. Scrivner made the following answer:

Oakland, Cal., Nov. 10, 1906.

Hom. Peter J. Enright,

Alias "Bowery Red," the King of the "News Gang".

Dear Pete: Your valued communication of Nov. 2nd did not reach me until Nov. 9th, owing to the fact that you did not address your letter either to my office or place of residence. I look upon this as the principal cause of my defeat at the election. Had I received your letter in time I should certainly have done business with you, and perhaps we can make a deal.

Yours truly,
J. J. SCRIVNER.

JOE BAILEY'S MOTHER DYING

Fear That Texas Senator May Soon be Made an Orphan.

CRYSTAL SPRINGS, Miss., Nov. 10. Fear is expressed here that United States Senator Joe Bailey is soon to be made an orphan. His venerable mother is believed to be on her death bed. Senator Bailey arrived here last night from his home in Gainesville, Texas, on an urgent request from relatives, who are apprehensive as to the condition of Mrs. Bailey. Since the death of Senator Bailey's father, which occurred at the family home here several months ago, Mrs. Bailey, the aged mother, has shown a gradual decline. The passing away of her helpmate prostrated her.

The fifth oyster contained seven beautiful pearls valued at $500.

"I presume that when you serve oysters on the half shell, all that comes in the shell belongs to the Navy Department," inquired Mr. Bloom of Walter Gustav.

Gustav rolled his eyes and admitted that such was the rule.

"Well, you should have some reward," said Mr. Bloom, as he picked up the pearls in a handkerchief, and told Gustav to thank Mr. Savarin for him, and went away.

Gustav followed him to the pantry, and in the excess of his emotion ate nearly all the wood-work off the walls.

NINE PEARLS IN AN OYSTER

Seven Gems Worth $500 to New Yorker in a Hotel
Cafe.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire
in the world.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—William H. Bloom of Mansfield, Ohio, struck a mine of pearls in an oyster in the Cafe Savarin yesterday. Mr. Bloom is staying in the Hotel Breslin. Yesterday he went to the Savarin for a bite to eat and ordered some oysters. The fifth oyster contained seven beautiful pearls valued at $500.

"I presume that when you serve oysters on the half shell, all that comes in the shell belongs to the Navy Department," inquired Mr. Bloom of Walter Gustav.

Gustav rolled his eyes and admitted that such was the rule.

"Well, you should have some reward," said Mr. Bloom, as he picked up the pearls in a handkerchief, and told Gustav to thank Mr. Savarin for him, and went away.

THIRD TRIAL TRIP DENIED

Cruiser California Must Assure Navy That Machinery is Perfect.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire
in the world.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—There will be no more trials of the armored cruiser California until the contractors shall be able to assure the naval inspectors that the machinery is in perfect condition for the final four-hour endurance test.

The second trial was reported as a failure and the application has been made for a third test, but this will not be granted unless the conditions are as the Navy Department require with full assurances of fulfillment.

Soon after the cruiser started on the second trip the port forward low pressure crank pin bearing heated and the trial stopped.

It is now demanded that a further test of the machinery of the California shall in all respects be ready for a full power, forced draft four-hour trial.

WIFE OF EX-DESPERADO SEEKING STOLEN RICHES

Former Actress Posing as Detective Tells Detroit Police of Her Secret Mission.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 10.—Florence Gordon, the amateur actress and female detective, who fell in love with and married Jesse Thames, alias Thompson, one of the members of the famous "long and short" gang of desperadoes that terrorized Chicago in 1896, is in Detroit searching for stolen property.

She arrived here Tuesday afternoon and went direct to police headquarters and conferred with Chief of Detectives McDonnell and Captain Baker. She told the Detroit sleuths that she is connected with the Chicago police department and the only female detective under Chief of Police Collins.

She arrived here Tuesday afternoon and went direct to police headquarters and conferred with Chief of Detectives McDonnell and Captain Baker. She told the Detroit sleuths that she is connected with the Chicago police department and the only female detective under Chief of Police Collins.

ious although she was willing to tell how her husband has reformed since he was released from prison.

She was closeted with the Detroit officers for nearly an hour. After the conference they declined to state what brought her to Detroit except that some valuable jewelry that was stolen in Chicago is supposed to have been disposed of here. Her parents live in Bay City.

NOTICE.

On account of photographic Parisians, Belle Oury's trade-mark being counterfeited, it has been changed to "Photographic Parisians" Studio 120, 12th street, over Abramsoom's store, Oakland.

The combined band and opera orchestra numbering twenty-five soloists give a free concert every Sunday evening at seven on the porch of the theater at Idora Park without extra charge.

NEWS FROM BERKELEY AND CITY OF ALAMEDA

NEW OFFICIALS ARE ELECTED

Conference Committee of Berkeley Improvement Clubs in Session.

BERKELEY, Nov. 10.—The regular meeting of the Conference committee of Social Improvement clubs was held last night in the offices of R. A. Berry & Co., 245 Center street.

All of the present incumbent officials were elected to succeed themselves as follows: President, Victor Roverton; vice president, A. F. Hess; secretary, J. S. Tisdale.

One valuable time was spent in discussing the new telephone company that has for some time past been trying to secure a fifty-year franchise here.

The committee also condemned the action of those town trustees, who recently proposed an ordinance granting liquor licenses to restaurants in Berkeley.

OPPOSE FERTILIZER
An objection was also raised against the proposed new $150,000 fertilizing plant which the Pacific Guano and Fertilizer company wishes to erect where the West Berkeley line runs north and south. It was claimed that the odor swept over the college town by the western sea breezes, would be very offensive.

Dr. Farrar, of the water committee, reported that the water supply of the city was in an unsanitary condition, and recommended that all drinking water be boiled.

A new city charter is soon to be submitted to the voters of this city and the committee suggested that the Board of Town Trustees be requested to publish it at the earliest possible moment in order to give the citizens a chance to thoroughly thresh out the various changes.

The next regular meeting will be held November 13.

SAMUEL FISHER TAKES A BRIDE

BERKELEY, Nov. 10.—Samuel Fisher, the well known proprietor of the County Line saloon in west Berkeley, was quietly married in Oakland today at noon.

The lady of Mr. Fisher's choice was Miss Alley Semly, a popular and well-known young woman of West Berkeley, who has for some time been connected with the California Powder Works.

Mr. Fisher is widely known in West Berkeley, where, during the past few years, he has figured in several exciting escapades in which Sam invariably came out ahead.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher will make their home in West Berkeley.

ONE LONG TERM FOLLOWS ANOTHER

BERKELEY, Nov. 10.—John Clancy, a teamster, residing in Oakland, was arrested near the corner of Shattuck avenue and Center streets by Marshal Vollmer this morning on a charge of drunkenness. Clancy was taken before the Justice of the Peace Edgar in police court, plead guilty and was sentenced to ninety days in the county jail, where he had just completed, Thursday, a term of ninety days on the same charge.

Sam Windrow, a hod carrier, was also handed ninety days on a charge of drunkenness and disturbing the peace.

Returns from Sacramento

Professor Alexander Delmar, the well-known psychologist, has returned from Sacramento where he was called in consultation on a case of great importance on Thursday last.

ESTABLISHED 18 YEARS.

A Face Without Wrinkles and a Clear, Beautiful Complexion is the proud possession of the woman who takes advantage of the scientific, systematic and thorough facial treatments at M. E. Harrel's Plaster, Liver, Spots, Freckles, Blackheads, Moles, Jel, Veins, Birthmarks, Scars or any blemishes on or under the skin safely, painlessly and permanently eradicated.

Consultation free and strictest privacy assured.

Wanted—Gen'l Agents in each city.

Eyeglass Quality!

Quality and finish in our glasses stand out all over them—you can see it—you can feel it.

Let us make your next pair of glasses.

California Optical Co.
Makers of Good Glasses
San Francisco, 209 Fillmore St.
Oakland, 113 Broadway.

FAIR OAKLAND SINGER WILL ASSIST IN BENEFIT CONCERT

CAROLYN CREW RAZOR.

Mrs. Caroline Crew-Razor and Chorus of Sixty Voices Will Be Feature of Friday's Program.

BERKELEY, Nov. 10.—Mrs. Carolyn Crew-Razor of Oakland will assist Professor Carl Sawvall next Friday evening in giving a grand benefit concert at Wilkins Hall for the members of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Professor Sawvall has been training a choir of sixty voices for a week on classic solos and choruses never before given on the Coast, and a rare musical treat is promised.

Wilkins' Hall is located at 2412 Haste street, near Telegraph avenue.

In addition to Mrs. Carolyn Crew-Razor, the Athens Male Quartet of Oakland, composed of N. W. Pendleton, first tenor; Harry Lyon, second tenor; Carl Creighton, first bass, and Delbert Brown, second bass, will render several selections.

Mr. Carl Sawvall, a professional reader of considerable local fame, will read several selections.

Wilkins' Hall is located at 2412 Haste street, near Telegraph avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Turner have given up their residence at 6699 Telegraph avenue and moved to the home of the former's parents, 278 Santa Clara avenue, Oakland, where they will remain for a few months.

F. D. Chase and daughter, Miss Lena, of 1901 Bonita avenue, have gone to Jamaica, Vermont, for an extended visit. The former is combining business with pleasure, and before their return many of the principal Eastern cities will be visited.

When Wall brought the automobile from France ill luck seemed to follow it and in two instances persons who were in the machine when it was wrecked were almost killed. The last accident was when Mr. and Mrs. Henry Melvin and Senator R. Lukens were riding with Mr. Wall in Oakland. The automobile ran into a car and his mother.

A few weeks previous to the accident in which Mrs. Melvin and Senator Lukens were injured, Mr. Wall was almost killed on the county road while riding with a party of women. He was in the sanitarium four weeks suffering from a broken rib and other injuries. The purchase price of the machine has not been made public, but it is understood that Dr. Butterfield paid almost the price Mr. Wall did when he brought the machine to the coast. The latter is in the East, having gone about a week ago with his mother.

DESIRE TO VOTE BRINGS ILLNESS

General Shafter Took Cold on Ride of Several Miles to the Polls.

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 10.—Major-General William Shafter, who was taken very suddenly ill with an attack of acute pneumonia, is reported by the attending physician, Dr. J. W. Thorne, of San Francisco, to be resting comfortably today.

General Shafter passed a restless night and suffered much pain. Physicians were at his bedside during the night and today Dr. Thorne and a specialist arrived from San Francisco. Doctors A. F. W. Schaefer and T. W. Mitchell of this city are also attending General Shafter.

The illness of the General is due to a severe cold which was taken on the preceding Tuesday when General Shafter rode several miles to cast his vote at the election. He was confined to the house after this exposure and Dr. Mitchell was called in on Thursday. He found General Shafter in a feverish condition and suffering from abdominal pains, which at first gave rise to the supposition that an attack of appendicitis was at hand.

The fever arose with alarming rapidity and yesterday a consultation of physicians was held and the case was at once diagnosed as acute pneumonia. The following bulletin was issued late tonight:

"General Shafter is suffering from acute pneumonia of about sixty hours' duration. The patient withstood the primary shock of examination fairly well and is now resting easier. His condition is, however, very critical and recovery is doubtful. Pulse 72, respiration 38, temperature 100."

It is, however, the impression prevailing at the bedside of the famous soldier that the physicians are fighting an up-hill battle.

The first knives were used in England and the first wheeled carriage in France, in 1559.

Auction Sale

Monday, Nov. 12

STARTS SOUTH AFTER DEFEAT

President Wheeler Hopes to Be Home by Thanksgiving Day.

BERKELEY, Nov. 10.—Dr. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president of the California University, after watching the disastrous defeat of the Berkeleyans this afternoon departed for an extended trip through the South and East.

Professor Wheeler will first visit Baton Rouge, La., and attend a meeting of the Association of State Universities, and from there will go to Cambridge, Mass., to attend a meeting of the American Universities, of which he is president. These meetings take place November 21, 22 and 23. The professor hopes to be home in time to eat Thanksgiving dinner with his family.

PERSONAL NOTES OF THE COLLEGE TOWN

BERKELEY, Nov. 10.—Harold Bingham, well leader at the University, visited Tuesday of this week in Marysville.

Captain and Mrs. William Day of Folsom Park are at home from a visit in Sonoma county.

Mrs. Mary Greenstreet of Ventura is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. F. D. Chase in North Berkeley.

Miss Sadie Dubuque of this city has gone to Nevada City and North San Juan for a visit of several days.

I. Copeland, the well known mining man of this city, transacted business in Marysville several days this week.

Mrs. Lee, mother of Mrs. F. C. Turner, is visiting with a cousin in Tennessee and enjoying her first visit in the Southland.

A. C. Lawson, professor of mineralogy and geology at the University, transacted business in Nevada City several days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wagner of Trinity county, have arrived for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Wagner on Arch street, North Berkeley.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Birney and daughter, Miss Phoebe Birney, of 2422 Franklin avenue, visited the first of this week with relatives and friends in Marysville.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Turner have given up their residence at 6699 Telegraph avenue and moved to the home of the former's parents, 278 Santa Clara avenue, Oakland, where they will remain for a few months.

F. D. Chase and daughter, Miss Lena, of 1901 Bonita avenue, have gone to Jamaica, Vermont, for an extended visit.

The former is combining business with pleasure, and before their return many of the principal Eastern cities will be visited.

When Wall brought the automobile from France ill luck seemed to follow it and in two instances persons who were in the machine when it was wrecked were almost killed. The last accident was when Mr. and Mrs. Henry Melvin and Senator R. Lukens were riding with Mr. Wall in Oakland. The automobile ran into a car and his mother.

A few weeks previous to the accident in which Mrs. Melvin and Senator Lukens were injured, Mr. Wall was almost killed on the county road while riding with a party of women. He was in the sanitarium four weeks suffering from a broken rib and other injuries. The purchase price of the machine has not been made public, but it is understood that Dr. Butterfield paid almost the price Mr. Wall did when he brought the machine to the coast. The latter is in the East, having gone about a week ago with his mother.

Carlton Wall Sells Big French Machine in Which the Melvins Were Injured to Dr. Butterfield.

DEATH DEALING AUTO IS BOUGHT BY A PHYSICIAN

CARLTON WALL.

Carlton Wall Sells Big French Machine in Which the Melvins Were Injured to Dr. Butterfield.

Mrs. Melvin was so seriously injured that she was in the hospital for six weeks.

A few weeks previous to the accident in which Mrs. Melvin and Senator Lukens were injured, Mr. Wall was almost killed on the county road while riding with a party of women. He was in the sanitarium four weeks suffering from a broken rib and other injuries. The purchase price of the machine has not been made public, but it is understood that Dr. Butterfield paid almost the price Mr. Wall did when he brought the machine to the coast. The latter is in the East, having gone about a week ago with his mother.

When Wall brought the automobile from France ill luck seemed to follow it and in two instances persons who were in the machine when it was wrecked were almost killed. The last accident was when Mr. and Mrs. Henry Melvin and Senator R. Lukens were riding with Mr. Wall in Oakland. The automobile ran into a car and his mother.

A few weeks previous to the accident in which Mrs. Melvin and Senator Lukens were injured, Mr. Wall was almost killed on the county road while riding with a party of women. He was in the sanitarium four weeks suffering from a broken rib and other injuries. The purchase price of the machine has not been made public, but it is understood that Dr. Butterfield paid almost the price Mr. Wall did when he brought the machine to the coast. The latter is in the East, having gone about a week ago with his mother.

VIOLINIST WILL CONDUCT GREEK THEATER CONCERT

Giulio Minetti Has Arranged a Program of Merit for Half Hour of Music Tomorrow Afternoon.

Mr. Minetti and his three associates in the Minetti Quartette are to give their next recital of Chamber music at the university at 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, December 6th.

They will play the Haydn Quartette in D major and the Beethoven Quartette in F major (Opus 5). Mr. Minetti and Mr. Hans Koenig, the violinists of the quartette, will also play with Mrs. Madeline Peck Taylor, the pianist, the Bach Concerto for two violins and piano.

The next symphony concert by the University Orchestra is announced for 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, November 22. The programme will include the Mozart Symphony in F major, the violinist, the violinist; overture, "The Magic Flute." As always, the public will be very welcome. The lower gates will be closed at 4 o'clock. Latecomers are requested to go to the upper gates at the rear of the theater above the highest tiers of seats.

Admirable Crichton

The Great Success of the Season.

Hundreds turned away nightly, so secure your seats well in advance.

Reserved seats, 50c and 25c.

Next—"What Happened to Jones?"

SPECIAL—NEXT WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, NOV. 14, AT 3.

First appearance of the new

Grand Concert Orchestra.

Paul Steinendorf—Conductor

Will L. Greenbaum, Manager

Program includes Beethoven's "Septette," Mascagni's "Hymn to the Sun," and other great works.

General admission, 50 cents

Reserved seats, $1.00, 75c and 50c

NOVELTY THEATER

Broadway, 1st, Eleventh and Twelfth

California Building, Valencia Street, Tony Lubelski, Prop. Guy C. Smith, Mgr.

—MATINEES EVERY DAY—

8:15 P. M. and 10:45 P. M.

Continues until 3 P. M.

Adults, 50c; Children, 25c.

—SHOWS EVERY NIGHT—

7:45 P. M. and 9:15 P. M.

Except Saturday and Sunday—Continues.

7:30 P. M. until 11:15 P. M.

BALCONY 10c. LOWER FLOOR 25c.

BELL THEATER

Program for week of November 5.

Casey and Le Clair, presenting bright and gay comedy.

Long, America's greatest ring acrobats.

Tom and Frank Austin, comedy jugglers; Kille Deaves Company; presentative show.

Casey and Le Clair, comic and variety actress; Mrs. Wellington, actress.

</

SOCIETY :: NEWS OF THE SMART SET :: GOSSIP

Mrs. Otto Kuritz was hostess recently at a pretty luncheon given in honor of Miss Edna Ingram, who leaves Monday for a three months' visit to Denver, where she will be the guest of Mrs. Frederick Thomas. The guests invited to the luncheon for Miss Ingram were members of a musical club, and the pleasant hour over the menu was followed by a shower for the popular guest, who received several pretty and useful articles to take upon her journey.

AT DEL MONTE.

As usual, there are plenty of bridal couples here from the East as well as from our Western cities, says a correspondent at Del Monte. Some of the former are Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Cattell, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Metzger of Philadelphia, and Mr. and Mrs. H. G. McCall of St. Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Selby and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bowman of San Francisco are spending their honeymoon here.

Some other Easterners at the hotel are Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Kimball of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. A. Herbert of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Watson of Philadelphia, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Holmes, with their son, O. V. Holmes, of Brooklyn, New York.

Kenneth Lee of Manchester, England, and Frank L. Hughes of New York, who are touring California, are at Del Monte now.

Sir John and Lady Leng, with Miss Leng, of Dundee, Scotland, will be here for some time. Sir John Leng is one of the oldest ex-members of parliament now living, and he was for many years Lord Mayor of Dundee.

Lieutenant Colonel Albright Mackay of England is now at Del Monte.

Mons. and Madame de Geoffray, whose home is in Paris, are also here.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Routhwaite of Piedmont, Stephen French, I. Hayward and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Isom automobiled from Oakland.

Mrs. B. J. Sliwood of Oakland, accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. John Sellwood and Mr. E. V. Switzer of Portland, Oregon, came last week.

Mrs. T. T. Dargle has been at Del Monte for several weeks.

H. W. O'Melveny, a prominent Los Angeles lawyer, is here with Mrs. O'Melveny and their son, Stuart O'Melveny, a Berkeley student, and Sayre Macneil.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Skilling of Berkeley came down for a few days.

Mrs. Dyer and Mrs. A. M. Fowler of Oakland were at Del Monte for a day or so.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Wingate are still here.

Mrs. Brown is now at Del Monte. Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Wilkins and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Jackson came down from San Rafael.

G. Hazelton, also of San Rafael, was here for a few days.

Balfour has come for quail shooting at the Los Laurel Ranch. A number of Del Monte guests have been making that delightful trip lately. The ranch is about fifteen miles from here, and the drive is a fine one.

There will be a good many here for shooting at Thanksgiving time. Indeed, already the week-end visits are more numerous since the special rates have been made.

A book well known to lovers of the rod and rifle is "The Hunter and Sportsman in the Northland of Canada," by David T. Hanbury, an Englishman who is a great traveler. Mr. and Mrs. Hanbury are spending the winter at Del Monte and have decided to settle in California.

C. W. Clark is soon expected to return from his trip to Butte, Montana. He and Mrs. Clark are also here for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schmeidler will remain for a number of months.

Judge and Mrs. W. W. Dixon are permanently settled in the hotel. It was to make them a visit Dr. Voorhees came when he was taken so ill several weeks ago. At first a paralytic stroke was feared, but it was nothing really serious, and now he is feeling so much better that he wants to stay in other Eastern cities during get back to his practice. He and Mrs. Voorhees, who hurried home from her Eastern trip last week, will remain a little longer, and Mrs. Malcolm Henry, who went up to the city for a fortnight, will return to join her father and mother.

MRS. HENRY P. BAUMGARTNER. — Schatz Photo

Among those who came for the week's end were R. M. Tolin, Timothy Hopkins, Walter Scott, Arthur Pillsbury and Dr. Gardner Perry Pond. Miss Katherine Chandler, the well-known writer, who has a charming bungalow in Pacific Grove, was here on Sunday with her brother, W. E. Chandler.

Emmett S. Husted, the chief clerk of the hotel, is kept busy answering inquiries about little Miss Ruth Husted, who was born on Hallowe'en.

Lieutenant C. K. Potter and his bride, who was Miss Nella McCormack, are now in Monterey.

Mrs. L. H. Bridges of Oakland is making a week's visit to her daughter, Miss Anna Frances Briggs, who for some months has been painting the dunes and woods of Pacific Grove. They spent a few days at Del Monte, where Miss Briggs made several sketches.

Mrs. Clement E. Renouf of Berkeley and her daughter, Miss Mary Renouf, were at El Carmelo, Pacific Grove, for a short time before going into the cottage they have taken for the winter.

Mr. E. Lawrey and her daughter, Mrs. Hollenbeck and Miss Lola Lawrey of Pacific Grove, went down to Oakland last week to attend the wedding of Miss Della Lawrey and Edmund Amy Brownell. Mr. Brownell has been connected with the wholesale firm of Payot, Upham & Co., but with his brother is going to open a stationery business in San Francisco.

ASSEMBLY DANCES.

Invitations are out for the Alameda Assembly to meet this winter at Hammon Hall, Paru street, near Santa Clara avenue.

The patronesses are Mrs. C. H. Mostek, Mrs. S. L. Conger, Mrs. C. H. Murdoch, Mrs. H. K. Field and Mrs. J. A. Black.

IN THE EAST.

Mrs. Ellen Garrison of 915 Peralta street has gone to Bernard, Iowa, for a three months' visit. She will enjoy a stay in other Eastern cities during been the guest of Richard Ritchie, Pacific Coast agent for the same system. Mr. Lawson's trip to the West has been a pleasure tour. He leaves this afternoon for Portland.

AT LUNCHEON.

Mrs. Robert Boyer was hostess yesterday at a pretty luncheon followed by an hour at cards. Encore was the game enjoyed. Among Mrs. Boyer's guests were Mrs. J. S. Emery, Mrs. Frederick Morse, Mrs. William A. Schrock, Mrs. W. H. Wellby, Mrs. J. Cal Ewing, Mrs. Thomas Winton, Mrs. Frank Wedgewood, Mrs. A. C. Dietz, Mrs. Chevalier, Mrs. Walter Moody, Mrs. H. B. Mohrman, Mrs. Henry Bull, Mrs. Hammer, Mrs. A. A. Smith, Mrs. Homer Craig and Mrs. J. Walter Scott.

CARD CLUB.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Butler entertained the members of the Linda Vista Card Club last evening at their home on El Dorado avenue. What was the game played during the evening.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Coogen, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Brock, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Herpin, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Britton, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Eby, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Belcher, B. F. Coffin, Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Dow, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wiegels, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Houts, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cotton, Mr. and Mrs. Islon, and Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Butler.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Jerome B. Landfield has recently arrived in London from St. Petersburg. Mr. and Mrs. George Reed leave this evening for Los Angeles, where they will be the guests of Mrs. Harry Lano, formerly Miss Mabel Reed. During their absence Miss Elva Reed will be the guest of Miss Caro Mills.

Miss Bess Merrill entertained a score of friends this afternoon at an informal affair given at her Berkeley home.

Miss Maud Lyons entertained a half-dozen friends Thursday evening at an informal affair given at her studio.

Mrs. Clarence Smith, better known as Alice Prescott Smith, the authoress, will remain in Chicago until December, returning here for the holidays.

BRIDGE CLUB.

Mrs. Charles Rodolph was hostess last week at a delightful session of the Tuesday Bridge Club. The prize for the afternoon was carried off by Mrs. William Hamilton Morrison, and the players included Mrs. George Rodolph, MISS ELVA REED.

VISIT ABROAD.

John Lewis has been enjoying a visit to Switzerland as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Borel and Miss Sophie Borel, his fiancee. The wedding will take place when the family returns to San Francisco next year.

AN ENGAGEMENT.

The engagement is announced of Miss Beth Courtright of East Oakland and John Selmers of San Francisco.

CLUB LUNCHEON.

Miss Clara Chabot entertained the members of the Luncheon Club last week. Guests were told to dress in "Miss Elsie" overalls, Mrs. Trevor, Mrs. Whipple, Hell, Mrs. George Chase, Mrs. Hugh Goodfellow, Mrs. Stanley Moore and Miss May Coogan.

WRITER ENTERTAINED.

Mrs. Frank Soule was the guest of honor at an afternoon Thursday, given at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Vore in Berkeley. Mrs. Soule has made her debut as a story writer. Literary topics were discussed during the afternoon. Those present were Mrs. J. T. Tracy, Conner, Mrs. Robert Kennedy, Mrs. A. M. Denison, Master Alan Denison and Miss Adrienne Denton. From San Francisco, Mrs. Mary Hart and Mrs. Norman Martin. From Berkeley, Mrs. Frank Soule and Miss Eleonore Nichols.

OAKLAND CLUB.

Next Wednesday afternoon, at 2 p.m., the Oakland Club will hold an "Indian Day." Mrs. A. J. Pillsbury will be chairman and an enjoyable program is promised.

EBELL CLUB.

The following section work is planned by the Ebell for the coming week:

Tuesday, November 13: Parliamentary Law section will meet at the home of the curator, Mrs. James A. Johnson, 515 Franklin Street.

Wednesday, November 14, 10 a.m.: Advanced German, reading, grammar and conversation. Frau F. W. Weile, instructor. Section will meet at home of curator, 1116 Broadway.

Thursday, November 15: California History and Landmark section, 1116 Broadway.

Wednesday, November 14, 10 a.m.: Advanced German, reading, grammar and conversation. Frau F. W. Weile, instructor. Section will meet at home of curator, 1116 Broadway.

Thursday, November 15: California History and Landmark section, 1116 Broadway.

Friday, November 16, 9:30 a.m.: German beginners' grammar, reading and conversation. Frau F. W. Weile, instructor and curator. Section will meet at home of curator, 1116 Broadway.

Friday, November 16, 10 a.m.: German beginners' grammar, reading and conversation. Frau F. W. Weile, instructor and curator. Section will meet at home of curator, 1116 Broadway.

Friday, November 16, 10 a.m.: Choral music, 10:30 a.m.: Sight reading and part singing. Robert Lloyd, instructor. Mrs. William Morris, curator, Mrs. T. M. Harrison, assistant curator.

Friday, November 16, 10 a.m.: Living issues: current events and vital questions of the day. Mrs. L. F. Crook, curator.

Plano section, 1:45 p.m.: Section meets at home of curator, Mrs. E. W. Weile, 285 Eleventh Street.

DEMING-RENICK.

The marriage of Miss Etta Deming of Jackson, Mich., to John Renick of this city took place Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. S. H. Miller, of 1915 Franklin street. Rev. William Robert Reid performed the ceremony.

CLUB MEETING.

Mrs. George Greenwood entertained last week at the meeting of the Friday Studies Club. The players invaluable prizes, consisting chiefly of hand-painted china and cut glass, will be competed for. These prizes are now on exhibition at M. J. Apple Co., 1147-1149 Washington street. Mrs. F. Garcia, Mrs. O. C. Kirk and Mrs. R. Fenton will act as matrons.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Mrs. Archibald Berland and Mrs. Walter Hart have returned from Arizona where they were the guests of William Berland.

Mrs. Katherine Townes has gone to visit Mrs. Giles Chittenden at Niles. The friends of Frank Kates will be glad to hear that he is out of danger after a serious operation for appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hewlett have taken a house in Los Angeles for the winter. They will remain there for some time. Mrs. E. Conde Jones will be the guest of her sister for some weeks.

TO HOLD DANCE.

Plans are made for the "Dance Ball" to be given by the Company N. League of the Cross Cutters of Central Hall, November 23. The affair promises to be an immense success. The proceeds will go to getting uniforms for the boys. The committee of arrangements is made up of the following members: Lieutenant J. L. Flynn, Chairman; Sergeant H. J. Fazakerley, Private; J. P. Martin, J. P. Flannery, P. H. Nichols, G. L. Taylor, T. J. Clancy and J. P. Callahan.

READING CLUB.

The meeting of the Bay View Reading Club, which was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. E. Caldwell will be a memorable one in the history of the club, as it was the occasion of a farewell to the President of the club, Mrs. Della Hildebrand, who expects to leave within a few days to make her home in the southern part of the State. Mrs. Caldwell was one of the organizers of the club, and in appreciation of her earnest and faithful efforts to promote the welfare of the club, the members surprised her with a finely bound copy of Shakespeare. This congenial little club which has for its motto "Harmony and Progression," is studying a new edition of "The Merchant of Venice." The members are Mrs. C. F. Osgood, Mrs. R. W. Neibor, Mrs. J. R. MacGregor, Mrs. D. H. Hildebrand, Mrs. R. B. Gaylord, Mrs. P. Fowler, Mrs. J. M. Davis, Mrs. G. N. Blackburn, Mrs. J. H. Bills, Mrs. F. Burroughs, Mrs. L. H. Sly and Mrs. O. E. Caldwell.

PICTURES TODAY.

Mrs. H. P. Baumgartner is a bride of the week.

Miss Lavinia Hoffacher entertained at her home yesterday afternoon, visited by Miss Florence Sloper and several other girl friends.

Mrs. Elva Reed is the guest of Miss Caro Mills for a week or two.

WEDDING DATE.

The date for the marriage of Miss Louise Stoll to Adam Brandes has been set for December 11. The ceremony will be performed at the Unitarian Church in Alameda, and about a hundred people will be present after the ceremony.

Every Lady Will Get a Piece

Rather than annoy ladies by selling, the Washoe Manufacturing Company will send a sample of Washoe to every house in Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley and Fruitvale, so that every housewife can be convinced how easily washing can be done by using Washoe. Washoe is sold on merit and not on price.

THE FAMOUS "OYSTER LOAF."

Restaurant, formerly of San Francisco, now located at 476 Ninth street between Broadway and Washington, P. F. Flood and James C. O'Donnell, Proprietors.

Who has ever heard a better orchestra or chorus than in the "Tir and the Tartar at Idore Park"? No traveling act can touch it.

The Shield of Quality

— in the

Always Ready

VENI TILA STATED

PATENT APPLIED FOR

MADE IN CALIFORNIA.

Always ready to wear. Needs no sewing.

When you buy goods MADE IN CALIFORNIA you ENRICH the State. By ENRICHING YOURSELF YOU ENRICH YOURSELF.

For sale by all first-class dealers.

Always Ready. Ventilated, all sizes.

Always Ready, ventilated, all sizes.

Always Ready, ventilated, 760 pair.

Some UNSCRUPULOUS dealers are

THE TRIBUNE'S DOUBLE PAGE

NEWSBOYS ARE GUESTS OF GANS

CHAMPION MAKES FINE SPEECH IN HONOR OF OCCASION.

Gets Reckless and Spends Six Dollars Scattering Dimes, Nickels, etc.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 10.—At a party given a hundred newsboys to-day Joe Gans, lightweight champion of the world, was the guest of honor. Gans made a speech while the newsboys worshipped him. It was the best speech he knew how to make. It was from a fighter's point of view, and from that of any other point it was a dandy.

"E'en," said the champ on "I used to sell papers in the streets of Baltimore. I can remember when Sullivan and Kilrain fought for the championship there, and I sold papers next day telling all about it. I made up my mind to be a fighter and I wondered if I ever would be good enough to be a champion."

"Now some of you boys know a thing or two about boxing. Perhaps you will take it up for a living. You can all be champions as fighters, merchants professional men or whatever you turn out to be, but whatever you do study, learn how. Work hard and stick to it. Get wise. Be the best in the business. Don't be a dud."

"I don't advise you to be fighters but I know some fighters who are good boys. Whatever sort of work you do do it right and be on the level."

The party concluded with Gans tossing handfuls of pennies, nickels and dimes into the crowds. It was unheard of prodigality, and the boys won't forget it. It cost Joe $6.

WEST OAKLAND CLUB'S EVENTS

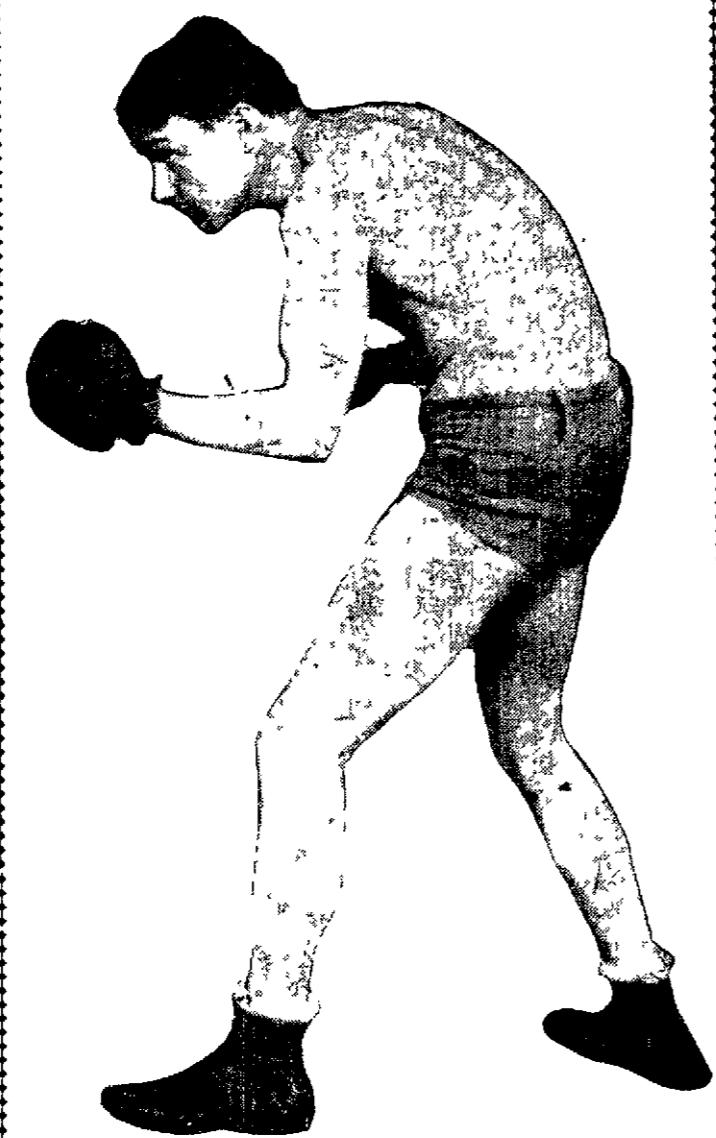

Card for Tuesday Evening, Nov. 20. Contains Some Promising Material.

The West Oakland Boxing Club will hold its next boxing night on Tuesday evening November 20. Dick Murray, the pride of Telegraph Hill will mix it with Harry Williams in the main event. There will be two special events the first between Eddie Mensor of Oakland and Frank McLean and the other between Jim Varelli of North Beach and L Johnson of Oakland.

In the preliminaries Kid Alameda meets Young Casey. Roy Truman meets George Leahy and Ed Lovejoy mixes it with Kid Josephs.

EVERY MAN IS ODD
BUT WE CAN FIT HIM

BRITT TO MEET HYLAND--MAYBE

Jimmy Britt, who may meet Dick Hyland.

Latter Shows Willingness to Be Native Son's Next Opponent if Trust Is Willing.

EDDIE SMITH.

Sammy M. Clintie manager of Dick Hyland has telegraphed from Salt Lake that "Fighting" Dick would come on and fight Jimmy Britt this month and allow James Edward to cut the purse any way he wanted.

Britt and Hyland would make a good fight and good card for the trust. Hyland is a fast coming youngster and does every thing that has been asked of him for the past year in tip top style. He is an aggressive strong hard hitting fighter with world of grit and just the kind of a fighter the public likes to see in action.

Britt has not been seen in action on the Coors for over a year and the fans are longing for a chance to see him go with some youngster before they pay their admission to see him clash with Nelson or Gans.

The match will hardly be arranged this month, however as this is Graney's month. Wille Britt who is allied with Crofford in the trust battle, and Jimmy himself are not to be counted among Graney's friends. Then, too, Wille is said was the cause of the Thomas-Mike (Twin) Sullivan contest being decided off so I am of the opinion that Graney would rather have no fight than agree to put Britt on.

GREAT TRACK AT ACQUEDUCT

Course Has Changed Remarkably During the Last Few Years.

NEW YORK Nov. 10.—From what was the cheapest kind of a merry-go-round a few years ago, the Aqueduct track has been gradually developed into a high-class race course which, after a few more improvements have been made under the direction of Philip J. Dwyer will take rank with the Jockey Club's famous establishments at Sheepshead Bay, Brighton Beach and Belmont Park. The Aqueduct track itself is one of the best from a racing point of view in the country. Barring Belmont Park it has the longest homestretch on the circuit, which according to horsemen, is a beneficial factor in the establishment of public form.

The building of a new $600,000 field stand at Aqueduct is significant. It means to all intents and purposes that the Brooklyn Jockey Club which has operated the Gravesend track for many years and of which Mr. Dwyer is the leading spirit intends to make permanent home in the course of time at Aqueduct. Two years ago Mr. Dwyer, realizing that the encroachments of the metropolitan people meant that Gravesend was doomed, began to look around for a new home.

GETTING CONTROL.

Several sites on Long Island were picked out but before a definite selection could be made Mr. Dwyer stumped upon a block of stock that gave him control of Aqueduct. With this stock as an anchor to windward Mr. Dwyer continues his search for a new plant, and finally found what he wanted in a new tract of land within a short distance of Garden City, in Nassau county, not far from Belmont Park. But before this arrangement could take definite shape special legislation at Albany shut him out of the property as far as turning it into a tract was concerned. Then it was that Mr. Dwyer decided to go ahead with improvements at Aqueduct. There had never been a "field" at that track, and with the conclusion of the Jamaica, last

ATHLETICS FOR NEXT SEASON PROMISING

CONTESTS OF THE PAST YEAR HAVE YIELDED RESULTS.

Next Event in Sight is That at Golden Gate Park Thanksgiving Day.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst Service over longest leased wire
in the world)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—The interest in athletics which has marked the later part of the present season makes the outlook for next year a highly promising one.

The meets held by the different high school leagues at Berkeley have attracted large entries and large attendances and the performances of the rising generation of runners, jumpers and pole vaulters has been up to the standard of previous years.

The big gathering held in Golden Gate Park on the Fourth of July under the auspices of the Olympic Club was the first occasion in some time that an all-track meet has been held in the vicinity of San Francisco, and the success of the affair prompted the Pacific Athletic Association to hold a handicap meet at Berkeley which was an unequalled success from every standpoint.

The Olympic Club will wind up the track and field event lies in the newly Day at the stadium in Golden Gate Park, at which there will be scratch and handicap events, and a few added features in the shape of relay and team races which will be run on different tracks that have previously been open to the public.

The inauguration of the San Francisco Boys' Athletic League will help along the cause of good outdoor athletics but the hope of the lovers of track and field event lies in the nyls aroused interest being taken by the president and board of directors of the Olympic Club, who have promised a more active interest on the part of the club in sports which carried on in the open air.

The directors see that the policy of the club, which encouraged boxers and other athletes who were merely masquerading as amateurs is no, a wise one and at a meeting last week the club membership roll was purged of the names of a number of "fighters," some of whom won amateur championships under the colors of the Olympic Club, but who have mostly been accepting money for boxing for years.

The Pacific Athletic Association has
dropped control of boxing and the promoters of the game are now out in the
open the pretense of giving the contestants' medals and trophies being
no longer considered necessary. The
boxing clubs whose member'h'p is
generally composed of one manager
and a half dozen boys who can box
well enough to appear at the "shows"
are now severed from the clubs which
promote other kinds of athletics and
the association has a good chance
to height that the Pacific division will
be on of the strongest in the
Amateur Athletic Union.

Track athletics at the universities
will be stimulated through competition
with athletes from the clubs and with
increased public interest the college men will turn out in greater numbers and the performances of the athletes will improve. The records of the University of California and Stanford
have mostly stood for some time
and it is noticeable that nearly
all of them were made at times when
interest was high and the keenness of
competition spurred the runners on to
disappointment.

The Pacific Athletic Association has
dropped control of boxing and the promoters of the game are now out in the
open the pretense of giving the contestants' medals and trophies being
no longer considered necessary. The
boxing clubs whose member'h'p is
generally composed of one manager
and a half dozen boys who can box
well enough to appear at the "shows"
are now severed from the clubs which
promote other kinds of athletics and
the association has a good chance
to height that the Pacific division will
be on of the strongest in the
Amateur Athletic Union.

Track athletics at the universities
will be stimulated through competition
with athletes from the clubs and with
increased public interest the college men will turn out in greater numbers and the performances of the athletes will improve. The records of the
University of California and Stanford
have mostly stood for some time
and it is noticeable that nearly
all of them were made at times when
interest was high and the keenness of
competition spurred the runners on to
disappointment.

The Pacific Athletic Association has
dropped control of boxing and the promoters of the game are now out in the
open the pretense of giving the contestants' medals and trophies being
no longer considered necessary. The
boxing clubs whose member'h'p is
generally composed of one manager
and a half dozen boys who can box
well enough to appear at the "shows"
are now severed from the clubs which
promote other kinds of athletics and
the association has a good chance
to height that the Pacific division will
be on of the strongest in the
Amateur Athletic Union.

Track athletics at the universities
will be stimulated through competition
with athletes from the clubs and with
increased public interest the college men will turn out in greater numbers and the performances of the athletes will improve. The records of the
University of California and Stanford
have mostly stood for some time
and it is noticeable that nearly
all of them were made at times when
interest was high and the keenness of
competition spurred the runners on to
disappointment.

The Pacific Athletic Association has
dropped control of boxing and the promoters of the game are now out in the
open the pretense of giving the contestants' medals and trophies being
no longer considered necessary. The
boxing clubs whose member'h'p is
generally composed of one manager
and a half dozen boys who can box
well enough to appear at the "shows"
are now severed from the clubs which
promote other kinds of athletics and
the association has a good chance
to height that the Pacific division will
be on of the strongest in the
Amateur Athletic Union.

Track athletics at the universities
will be stimulated through competition
with athletes from the clubs and with
increased public interest the college men will turn out in greater numbers and the performances of the athletes will improve. The records of the
University of California and Stanford
have mostly stood for some time
and it is noticeable that nearly
all of them were made at times when
interest was high and the keenness of
competition spurred the runners on to
disappointment.

The Pacific Athletic Association has
dropped control of boxing and the promoters of the game are now out in the
open the pretense of giving the contestants' medals and trophies being
no longer considered necessary. The
boxing clubs whose member'h'p is
generally composed of one manager
and a half dozen boys who can box
well enough to appear at the "shows"
are now severed from the clubs which
promote other kinds of athletics and
the association has a good chance
to height that the Pacific division will
be on of the strongest in the
Amateur Athletic Union.

Track athletics at the universities
will be stimulated through competition
with athletes from the clubs and with
increased public interest the college men will turn out in greater numbers and the performances of the athletes will improve. The records of the
University of California and Stanford
have mostly stood for some time
and it is noticeable that nearly
all of them were made at times when
interest was high and the keenness of
competition spurred the runners on to
disappointment.

The Pacific Athletic Association has
dropped control of boxing and the promoters of the game are now out in the
open the pretense of giving the contestants' medals and trophies being
no longer considered necessary. The
boxing clubs whose member'h'p is
generally composed of one manager
and a half dozen boys who can box
well enough to appear at the "shows"
are now severed from the clubs which
promote other kinds of athletics and
the association has a good chance
to height that the Pacific division will
be on of the strongest in the
Amateur Athletic Union.

Track athletics at the universities
will be stimulated through competition
with athletes from the clubs and with
increased public interest the college men will turn out in greater numbers and the performances of the athletes will improve. The records of the
University of California and Stanford
have mostly stood for some time
and it is noticeable that nearly
all of them were made at times when
interest was high and the keenness of
competition spurred the runners on to
disappointment.

The Pacific Athletic Association has
dropped control of boxing and the promoters of the game are now out in the
open the pretense of giving the contestants' medals and trophies being
no longer considered necessary. The
boxing clubs whose member'h'p is
generally composed of one manager
and a half dozen boys who can box
well enough to appear at the "shows"
are now severed from the clubs which
promote other kinds of athletics and
the association has a good chance
to height that the Pacific division will
be on of the strongest in the
Amateur Athletic Union.

Track athletics at the universities
will be stimulated through competition
with athletes from the clubs and with
increased public interest the college men will turn out in greater numbers and the performances of the athletes will improve. The records of the
University of California and Stanford
have mostly stood for some time
and it is noticeable that nearly
all of them were made at times when
interest was high and the keenness of
competition spurred the runners on to
disappointment.

The Pacific Athletic Association has
dropped control of boxing and the promoters of the game are now out in the
open the pretense of giving the contestants' medals and trophies being
no longer considered necessary. The
boxing clubs whose member'h'p is
generally composed of one manager
and a half dozen boys who can box
well enough to appear at the "shows"
are now severed from the clubs which
promote other kinds of athletics and
the association has a good chance
to height that the Pacific division will
be on of the strongest in the
Amateur Athletic Union.

Track athletics at the universities
will be stimulated through competition
with athletes from the clubs and with
increased public interest the college men will turn out in greater numbers and the performances of the athletes will improve. The records of the
University of California and Stanford
have mostly stood for some time
and it is noticeable that nearly
all of them were made at times when
interest was high and the keenness of
competition spurred the runners on to
disappointment.

The Pacific Athletic Association has
dropped control of boxing and the promoters of the game are now out in the
open the pretense of giving the contestants' medals and trophies being
no longer considered necessary. The
boxing clubs whose member'h'p is
generally composed of one manager
and a half dozen boys who can box
well enough to appear at the "shows"
are now severed from the clubs which
promote other kinds of athletics and
the association has a good chance
to height that the Pacific division will
be on of the strongest in the
Amateur Athletic Union.

Track athletics at the universities
will be stimulated through competition
with athletes from the clubs and with
increased public interest the college men will turn out in greater numbers and the performances of the athletes will improve. The records of the
University of California and Stanford
have mostly stood for some time
and it is noticeable that nearly
all of them were made at times when
interest was high and the keenness of
competition spurred the runners on to
disappointment.

The Pacific Athletic Association has
dropped control of boxing and the promoters of the game are now out in the
open the pretense of giving the contestants' medals and trophies being
no longer considered necessary. The
boxing clubs whose member'h'p is
generally composed of one manager
and a half dozen boys who can box
well enough to appear at the "shows"
are now severed from the clubs which
promote other kinds of athletics and
the association has a good chance
to height that the Pacific division will
be on of the strongest in the
Amateur Athletic Union.

Track athletics at the universities
will be stimulated through competition
with athletes from the clubs and with
increased public interest the college men will turn out in greater numbers and the performances of the athletes will improve. The records of the
University of California and Stanford
have mostly stood for some time
and it is noticeable that nearly
all of them were made at times when
interest was high and the keenness of
competition spurred the runners on to
disappointment.

The Pacific Athletic Association has
dropped control of boxing and the promoters of the game are now out in the
open the pretense of giving the contestants' medals and trophies being
no longer considered necessary. The
boxing clubs whose member'h'p is
generally composed of one manager
and a half dozen boys who can box
well enough to appear at the "shows"
are now severed from the clubs which
promote other kinds of athletics and
the association has a good chance
to height that the Pacific division will
be on of the strongest in the
Amateur Athletic Union.

Track athletics at the universities
will be stimulated through competition
with athletes from the clubs and with
increased public interest the college men will turn out in greater numbers and the performances of the athletes will improve. The records of the
University of California and Stanford
have mostly stood for some time
and it is noticeable that nearly
all of them were made at times when
interest was high and the keenness of
competition spurred the runners on to
disappointment.

The Pacific Athletic Association has
dropped control of boxing and the promoters of the game are now out in the
open the pretense of giving the contestants' medals and trophies being
no longer considered necessary. The
boxing clubs whose member'h'p is
generally composed of one manager
and a half dozen boys who can box
well enough to appear at the "shows"
are now severed from the clubs which
promote other kinds of athletics and
the association has a good chance
to height that the Pacific division will
be on of the strongest in the
Amateur Athletic Union.

Track athletics at the universities
will be stimulated through competition
with athletes from the clubs and with
increased public interest the college men will turn out in greater numbers and the performances of the athletes will improve. The records of the
University of California and Stanford
have mostly stood for some time
and it is noticeable that nearly
all of them were made at times when
interest was high and the keenness of
competition spurred the runners on to
disappointment.

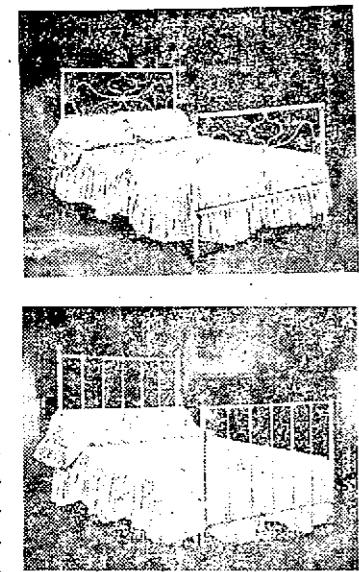

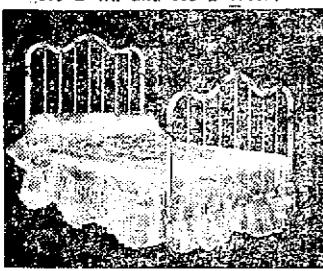

The Pacific Athletic Association has
dropped control of boxing and the promoters of the game are now out in the
open the pretense of giving the contestants' medals and trophies being
no longer considered necessary. The
boxing clubs whose member'h'p is
generally composed of one manager
and a half dozen boys who can box
well enough to appear at the "shows"
are now severed from the clubs which
promote other kinds of athletics and
the association has a good chance
to height that the Pacific division will
be on of the strongest in the
Amateur Athletic Union.

Track athletics at the universities
will be stimulated through competition
with athletes from the clubs and with
increased public interest the college men will turn out in greater numbers and the performances of the athletes will improve. The records of the
University of California and Stanford
have mostly stood for some time
and it is noticeable that nearly
all of them were made at times when
interest was high and the keenness of
competition spurred the runners on to
disappointment.

The Pacific Athletic Association has
dropped control of boxing and the promoters of the game are now out in the
open the pretense of giving the contestants' medals and trophies being
no longer considered necessary. The
boxing clubs whose member'h'p is
generally composed of one manager
and a half dozen boys who can box
well enough to appear at the "shows"
are now severed from the clubs which
promote other kinds of athletics and
the association has a good chance
to height that the Pacific division will
be on of the strongest in the
Amateur Athletic Union.

Monday's
Special

Three different styles; retail price $5.50; Culligan's price—$2.75.
"BIG LITTLE STORE AROUND THE CORNER."
50c Down and 50c a Week.

Tuesday's
Special

Six different styles.
Regular price, $7.50. Culligan's special sale price—$3.75.
"BIG LITTLE STORE AROUND THE CORNER."
50c Down and 50c a Week.

FACTORY FIGHT.

"BIG LITTLE STORE AROUND THE CORNER."

FACTORY FIGHT.

CULLIGAN'S

MANUFACTURER'S AGENT

FACTORY FIGHT.

$75 Honest Furniture for $1 a Week

FACTORY FIGHT.

UNLIMITED CREDIT.

LOW PRICES! FACTORY SURPLUS, STOCK SALE OF ENAMEL BEDS

There are fourteen thousand metal beds a month sold to the people of California. The factory competition has been so keen that this year, like last year, the manufacturers have overdone the supply, and for the second time we have been successful in bidding in the surplus stock.

We Have Ten Thousand Metal Beds Secured at Factory Cost

Are you furnishing a home? Are you going to furnish one soon? Have you a home, and do you need another bed? Have you a new baby, and do you need another crib? This will be the event of the year. Cash or credit terms as always.

A HEART TO HEART TALK

We want to tell you why it is we are doing business.

We have only $750 a month expense. We can sell on a 10% margin and still save our customers 20% over the retail dealer.

Then why stop to consider the "showy fellow" with all the great expense he carries? Do you think for a moment that he pays for all that show? Indeed, he does not—BUT THE PURCHASERS DO. Here is the business proposition clear for all to see: A piece of furniture in the factory costs $5.00, we will say. It costs Culligan 30% freight and 10% to sell it. Now that's 40%. We sell the $5.00 piece of furniture for $7.00. Now it costs the "showy fellow" 30% freight, 30% commission 50% to sell it. That pays for the show. In all it costs him 100%. He sells the $5.00 piece of furniture for $10.00 and you can get the same at Culligan's for $7.00.

That's where the difference comes in and we are always busy in our little store with the large warerooms. Of course, every one knew about our unusual bed offer last week, when we gave a steel covered wire spring with each bed.

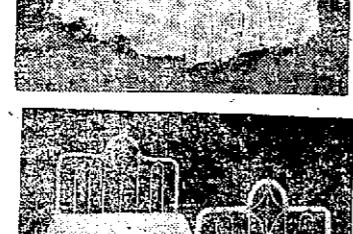

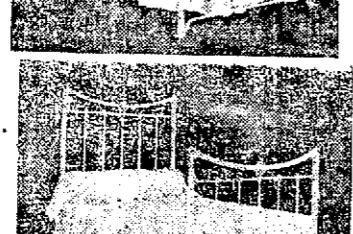

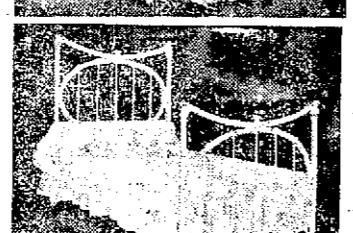

Our store was so crowded that we know many were disappointed in getting a bed, although we had several extra clerks. We will offer the same unusual bargain during next week and also on Saturday.

So now is the time to get a bed, for we have plenty in stock, and the factories are fighting to a finish. That is why we can sell them as we do.

While the factories are fighting, get in and profit by it, and we will stand by you with several carloads of beds, and more coming.

Wednesday's
Special

Five different styles.
Retailer's price $10.00; Culligan's special sale—$5.00.
"BIG LITTLE STORE AROUND THE CORNER."
50c Down and 50c a Week.

Thursday's Special

Retailer's price $15.00; Culligan's special price—$7.50.
Five different styles.

"BIG LITTLE STORE AROUND THE CORNER."
50c Down and 50c a Week.

THE Will J. Culligan Furniture Co.

467 Ninth St. Bet. Washington and Broadway
OAKLAND

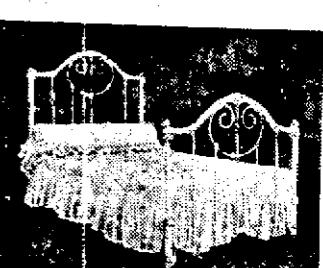

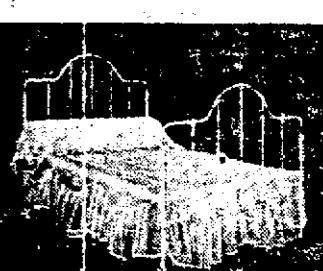

Just Around the Corner

Saturday's
Special

And on Saturday we will put the whole lot together and let you take your choice.

Any bed on the floor priced at $25 to $30 we will sell for $12.50.

"BIG LITTLE STORE AROUND THE CORNER."
$1.00 Down and $1.00 a Week.

MUST VACATE WAIT FOR US!!!

We close MONDAY AND TUESDAY, all day, in order to mark down and take an inventory of our immense stock of Men's and Boy's

Ready-to-Wear Clothing, Furnishings, HATS, TRUNKS, LEATHER GOODS, ETC., ETC.

OUR CLERKS START IN EARLY TOMORROW TO SLASH PRICES TO SMITHREENS, AND THEY WILL KEEP THEIR LEAD PENCILS BUSY MARKING DOWN PRICES ON EVERY ARTICLE IN THE ESTABLISHMENT.

Our Store will Reopen Wednesday Morning

Men's Clothing

Sterling Brand, high-grade tailor-made, ready-to-wear clothing, in the latest shades and patterns.

$25.00 grade	Sale Price $16.50
22.50 grade	Sale Price 14.50
20.00 grade	Sale Price 12.50
17.50 grade	Sale Price 10.00
15.00 grade	Sale Price 10.00
12.50 grade	Sale Price 7.85
10.00 grade	Sale Price 6.35
MEN'S HIGH-GRADE PANTS	$4.00, $4.50,
$5.00 and $6.00 values	Sale Price $3.85
MEN'S MEDIUM GRADE PANTS	$2.50,
$3.00 and $3.50 values	Sale Price $2.35

Youths' and Boys' Clothing

$15.00 Youths' Suits	Sale Price $10.00
12.50 Youths' Suits	Sale Price 7.85
10.00 Youths' Suits	Sale Price 6.85
8.50 Youths' Suits	Sale Price 5.95

Boys' Suits

$7.50 Suits	Sale Price $4.35
6.50 Suits	Sale Price 3.85
5.00 Suits	Sale Price 2.95
4.50 Suits	Sale Price 2.50
3.50 Suits	Sale Price 2.00

Boys

Boys' underwear, 50 cent value. Sale Price—25 cents.

Boys' Buster Brown stockings, 25 cent value. Sale Price—3 pairs for 50 cents.

Knee Pants

50 cents, 75 cents and $1.00 grades—Sale Price 40 cents. Ages 4 to 10 years.

Suit Cases

Suit cases from $2.00 up. Telescopes from 60 cents up. Steamer trunks, $3.85 up. Good traveling trunks, $4.35 up.

Trunks, Suit Cases, Traveling Bags and Telescopes at One-half Price.

MEN'S HATS

The latest styles, shapes and colors, $2.00; $2.50 and $3.00 values—Sale Price $1.35—all sizes.

Furnishing Goods

Work shirts in black, black and white stripes, light and medium dark colors, 75 cent value. Sale Price—45 cents.

All wool, blue flannel shirts, $1.75 value. Sale Price—$1.00.

Scotch flannel shirts in light and medium dark colors, $2.00 value. Sale Price—$1.00.

Black sateen shirts, $1.25 value. Sale Price—75 cents.

Men's tennis flannel night shirts, $1.00 value. Sale Price—65 cents.

Umbrellas at Half Price

From 50 cents up.

Just Half of the Usual Prices

Heavy Melton Overcoats

$18 to $25 value—Sale Price—$12.35.

Genuine Cravettes, $18 to $25 values—Sale Price—$13.15.

200 Overcoats $12.50 value, all sizes. Sale Price—$5.35.

All sizes and styles, $15.00 value. Sale Price—$7.35.

All sizes and styles, $17.50 value. Sale Price—$9.35.

$20.00 value, all sizes and styles. Sale Price—$12.35.

$25.00 and $30.00 value, all sizes and styles. Sale Price—$14.95.

Underwear

All wool underwear, $1.25; $1.50 and $1.75 grades. Sale Price—$1.00.

Men's all wool fleece shirts and drawers, $1.00 value. Sale Price—65 cents.

Men's standard fleece, 75 cent value. Sale Price—40 cents.

Men's derby ribbed cotton underwear in pink, blue, gray, brown and ecru colors, value 75 cents. Sale Price—45 cents.

Men's balbriggan shirts and drawers, 75 cent value. Sale Price—45 cents.

Men's cotton ribbed shirts and drawers, 40 cent value. Sale Price—25 cents.

Men's overalls, union made, 75 cent value. Sale Price—50 cents.

Necties, 25 and 50 cent values, in all styles. Sale Price—20 cents.

Men's sox. Wool sox, 25 cent value. Sale Price—12½ cents.

Black and brown sox, 12½ cent value. Sale Price—3 pairs, 25 cents.

Handkerchiefs, 12½ cent value. Sale Price—4 for 25 cents.

Black and Brown Sox, 25 cent value; sale price, 12 1-2c.

PLENTY OF CLERKS TO WAIT ON YOU. COME EARLY AND MAKE YOUR SELECTION.

NEVER SUCH BARGAINS OFFERED ON THIS COAST BEFORE.

WE ARE COMPELLED TO SACRIFICE OUR BIG INVOICE ON ACCOUNT OF BEING OBLIGED TO VACATE OUR PREMISES, AS S. N. WOOD & CO., OF SAN FRANCISCO, HAVE LEASED OUR PRESENT STORE AND WILL OCCUPY THE SAME SOON.

"THE SILVER FRONT"

N. W. CORNER WASHINGTON AND ELEVENTH STS., OAKLAND, CAL.

ANY MERCHANT WANTING TO BUY IN BIG QUANTITIES, PLEASE CALL BEFORE 9 A. M.

BEGS FRIENDS TO KILL HIM

Fireman Pinned Beneath Wreck of S. P. Train at the Town of Marysville.

MARYSVILLE, Nov. 16.—A northbound Southern Pacific train was derailed here this afternoon, the engine, tender and baggage car going off a fifteen-foot embankment. Engineman

McManara was hurt internally and badly scalded. Fireman Ed Allen had his left leg broken and his body and limbs fearfully scalded. He was pinned in the wrecked cab and could not escape the steam. The men worked with hatchets to cut away the copper pipes holding him before he could be released. No passengers were injured. Express messenger J. Marston's hand was injured. One hundred feet of track were torn up.

Heavy hauling for the Western Pacific caused the north to pack next to the rails at the Ninth and K street crossing, and the hot wheels of the engine jumped the track, running the locomotive on the ties for a hundred feet before it went over the embankment into a lot at the bottom. The scene while Fireman Allen was being released was pitiful, he pleading with the rescuers to have mercy and kill him to end his misery.

SOCIETY SWELL WIFE-BEATER

Astonishing Revelations in Life of a Former Popular Club Man.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—All the glamour about Abbott W. Lawrence, millionaire plunger, clubman and social favorite, has been dissipated and his friends must know him now as a bigamist and wife-beater, hiding the woman he had wronged in some corner of Canada.

When Lawrence was married to Miss Georgia R. Payne in Delmonico's last February he cut such a swath in Wall street circles and had so many rich and influential friends that the event was noted of considerable social importance.

The manner of the marriage was romantic and the young woman had youth, beauty and was supposed to be wealthy. Her home is in Kansas City.

Lawrence had come to New York from New Orleans, where he organized the Fibre Company. He was supposed to have cleaned up an even million on this deal. With good family and social connections he was received with open arms.

He posed as a bachelor, though he had a wife then living in Walpole, Mass., whose fortune he was squandering.

Lawrence met Miss Payne in the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria early last winter and began to pay ardent suit. On Henry Marsh Warren to request him to perform a marriage ceremony.

When the first marriage was annulled to the second marriage, she refused to believe it, declaring she had entire confidence in her husband. For more than two months the second wife remained in ignorance of the deception of which she was a victim.

She learned the truth from a letter she found in her husband's coat. Immediately after this she left her husband and returned to her home in Kansas City.

Mrs. Lawrence No. 1 informed the Kansas City lawyer that her husband had disposed of $50,000 worth of her property and it developed that when he married Miss Payne he had spent all of his own fortune as well as that of his first wife.

▲

SOCIETY BETROTHAL ANNOUNCED AT LUNCH

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—At a luncheon given yesterday, members of the Omega Nu fraternity at the residence of Mrs. A. C. Snyder, on Wall street, Santa Cruz, the engagement of Miss Harriet Snyder and Leeland Stanford Ramsdell was announced.

Miss Snyder, the daughter of A. C. Snyder, a prominent merchant of Santa Cruz, is a vivacious, blonde and a popular society girl.

She is grand secretary of the Omega Nu fraternity and soprano soloist of the First Presbyterian church. Mr. Ramsdell is the son of Harry V. Ramsdell, and well known in San Francisco's "young set." Besides being a prominent member of the Sigma Psi Upsilon fraternity, he is a member of the First Corps of Cadets, California Light Infantry, and a member of the Seventh Regiment of New York City.

The young people are being showered with congratulations from their many friends. It is understood that the wedding will take place next autumn.

BIG BANQUET TO GILLETT

Potrero Merchants to Discuss Water Front Plans at Feast.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—A banquet will be tendered Governor-elect Gillett, the successful candidate for Congress and the officers of the various commercial organizations of San Francisco and Oakland by the Potrero Commercial and Manufacturers' Association at an early date.

At the meeting of the association yesterday in the Lick School of Mechanical Arts it was decided that the necessity for united action for the harbor front belt line railroad improvements and a necessity for the business administration of the water front would be the chief topics at the banquet.

Resolutions were adopted favoring spur track privileges in this city wherever they are necessary for the benefit of commerce and trade, provided the privileges are granted only where interchange of cars of all railroads are embodied in the grant.

The Supervisors are urged to speedily establish auxiliary fire protection systems throughout the city, by the inauguration of large water reservoirs and pumping stations in various sections, and a committee was appointed to confer with the Merchants' Association, the object being to obtain commercial interests. Special effort will be made to obtain proper and prompt consideration of legitimate claims and complaints. A general educational campaign will be begun through the State Railroad Commission, which will be urged to do something toward amelioration of the situation as to local rates and general conditions. The State Railroad Commission will be compelled to put itself on record either for or against the commercial and manufacturing interests of this city and State.

Reports of progress were made as to street car service for the district, as well as better lighting, street sewer improvements and paving of streets.

It was decided that after January 1, 1907, the association, through its committee on transportation, begin a vigorous campaign to improve generally railroad conditions as affecting by Lash's Kidney and Liver Bitters.

All torpidity of the liver is prevented by Lash's Kidney and Liver Bitters.

▲

EASTMAN KODAKS

Amateur

Developing and Printing

466½ 13th Street FROST Phone Oak'd 1149

Expert

Flash Light

Outdoor

Photographer

Kodaks Loaned Free for the Finishing

Grand Opening JUNG BROS.

1239 BROADWAY

At Fifteenth St., opp. Wells Fargo's. Formerly Eddy Street, San Francisco.
MANUFACTURERS OF LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S WEARING APPAREL.
FALL STYLES OF SILK Waists, Muslin Underwear, Silk Stockings and Socks are now ready.
A complete line of Ladies' Hosiery, Fancy Goods, Ribbons, Notions, etc., can always be found here. Workmanship guaranteed.
BUY DIRECT FROM THE MANUFACTURER AND SAVE MONEY.

CAMPBELL CO.
TELEPHONE ~ OAKLAND 300

Crash!

Poor Us.

JUST LOOK AT THESE PRICES:

Monday=Tuesday=Wednesday

THANKSGIVING

THE VERY NAME SUGGESTS GOOD THINGS, AND WE ARE PREPARED TO SUPPLY YOUR WANTS. NEW CRESCA FIGS, IN BOTTLE, BOX, AND BASKET. NEW NUTS, STUFFED DATES, RAISINS, MINCE MEAT, CRANBERRIES. IN SHORT, ALL THE BEVERAGES, AND EATABLES WHICH THROUGH CUSTOM HAVE ASSOCIATED THEMSELVES WITH THE HOLIDAYS.

GROCERY DEPARTMENT

Cranberries	Regular 15c	10c
Pop Corn	Regular 15c	10c
Walnuts, per pound	Regular 25c	20c
Eggs, Eastern	Regular 40c	30c
Cider Vinegar	Regular 50c	40c
Maple Syrup, Snowflake	Quart Can 45c	35c
Peanut Butter Powder	Regular 10c	8c
Sliced Pineapple, Hawaiian	Regular 15c	12c
Extract Witch Hazel	25c	20c
Angelus Olive Oil, pure	Regular $1.00	50c
Just think! Sweet, tender Maine Corn on the cob.	Regular 55c	50c
Special		55c

Wholesale rates to construction camps, boarding houses, steamship companies, sailing vessels, hotel, restaurants, etc.

DELICATESSEN

Sausage. Cured and smoked meats of all kinds. Choice Ham, Bacon and Lard.

HEINEMAN & STERNS KOSHER MEATS

Brick Codfish	3 lbs 20c
Roast Pork, Mutton and Beef	Per pound 40c
Mammoth Olives	In quart jars 65c
Edam Cheese	Full Cream $1.00

HOUSEHOLD

Door Mats, small	Regular 55c	Special 45c
Door Mats, medium	Regular 90c	Special 75c
Door Mats, large	Regular $1.10	Special .95c
Carpet Sweepers, ball bearing, nickel finish, from $3.50	... up to $5.00
Whisk brooms, 8 1/2-inch; brooms, 10-inch; 11-inch;
your pick at		15c
Maple Chopping Bowl, 18-inch	Regular 25c	Special 15c
Curtain Stretcher, adjustable plus	Regular $1.75	Special $1.50
Clay Toasters	Regular 25c	Special 20c

LIQUOR DEPARTMENT

CEDAR BROOK—	GORDIE FRERES BRANDY—
A straight smooth Bourbon Whisky, guaranteed nine years old. Regularly $6.00 gallon	Genuine Imported Goods. Regularly $1.75 $1.55
ROSSEAU SANVEUR BRANDY—	ROSSEAU SANVEUR BRANDY—
A delicious, high grade of Imported brandy. Regularly $1.25 $1.00	A delicious, high grade of Imported brandy. Regularly $1.25 $1.00
ROBIN HOOD WHISKY—	ROBIN HOOD WHISKY—
Medicinally pure. Regularly $1.25 for $1.00	Medicinally pure. Regularly $1.25 for $1.00
PENNSYLVANIA RYE—	PENNSYLVANIA RYE—
Regularly $1.25 $1.00	Regularly $1.25 $1.00
GOLD SEAL—	GOLD SEAL—
Regularly $1.25 $1.00	Regularly $1.25 $1.00
WILSON—"That's All!"—	WILSON—"That's All!"—
Regularly $1.25 90c	Regularly $1.25 90c

W. H. Campbell Co.
Twelfth and Harrison Streets

BASEBALL AT IDORA PARK

HER LEGACY IN CALIFORNIA

Gallagherites Meet the Mahonyites This (Sunday) Afternoon.

What is expected to be an interesting game of baseball is to take place today at Idora Park, between two popular organizations of San Francisco. The Gallagherites and Mahonyites will be seen in action for the fourth time.

This game is an annual event, which draws a large crowd of partisan enthusiasts. Lovers of the national pastime need not regret that the ball league season is at an end, for they will be furnished a first-class article of ball tomorrow at the old stand. Among the celebrities will be Joe Corbett, of the good old Baltimore days, and our own Jimmy Byrnes of the Philadelphia Athletics. Former "Sons of St. Pat," such as Paddy Gallagher, Mike Finn, John Mahony, and John Brennan will make the spectators sit up and take notice.

MUSIC IN THE PARK.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—The Golden Gate Park Band, under the direction of Paul Stiedendorf, will render the following program in the park Sunday:

March, "The Iron King" (St. Claire); overture, "Stradella" (Flotow); "Dream on the Ocean" (Gugai); solo, for flute (selected); Sis. A. Lombardo; selection, "The Bohemian Girl" (Galo); overture, "William Tell" (Rossini); Chilean dance, "Manana" (Alisud); grand fantasia, "Albion" (Baez); "Ave Maria" (Gounod-Horst); "Galop Inferno" (Dance of the Demon) (Holst).

WOMEN PLAN GOLF EVENTS

Several Tournaments in Progress With Experts to Take Part in Them.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world.)

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 10.—The California Women's Golf Association will have a tournament on the links of the Sacramento Country Club next Wednesday. It will be a handicap event of eighteen holes, medal play, and some of the best players of the State, including Mrs. Kilman Brown and Mrs. Clark, are expected to participate. The several women's clubs about the bay are all planned to have representatives present.

While it is not likely that any of the Sacramento golfers will be scratch entries, some very good work is to be expected from them in the tournament. Mrs. G. W. Lane, who has been making the best scores among the women on the local course, has competed in other tournaments of the association and has made a very creditable showing. Mrs. W. H. Devlin and Mrs. L. S. Upson have also been sending the little white ball over the course with considerable skill. It is expected that a few others of the local clubs besides these will participate in the tournament next Wednesday.

A minor handicap tournament was held by the women of the club last Thursday in which Miss Alice Dray, with a handicap of 11, made the best stroke, doing the 18 holes in 107, making her net score 96. Mrs. G. W. Lane, who played from scratch, was the runner-up, with a score of 101. She made the first 9 holes in 46 and the last 9 in 55. Mrs. William H. Devlin, who had a handicap of 2, played the first round in 49 and the second in 54, which also gave her a net score of 101.

This left Mrs. Devlin and Mrs. Lane tied for second honors. They decided their positions by playing an extra hole. Mrs. Lane won by making the hole in five strokes, as against six for Mrs. Devlin. The following table shows how the players figured in the tournament.

Handl. Gross Net
Gross scores. 107 96
Mrs. Alice Dray 101 101
Mrs. H. H. Devlin 101 101
Mrs. L. S. Upson 105 105
Mrs. M. M. Pop 110 109
Mrs. E. D. Doyle 121 127
Mrs. E. A. Johnson 129 129
Mrs. F. Smith 129 129
Mrs. G. W. Devlin 129 129
Mrs. Simeon 129 129

... "Never handed in."

Interest among the men of the club is centered in a handicap eighteen holes medal play for the Albert Elkus cup, Sunday, November 11th. Nineteen members have entered. It is expected that there will be fully a half-dozen on the scratch list. The present holder of the Elkus cup is Dr. Royal B. Giffen, who made the best gross score last year in addition to having a handicap. Those who have signed their intention of participating in the tournament are G. W. Lane, Miller Upson, A. P. Scheid, Ray Purd, Dr. Giffen, Arthur Dr. St. Day, Al Smith, S. E. F. Don Farde, Roy Frys, Montford, Chayell, Homer Wood, L. Attrup, V. S. McClatchey, H. J. McClatchey, W. A. Moyer, F. E. Smith. In addition to these it is quite likely there will be a few more who have not notified the "handicap" committee but they will be required to play from scratch.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

On Thanksgiving Day, the women will play the finale for the club championship, for which the trophy is the Cordova cup. It will be eighteen holes match play. By the way some of the comparatively new members are improving; it is likely there will be at least a half-dozen to make a strong bid for the Cordova cup.

The women will have another tournament on December 15. It will be eighteen holes handicap medal play. On New Year's Day they will have a similar handicap tournament for the Welschbach & Lubin cup.

The real big event of the season for the men will be the finale in the club championship, eighteen holes match play, or February 22 for the Kimball & Upson cup.

The links of the Sacramento County Club are in excellent condition at the present time, and in all probability will continue so throughout the winter because of the quality of the soil. The club has more than a hundred members, and most of them are enthusiastic over the Scotch game. Both the women and the men of the club are now playing whenever convenient, so as to prepare for the approaching tournament.

Aside from their devotion to golf, the members also give some of their time to the tennis courts that have recently been built near the club house. During the winter it is proposed to have the usual number of informal hops at the club house.

RACE WAR IN INDIA NEAR Hindus Angered at Superior Pretences of Mohammedan Hosts.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world.)

CALCUTTA, Nov. 10.—A native race war is threatened in India between the Mohammedans and Hindus, the two most numerous races in the country. In the result of a visit to this city of Mrs. William Baldwin of Mount Kisco, N. Y., who came to Newark to find Mrs. Van Ness and tell her of her good fortune. At present Mrs. Van Ness is trying to get in communication with Mrs. Baldwin, who is a cousin of the legatee. The inheritance of Mrs. Van Ness, it is declared, forms the estate of a brother who died in California. Mrs. Van Ness has been ill and in straightened circumstances.

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress." The Mohammedans now propose to convene a similar gathering of their own people in opposition to this. The dispute is likely to develop into religious strife, which is the most dangerous kind of disturbance.

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they are a higher race than the Hindus, who are nothing as if they were the dumbest people in the native world and have held a so-called "national congress."

The Mohammedans assert that they

How the Political Battles Were Won.

THE KNAVE

Good and Bad
Police Work
Across Bay.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—It has been once more demonstrated that the Democrats cannot win an election in this State without the aid of the Examiner. Four years ago the Examiner remained silent regarding the gubernatorial candidates, and Lane came very near winning. This year the Examiner's active support of Langdon drew the bulk of the labor vote from Bell to the Independence League candidate and gave San Francisco to Gillett by a good plurality.

In Alameda county it is safe to say the Examiner's vigorous appeals drew 3,000 votes from Bell to Langdon. The returns show the same results in San Mateo, Contra Costa, Marin, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz and Monterey. In Los Angeles, also, the Langdon vote was swelled at the expense of Bell.

All of which proves that Bell threw away his chances of election when he denounced Hearst in the Sacramento convention, a blunder he repeated in numerous speeches on the stump. The convention itself showed how little horse sense its leaders possessed when it passed Grulich's resolution aimed at Hearst's candidacy in New York. That resolution played its part in the defeat of Hearst, but it also sounded the knell of Bell's hopes in California.

Had Bell held his tongue about Hearst, the Gould resolution would not have been passed, and the door would have been left open for the establishment of an entente between the Examiner and the Democratic candidate as the campaign progressed. In all probability Langdon would not have been boomed in Hearst's San Francisco and Los Angeles papers after Hearst's nomination at Buffalo, but the fight begun on Hearst at Sacramento left him no alternative but to stand by Langdon to the last.

The result is a significant demonstration of the Examiner's influence with union workingmen. It kept Ruef and Schmitz from delivering the Union Labor vote to Gillett, and it kept McCarthy, Tveitmoe, Macarthur, Parry and Haggerty from delivering it to Bell. The Union Labor leaders in San Francisco endorsed Bell and denounced Gillett and Langdon, but the body of the union workingmen voted for Langdon, who was under the ban of Ruef and Schmitz.

No really well-informed person expects anything to come of the graft investigation. The whole thing is now regarded as a huge farce worked up for political effect. The character of the revelations to be made is foreshadowed in what is being given out about the insurance-restaurant graft. All it amounts to is that Reagan, the deposed Police Commissioner, got the insurance graft while Ruef got fees from the French restaurants as an attorney for saving their licenses.

Reagan's testimony would not convict a yellow dog, and there is nothing criminal in Ruef taking fees. He may have divided it with others, but nobody can prove it. The presumption is that he did, but only parties to such transactions can verify them, and the law of self-preservation will keep their mouths sealed.

The stories about Schmitz's wealth are manifestly false where they are not grossly exaggerated: Schmitz is really not a rich man, though he has accumulated a moderate competence since he became Mayor. Most of the property he is known to possess was acquired by perfectly legitimate means, totally disconnected with politics.

For example, the residence of which so much has been said was paid for from the proceeds of a real estate deal absolutely free from taint of graft or suggestion of politics. He has also managed to get in on two or three outside speculations having no connection with politics that netted him handsome profits, but they were not really what men would call big, and the money he used in them was borrowed.

If Schmitz was raking in big graft every month he would not have to borrow a few thousand dollars on endorsements when he saw a chance to make a profitable turn.

The costly rugs which the papers have printed so much about were presented to him by friends who had neither political favors nor franchises to ask.

Heney has created a distinctly unfavorable impression by his loud talking and by his manner of conducting the graft investigation. He has appealed to popular passion instead of proceeding quietly as the law directs and presenting facts to substantiate his wholesale accusations. He has demanded the conviction of the men he accuses in advance of indictment and trial.

Frank Short of Fresno is a victim of the ingratitude of republicans. His neighbors have turned him down and elected a Democrat to the State Senate. When he was nominated he was supposed to have a walk-over. His defeat by a decisive majority is therefore a painful surprise and a body blow to cherished political hopes.

Short's defeat also hits Dr. Rowell's political machine a solar plexus. Short is a protege and political understudy of Dr. Rowell. His brother is postmaster of Fresno, and he and Frank have always regarded Dr. Rowell as their political guide, philosopher and friend. Dr. Rowell selected Short as his successor in the Senate, hence feels the defeat of his protege as personal to himself.

Short owes his defeat to the fact that he is an anti-corporation man in theory, but a corporation man in practice. He was opposed to corporations till he became attorney for several. Then he found to his grief that the voters questioned his fidelity to the doctrines he had been preaching. Also Pardee's friends gave him a few jolts for helping to throw the doctor down at Santa Cruz.

Pardee's friends must go. The slogan has already been sounded by Gillett's managers, who make no secret of their intention to take every Pardee scalp at the earliest opportunity. As soon as Charley Spear's term expires, every Pardee man on the San Francisco water front will be given the grand bounce. Charley Maulutan will be among the first to go.

The various State institutions will promptly be weeded of men suspected of disloyalty to Gillett or sympathy with Pardee. No quarter is to be given.

The Hayes brothers are under suspicion, but their strength in the Senate will probably save them from any punitive measures. The Hayeses did not support Gillett in their papers, but bent all their energies to electing their county ticket and pulling "Red" Hayes through for Congress.

Despite this, Santa Clara gave Gillett 1300 plurality, while part of the Hayes local ticket was defeated. Only by the utmost exertions and spending large sums was the remainder of the ticket saved. As it is, the Democrats have all the important patronage officers in the county—Sheriff, Clerk, Assessor, Tax Collector and Coroner.

On the face of the returns, Free, the Hayes candidate for District Attorney, has 82 plurality, but James H. Campbell, his Democratic competitor, will contest on the ground of being counted out by the henchmen of the godly Hayes brothers. Flannery, their candidate for Recorder, is also said to have gotten in by the same irregular means.

Charley Shortridge made a gallant fight for re-election to the Senate, but the Hayes forces were too strong for him. Hence the most picturesque and personally likeable man in the Senate will be missing when the roll is called next January.

My old friend Caminetti will be in Sacramento again this winter. He beat McKenney in Ralston's district, and gives the Democrats a voting strength of six in the upper house.

Caminetti represented the district in the Senate before he went to Congress. He has always been a vote-getter in the mining counties, and his election in a Republican district this year shows that he is still a good finisher.

The defeat of Carroll Cook shows that Ruef and Schmitz cannot deliver the Union Labor vote to whom they choose. Kerrigan got more votes in San Francisco than Cook, although Cook had the Union Labor nomination and Kerrigan did not. Judge Cooper beat Cook in San Francisco owing to the Examiner's support of the former and Father Carragher's denunciation of the latter.

Ruef was unable to give either Conlan or Mogan the strength of the Union Labor party. On the other hand, Lawlor received thousands of Union Labor votes.

Chief of Police Dinan and Captain of Detectives Duke are covering themselves with glory in the various statements which they are giving out for publication on how they captured Dabner and Siemsen, the notorious gaspipe murderers, and made them confess to the series of crimes that have terrorized the people of San Francisco.

Now, as a matter of fact, neither Chief of Police Dinan nor Captain Duke had as much to do with the capture of Siemsen and Dabner as you or I. The man that captured Dabner was Behrend, the jeweler, whom the two fiends selected as their last victim. Had it not been for the fact that Behrend gave the desperadoes a terrible battle and succeeded in holding Dabner until help arrived, the two murderers would have escaped just as effectively as they did after killing the Japanese banker.

The confession of Dabner following his red-handed capture, was simply a natural sequence. The boy is weak-minded, in a measure, and has that sort of temperament that glories in the lime-light, whether the calcium be turned upon him for his good deeds or bad.

I don't know what argument Dinan and Duke are using to convince themselves that they had anything to do with the capture of these boy murderers. If there is any credit coming outside of Behrend, it is to the patrolman and private citizens who happened to be near the jewelry store when the awful crime was committed.

Dinan now says that he had Siemsen in mind as the actual murderer of the Japanese banker from the start. If this is so, it simply tends to emphasize the charges of incompetency that have been hurled at him. If he knew, or even thought, that Siemsen was the gaspipe thug, why didn't he turn his entire police force loose to capture the Kanaka?

Dinan avers that the arrest and subsequent confession of Dabner is a complete vindication of his career as Chief of Police and of the entire Police Department. I think it is an eloquent protest against the incompetency of the Chief and his men.

Things have certainly come to a fine pass if we have to wait for murderous thugs to claim another victim before there is any chance of their capture.

Incidentally, it seems that it is necessary for the latest victim to capture the murderers, or would-be murderers, until the police arrived so that they may be arrested and the department vindicated.

Oh, fudge!

"I see my old fiend A. B. Treadwell, alias "Rain in the Face," has been elected justice of the peace. My, what a time he will have with himself and the gang! The last time he was on the bench he furnished more fun than a barrel of monkeys when the proceedings were in full whirl. As the legitimate successor to the late Judge "Whiskers" Campbell he was a howling success.

I think Treadwell was "traded" more than any man that ever sat on the bench in San Francisco, new or old. The fine art of "trading" a judge reached the stage of perfection in the days before the fire. There was not a hanger-on around the city hall who couldn't "trade" a man to the queen's taste. By trading a Judge I mean the art of making a person in trouble think that you have enlisted the sympathy of the court in his or her behalf and that the outcome will be entirely in favor of the defendant. For this work a fee is charged.

Now, as a matter of fact, the "trader" never mentions the matter in hand to the Judge at all. He simply leaves his client and goes up to the Judge and engages him in a general conversation, as a rule telling him a funny story. Naturally the court laughs and wags its head approvingly if the story is humorous. Then the "trader" returns to his victim and says: "It's all right." If the defendant gets the better of the proceedings the "trader" tells him that the result is due to his intercession with the Judge, and collects a double fee, one for himself and the other for the court.

After being "traded" to a frazzle, Treadwell got onto the fact that he was the victim of the sharks that hung about his courtroom. So one morning as soon as court opened he looked over the sea of upturned faces confronting him and asked if he had been "traded" as yet that morning.

There being no reply, "Rain in the Face" continued: "I'm sick of being 'traded' to every Tom, Dick and Harry that comes before me for trial. Now I want it publicly understood that not a single 'trader' has ever let me in on his fee. Hereafter, when any one wants to get this court he's got to come to me personally. If there's any stuff to be paid the court I want it known that the court is the only person to hand it to. In matters of this kind Judge Treadwell has no agents. The court will now adjourn to the court's private office, where business of a strictly private nature is transacted. Three knocks will gain admission."

The confession of Siemsen and Dabner to the series of terrible gaspipe murders puts the police department in a disgraceful light, especially when it is known that a definite plot was formed to railroad young Scanlan to State's prison and possibly the gallows for the crimes. But the men now at the head of the department have not savvy enough to put over such a daring bit of business as that. The late Chief of Police Lees was the gentleman for that sort of work.

First, Captain of Detectives Duke got a couple of weak-minded women in quest of notoriety to testify that they saw Scanlan outside the store in which Pfitzner or Freide, I don't remember which, was murdered. Then they got a man to testify that he saw him in the vicinity of the scene of one of the murders immediately following the crime. Margery Ryan, an unfortunate and weak-minded child of the night, was also produced by the police to testify that Scanlan told her he had killed people to get money to give to her. And all the while the police knew full well that Scanlan was a harmless "dope" fiend who wouldn't kill a flea. So far as crime goes, he might pick a pocket, but that's all. However, people said they saw him, and so he was to be sent to the gallows for the things he didn't do.

The vote polled by the Independence League is a revelation to the professional politicians who head the old parties. According to the actual figures, the Independence League polled a larger vote in San Francisco than did the Democratic party or Ruef's Union Labor party.

The Independence League total or rather actual vote was something over 9,000. The Union Labor vote was a trifle over 5,000. The Democratic vote was about the same. Speaking broadly, the Independence League polled as many votes as the Union Labor and Democratic parties combined.

This shows more plainly than anything else the extent of the injury done Abe Ruef's political fortunes by the Heney-Burns investigation.

At the election before last, when Henry Crocker and Franklin K. Lane ran against Schmitz for Mayor, the Union Labor vote totaled over 15,000. At the last election so great and so general was the Schmitz vote that it was almost impossible to determine just where organized labor votes began and left off. But now, since the wholesale charges of graft and crookedness have been hurled against the administration, the vote of the workingmen, which has been the backbone of Ruef's strength, is cut almost two-thirds. At the present indication it doesn't look as though Abe will ever be able to regain the confidence of the toiler.

While a few of the labor people, headed by P. H. McCarthy and the crowd of merry gentlemen clustered about him, who live well without working, are still loyal, Ruef has absolutely lost his pull with the trades unionists.

The United Railroads is in a quandary, and all because it refused to grant the linemen and electricians a small raise of wages. When the men employed in repairing the trolleys and machinery of the electric cars went on a strike, the heads of the United Railroads laughed at them and openly predicted that they would not only be willing to come back to work, but be very happy to accept the old scale of hours and wages.

The striking linemen, however, took an entirely different view of the situation. Instead of worrying about going back to the United Railroads or winning their strike, they simply went in quest of other jobs. The best men were immediately employed by the Santa Fe. Others received employment in private concerns and in many instances are getting more than 100 per cent raise over the United Railroads schedule.

Since the strike the United Railroads has been running its cars in the craziest possible manner. Cars are constantly breaking down; the overhead trolley wires frequently drop to the streets, writhing and wriggling, spitting and spluttering death to the unfortunate pedestrians in the vicinity. Fuses are constantly blowing out, maiming and crippling women and children. The damage suits already filed against the company as a result of exploding fuses total up nearly half a million dollars.

Mr. Mullally and his assistants have been busy during the past couple of weeks trying to get back their old electricians. But, alas, they have gone beyond recall. In consequence the trolley trust is suffering from the hardest blow ever delivered against a like corporation that attempted to run a $20,000,000 concern on a shoestring.

THE KNAVE

HEART : TRIBUNE'S PAGE FOR WOMEN : HOME

SOCIETY WOMAN TELLS HOW SHE WAS HORSEWHIPPED

Mrs. William Gresham, High in Washington Circles, Was the Victim of a Diplomat.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Mrs. Gresham, widow first of Rear Admiral Prisbee and later of Lieutenant William Gresham, U. S. N., has told how she had been horsewhipped in public last July by Dr. Raoul Amador, son of the President of the Republic of Panama and Consul-General from that country to the United States.

"I met Dr. Amador in 1904," she began. "I had gone to Panama with the congressional junket and we were entertained by President Amador. It was during the period that I was a guest in his house that I met Dr. Amador, the son. From the very beginning he paid me marked attention.

"Shortly after I had arrived in New York he followed as the consul-general from Panama. He called upon me many times, and so the old acquaintance was renewed and a firm friendship established.

TO LOVE THE CONSUL.

"I was absolutely in ignorance of the fact that he was a married man. I came to love him with all my heart and mind and soul. I gave myself up to him absolutely, unthinkingly and we went to live in turn in the Brealin, Galletin, in Port Chester and in Lakewood. We had a summer cottage there and we were very happy together.

"Then at last came the smash and the whole bottom fell bodily out of my little dream of love. We had a violent row and it ended by Dr. Amador leaving me.

"After Raoul and I separated, I rarely left the house, and when I did she was very beautiful.

WRONG SUITOR RECEIVES HER "YES" THROUGH MAIL

That's Why St. Louis Society Girl Wedded a Rich Man, but Now She Is Divorced.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 10.—One more link was added to the tangled romance of Mrs. Amy Bay Sturgeon, whose wedding was the result of a misdirected letter, when her husband, Robert T. Sturgeon, today obtained a divorce by default, the charge being abandonment.

Mrs. Sturgeon, who was a St. Louis society girl before her marriage, is supposed to be in the South visiting relatives. She fled from her husband, it is said, immediately after the PHOTOGRAPH ON THE LEFT IS MRS. LIZZIE HALLIDAY, EX-GYPSY QUEEN, HELD IN NEW YORK AT THE MATTEAWAN ASYLUM FOR INSANE CRIMINALS, FOR KILLING HER HUSBAND AND TWO WOMEN, AND WHO STABBED TO DEATH NELLIE WICKS, A YOUNG ATTENDANT. BELOW IS MRS. HALLIDAY IN HER GYPSY COSTUME, FROM A PHOTOGRAPH TAKEN SEVERAL YEARS AGO, AND SCENE TYPIFYING HER CAMP LIFE IN HUDSON AND MOHAWK VALLEYS.

World's Fair, during which noted personages were guests at the Sturgeon mansion. They included Miss Rosemary Sartoris, granddaughter of President Grant, a close friend of Mrs. Sturgeon.

Mrs. Bay's father is wealthy, and the Bays live in Grand avenue's fashionable residence street. Miss Bays is sought by dozens of the most eligible young men of the country.

She chose none of them until her father, it is said, reminded her that she was twenty and that she would be an old maid if she waited much longer.

It was at this time that wealthy Mr. Sturgeon and a Kentuckian of good family were rivals for her hand. They happened to call on the same night and left together. Each sent a letter of proposal to her that night by special messenger.

Miss Bays decided in favor of the Kentuckian, but she did not use the name of either in her replies. The acceptance that was intended for the Kentuckian went to Mr. Sturgeon, and the refusal to the man she loved for she had put the notes in the wrong envelope.

When Mr. Sturgeon called as an accepted suitor the girl lacked the courage to tell of the mistake and, regretting it bitterly, she still allowed herself to become the bride of Sturgeon.

Style Supremacy Credit Liberality

FUPS

In an unvarying line of novelties that combine utility with economy and service.

TWO IMPORTANT MATTERS FOR EVERY LADY DESIRING THE BEST IN WEARING APPAREL.

For six years the matchless styles and liberal credit system of this house have won the confidence of thousands of Oakland's care-to-dress-well ladies.

Millinery Novelties

An air of refinement and cleverness characterizes our jaunty and exclusive fall and winter novelties.

Last and Not Least

What satisfaction is there in buying garments and then have inexperienced alteration hands and fitters spoil the clever effects that expert designers have given them? None but competent and experienced alteration hands await your orders here.

Eastern Outfitting Co.
Cor. Thirteenth and Clay Sts.

WOMAN CUTS NEW SET OF TEETH AT AGE OF 77
Grandma Parsons of Portland Is Having an Extremely Novel Experience for a "Girl" as Young as She.

PORLTAND, Ore., Nov. 10.—It is not every one who has lived the allotted three score and ten years who can boast of cutting teeth at that age, but such is the unique experience of Mrs. Mary C. Parsons, of this city, mother-in-law of Labor Commissioner O. P. Hoff, of Salem.

Although 77 years of age, Mrs. Parsons is as healthy and vigorous as though but 50. With the exception of a few of the molars in the lower jaw and some of her incisors, her teeth are in good condition. She, however, was obliged to have some of them removed, and has been wearing plates for some years. Recently she consulted a local dentist and was having some crowns put in when something at first thought to be a silver of the jawbone, was encountered, but it afterward developed into a full-size double tooth. A day or two later a new front tooth was discovered, and the dentist is inclined to the belief that Mrs. Parsons is growing a full new set of teeth.

Mrs. Parsons was born in Peoria, Ill., and came to Oregon in 1849, settling in Eugene. She has lived in Portland for the past five years, part of the time with her son, W. H. Parsons, of Vernon, and part of the time with her daughter, Mrs. Harriet Hoff, with whom she now makes her home.

WEDDING OF INTEREST.
Cards are out for the wedding of Miss Gladys Fairweather, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henri Fairweather of Hanford, to George Edward Eccles. The wedding will take place November 22, and will be an elaborate church affair. After the ceremony there will be a reception at the home of the bride. The engagement is also announced of Miss Una, another daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fairweather, to a clever journalist on the Boston Globe.

Miss Una Fairweather is one of the girls of whom California is justly proud. She is a singer of exceptional ability and has made a name for herself in the musical world.

Mrs. Mary Fairweather, mother of the two brides-elect, is a gifted writer and lecturer, now in New York after a successful series of lectures in San Francisco, Berkeley and Oakland. As a writer Mrs. Fairweather has won a distinguished place in literature. This interesting family has many friends here and abroad who will be interested to learn of the approaching nuptials.

DUKE BRUTALLY FORCES HIS WIFE TO LEAVE HIM

Austrian Noted for His Unsavory Escapade Ends His Life Under a Cloud.

VIENNA, Nov. 10.—The Archduke Otto, second son of the Emperor's eldest brother, Carl Ludwig, died in his forty-first year. He was born April 21, 1865.

Archduke Otto was the black sheep of the Austrian royal family. His besetting sin was drunkenness, which has been put forward to excuse innumerable escapades, indiscretions and acts of brutality, especially toward his beautiful wife, that led the long-suffering Emperor Francis Joseph in the spring of this year to forbid the mention of his name.

It was habitual for the Viennese to greet one another with "Have you heard of Otto's latest?" and in such manner have scores of stories about him been spread broadcast.

The Archduchess Maria Josefa, the Saxon princess to whom he was wedded in 1886, and who became the first woman at court upon the assassination of the Empress Elizabeth, often has been pointed out as the most unhappy of royal women.

The Emperor has often interfered for her, and she has borne indignity after indignity, for the sake of her son, Karl, who became heir apparent to the throne, when his uncle, the disease,

GIVE WOMAN VOTES TO AID SEX, DECLARAS AUSTRALIAN

Miss Alice Henry, Newspaper Writer, Says That Equal Suffrage Protects the Children.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Miss Alice Henry, an Australian newspaper woman, declared woman suffrage would result in the enactment of laws for the protection of women and children, in an address before the co-operative class of the First Congregational Church at Evanston yesterday. "In Australia, where women have been allowed to vote for 25 years," she said, "direct and important results have been obtained in the interest of women and children, which have been impossible to obtain in other countries.

"Women have been raised to a par with men in the eyes of the law, and investigation and statistics will show that they have not neglected nor abused their power, but have used it to good advantage for themselves and their children and have done so without interfering with legislation on America was first begun there.

LIVING LIKE ADAM NOT ALL ROSES.

BERLIN, Nov. 10.—The simple life has provoked too complex a group of German authors, painted as philosophers, who settled on the island of Kabakon in the Bismarck archipelago. They were eager to start life afresh under physical conditions approaching the state of the primitive man, under the name of Sun Brothers, in their wish to enjoy permanent sun baths in the custom of Adam. Their food was to be limited to nuts and fruits and their labor was to consist of tilling the land and tending herds.

The enterprise proved as brief as it was simple. Herr Lutzow, an author, and Herr Engelhardt, a philosopher, died from the combined result of exposure from not wearing clothes, and exhaustion from inadequate diet. The natives killed Herr Ballman, a philosopher. The others have returned in despair to civilization.

STANDARD GLASSES

The Kryptok is the standard for bifocal glasses. Do not be satisfied with anything less than the standard.

Different kinds of glass have different properties. The Kryptok is a combination of lenses possessing the properties requisite for the best vision.

Six separate lenses are combined into a single elegant pair, giving far and near vision in the one glass, without seams or lines or cracks upon it.

OTHER LINES.—Good glasses from $2.00. Agents for Marco mountings.

CHINNOY OPTICAL COMPANY FACTORY PREMISES
146 Thirteenth Street
D. Broadway and Washington
Oakland
San Francisco, Sacramento, Fresno.

BERLIN PARIS LONDON AND MADRID

GOOD OPENING FOR PIRATES

Young Men With Predatory Tastes and Colt's Revolvers Find Work in Russia.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world.)

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 10.—Youthful Americans with predatory tastes and Colt's revolvers had better come to Russia. Not only is it fashionable to hold up bullock trains in a way that would make the Wild West pale, but the forgotten art of piracy has been revived, and there is now opening a generous career for sea-farers who desire to try "stand by to board;" "Hand over the swag" and to make their defeated enemies walk the plank.

The pirates have chosen as their arena the romantic Caspian, where there are no warships save a few Russian gunboats, and these are generally busy getting off shots. The pirates themselves are never Russians, but invariably Turcoman bandits or Caucasian mountainers who, tired of shooting Cossacks from behind rocks, descend to the sea, recruit or impress the local fishermen, and set out to seek fortune by plundering Russian ships and the Russian government.

FIRST EXPLOIT.

The first exploit was plotted quite in the manner of Robert Louis Stevenson. They kidnapped on shore a stoker from a government dispatch boat and sent a Georgian member of the gang to offer himself as substitute stoker, dive other members of the gang securing shipment as passengers. When the dispatch boat was half an hour out of port the engines suddenly stopped. No one could discover the reason.

It was midnight and pitch dark. The master of the little steamer descended to the engine-room and there he felt the muzzle of a pistol while a voice cried in bad Russian. "The steamer is ours!"

The pirates railed the government strong box and in order to keep the crew of the big steamer Tsarevitch George, which lay nearby, from firing on them, they removed to their boat as hostages, two officers and six of the crew.

Next came the piratical robbery of the Tsarevitch George, the most daring the pirates had yet done. Twenty-five ruffians boarded the ship as she was leaving the port. Before she had got five miles from shore they produced revolvers, rifles and bats, a dozen bombs. After a few shots, fired to terrorize the crew, the Tsarevitch George, with its seventy-five passengers, its masts and its government money, $17,000, was in their power.

SHOT FIRED.

A first-class passenger fired a shot, it whizzed past the pirate captain's head.

"Bring out the bombs!" cried the pirate chief. Then swishing the captain's speaking trumpet he roared, "If another shot is fired I will blow the ship to bits!"

Not another shot was fired and the pirates, politely apologizing for the trouble they had caused, ordered the captain to give them a boat and they left for the shore, taking him as hostage.

As becomes true pirates, the Captains Kid of the Caspian are gallant in their bearing toward women. The wife of a Russian official on the Tsarevitch George was given a gun or horns "ringing" related the pirates, "that her look lay on the deck near the place where the bombs were deposited, the pirate chief lifted it and carried it to the woman."

The Tar and Tartar will be played all next week at Idora Park. No one should miss seeing this great show and don't forget the matinees on Saturday and Sunday for the children.

ENGLISH SOCIETY RUNS TO STRANGE ZOOLOGICAL FADS. BELOW IS SHOWN THE HON. MRS. ARTHUR CADOGAN AND HER PET PYTHON, A COPY OF THE LATEST PHOTOGRAPH OF THE ENGLISH SOCIETY WOMAN AND HER BIG SNAKE.

TO NEW YORK FOR DIVORCE

Duchess of Marlborough, May Cross Ocean Before Bringing Suit.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world.)

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Society believes now that the Duchess of Marlborough will not long delay her proposed trip to the United States for procuring a divorce from the Duke. If the action is brought soon the action will probably be in New York and efforts will be made to keep the details from the public. The publicity which has been given to the Castelanes has decided the Duchess to keep out of the European courts.

Meantime the Duke remains out of the public eye and his only conspicuous movements are his daily trips to the sessions of the House of Lords, where he holds a seat on the front bench of the Opposition and where he watches the Liberals closely. He is very anxious politically and his interest with his men goes him back to the British people. For that reason he is working hard in Parliament. He sent his sons to his sister's home in the country and the Duchess has not seen them since she left Blenheim.

His splendid castle at Blenheim, which is one of the show places of England, has been permanently closed and will be rented if some angel happens alone from America with money enough to pay the cost. Sunderland House, which belongs to the Duchess, and which she is now occupying in London, probably will be put on the market.

SHE SHUNS SOCIETY.

The Duchess still shuns society and has made no move to gain possession of her children. It is known, however, that she expects to get them away from the Duke later on.

The loss of the Vanderbilt millions was a great blow to the Duke, who has very little money of his own and who is now forced to adopt a policy of rigid economy in his personal expenditures. Just how much the Duchess has had from her father is a matter of conjecture, but it is estimated from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000. And he was a sort of bargaining counter Duke at that when the Duchess bought him.

In point of precedence Marlborough is only tenth among the British peers. Nine Dukes go in to dinner before him and sit higher at the table. But the descendant of John Churchill and Sarah Jennings, nevertheless, commanded the record matrimonial price ever paid for a Duke, when in 1896 he became the husband of Consuelo, only daughter of William K. Vanderbilt.

DOWRY $15,000,000.

To begin with, there was a first payment of $10,000,000, the Duchess' dowry given by her father on her wedding day. Some estimates place the dowry at $15,000,000, but the smaller figure is more generally accepted. But in the eleven years that have elapsed since the ducal wedding many additional installments have been paid by W. K. Vanderbilt, and it is said to have been the latter's refusal to pay any more millions on account since his own wedding three years ago to Mrs. Anna Haukman Ruthven that brought about the much-needed rupture between the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough.

There was an additional $1,000,000 given the Duchess for the purchase of Sunderland House, the magnificent mansion in Mayfair, which had been called by the Marlborough acquaintances "Blunderland" because it is universally recognized as a costly mistake.

TWO $500,000 CHECKS.

Mr. Vanderbilt presented the Duchess with a check for $500,000 to purchase the furnishings for the new palace. When the Duke returned safe and sound from the war there was another check for $500,000 and the Duchess is said to have received similar checks at the birth of each of her two children. The presentation of the Italian gardens at Blenheim Palace, the magnificent country seat presented by the British nation to the first Duke of Marlborough, which was done at William K. Vanderbilt's expense, came to very little under $1,000,000. So that a conservative estimate of the amount paid out by the American millionaire since the acquisition of the ducal son-in-law is $15,000,000.

This was up to 1903 when William K. Vanderbilt took unto himself a new wife, and the old was gently shut on the Vanderbilt coffers so that no more American dollars have found their way into the capacious ducal pockets since that time.

WHEN ROW BEGAN.

When the flow of money ended, of course, the row began. The Duchess, who is an amiable, clever and distinctly sweet looking woman, was face to face with the fact that her husband, who had only received $15,000,000 on account, was a peevish and disgruntled as an installment man who comes around for a $20 set of books after you have paid everything but the last dollar. She was confronted by constant reminders of her father as an old miser and by unrelenting complaints which finally became unbearable.

Now that she has left the Duke, the noble peer makes all sorts of insinuations and threatens to sue for divorce—the last grandstand play of a coward for more Vanderbilt millions.

HAWAIIAN FRUITS FOR SAN FRANCISCO

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The daily consular reports for Monday will say:

"The Hawaiian agricultural experiment station at Honolulu, through one of its officers, has conducted an experiment of shipping Hawaiian fruits in cold storage to San Francisco and Vancouver. Several tons were shipped to San Francisco in cold storage and will then be shipped northward to Portland by railroad, where they will be sold at 10 per cent of these delicate tropical fruits, hitherto considered too tender for such a journey. They had come through unimpaired. The results of the shipment are considered of great importance as opening a new market for the most delicate tropical fruits."

THE DUCHESS OF MARLBOROUGH, FORMERLY CONSUELO VANDERBILT, WHO IS SAID TO BE ON THE POINT OF SEPARATING FROM HER HUSBAND. THE CAUSE OF THE BREAK IS SAID TO BE THAT THE DUKE WAS TOO ATTENTIVE TO A YOUNG FOREIGN LADY VISITING THE MARLBOROUGH AT BLENHEIM CASTLE.

SKIES FILLED WITH AIRSHIPS

Will be Common as Bicycles Is the Prophecy of Santos-Dumont.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world.)

PARIS, Nov. 10.—"Ten years from now the air will be full of persons flying about, just as ten years ago the roads were full of persons pedaling about on bicycles. Airships will be much cheaper than automobiles, and consequently, will be within the reach of more persons' purses."

Such is the statement made by M. Santos-Dumont in the role of prophet and philosopher.

The Brazilian aeronaut is a very proud and hopeful man since his capture of the Deutsch-Archdeacon prize of $10,000 for the greatest flight in a flying machine built on the heavier air principle.

"I believe my success," he continued, "was due to my Maying varnished the canary on the wings. By making the wings impenetrable to air, I can greatly reduce their surface, and I am convinced that when I shall have perfected this machine, I can reproduce it in much smaller proportions, so that the day is not far distant when everybody who likes can have a flying machine, and it will be no more trouble to stable than an automobile."

This, by the way, is the second prize won by M. Santos-Dumont, he having also won the Deutsch prize for dirigible balloons.

M. Henri Deutsch, the millionaire oil king of Paris, whose prizes have been won by Santos-Dumont, has gone in for building dirigibles himself, and his new balloon, Ville de Paris, is the queerest looking airship which has ever been seen under French skies.

The ship, which has been built according to plans drawn by M. Suroff and the late Colonel Renard, is three times as large as the celebrated Le Bourg Jaunes, and measures 186 feet in length and thirty-one feet maximum diameter, with a capacity of nearly 30,000 cubic feet. The sixty horsepower motor is of German make and extremely heavy.

It bears a series of curious mushroom-like protuberances in the forward part, which are intended to give the balloon stability.

CAZAR FAVORS NEW COLLEGE

EARL STILL IS UNDER HOODOO

ENGLAND TO BE NEUTRAL

NOT Influenced by Fact That University Men Lead in Disturbances.

Member of Nobility, Pursued by Bad Luck, Loses a Horse.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world.)

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Although nearly all the disturbances in Russia may be traced to college-bred leaders and the Government has repeatedly thought it advisable to close universities of various cities, the Czar is said to be in favor of founding a second university in St. Petersburg and several others in large cities throughout the empire.

This noble earl is one of the luckiest owners on the English turf. He has spent a fortune on the sport, but very few of its prizes have been captured by him. In the Derby, the Oaks, the Goodwood Cup and the One Thousand Guineas stakes the champion of second place has been unbroken.

This noble earl is one of the luckiest owners on the English turf. He has spent a fortune on the sport, but very few of its prizes have been captured by him. In the Derby, the Oaks, the Goodwood Cup and the One Thousand Guineas stakes the champion of second place has been unbroken.

Though the "Jockey Club," the English York, holds at the moment one of the greatest and most famous in the racing world today. He is a member of that exclusive organization, the Jockey Club, and has been a steward. He has a fine estate in New Market.

LONDON AGAIN SEES COMEDY

Fate of Gilbert and Sullivan Operas Seems to be in Balance.

Edward Much Annoyed Over Mischief of Queen's Favor ed Pets.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world.)

LONDON, Nov. 10.—The one topic of conversation in the theatrical circles is the revival of the delightful Gilbert and Sullivan operas at their original home, the Savoy Theater. Everyone is asking, "Will they pay or has vulgar musical comedy killed the taste for them?"

The cute business folk declare that they will pay handsomely simply because a large section of the public is tired not only of musical comedy but of the daily dissertation of the domestic affairs of the ladies now engaged in that particular "line."

Anyhow, Mrs. D'Oyly Carte means to carry out a good try. She is probably the cleverest business woman in London and she alone was responsible for the success of the D'Oyly Carte company and not a little for that of the Savoy Hotel. When her late husband was invalided, she took entire management of affairs.

Mrs. Carte shuns publicity in any form. She dislikes intensely the interviewer and even the officials of the Savoy Hotel seldom know her address, for she is constantly changing her quarters, and much of her business is transacted by letter, wire or telephone.

Postmaster Robbed.

G. W. Fouts, Postmaster at Riverton, Ia., nearly lost his life and was robbed of all comfort, according to his letter, which says: "For a week I have been ill with a severe complaint, which led to such a severe case of jaundice that even my fingers turned yellow; when my doctor prescribed Electric Bitters; which cured me and have kept me well for eleven years. I have had a good try. She is probably the cleverest business woman in London and she alone was responsible for the success of the D'Oyly Carte company and not a little for that of the Savoy Hotel. When her late husband was invalided, she took entire management of affairs.

Mrs. Carte shuns publicity in any form. She dislikes intensely the interviewer and even the officials of the Savoy Hotel seldom know her address, for she is constantly changing her quarters, and much of her business is transacted by letter, wire or telephone.

Piedmont Sets.

First-class Turkish and Hammam baths, fine service on the coast; experienced attendants; also swimming tank for men and women, and a fine Piedmont set to Twenty-fourth street.

MARRIAGE LICENSE grants to you if you are going to light housekeeping $75 worth of household goods at "H. Schellbach" will start you in life. See us, corner of Eleventh and Franklin.

WILL SOLVE GRIM MYSTERY

Count to Decide if French Woman Was Embalmed in Alcohol.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world.)

PARIS, Nov. 10.—The Comte de Haussmann, who is a distinguished member of the Academy of Forty Immortals, has been asked to solve the mystery of the burial of Mme de Staél's body. It is believed that Mme de Staél's body was embalmed in alcohol before it was buried in the Chateau of Coppet, in Switzerland, is true. M. D'Haussmann, in the Chambre des Deputés, said upon the celebrated Academician to say whether the rumor that Mme de Staél's body was embalmed in alcohol before it was buried in the Chateau of Coppet, in Switzerland, for some time lived in Coppet, and it is believed that he knows the truth about the celebrated woman's interment.

RESULTS ON LATONIA TRACK

Six Races Provide Amusement for Crowd on Eastern Speedway.

Latonia results:
First race, six furlongs—Beau Brummel, 111, (Koerner) 3 to 1, won; The Golden Bird, 101, (Lloyd) 8 to 1, second; Tanbark, 101, (Minder) 15 to 1, third. Time, 1:14.45. Hattie Rodman, Sandcatcher, Western, French Empress, Poster, Gchl. Gargantua, Mary O., Lady Emily, Alta McDonald, Refined and Impression, also ran.

Second race, mile and an eighth—Lucky Charm, 108 (Mountain) 5 to 1, won; Adbell, 105, (Aubuchon) 6 to 1, second; St. Tammany, 100, (Hoggs) 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:14.15. Henry O., Allision, Snell, Jucora, Sincere, Tull, Gchl. Minister, Sam Oralz, Rebounder, Gladiator and Chelce Opera, also ran.

Third race, six furlongs—Lady Esther, 101, (Morda) 16 to 5, won; Huzelkuppe, 102, (Austin) 4 to 1, second; Lady Henrietta, 110, (Aubuchon) 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:13.15. Stoner Hill, Remorseful and St. Joseph, also ran.

Fourth race, one mile—Shawana, 97, (Lloyd) 11 to 2, won; Dr. Leggo, 111, (Mountain) 1 to 2, second; Telegrapher, 96, (Morgan) 1 to 1, third. Time, 1:13.25. Miss Lydia, Wexford and Incitation, also ran.

Fifth race, six furlongs—Toboggan, 111, (Koerner) 15 to 1, won; Auditor, 109, (Austin) 3 to 1, second; Salvage, 111, (Larsen) 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:13.25. Tinker, Daring, Light Burn, Conjureress, Tsara, Marquis and Rain Dance, also ran.

Sixth race, one mile—Shining Star, 109, (Austin) 6 to 1, won; Huldr, 99, (Morris) 2 to 1, second; Pirate Poly, 109, (Koerner) 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:14.25. All Brown, Dr. Young, Old Stone, Ida Merle and Matador, also ran.

WILLIAM J. CULLIGAN.

M. J. SAVAGE'S MIND GONE

Unitarian Minister Physical Wreck and May Never Recover.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 10.—A wreck in mind and body, Rev. Minot J. Savage, until last April pastor of the Church of the Messiah in New York, and one of the most conspicuous Unitarian ministers in the world, is now in a private sanitarium near Cleveland in a serious condition.

His friends hope that his life may be spared, but he is so weak and the strain on his mind has been such that it is feared that he will not recover. Before resigning his charge in the east, Mr. Savage tried the sunny climate of California in an attempt to regain his health which has been sadly undermined by overwork.

becoming discouraged in the west and feeling no appreciable gain in health, he came to Cleveland where his daughter, wife of Rev. Minot Osgood Simons, pastor of the Church of the Unity, resides. He has been at her home here for two months and has found it necessary to be transferred to a sanitarium.

Possible Nominees for the City Council Are Already Strengthening Their Fences.

There is talk already among the politicians as to who will be the various nominees at the next city election. Among those prominently mentioned as candidates for the City Council is Mr. William J. Culligan of the Fifth ward.

Mr. Culligan is one of our foremost business men, who enjoys the highest reputation and is favorably known not only in commercial circles, but all over the city. He is a well-read man, and has fine executive ability, and if elected a city father he will undoubtedly prove a valuable acquisition, as a member of the City Council. Mr. Culligan is a conservative and progressive citizen and will at all times be found on the side of the people, looking out for the welfare of his constituents and the city as a whole.

the dead woman. Williams was only an intimate friend of Mrs. Chilson, and when she died in Gibbons, N. Y., November 14, 1880, Williams immediately upon learning of her death set about finding and living relatives of his dead friend. Within the past few weeks his long search terminated successfully. In Los Angeles he found a daughter, Carrie M. Worthen, and also a grandson, Henry G. Chilson. The estate is valued at about $100,000, and consists of real estate holdings in various parts of Worcester county, which she owned before taking up her residence in Nevada.

Sybil Page's singing in The Tar and the Tartar at Idora Park is alone worth double the price of admission.

LAST WEEK

CLEARANCE SALE

OF

..: Japanese Goods ..:

Isn't It Wise to Get Your Christmas Gift Goods Now?

CARVED IVORY.

Wise Monkeys	... $1.50 to $3.25
Elephants	... 35 to 2.25
Statues	1.50 to 27.50
Paper Knives	2.50 to 7.50

VASES.

Cloisonne	... $1.00 to $3.50
Silver Cloisonne	1.75 to 10.00
Satsuma (genuine)	2.50 to 25.00
Shotu Ware	50 to 2.00
Dark Green Vase	25 to 3.50
Awata Vase	25 to 3.00

FANCY SETS.

Tea Sets (9 pieces)	... $4.00 to $15.00
Chocolate Sets	... 4.00 to 11.00
Berry Sets	1.50 to $5.00
Tea Sets (5 pieces)	... 2.50 to 3.50

CUPS AND SAUCERS.

Paper Kutani	... $5.00 to $1.50
Kaga Wares	... 25 to .75
Egg Shell	... 50 to 4.00

PORTIERES.

Bamboo	... $2.00 to $3.00
Beads	... 1.25

EMBROIDERED GOODS.

Silk Handkerchiefs	... $1.15 to $1.50
Center Pieces	2.50 to 5.00
Dollies	... 35 to .75
Pillow Top	... 1.50 to 3.50
Table Cover	... 8.50 to 15.00
Wall Drapery	... 7.50 to 65.00
Mandarin Coat	... 12.00 to 22.00
Mandarin Skirt	... 7.50 to 9.00
Embroidered Mat	... 75 to 4.25

SCREENS.

Cloth Embroidered Screens	... $5 to $40
Fine Painted Paper Screens	... $3 to $5

KIMONAS.

Cotton Crepe, long	... $1.50 to $2.00
Cotton Crepe, short	... 1.00 to 1.25
Silk Embroidered, long	11.00 to 67.50
Silk Embroidered, short	4.50 to 5.50

NETSUKE AND PURSES.

Netsuks	... $1.15 to $10.00
Silk and Leather Bags	... 75 to 2.50
Silk Brocade Purses	... 10 to .75
Card Cases	... 30 to .75

LACQUER WARES.

Trays	... $1.15 to $2.50
Handkerchief Boxes	... 30 to 1.50
Glove and Collar Boxes	... 50 to 1.00

FOLLOWS GIRL TO THE GRAVE

Grief of Mother for Only Daughter Leads Her to Commit Suicide.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire in the world.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—After arranging the shroud she desired to be buried in, distributing among children the dolls and playthings her dead child had treasured, Mrs. Emma Wallant, 37 years old, committed suicide today at her home in Williamsburg by inhaling gas. She was the wife of Peter Wallant, wealthy business man, and was as happy as woman could be until two months ago when her only child, Lillian, 14 years old, fell down stairs and injured her spine.

While the child lingered in agony during the four weeks before she died, Mrs. Wallant had the girl's room filled with dolls and playthings, and called in the neighbors' children from time to time to cheer her. When the child died a month ago Mrs. Wallant became a changed woman. She would sit for hours gazing at the picture of her daughter. Her husband tried to comfort her. Friday afternoon, Mrs. Wallant gathered together the child's playthings and distributed them among Lillian's playmates, reserving only a few trinkets for herself.

Yesterday, after Mrs. Wallant's husband had gone to business, the woman arranged the shroud as she desired to be buried in, laid it out on her bed and placed beside it the trinkets that had been dear to her daughter. Before Mrs. Wallant inhaled the gas through a rubber tube, which she had fastened to an open burner, she placed in her hand a poem composed by a relative in memory of her dead daughter. This was tightly clamped in her hand when neighbors detected the odor of escaping gas and found the woman lying dying on the bed.

BLAZE IN BATHROOM QUICKLY EXTINGUISHED

What might have proved a disastrous blaze was averted by the prompt action of the fire department at the home of Mrs. Kent at 312 Fourteenth street, at 8:30 last night.

The overturning of a water heater in the bath room on the second floor caused the roof to catch fire, and an alarm was immediately turned in.

The department answered the call promptly, and very little damage was done.

WILL TAKE DAYS

TO PUT OUT FIRE

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—The docks of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, situated at One Hundredth street and Commercial avenue, were destroyed by fire today, causing a damage, as estimated by the officers of the company, of $75,000.

The coal is still burning, and it is expected that it will be several days before the fire is entirely extinguished.

WILL SEARCH FOR ARCTIC ROUTE.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 10.—The Russian Ministry of Marine is considering the desirability of organizing an expedition for the discovery of a sea route to Bering strait through the Arctic.

BRASS BEDS

Housed in our temporary store, 12th and Harrison, are some of the most beautifully wrought brass beds ever turned out by any maker anywhere. Were these brass beauties to be displayed in a handsomely appointed store (such as is being constructed for us at the corner of 13th and Franklin) they would "show off" a great deal better. In our present quarters we cannot display them to advantage—we are "cramped" for room—but even under this disadvantage, these beds "strikingly" display their richness without soft-toned backgrounds and extra "settings."

Below are displayed six newest designs in brass beds—this gives but a faint idea of what our great line is like.

Besides the handsomest furniture and richest carpets, etc., etc., are here for your choosing. Just as WELCOME to look, as to buy.

Breuner's idea of merchandising is VOLUME—that's why our prices are so reasonable for Quality Goods.

$83.25

A massive brass bed, stand out like great columns, with architectural "capping," and "topped" with thick rail relieved with single ornamentation, rich satin finish. Price.....$83.25

$36.00

Here is a splendid brass bed for the price; continuous posts; spindles with "tee" ball connections, the latest idea. An exceptional value for the price.....$36.00

$67.50

HERE IS THE TRIBUNE'S GREAT SKIDOO PROBLEM

THE SKIDOO PROBLEM

It's Easy; It Can Be Done, but Kan U Dult

ANY POWER OF 23.
Puzzle Editor Oakland TRIBUNE
Dear Sir.—The answer to your Skidoo Puzzle of tonight is as follows. The number of pennies is 23, or (square of 23) 529, or (cube of 23) 12,157, or (fourth power of 23) 279,841, or any number which is a power of 23. It could also be any prime number above 23 times 23, or any power of any prime number above 23 times any power of 23. Yours respectfully, LEEDS GULICK

904 Filbert St.

GETS 6,052,606,561.

Puzzle Editor Oakland TRIBUNE.

Dear Sir.—After figuring and figuring,

I find that the answer to the Skidoo

Puzzle is 6,052,606,561 pennies. He put 263,156,807 pennies in each of the twenty-three boxes. Yours truly,

CARRIE G. BURBANK.

863 Chester St.

FIGURES OUT 207.

Dear Sir—I will take pleasure in answering the "Skidoo Problem." If you put the pennies into 23 boxes, there will be 9 in each box, therefore there are 207 pennies, 207 is an odd number, so is 9. Please let me know when the answer will be out. Yours truly, IRENE HASEY.

Emeryville, Cal.

17 IN EACH BOX.

In re Skidoo Problem, Oakland

IRISHMAN WAS GIVEN PLUM

BOMB HURLER
GETS 10 YEARS

Former Police Spy Started the Recent Massacre in Bialystok.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire
in the world.)

ST. PETERSBURG, Pa., Nov. 10.—The fact that he was an Irishman proved valuable this morning to C. E. Burns, of Duquesne, when he appeared before Judge James S. Young in court and sought an appointment as Constable in the First Ward, Duquesne. There were two other applicants, David Goldberg, a Hebrew, and J. P. Mikaloff, a Swede.

For some time Judge Young appeared to be unable to make up his mind.

"Burns, what is your nationality?"
asked the court finally.

The applicant grinned and replied,

"I'm an Irishman."

"Well, Irishmen usually make the best officers so I'll give you the appointment," replied Judge Young.

It was given for the BEST of the problem.

It is a proposition in arithmetic. Just as arithmetic is needed to solve it algebra or higher mathematics,
so is a certain amount of skill.

THE PRIZES.

Prize $5.00

1st Prize 2.00

2nd Prize 1.00

3rd Prize 1.00

4th Prize 1.00

5th Prize 1.00

Skidoo Badges for the 25 next solutions.

Prizes will be given for the BEST of the problem.

It is a proposition in arithmetic. Just as arithmetic is needed to solve it
algebra or higher mathematics,
so is a certain amount of skill.

THE EDITOR OAKLAND TRIB-

UNE.

Appointed Constable Over Heads of a Hebrew and a Swede.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE by the Hearst News Service over longest leased wire
in the world.)

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 10.—This year at hard labor was the sentence meted out today to the man who threw the bomb which started the recent massacre in Bialystok. His name is Schechter and he is little more than a boy.

When he was arraigned in court he took the stand to testify that he had been a police spy for a number of years. In 1904 he joined the terrorists organization for the purpose of securing evidence for the authorities, and after a short while at this work
he became a convert to the revolutionary movement. Late he conceived the plan to assassinate Captain Samsonoff, of the police, in order to show his enthusiasm in the cause of the Terrorists. He threw a bomb at the captain who escaped uninjured, but the explosion started a pogrom which raged for several days and became one of the worst that ever happened in the empire. Hundreds were killed and wounded.

It was learned today that the revolutionists have stolen a machine gun of the latest pattern from the arsenal here. No trace of the gun has been found. Treachery on the part of some employee of the government is suspected as the gun had been stored in pieces and the thieves managed to seize all the parts, which were scattered through different portions of the arsenal.

ACCUSE BUTCHER OF
SELLING YOUNG VEAL

Jacob Well, proprietor of the Washington-street market, was arrested yesterday by meat inspector W. J. Downey
on the charge of slaughtering cattle
inside the city limits and also of selling calves below the age limit.

The police have been trying to fasten the charges mentioned on Well and
now they believe they have the evidence necessary to convict.

Well is out on $500 bail.

IRISH LORD HAD A
RELATIVE IN OAKLAND

In the death a few weeks ago in London of Lord William Scully, Mrs.

Annie Massey Brown, of 276 East

Twelfth street, Oakland, loses a relative. Lord Scully was an own cousin to Mrs. Brown on her father's side. Mrs. Brown's grandmother was Margaret Scully Massey. Mrs.
Brown is the fourth generation
on the Scully side. Mrs. Brown is the last member of the old original Scully
family of Tipperary.

Money back wins Schilling's Best.

WEDDING DATE.

The marriage of Miss Blanche Norma Reynolds and Louis Michelsen will take place Thursday evening, November 22, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard
Reynolds on Tenth avenue. Miss Laura Carter of Sacramento, will attend the bride as maid of honor, William C.
Aulin will act as groomsman.

Miss Reynolds is said to be an attractive girl and an accomplished musician. Her dance is the opera of Fannie Francisco, the opera singer.
The wedding will be a pretty affair.

Arthur Cunningham presents a handsome appearance as a Bedouin
chief in The Tar and the Tartar. As to his singing, we all know what this
is.

Mr. and Mrs. David Francis Selby
are registered at the Hotel Potter,
Santa Barbara.

DRS. BOLTEY & LOBAY TO OPEN AN OFFICE HERE

The well known medical firm of San Jose, California, have decided to establish a permanent office in this city. Before the late disaster they were located at San Francisco in the Minifie building. Owing to the congested condition of Oakland immediately after the great fire, Drs. Boltey and Lobay made their branch office at San Jose headquarters for their extensive business. Having great faith in the future greatness of Oakland as well as its present importance, considering the convenience and ease with which people from the interior of the State can reach Oakland, its delightful climate, conditions, together with the cordial friendship extended to strangers by its business men are the reasons which have induced this successful firm to make this city their choice for their main office for the next five years.

The business manager of this firm believes that the spirit of welcome shown by the business men of Oakland to outsiders in the invitation to "Join with us to make a greater Oakland," together with the many other advantages possessed by this city, and by no other city on the Pacific Coast at present, will result in the doubling and tripling of its population in the next few years to come.

Drs. Boltey and Lobay expect to build a large sanitarium here and bring people from the East—people of means seeking health and perhaps investment. Some of these people will want to stop at a fine, first class hotel.
As soon as one great hotel is finished here, it will fill up quickly and pay such handsome dividends on the investment that another and still another will quickly follow.

Drs. Boltey and Lobay expect to believe in newspaper publicity, and believe the Oakland dailies should be sent to every chamber of commerce, board of trade, improvement club, merchants' association, public library and public reading room in the United States.

The downtown business office of
Drs. Boltey and Lobay will be at 1918
Washington street, corner Eleventh.

SAVE MONEY AVOID PAIN

Teeth Extracted Without Pain

Acknowledged to be the easiest and best painless extractors in Oakland.

Until Nov. 30 we have decided to make our best sets of teeth for $5.00.

TEETH WITHOUT PLATE

SET OF TEETH $3.00
BEST TEETH (S. W.) 3.00
24K GOLD CROWNS 2.00
24K GOLD FILINGS 1.00
GOLD FILLINGS 50c
BRIDGEWORK 2.00

No charge for extracting when teeth are ordered. A written warranty for 20 years with all work.

BOSTON DENTAL PARLORS
115½ WASHINGTON ST.

MEN

Do you suffer from weakness, Varico-
se, Hydrocephalus,
Stricture, Specific
Blood Poison, Skin Disease, or any chronic or seemingly incurable trouble?
If so, come to me at once and be thoroughly cured before it is too late.

Consultation and treatment is always free, my fees are always reasonable and within the reach of everyone.
Furnish all my own medicines without extra charge to my patients. Let me tell you, nothing is so good as a good doctor.
Those who are sick and have no money are welcome to call and be treated free.

All letters strictly confidential.

Address to Dr. Walcott, 115½ W. Washington St.

DR. WALCOTT CO.

Specialists for Men

1212 Turk Street, near Webster,
San Francisco, Calif.

FORMERLY 321 KEARNY ST., S. F.

CALL ON DR. JORDAN OF THE MUSEUM OF ANATOMY

FORMERLY 1051 MARKET STREET

Now located in the new building privately owned by the oldest specialists on the Coast. Established over forty years.

DISEASES OF MEN

Complaints free and entirely private.

Treatment personal or by letter. A positive cure in every case undertaken.

Call on Dr. JORDAN, 1209 McAllister
St., San Francisco, Calif.

PHILOSOPHY OF MARRIAGE, mailed free—valuable book for men.

DR. JORDAN, Cor. McAllister & S. F., CAL.

ACCUSE BUTCHER OF
SELLING YOUNG VEAL

Jacob Well, proprietor of the Washington-street market, was arrested yesterday by meat inspector W. J. Downey
on the charge of slaughtering cattle
inside the city limits and also of selling calves below the age limit.

The police have been trying to fasten
the charges mentioned on Well and
now they believe they have the evidence necessary to convict.

Well is out on $500 bail.

IRISH LORD HAD A
RELATIVE IN OAKLAND

In the death a few weeks ago in London of Lord William Scully, Mrs.

Annie Massey Brown, of 276 East

Twelfth street, Oakland, loses a relative. Lord Scully was an own cousin to Mrs. Brown on her father's side. Mrs. Brown's grandmother was Margaret Scully Massey. Mrs.
Brown is the fourth generation
on the Scully side. Mrs. Brown is the last member of the old original Scully
family of Tipperary.

Money back wins Schilling's Best.

WEDDING DATE.

The marriage of Miss Blanche Norma Reynolds and Louis Michelsen will take place Thursday evening, November 22, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard
Reynolds on Tenth avenue. Miss Laura Carter of Sacramento, will attend the
bride as maid of honor, William C.
Aulin will act as groomsman.

Miss Reynolds is said to be an attractive girl and an accomplished
musician. Her dance is the opera of Fannie Francisco, the opera singer.
The wedding will be a pretty affair.

Arthur Cunningham presents a handsome appearance as a Bedouin
chief in The Tar and the Tartar. As to his singing, we all know what this
is.

Mr. and Mrs. David Francis Selby
are registered at the Hotel Potter,
Santa Barbara.

DR. THOMAS BOLTEY & LOBAY

TO OPEN AN OFFICE
HERE

The well known medical firm of San

Jose, California, have decided to establish a permanent office in this city. Be-

Mama, Be Warned! Protect the Little Ones!

MAMA! Don't be frightened—but be warned! Every Mother knows, or should know that the terrible Mortality among children is caused by Stomach and Bowel troubles. Colic, Sour Curd, Cholera Infantum, Summer Complaint, Measles, Rashes, Scarlet Fever—even Mumps—have their first cause in constipation.

The Delicate Tissues of a Baby's Bowels will not stand rough treatment. Salts are too violent, and Castor Oil will only grease the passages, but will not make and keep them Clean, Healthy and Strong.

There is no other medicine as safe for a child as Cascarets, the fragrant little Candy Tablet, that has saved thousands of families from unhappiness.

The Nursing Mother should always keep her Milk Mildly Purgative by taking a Cascaret at night before going to bed.

No other medicine has this remarkable and valuable quality. Mama takes the Cascaret, Baby gets the Benefit.

Cascarets act like strengthening Exercise on the weak little bowels of the growing babe, and make them able to get all the Nourishment out of Baby's Natural Food.

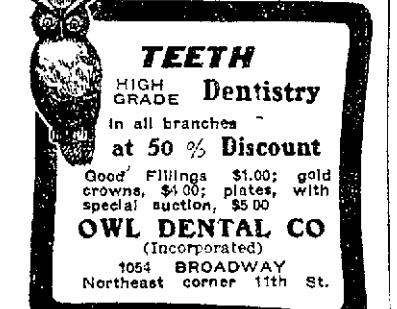

Larger children cannot always be watched, and will eat unreasonably. The Ready Remedy should ever be at hand—Cascarets—to take care of the trouble when it comes.

No need to force or bribe children to take Cascarets. They are always more than ready to eat the sweet little bit of Candy.

Honey is not complete without the ever ready Box of Cascarets. Ten cents buys a small one at the Corner Drug Store.

Be very careful to get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "CCC."

743

CURE FOR SLEEPING SICKNESS.

Its Discovery Would Be Regarded as a Great Boon to Tropical Africa.

It will be the greatest boon to tropical Africa since the European occupancy if a remedy has at last been found for sleeping sickness. The hope that this is true is based upon the report from Brussels that two white men from the Congo, who were admitted to the sanitarium at Watermael in an advanced stage of the disease, are announced to have been entirely cured by treatment based upon the simultaneous use of atoxyl and strichnine.

White men have not been attacked by sleeping sickness within the past year, but several Europeans living in the infected regions have recently been numbered among the victims. As for the natives, no plague has ever afflicted them with such terrible results. It is over ten years since it first appeared on the Congo. It had been known for a half century further afield on the west coast, but never secured a firm foothold there. Its eastward advance, however, has been steady up to Wentworth, a narrow, selfish, pretentious, but conscientious man. This crowded the bitterness of his life, but like the noble soldier he was, he said nothing.

At last Wentworth learns the secret of his brother's imprisonment and he turns on them both. Reconciliation came at Michael's deathbed, leaving Fay once more free from embracement. The moral of the book must be the familiar saying, "Virtue is its own reward." There is a decided similarity between the characters of Fay, Duchess of Colle, in "Prisoners" and Lucy, a prominent figure in "Hopkinson Smith," the creation of Hartnett—Publishe

"The Second Violin" in Grace Richmonds new novel of the same name, is the second eldest girl in a family of five children, whose inclination, despite her years, is to play the solo parts in the little family orchestra as well as in other matters. The absence of the father and mother, the reduction of the family income, the illness of the older sister and the adoption of a baby burden, Charlotte, with many hitherto unknown cares. How beautifully the character of the story. There are two pretty little love affairs in the book and several characters. A very wholesome and satisfying story for young people is "The Second Violin." Price $1.50. Published by Doubleday, Page & Co.

TRUSTS AND THE TARIFF.

A Republican Organ Which Disagrees With the President.

President Roosevelt: In his letter to Representative Watson of Indiana says: "The question of reducing the tariff stands wholly apart from the question of dealing with the trusts—that is, with the control of monopolies and with the supervision of great wealth in business and especially in corporate form."

Yes, and no. Of course there are great trusts—some of the greatest, as Standard Oil—that are not favored by protective tariff, and to deal with the tariff would not affect the methods of such trusts, or abate their abuses. But look at the steel trust, as another type.

Very probably removal of the duties on steel would not overthrow the steel trust, so strongly established and entrenched is it; but certainly to allow free importation of steel would cut the profits of the trust, and to that extent relieve the people of its burden.

No great reduction of the tariff that the president has made on a subject so complicated as this, can be wholly correct.

Because there are trusts that exist without protective tariff establishes no ground or proof for the assertion that no trusts are or can be favored by it.

It is true that the greatest of the abuses of which the trusts are guilty arise from their methods of distribution and coercion of markets, which can be abated only through such legislation by Congress as has been recently enacted, and such prosecutions for violation of the laws as the present administration has undertaken. No changes of tariff could affect these abuses, and so far the president is right. But it is an error to say that revision of the tariff stands wholly apart from dealing with the trusts—of some of them. From the Portland Oregonian

CURRENT LITERATURE

By ADELAIDE SELLS BAKER.

Mary Cholmondeley in "Prisoners" has given us a strong but bitter-flavored book. The heroine is not the least extraordinary—merely a beautiful, charming woman—a very selfish, cowardly and feminine creature with little heart or brains, who is thrust into a situation which displays all her undesirable traits.

Fay, the Duchess of Colle, and an English woman, is the wife of an Italian diplomat, who thoroughly comprehend her shallow nature, does not love her, nor she him. While matters are thus a cousin appears on the scene, this man, Michael Carstairs, is one of a large class with the exception of one characteristic—a great spirituality. Otherwise the book says: "His obvious good looks were like the good looks of others. He looked well bred, but to look that is as common in certain class as it is rare in another, he had the spare wiry figure, tall and lightly built, square in the shoulders, and thin in the flank, had the clear-weather-bent conviction, the clear-nervous, capable hand, and the self-evidencing manner which we associate with myriads of well-born, machine-trained, perfectly groomed, expensively educated, uneducated Englishmen."

We have millions of men like this, and it is doubtful whether the nation finds much use for them, except at coronations, where they look beautiful, or on county councils, where they can hold an opinion without the preliminary fatigue of forming it, and on the blood-stained fringes of our empire, where they serenely meet their dreadful deaths."

This man had once loved Fay and loved her still. Deviling this fact, the lady's vanity and real liking for lead him to look to him for saving it. A clever boy, Kit, master o' the Jennie, has now and children of his own. Time goes quick."

The old man, still grasping the doll gently, stared downward as if through the floor boards he saw into the deep void of the past.

"Don't think I could a' stood ever seenin' St. Thomas again after that."

He was thinking of the only virgin his wife had made with him, and son of Buntie, the only child. With solemn inward pain, evoked by the touch of a lame, crippled doll, he recalled the sultry night of watching and heart-break in this very cabin, the flush of fever in the child's cheeks, the gleaming disorder of her bright hair on the pillow, the glare of tropic sun on a white-hot deck, their silent group at the rail, the trembling of a little black book, the lofy words of consolation, so hard to read aloud, so much harder to believe when that frail agent, intolerably previous, was committed to the unstriving, blank, august emptiness of ocean."

"Zing, I can't bear to sell her," whispered the old man. Fumbling as blind, he put away the doll in a breast pocket. "I can't bear to."

"Zwinglin" cleared his throat, said nothing, shifted his boots. In a heavy silence that grew tangible, he rose and slowly withdrew up the stairs, disappearing in a cloudy square of white which the closing door blotted out noiselessly."

"The Captain alone, sat staring down into the dark pool of by-gone years."

We have just received from the publishers, J. S. Ogilvie Company, New York, a book entitled "Palliser's Up-to-Date House Plans," which contains over 150 new, practical up-to-date 1908 plans of houses costing from $600 to $15,000. One interesting and practical feature of the book is a list of working plans and specifications, which any one can get an estimate. The price of this practical book containing 160 pages, bound in paper cover, $1.50, of which amount it will be sent to any one by mail, postpaid. J. S. Ogilvie Publishing Company, 57 Rose Street, New York, are the publishers.

Fortunate Missourians.

"When I was a druggist at Livonia, Mo.," writes T. J. Dwyer, now of Grayville, Mo., "I cured my customers who were suffering from the disease of King's New Discovery, and are well and strong today. One was trying to sell his property and move to Arizona, but after taking 'Discovery' the next time he found it unnecessary to do so. Dr. King's New Discovery is the most wonderful medicine in existence."

Surest Cough and Cold Cure and Throat and Lung Feathers. Guaranteed by Osgood Brothers' druggists. 50c and 9. Trial bottles free.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

About three years ago the cause of the disease was discovered in Uganda. It was found to be due to a variety of the tsetse fly, whose bite introduced the fatal bacteria that poisoned the blood and induced the lethargy, stupor and other phases of the disease that always occurred in some portion of the fly have been avoided and the war made upon it has perhaps decreased its numbers. The habitat of the insect seems to be confined to the marshy edges of the rivers or lakes, and its distribution is thus restricted to territory that may have large linear extent but no great width. It will be a blessing to all the white enterprises in these regions as well as a mercy to the natives if an effective remedy has now been found—New York Sun.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been doomed for six years, the skill of Europe has been enlisted in a search for a remedy, but none was found and no patient was known to recover.

Atmospheric conditions in the city of Victoria, Nyanza, on the northern shores of Victoria Nyanza. On the Congo and in the interior of Africa, it has been claimed about a hundred thousand a letter. The person attacked by sleeping sickness has been do

PERSONALS.

EDWARD EARLE

Every Sunday night, Hoyle hall, 414 11th st., Oakland. Phone Oakland 4827. Residence, 21st Telegraph ave. Telephone Oakland 4827.

Entered at Oakland Post office as second class matter. Sample copy free on application. Publication office, TRIBUNE building, corner of Eighth and Franklin Sts. Telephone Oakland 523. Berkeley office, 2148 Center street. Telephone Berkeley 180. Alameda office, Schneider's Stationery Store, corner Park street and Santa Clara avenue. Telephone Alameda 1680.

A CULTURED and refined widow seeks acquaintance of a worthy man to assist her in business; matrimony. Box 2756, Tribune.

MIDDLE-AGED woman card reader, 882 Broadway, Room 11; turn to left.

LA VERITE PARLORS—Sunny, sanitary; electric and vibratory treatments; face, scalp and feet; electric needle work, manicure; egg, cream, hair, nail salures. Mrs. J. J. Whetlock, Proprietor, 127 Telegraph ave. Phone Oakland 744.

GEORGE MEL, ACCOUNTANT, will take charge of the books of several small firms at reasonable rates. 932 Broadway.

Prof. Johns

Gift clairvoyant, palmist, seer and card reader, will tell you names, dates and facts. Hours, 8 to 9 p. m. 906 Washington st.

OAKLAND WINDOW CLEANING CO.—Special prices on weekly or monthly contracts for cleaning windows, mirrors, showcases or scrubbing floors; neat work guaranteed. Office 472 10th st., near Broadway. Phone Oakland 3719.

L. B. CORVELL DERMATOLOGIST.—Full line of skin and hair creams and tonics. Special treatment for acne and SCALP; superfluous hair, mole scars, red veins, wrinkles removed; baldness cured; manuring, shampooing, hairdressing and massage. 108 Washington Room 2. Phone Oakland 4400.

LADY wishes patrons at their own homes to do face, scalp and shampooing. Address Box 2155, Tribune.

LADIES, don't worry. Call or write with postage for sure safety cones to Madame Carzel, 242 16th st., room 22. Hours 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

The Old Pierce Cyclery

Has opened, in addition to its bicycles, a large stock of electrical supplies, all kinds of electrical work done by an expert workman. M. Levy & Co., 230 San Pablo ave. Phone Oakland 3833.

WE ARE home ink manufacturers and cater to patrons of home industry. It is guaranteed. Sold to the trade by H. S. Cross & Co., San Francisco, or by the manufacturer, H. S. Thompson Co., 422 Walsworth ave., Oakland.

GAS CONSUMERS: ASSN. reduces your bill 20 to 40 per cent. 168 Broadway, c.

HIGHEST price paid for gent's cast-off clothing. 823 Broadway. Phone Oakland 418.

LADY desires to share tent with others in Piedmont or Berkeley hills. Box 2256 Tribune. References.

DR. ADAM LYONS, practicing physician of San Jose and San Francisco, in the Linda, 14th and San Pablo. Female diseases a specialty. Phone Oakland 904.

WOULD like to meet a lady, lady or gentleman, willing to join me in soliciting order for a good tea and coffee proposition; splendid inducements to secure business. Box 340, Tribune.

DR. DUCHOIS female pills are sure and best, regular pricing pills sold; price $2. Write to Dr. DUCHOIS, 2000 14th st.

INSTITUTE OF MASSAGE—Graduate operator electric vibratory for rheumatism, tired legs, back and thermal baths. 25 Telegraph ave.

HOP, LUNG & CO.—Pinole claims. 370 2d st. bet. Franklin and Webster sts. Oakland.

SUPERFLUOUS hair warts removed by electric needles. Mrs. Maynard, 1299 Broadway; phone Oakland 331.

THURSDAY: MADAM MARIE

located in HER OWN HOME, only true, practical clairvoyant. Relates the separated. If in trouble or she will tell you what to do and how strong—how to be happy and responsible. Ladies 50c. Gentlemen $1.

hours from 10 A. M. to 8 P. M. 563

th street.

CAROBIAN

I give you a full life reading of the past and future in writing. Hours 2 and 5 to 7 p. m. Send 5c in stamps for full information. Carobian, 560 24th

st. Oakland, Cal.

NURSE

ANTED—A reliable nurse for child of years. Apply 725 16th st.

SEE MAIN CHY

Chinese Tea and Herb Sanitarium

355 15th st., Oakland.

ATRICE WATTS, alcohol rubbing and hair, 955½ Washington st., phone 3000.

da Lee Delmar

Psychic Palmist

—AND—

CLAIRVOYANT LIFE READER

without asking a single question this at any time, gives you your past, present and future life;

names, dates, facts, locations; in fact,

reduced to a few words. Reduced charges, 50 minutes, $1.00 per day. Satisfaction guaranteed. Apply to or address H. C. Semple, 207 p. m., Tuesday and Saturday

7 to 9; Sundays 1 to 4 p. m.

both Sts. between Broadway and Washington St.

Any Kind of

Eczema

curatively. Dr. Dittmann, specialist, 207 Franklin st., Berkeley. Hours:

8 to 10, 2 to 8. Sunday excepted.

12 young men, strangers, in the city would like to form the acquaintance of congenital young ladies; object, matrinal;

strictly confidential; no agents answered. Address Box 2745, Tribune.

5. F. K. LISDELL of 88 Webster st.

removed to 84 Webster, Germania blvd.

WES who are suffering with painful suppressed menstruation from colds or obtain relief by calling on Mrs.

Mark, 1069 Market st., corner 12th and 13th st., Oakland 1545.

PELE of Egyptian Hindoo Occult

Prof. A. Sabatini reads on 10 a. m. to 8 p. m., Club 16th

Friday and Sunday, 8 p. m. 503

5th st.

ENDS of P. Sokolik please notify him as he is wanted at 423 8th st. Immediate lady wishes person of house to help her into rooming-house.

Box 331, Tribune.

L. KENDALL of the Bon Ton Boat line, 24th and 25th st., little boat moored 14 horsepower to 15. Call and them in operation, at all hours.

SALE—A bit large trial size of leber's fine imported best French personnes at your grocery, dry goods or grocery store. 25c to 12. Twelve kinds.

CHAS. LYONS,

London Tailor, 958 Broadway,

in Francisco Stores—1432 Fillmore st.,

Van Ness ave. Firm established 30 years.

AN experienced delicacy man.

Apply Goldberg, Bowen & Co., 13th and

Chey.

WANTED—Active, intelligent, accurate

young man with good experience as salesman in book store; must show

excellent character and have pleasing address; answer in own handwriting, giving age, intelligence, education, references and salary expected. Address X.

Box 4, Berkeley, Cal.

WANTED—An experienced delicacy man.

Apply Goldberg, Bowen & Co., 13th and

Chey.

WANTED—Active, intelligent, accurate

young man with good experience as

salesman in book store; must show

excellent character and have pleasing

address; answer in own handwriting,

giving age, intelligence, education,

references and salary expected. Address X.

Box 4, Berkeley, Cal.

WANTED—An experienced delicacy man.

Apply Goldberg, Bowen & Co., 13th and

Chey.

WANTED—Active, intelligent, accurate

young man with good experience as

salesman in book store; must show

excellent character and have pleasing

address; answer in own handwriting,

giving age, intelligence, education,

references and salary expected. Address X.

Box 4, Berkeley, Cal.

WANTED—An experienced delicacy man.

Apply Goldberg, Bowen & Co., 13th and

Chey.

WANTED—Active, intelligent, accurate

young man with good experience as

salesman in book store; must show

excellent character and have pleasing

address; answer in own handwriting,

giving age, intelligence, education,

references and salary expected. Address X.

Box 4, Berkeley, Cal.

WANTED—An experienced delicacy man.

Apply Goldberg, Bowen & Co., 13th and

Chey.

WANTED—Active, intelligent, accurate

young man with good experience as

salesman in book store; must show

excellent character and have pleasing

address; answer in own handwriting,

giving age, intelligence, education,

references and salary expected. Address X.

Box 4, Berkeley, Cal.

WANTED—An experienced delicacy man.

Apply Goldberg, Bowen & Co., 13th and

Chey.

HOUSES AND ROOMS WANTED.

WANTED TO LEASE OR RENT.

Good house, unfurnished, within the territory bounded on the west by Grove, east by Broadway, north by 5th, and south by 12th. References given. Box 256, Tribune.

WANTED—2 sunny furnished rooms for light housekeeping; bath and electric lights; for couple; no children; between 10th and 12th sts., near Telegraph. Box 2742, Tribune.

WANTED by respectable party—A large house furnished or unfurnished, walking distance of 14th and Broadway. Address Box 259, Tribune.

WANTED AT ONCE IN OAKLAND—An up-to-date furnished cottage for 3 adults, will pay $35 to $40. Address Box 2574, Tribune.

LARGE front sunny room with alcove, 5th and Franklin, $12 per month; one block to Market st. station. 964 5th st. Nicely furnished room for rent. 536 5th st.

A LADY palmist, Clairvoyant, desires suitable furnished rooms not too far from center city, must be reasonable. Address, stating price. Box 2769, Tribune.

WANTED—Furnished house of 5 or 10 rooms, for responsible party, adults; rent not to exceed $15; lease given; answer tomorrow (Sunday) by phone, Oakland 826.

WANTED by 2 adults, by Dec. 1-2 or 3 unfurnished housekeeping rooms, Oak and Berkeley. Box 251, Tribune.

WANTED—A house of about 10 rooms, with large lot, will rent or buy. Apply 405 Telegraph, Tribune.

YOUNG couple, 2 children, want two unfurnished, back-to-back rooms, close in. Box 260, Tribune.

WANTED—Furnished 6 or 7-room house; must be modern and well located, rent not to exceed $10 per month. Address A. A. Bennett, A. C. Real Estate, room 192, Bacon bldg., Oakland.

MAN wants unfurnished room in Fraternal. Address Box 256, Tribune.

TWO, three or four nice rooms, with private bath, etc., for light housekeeping; wanted by a good, up-to-date, good person, accommodations and for right location, Berkeley or Oakland, unfurnished rooms preferred; references exchanged. Box 257, Tribune.

WANTED—Furnished flat or cottage, five or six rooms, good location. Box B. W. 260, Tribune.

WANTED by man and wife—1 or 2 furnished rooms for housekeeping, near 5th and Franklin. Write or call at 1471 5th st., Oakland.

WANTED—1 room for housekeeping, by single man. Box 2742, Tribune.

WANTED—Sunny room and board by an elderly lady, Oakland or suburbs; state terms; permanent; or for housekeeping. Address 811 34th st.

WANTED—A 5 or 6-room house with a block from Broadway; unfurnished or partly furnished. Box 2618, Tribune.

WANTED—A WELL FURNISHED DOUBLE PARLOR WITHIN SIX BLOCKS FROM BROADWAY. BOX 275, TRIBUNE.

WANTED—Three rooms for housekeeping, near Ferry lines; or small furnished house. S. Carr, 1333 Ellis st., San Francisco.

WANTED—Furnished flat or apartment to a lady and maid, must be located downtown. Address Box 2623, Tribune.

WANTED—Immediately, two housekeeping rooms furnished; no children; best references, state price. Address Superintendent, 1089 Jefferson st., Oakland.

ROOMS AND BOARD WANTED.

A GENTLEMAN and boy of 12 desire dining with private family, will pay $20 per month, near 5th and Telegraph ave or Grove. Address Box 2765, Tribune.

WANTED—Sunny rooms and board for married couple, in Berkeley or Oakland. Box 277, Tribune.

ROOM and board, breakfast and dinner, in French family. Box 275, Tribune.

BOARD and room wanted for man and wife, state terms, etc. Box 2718, Tribune.

LARGE sunny room and vegetable board, convenient to center of town and located by young man. Box 268, Tribune.

TWO young men want room and board in a private family at $5.00 a week, in central location, near Broadway. Address Box 264 Tribune office.

WANTED—Room and board for 2. 2603 Rose st., Phone Berkeley 510.

GENTLEMAN desires first-class board and room in private family. Box 2634, Tribune.

WANTED—Large room with good board for lady whose husband travels. Box 2685, Tribune.

HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS.

SUNNY furnished housekeeping room; central, 1124 Myrtle st.

3 OR 4 housekeeping rooms; reasonable; no children. Inquire 1081 E. 23d st.

SINGLE and housekeeping rooms nicely furnished; on corner at 275 E. 12th st. TWO furnished or unfurnished rooms for housekeeping. 719 Jefferson st.

NEAR City hall—2 partly furnished front housekeeping rooms. Phone Oakland 882, also sell Pacific stoves.

FOR RENT—2 unfurnished housekeeping rooms with gas, bath and electric. 1741 12th ave, 3 to 5 p. m. Sunday.

3 SUNNY unfurnished housekeeping rooms, private house, corner residence. Box 2556, Tribune.

4 NICELY furnished rooms for housekeeping, stately, attached. 1336 Franklin st., N. W. 12th st., bet. Grove and Castro sts.

TWO furnished housekeeping rooms with bath and use of kitchen; gas and fuel included. 821 12th st.

Two 3 sunny furnished housekeeping rooms, N. W. 12th st., bet. Grove and Castro sts.

FLOOR of 3 sunny, handsomely furnished housekeeping rooms, running water; modern, central, phone, exceptionally neat and clean; to refined family or adults; for 6 months or longer; references. 1336 Franklin st.

TURKEY furnished rooms to let to housekeeping. 501 Madison st.

TWO furnished housekeeping rooms with bath and use of kitchen; gas and fuel included. 821 12th st.

Two 3 sunny furnished housekeeping rooms, N. W. 12th st., bet. Grove and Castro sts.

FOR RENT—3 sunny, handsomely furnished housekeeping rooms; reasonable; no children. 1336 Franklin st.

FOR RENT—2 single, sunny housekeeping rooms; swell location, near car line. 2221 John st., Berkeley.

FURNISHED housekeeping rooms, 34 a week and up. 554 E. 15th st.

TWO lovely housekeeping rooms, front and back parlor, suit, everything well furnished. 559 Broadway, bet. 2nd and 3rd, take Shattuck-axe car.

3 SUNNY, convenient housekeeping rooms in private corner residence. Box 2556, Tribune.

FURNISHED FLATS FOR RENT.

FURNISHED flat 4 completely furnished rooms and bath; front and back entrances. 750 48th st.

PARTLY furnished flat. Apply 1684 Franklin st.

NEWLY furnished 3-room flat; upright piano, rent $20; $25; must sell. 1796 Telegraph ave.

FURNISHED flat to rent; almost new; modern; artistically finished; 7 large sunny rooms. 554 37th st.

FURNISHED ROOMS TO LET.

The Atlantic Hotel

95 Franklin st., near 5th; new house, modern; rooms $1 day up to transient accommodated. Phone Oakland 2392.

Golden West Hotel

N. W. cor. 5th and Franklin st.—Just opened and centrally located; hot and cold water in every room; electric lights; $20 to $2 per day; special price for permanent; must be seen; open all night. A. VAYSSIE, Prop.

Cairo, Columbia, The Haller

2nd and San Pablo in front of Key Route station. New house just opened. Room $15 to $10; transient trade accommodated. Phone Oakland 2321.

MRS. J. HALLER, Prop.

HOTEL ST. PAUL

23rd Street, cor. Clay—200 new furnished rooms; day, week or month; elevator.

THE ROB ROY

364 11th st., near Franklin. Newly furnished rooms; hot and cold water permanent and transient. Phone Oakland 4911.

FOR RENT—2 or 3 furnished rooms. $80. Mrs. Moore.

FOR RENT—A sunny front suite with running water. 1227 Linden.

FURNISHED room and bath, 1 or 2 gentlemen. 1294 19th ave., E. Oakland.

SUNNY room in private family for gentleman; very convenient. 1402 11th ave.

A SUNNY single room for gentleman; references; Oakland ave. Box B. W. 307. Tribune.

NICELY furnished room, private family; 2 minutes' walk to Key route; gentleman only. 188 14th st.

FRONT room suitable for 1 or 2 gentlemen. 615 15th st., Oakland.

NICELY furnished front room suitable for 2, 260 of both and phone. 1615 5th st. Oakland.

TOO large, sunny furnished rooms, private family; home comforts; convenient to 5th and 6th and locals; references. 941 Poplar ave.

ONE large, sunny front room furnished; suitable for 1 or 2 gentlemen. 931 Willow st.

A SUNNY front room. 1684 13th st.

655 13th st.—Large, nicely furnished front room, bath, gas, furnace heat, phone, for gentleman.

NEATLY furnished room. 720 16th st.

4 LARGE, bright windows, corner single room; newly furnished, cut grates and running water, no children. 473 15th st. FINELY furnished room with bath for gentleman. 1027 Telegraph ave.

45 PIER MONTH—Private, sunny room; 10 minutes to Broadway; 12th and 13th ave.; 26th and 27th; all close to some private families.

TOO large, sunny furnished rooms, private family; home comforts; convenient to 5th and 6th and locals; references required. Address Box 2039, Tribune.

FOR RENT—A furnished 3-room cottage; water, lights, gas, and gas. 680 Webster.

FURNISHED front parlor bedroom for 1 or 2 gentlemen; electric lights, bath, $15 per month. Apply 361 E. 15th st. near 5th ave.

SUNNY furnished room for 1 or 2 gentlemen. 500 a week. 543 E. 20th st., cor. 10th st.

FURNISHED front room for rent; $10 per month. 910 Filbert st.

FURNISHED room suitable for 2 gentlemen; with or without board. Mrs. Connell, 14th and 15th, near Penniman, opposite P. O. Attendant, fact.

FURNISHED room by week or month. 251 Cyrene st., corner 5th.

ALAMEDA; pleasant sunny room for gentleman, beautiful view. Box 2725, Tribune.

FOR RENT—3 rooms with gas, $15 per month. 1731 King ave., gas.

DESTRABLE furnished room for rent to gentleman; references exchanged. 24 Bay place.

3 FURNISHED rooms to rent, $30; private flag of cooking, gas, Dalton ave. between 55th and 56th sts. San Pablo car.

NICELY furnished front room suitable for 2, 421 Telegraph ave.

LARGE furnished front room. 521 16th st. NEAR, near Telegraph.

NICELY furnished front room suitable for 1 or 2 gentlemen. 517 Lyric st., near 21st and Sun Pablo.

LARGE, sunny furnished front room, bath, gas, furnace heat; all home comforts. 14th and 15th, near 5th.

PEASANT sunny furnished front room for gentleman. 1127 22 ave., corner E. 11th.

LARGE sunny front room suitable for 2 gentlemen, close in. 36 15th st.

PEASANT room and bath for 1 or 2 gentlemen. 1396 Franklin st., cor. 19th.

BEAUTIFULLY furnished sunny rooms, cut in line, 1283 5th ave., East Oakland.

FOR RENT—Room, suitable for one or two young men with references. 811 Grove st., Call in mornings.

LARGE sunny room and vegetable board, convenient to center of town and located by young man. Box 268, Tribune.

TWO young men want room and board in a private family at $5.00 a week, in central location, near Broadway. Address Box 264 Tribune office.

WANTED—Room and board for 2. 2603 Rose st., Phone Berkeley 510.

GENTLEMAN desires first-class board and room in private family. Box 2634, Tribune.

WANTED—Large room with good board for lady whose husband travels. Box 2685, Tribune.

HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS.

SUNNY furnished housekeeping room; central, 1124 Myrtle st.

3 OR 4 housekeeping rooms; reasonable; no children. Inquire 1081 E. 23d st.

SINGLE and housekeeping rooms nicely furnished; on corner at 275 E. 12th st. TWO furnished or unfurnished rooms for housekeeping. 719 Jefferson st.

NEAR City hall—2 partly furnished front housekeeping rooms. Phone Oakland 882, also sell Pacific stoves.

FOR RENT—2 unfurnished housekeeping rooms with gas, bath and electric. 1741 12th ave, 3 to 5 p. m. Sunday.

3 SUNNY unfurnished housekeeping rooms, private house, corner residence. Box 2556, Tribune.

4 NICELY furnished rooms for housekeeping, stately, attached. 1336 Franklin st., N. W. 12th st., bet. Grove and Castro sts.

TWO furnished housekeeping rooms with bath and use of kitchen; gas and fuel included. 821 12th st.

Two 3 sunny furnished housekeeping rooms, N. W. 12th st., bet. Grove and Castro sts.

FOR RENT—3 sunny, handsomely furnished housekeeping rooms; reasonable; no children. 1336 Franklin st.

FOR RENT—2 single, sunny housekeeping rooms; swell location, near car line. 2221 John st., Berkeley.

FURNISHED housekeeping rooms, 34 a week and up. 554 E. 15th st.

TWO furnished housekeeping rooms, front and back parlor, suit, everything well furnished. 559 Broadway, bet. 2nd and 3rd, take Shattuck-axe car.

3 SUNNY, convenient housekeeping rooms in private corner residence. Box 2556, Tribune.

FOR RENT—2 or 3 rooms completely furnished for housekeeping; for 1 or 2 gentlemen; reasonable. Call 573 20th st., Oakland.

ABOUT 10 furnished rooms left

REAL ESTATE

C. V. Hughes Co.
1069 Broadway, Cor. 12th
UPSTAIRS.

BUSINESS PROPERTY
$18,000—Chicopee lot close to new hotel, 75x125, with well built, more money in rear future; don't hold back; can Oakland be smaller? Apartment house here will pay big.

JUST OFF TELEGRAPH AVENUE.
$10,000—Large lot 75x100; this is choice and must increase; only 4 blocks from 14th st.; building suitable for storage and for business.

BUSINESS CORNER.

$23,000—Close to new hotel, 60x80; asking more for inside lots only half block away, buy now; why wait? You say why did I wait? Don't say it again.

A MONEY-MAKER CORNER.

$37,500—Lot 150x125; can be subdivided and net your $10,000 profit; let me explain to you; in active section.

TELEGRAPH AVENUE CORNER.

$30,000—Lot 100x100, only $300 a foot, and close to 18th st.; there are a few corners left; will result for $300 foot in one year.

BUSINESS CORNER.

$35,000—Lot 100x100, with substantial buildings, can be made into stores and rooming houses and pay big interest; situated in active section; inside 12th and Broadway.

CHINATOWN.

$8,000—Harrison st., 37x100, with large, substantial building.

CHINATOWN.

$7,500—Half block from 8th st.; lot 37x80, with substantial building, choice property.

2400—This is a fine lot on high ground in Central Oakland; splendid view of bay, Golden Gate and Berkeley hills, near Key route station; one-half block from Telegraph ave.

$5,000—Also lot 40x130 ft. on the east side of Alcatraz street near the new hotel site; on the market for a very limited time; terms.

BREED & BANCROFT INC.

1060 BROADWAY, OAKLAND.

BREED & BANCROFT INC.

1060 BROADWAY, OAKLAND.

$3250—10-room house with large attic and cement basement; lot 50x125 ft., near Key route station J-C-M.

$6500—North side of Merimac street about one-half block from Telegraph ave., a swell home, 7 rooms, 40x140.

$7,500—Large house 8 rooms on Sunnyside st.; interior of house finished in curly redwood; lot 45x100 ft., rear, driveway and auto barn in rear.

$8,650—Large cottage on Mountain ave., in Piedmont; 3 blocks from Oakland avenue; car line, lot 41x127 feet, well situated with sunny exposure, don't overlook this.

106-P.H.

$8,500—On 2d st. west of Grove, 10x125 ft., room house; lot 10x100, 11x11, 12x12.

$2,250—Large lot at close to Key route station; large lot with improvements; all new and modern 15x12.

$12,500—A beautiful home on Peralta heights in East Oakland, completely furnished, on a quiet street; a fine home only; lot about 200 ft. deep, will sell without furniture if desired.

63-E.H.

$4,000—A swell home in Alameda, two-story, 8 rooms; close to Santa Clara car line and Southern Pacific depot, lot 57x130 ft.

22-A.H.

BREED & BANCROFT INC.

1060 BROADWAY, OAKLAND.

ACREAGE FOR SALE

I have several tracts of land in different sections of Alameda County, any one of which can be subdivided and lots readily sold at a good profit.

If you have money for investment you cannot make a mistake in securing acreage at the present time and subdividing so as to have lots to sell during the winter and spring demand.

Mrs. E. C. Swanson

77 BACON BLOCK ARCADE,
Phone Oakland 957 Oakland, Cal.

WILL buy good residence lots near Key route. Apply A. A. Bennett & Co., Real Estate, room 292 Bacon bldg., Oakland, Cal.

25 feet on Magnolia street, near 22nd street, Key route; this is a first-class building lot for $50.

GRAY REALTY CO.

106 12th Street

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

SUNDAY MORNING.

Laymance Real Estate Co.

460-462 8th St., Oakland

IN NEW RETAIL DISTRICT
$75,000

Fine business corner, 100x105, stores, rooms and large hall; can be made to pay 10 per cent; three-quarter millions of property sold recently within a radius of 100 feet. This is within 600 feet of bank center, and the trend of business and permanent improvements in this direction will bring the buyer a handsome advance in the near future.

FOR SALE—A FACTORY
$11,000

Nearly 2 acres in Pt. Richmond factory district, new buildings insured for $10,000, on up oil fuel, electricity, has railroad switch and wharf privileges, near car line. Owner has entered into other business and wants to sell earlier.

HAS SPLENDID FUTURE
$9000

Front feet frontage on Grove St., short distance from San Pablo Avenue and near $20,000 Arcade Hotel. Improvements would cost over $1000 to duplicate, land north of this sold for $150 per foot this week; $4000 cash will handle this.

CONVENIENT RESIDENCE
$7500

Substantial 2 story residence, 9 rooms, fine lot, 60x125, surrounded by fine homes, north of 8th street near Market street station, being easy walk to business center.

BUILT FOR CONTRACTOR FOR A HOME
$5000

Modern colonial, 7 rooms and bath, a house built by owner for a home, extra nice interior finish; lot, 33x127, near Adeline and 14th streets, reasonable terms arranged.

ON CROSSTOWN BUSINESS STREET
$4350

Improved property, close to business section, consisting of two story cottage and store and small flat above, will pay 12 per cent on investment. 15 feet frontage.

MODERN BUNGALOW
$3250

Modern cottage, 5 rooms and bath, combination fixtures, lot 60x100, street work complete, near Key Route station in choice residence location.

NEAR KEY ROUTE
$2650

Good cottage, 5 rooms, bath; 4 extra rooms in basement, stable; 40x100; street work complete.

SMALL HOME
$1650

Fairly good cottage, 5 rooms and bath; in business section, North Oakland, convenient to K. Route and S. P. R. R. local stations, $300 cash.

LAYMANCE REAL ESTATE CO.

460-462 8th St., Oakland

4--SPECIALS--4

$250

A building lot in a beautiful location, $100 down, balance to suit you. Make 100 per cent profit. Buy this.

$1100

Lot suitable for flats, only 5 blocks from 2nd and Broadway Key Route. This is a SNAP.

$10,000

A beautiful home in Linda Vista, lot 50 ft front, 10 rooms.

5 YEAR LEASE

$150 per month rent, 15 rooms suitable for rooming and boarding; immediate possession given. This is good for a short time only.

E. J. Shepardson 424 Tenth Street

CROWN & LEWIS Inc.

Offer the Following Choice Selection of Houses

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—On Garrison St., the fine 5-room house, near Linda Avenue, 15 blocks from car line, this is a snap, price $250 (282).

FOR SALE—Near Myrtle, close in, 2-story 7 room house, a very good buy, $3000. (283)

FOR SALE—2 cottages, one of 5 rooms and one of 3 rooms, on lot 60x120, near 14th street, west, this is a very fine buy, price $3000. (284)

FOR SALE—Close to 24th and Telegraph Avenue, a five-room cottage on lot 25x120, price $1500. (285)

FOR SALE—One block from Broadway and 24th Avenue, brand new 1½-story 6-room house, the best buy in Oakland for the money, cannot be duplicated under $3000, lot 33x125, price $2500. (286)

FOR SALE—A fine 2-story 7 room residence on Oakdale and 24th, lot 120x120, house new, just completed, might be bought on terms by desirable party, price $3000. (287)

FOR SALE—On 6th Ave., East Oakland, a 2-story 5-room house, 2 toilets, sidewalk and street work all in; all in perfect order, lot 35x125; this is a good buy and will sell at sight; price $3500. (288)

FOR SALE—A fine large 10-room residence, on lot 100x150, on 9th street, in East Oakland; see this, the best buy in a 10-room house in East Oakland; price $3000. (289)

CROWN & LEWIS Inc., REAL ESTATE BROKERS 1056 Broadway, Phone Oakland 4400

Bryant & Derge

REAL ESTATE

AGENTS FOR Springfield Fire and Marine
INSURANCE COMPANY
1112 BROADWAY, OAKLAND
Telephone Oakland 332.

FAIRMOUNT, FRISBIE AND WALSWORTH FRONTAGE IN THE DR. LEWIS TRACT. $30 PER FOOT AND UPWARD. 600 FEET LEFT. YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO OVERLOOK THIS.

Cheap Little Cottage on 63x140 on East 27th St.
Filbert St., near 7th
5 rooms, good little home. $300

A Snap on Linden near San Pablo
60x125 LOT.
2 houses rented for $27 per month. This week only $2800

A Snap on 3d St.
LOT 28x125.
Good flats of 5 and 6 rooms. $300.

A good little Business Buy on 7th St.
39x100, 2 cottages, near station. $250

28-room House, 75x145 ft.
corner, $15,000
Once used for fashionable girls' school, about 4 blocks east of Lake Merritt, in that neighborhood. Non-resident owner wants to sell, well arranged for small apartments or family.

We are going to dispose of this. We prefer cash, but will make easy terms if we may take other property in exchange.

Now is the time to get a life income at your own figure. $12,500.

A fine piece of Business Frontage
on 5th St., near Franklin, 75x100; unlimited possibilities; good for a quick turn at a nice profit.

Stores and flats on 8th St.
2 stories, 4 flats, 1 boarding house; double frontage of 12 feet running through the block; income $35, capable of increase.

A fine 6-room 1½ story house
On Magnolia St. $300.

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—

—</p

REAL ESTATE

REAL ESTATE.

REAL ESTATE

VAN B & SON

Real Estate Brokers

406 12th St. near Chamber of Commerce

$7800—Southeast corner, 75x100, beautiful grounds; 10-room house, East Oakland. Terms if desired.

$7000—Chinatown lot, 50x100; two houses, one 9 rooms, the other 5 rooms. This is an investment.

$6500—Linda Vista, a fine home, 7 rooms, modern in every respect. Swell location.

$3500—A nice 5-room cottage; 56th st., near Grove. If you want a nice little home look this up.

$3200—Walworth ave., lot 30x100, 6-room cottage, flowers, fruit, chicken house, etc. This is good.

D. VAN BUSKIRK & SON
See Red Diamond
PHONE OAKLAND 8252.M.T. MINNEY
470 11th St.

Real Estate Fire Insurance

$3,000—A Harrison st. corner, 95x100, three blocks from 12th st., with fine improvements, this is less than market value and a rapid increase due to the improvements in the immediate vicinity is assured, will bring $30,000 in less than 6 months.

$9,000—Fine home of 10 rooms with high basement, attic, furnace heat, front and back stairs, modern throughout, lot, 75x125 feet, on East 29th st., between 8th and 9th ave.

Near Telegraph, on 25th.

$8,300—Fine home of 10 rooms, bath, 2 toilets, pantry, laundry, etc; good barn, auto shed, fine walks, lot 34x110

$8,250—Near Jefferson on 5th st., good house of 5 rooms and bath above, and store below, house of 4 rooms and bath in rear, income $110 per month.

$7,700—On Watson ave., Peralta Heights first-class home of 8 rooms, bath, 2 toilets, polished maple floors, fine mantels, lawn and flowers, auto shed, two large verandas; lot 70x125, this has all the requirements necessary for an ideal home.

$6,000—On 8th st., near Oak, good house of 8 rooms, gas and electricity, bath, 2 toilets, sunroom, kitchen and 2 basement rooms, lot 75x125, this will pay high interest as a rental proposition, present income $75 per month.

$5,700—On Magnolia between 11th and 16th sts., splendid home of 7 rooms, reception hall, bath and gas, lot 55x125 feet, ample room for driveway.

$5,700—On 27th st., bet. Grove and Telegraph ave., splendid home of 7 rooms, bath and gas, good barn, driveway; lot 40x150

$5,700—Modern house of 9 rooms, reception hall, laundry, bath, gas and electricity; on Merrimac between Grove and Telegraph ave.

$1,900—Very fine 2-story house of 6 rooms, reception hall, bath, gas and electricity, about 200 feet east of Telegraph on 27th st., lot 35x15.

$4,850—2 cottages of 6 and 7 rooms, tank and windmill, lot 33x125, on Myrtle st., near San Pablo ave.

$1,700—11-room house on the corner of 5th ave. and 11 st., car stops at door; 3 blocks to local train, lot 60x150, $250 cash and balance either flat or installment loan.

$1,700—On Chestnut st., good house of 7 rooms, large reception hall; bath, gas and electricity; lot 10x10, convenient to 2d st. Key Route.

$1,650—Good cottages of 4 rooms, bath and gas, on the corner of 6th and Oak sts.; lot 25x100 ft.

$1,200—New house of 6 rooms, reception hall, bath and laundry, modern plumbing and lighting on the corner of 4th and West sts., one block from Grove at Key Route station; lot 30x100

$4,200—Very fine cottage of 6 rooms, high basement, bath, gas and electricity, good barn and walks, lot 60x125 on Bay ave., Fruitvale.

$3,850—In Piedmont on Fairview ave., good cottage of 5 rooms and bath, lot 50x107, this is about 1 block south of Oakland ave.

$2,000—On 7th st., near Fallon; good cottage of 5 rooms, now renting for $25 a month, terms $200 cash and balance like rent.

$3,000—Flat of 4 rooms, bath and gas and coal yard on Sherman st., in Alameda near Bay station, lot 35x120

$2,800—On Lawton ave., near Hudson st., good 5-room cottage; lot 62x100

$2,800—In a choice residence section of East Oakland on 12th ave., new story and half house of 5 rooms, bath, gas and electricity; this is complete and ready for immediate occupancy, terms $700 cash and balance $20 a month and interest.

$2,650—On Pine st., near 8th cottage of 5 rooms, gas and bath; lot 37x120 ft.

$2,600—On 12th ave., near 25th st.; new cottage of 5 rooms with high paneled dining room, cement walk, lot 31x100, easy terms.

$2,400—Pair of 4 room flats and a 5 room cottage; lot 26x125, on Henry st.

$2,250—Good bungalow of 5 rooms and bath, lot 50x110, Mt. View ave., Elmhurst; furnishings and piano included at this price.

$1,800—Good 3-room cottage, including a basement room; lot, 25x105, on Eagle ave., Alameda, between Park and Oak sts.

Vacant Lots

$1,500—50x150, on East 17th st., between 22d and 23d aves.; $500 cash, balance easy payments.

$850—On Magnolia st., 25 feet south of 30th, 25x100

$3,600—On Bay Place, 125 feet north of 34th, 90x110 feet, divided into 3 lots; $300 cash and balance $10 per month.

$4,300—On Adams st., just north of Perkins, 100x124, cheapest property in this vicinity.

Fine Location for Flats

$6,500—100 feet frontage, on east side of Grove, between 33d and 34th sts.

$1,875—ONLY VACANT LOT ON 23D, BETWEEN GROVE AND TELEGRAPH, 23x105 FT.

Half Moon Bay Lots

$1,100—3 choice lots in the Shore Acre Tract, 40x110 feet each; terms $200 down and balance $30 per month; these are worth more money but must be sold.

M.T. MINNEY
470 11th St.THE HAWLEY TRACT
LINDA VISTA DISTRICT33 Lots
Low PricesThe Last Tract to be Subdivided
in this

HIGH-CLASS DISTRICT

2 blocks to Oakland Ave. Cars2 blocks to Piedmont Ave. Cars3 blocks to Key Route StationOn Sale
Monday Morning

BERKELEY REAL ESTATE.

Birdsall & Craig
215-217 Shattuck Avenue,
Berkeley, Cal.

$3500
Five-room bungalow; one block from car line, near Key Route depot.

$3800
A six-room bungalow on same street, same terms.

$4700
Seven-room house on Regent street; lot 33x130; new; a snap.

$8000
Hillside avenue, new house, eight rooms, garage and barn, hardwood floors, elegant.

$15,000
Berkeley Ave. 13 rooms, 60x160, very fine.

We have a long list of houses in various parts of Berkeley.

OAKLAWN

$1300-$1500
Fine lots in this tract, selling rapidly one block from Key Route station. Only a few left, buy now, terms 1-3 cash.

ROCK RIDGE
Send for our beautiful souvenir pamphlet of this magnificent tract.

Birdsall & Craig
215-217 SHATTUCK AVENUE
BERKELEY, CAL.

THE THING TO DO

The thing to do is to look carefully over the list below. If you do so you will decide that the next thing to do is to buy one or more from this choice list. At any rate the thing to do is to call on us and let us show you the large list of good investments and homes from which these bargains below were selected.

$1525
The price of this lot is over $200 less than adjoining lots, it is a fifty-foot lot on The Islands, Claremont, the lot is parked in Berkeley, this is a bargain.

$1850
This is a fine double frontage lot in Claremont Park, it faces on two beautifully parked streets and overlooks Palm Park, the gem of Claremont, it is a bargain at the price quoted.

$2100
Hotel Claremont Tract, near Willow Park, one tract, the location the size (60x120), the magnificent view from it the fact that it is easy to build on its proximity to the hotel, all profit it to be a great bargain; this lot will sell for $2500 within the year.

$2200
A choice lot 20x122, facing west on El Camino Real, Claremont, it lies on an easy slope and commands a magnificent panoramic view of the bay, it has been reduced fifty dollars for a quick sale.

$2750
Note the size 50x222; note the location, Hotel Place overlooking the Claremont Hotel and its beautiful grounds, no houses across the street to interfere with its grand view of Berkeley and bay; it lies within three minutes walk of Key Route station.

$6500
Three large lots in Hotel Claremont Tract, these lots as a whole will make one of the finest home-sites in Berkeley, one frontage of 105 feet is covered with fine modern houses and the other frontage of 105 feet, there is a fine building site with a superb view of the bay, the price has been reduced five hundred dollars because owner is going East.

HOUSES

$5500
This is a fine six-room house, supplied with all modern conveniences, it is so situated in the Scenic Tract that it commands an unusually fine view.

$6500
New home on a northeast corner, one story, a choice residence section, should sell quick at this remarkably low figure, leased this year for $3000 next year for $750, $3000 cash will be it.

$6500
This new six-room house is on a large lot, front 40 feet, rear 20 feet, a car lane, lot 20x120, very accessible, and commands a superb view of Berkeley and bay, there is a nice lawn, garden and fruit trees.

$7000
$4000 cash will buy this, ten-room house in the finest residence section of Berkeley, house new and perfect, two very large living rooms with open fireplace, leased this year for $750.

$7500
House of eleven rooms on a corner in North Berkeley, two blocks from car line and three blocks from station.

$3,800
A fine new 2-story 6-room house in Scenic Tract, near stations and car lines, 40x120, front 40 feet, street work and sidewalk done, all fine new houses around this neighborhood, one block, $100 cash, balance $300 per month.

$600
Buy one of each of 3 new 4-room cottages on Shattuck Ave, car line, up to date, street work and sidewalk done; nice sunny rooms, good house, price $2000, balance $25 per month.

$2500
New 5-room cottage, with bath, pantry, laundry, etc., lot 20x120, close to Key Route and S.P. stations; terms $300 cash, balance $3 per month.

$2700
Bargain. Nearly new 6-room house with bath, pantry, laundry, etc., lot 40x100, hands to Key Route school, church and stores, terms $300 cash, balance $75 monthly.

O. A. RUDOLPH
Open Sunday, Lorin Station, S. Berkeley

BERKELEY REAL ESTATE.

F. H. Lawton & Co.
214 CENTER STREET, BERKELEY.

$8000
North Berkeley home of 9 rooms and basement, lot 60x120 ft., nicely improved with shrubbery.

$7000
NORTH BERKELEY HOME of 11 rooms, basement, furnace; corner lot 50x120, rented at $60 per month.

$5000
HOME NEAR TELEGRAPH AVE., 100x33 1/2 feet; new; a snap.

$8000
Hillside avenue, new house, eight rooms, garage and barn, hardwood floors, elegant.

$15,000
Berkeley Ave. 13 rooms, 60x160, very fine.

We have a long list of houses in various parts of Berkeley.

OAKLAWN

$1300-$1500
Fine lots in this tract, selling rapidly one block from Key Route station. Only a few left, buy now, terms 1-3 cash.

ROCK RIDGE
Send for our beautiful souvenir pamphlet of this magnificent tract.

Birdsall & Craig
215-217 SHATTUCK AVENUE
BERKELEY, CAL.

THE THING TO DO

The thing to do is to look carefully over the list below. If you do so you will decide that the next thing to do is to buy one or more from this choice list. At any rate the thing to do is to call on us and let us show you the large list of good investments and homes from which these bargains below were selected.

$200
NORTHEAST CORNER LOT on Ashby Ave., east of Telegraph Ave.; 45x90 feet.

$2000
NORTH BERKELEY ELEVATED 100', grand view, 45x116 feet, west front.

$1750
SMILEY TRACT LOT 41x120 feet with shrubbery and trees that takes YEARS TO GROW

$1750
LOT CLOSE TO NEW KEY ROUTE station and College Ave., 50x150 feet, south front.

$1550
TWO FAIRVIEW LOTS, 30x130 ft; west front.

$900
SNAP IN 140 foot lot, south front, near Key route and electric car, east of Shattuck Ave.

F. H. Lawton & Co.
214 CENTER ST., BERKELEY.
PHONE BERKELEY 1115

$200
New cottage 4 rooms, street work done, close to car, half cash.

$2800
New cottage 5 rooms, modern, south front convenient to station, 40x100 lot, this is an investment, street work done, half cash.

$3600
New room house 5 blocks from Berkeley station, this is a nice home, cheap.

$2750
5-room house on lot 33x100, close in, this is a bargain.

$6300
A thoroughly up-to-date 8 room house on a corner 10x120, 1 blocks from Berkeley station, will net 10 per cent as an investment.

$850
For a lot 40x100 in the Northlands; fine marine view, this is a bargain.

$1250
A corner in the McGee tract, street work done, monthly payments, this is a bargain.

$400
For lot, we offer nine lots one block from the new Key route, these are bargains.

MACDERMOTT COMPANY
219 Center Street, Berkeley, Cal.

$200
New cottage 4 rooms, street work done, close to car, half cash.

$2800
New cottage 5 rooms, modern, south front convenient to station, 40x100 lot, this is an investment, street work done, half cash.

$3600
New room house 5 blocks from Berkeley station, this is a nice home, cheap.

$2750
5-room house on lot 33x100, close in, this is a bargain.

$6300
A thoroughly up-to-date 8 room house on a corner 10x120, 1 blocks from Berkeley station, will net 10 per cent as an investment.

$850
For a lot 40x100 in the Northlands; fine marine view, this is a bargain.

$1250
A corner in the McGee tract, street work done, monthly payments, this is a bargain.

$400
For lot, we offer nine lots one block from the new Key route, these are bargains.

MACDERMOTT COMPANY
219 Center Street, Berkeley, Cal.

$200
New cottage 4 rooms, street work done, close to car, half cash.

$2800
New cottage 5 rooms, modern, south front convenient to station, 40x100 lot, this is an investment, street work done, half cash.

$3600
New room house 5 blocks from Berkeley station, this is a nice home, cheap.

$2750
5-room house on lot 33x100, close in, this is a bargain.

$6300
A thoroughly up-to-date 8 room house on a corner 10x120, 1 blocks from Berkeley station, will net 10 per cent as an investment.

$850
For a lot 40x100 in the Northlands; fine marine view, this is a bargain.

$1250
A corner in the McGee tract, street work done, monthly payments, this is a bargain.

$400
For lot, we offer nine lots one block from the new Key route, these are bargains.

HAYWARD REAL ESTATE

Redemark & Bradhoff
3202 Adeline Street
South Berkeley
Phone Berkeley 1105

$5500
This is a fine six-room house, supplied with all modern conveniences, it is so situated in the Scenic Tract that it commands an unusually fine view.

$6500
New home on a northeast corner, one story, a choice residence section, should sell quick at this remarkably low figure, leased this year for $3000 next year for $750, $3000 cash will be it.

$6500
This new six-room house is on a large lot, front 40 feet, rear 20 feet, a car lane, lot 20x120, very accessible, and commands a superb view of Berkeley and bay, there is a nice lawn, garden and fruit trees.

$3,800
A fine new 2-story 6-room house in Scenic Tract, near stations and car lines, 40x120, front 40 feet, street work and sidewalk done, all fine new houses around this neighborhood, one block, $100 cash, balance $300 per month.

$600
Buy one of each of 3 new 4-room cottages on Shattuck Ave, car line, up to date, street work and sidewalk done, nice sunny rooms, good house, price $2000, balance $25 per month.

$2500
New 5-room cottage, with bath, pantry, laundry, etc., lot 20x120 close to Key Route and S.P. stations; terms $300 cash, balance $3 per month.

$2700
Bargain. Nearly new 6-room house with bath, pantry, laundry, etc., lot 40x100 hands to Key Route school, church and stores, terms $300 cash, balance $75 monthly.

O. A. RUDOLPH
Open Sunday, Lorin Station, S. Berkeley

BERKELEY REAL ESTATE.

Youngs, Barry & Lamb
214 CENTER STREET, BERKELEY.

$4,000
New 7 room house near Telegraph Ave, 60x120, $1800 cash.

$3,150
New 5-room bungalow on California St., gas, heat, electricity; lot 35x120, $1800 cash, bath, $30 per month.

$2500
A cozy little home of 5 rooms; new; $1500 down, $25 a month.

$3,500
New house of 6 rooms; lot 40x80, Virginia St., bet. Grant and Grove.

$3,600
On Roosevelt, near Bancroft way, 6 room house, new and modern; 30x120.

$2,600
New cottage of 5 rooms; good location, can move in immediately; also another of $3800, can be occupied immediately.

$3,000
Two story house of 6 rooms; 3 bedrooms and bath upstairs; closets extra large; upper floor finished in Oregon pine; reception hall, parlor and stairs beautiful.

$1,750
House of 9 rooms; southern exposure, modern, lot 60x150 feet.

$500
Beautiful house of 8 rooms on Central Ave.; lot 95x140 feet; this is a fine home at a sacrifice.

$9500
Fine home on a northeast corner of Santa Clara Ave.; lot 82x158 ft; make an offer.

SEE

HAMMOND & HAMMOND

THE LEADING AND RELIABLE AGENTS, AT 1424 PARK ST., ALAMEDA.

We Sell the Earth

JUSTER & BAIRD

2167 SHATTUCK AVE., BERKELEY.

11 people looking for a home in Berkeley call at this office and let us show you these two elegant houses listed below.

$6750
Elegant 7-room house, in one of the best residence sections, only one block from the College Ave. cars, convenient to trains, schools and cars, exceptionally well built, arranged and artistically finished.

$8750
Nice 7-room house, on an elegant lot on northwest corner. This is a bargain as its lot is large and deep enough to permit an addition if dwelling to be built on rear of lot facing street without crowding. Be sure and see this.

JUSTER & BAIRD

2177 SHATTUCK AVE., BERKELEY.

11 people looking for a home

TOMORROW AT 8:30 A. M. SHARP (NOT BEFORE).

Sale of 12-Button Length Suede Lisle Gloves

NOW IN WINDOW—Two shades of gray, modes, white or black—all sizes.

Splendid gloves at a bargain price—Be on time for there will be a crowd.

65c
PAIR

Kahn Bros

THE ALWAYS BUSY STORE

Extraordinary Values in WOMEN'S AND MISSES' Ready-to-Wear Costumes

Over a hundred suits in all, of Pan Broadcloth, Ladies' Cloth, Cheviot, etc., in black, brown, blues, plain grays, and plaids. Absolutely new models, decidedly smart, well tailored, perfectly fitting garments—suits that have received the stamp of approval from the fashion world—

Dashing Coat Suits

Stunning Prince Chap Suits

Napoleon Suits—Eton Blouse Suits

Simple Tailor Suits

Short Jacket Suits

Swell Box Coat Suits

Neat Blouse Suits

Military Effect Suits

Hip Jacket Suits

Eton Suits

SALE

STARTS

SHARP

AT 8:30 A. M.

TOMORROW

2d FLOOR

Take Elevator.

ANY SUIT IN THE LOT
REGARDLESS OF VALUE

$10.00

SUITS $17.50, $18.50 & $20

Every suit a gem, every one a bargain—clever interpretations and models of the most stunning street costumes of the year. Made by one of the greatest manufacturers of high-grade tailored suits in the world. Made for one of New York's biggest stores who were compelled to cancel the order on account of the backward season. Snapped up by Kahns' at half their worth and sold to you at the sensational price of $10 each. Among the fabrics are:

Pan Broadcloth

Ladies' Cloth

Fancy Tweeds

Scotch Plaids

English Worsteds

All-wool Kerseys

Berlin Twills

Cheviots

Tailored throughout by man tailors receiving the highest salaries in New York, some lined with silk others with Skinner's Satin.

This sale starts to-morrow promptly at 8:30 a. m. Come early to the 2nd floor costume salesroom. On account of the extremely low price you will either have to do the alterations yourself or pay us extra for the work. There will be plenty of experienced help to serve you.

The Handsomest and Only Exclusive Cut-Glass Room in Oakland

Now is the time to get your Christmas Remembrances. An introductory sale this week to start the ball rolling. We propose to do the Cut Glass Business of this city, and these are the kind of prices that will bring the crowds. Don't delay; don't wait. No telling when we may be sold out.

SPECIAL—CUT GLASS TEA BELLS—Thin's of the clear, clean ring of cut glass! And they're just as pretty as they can be. To start the Holiday Season—Special

$2.90

2 ea.

SPECIAL—CUT GLASS BOWLS—The new pan shape is beautifully brilliant cut—deep, rich, elegant—Sold elsewhere for $7.50. Kahn's Introductory Special

$4.50

4 ea.

SPECIAL—CUT GLASS SUGAR BOWL AND CREAM PITCHER. Sold by the Pair. A grand piece of workmanship—Any woman would prize them. The price is a special price just to advertise the beautiful cut glass room. The pair for

$3.75

3 ea.

SPECIAL—CUT GLASS MUSTARD JAR AND COVER—No its no painter's mistake—that's the right price. $6. A pretty cut too. Just the thing for a welcome and inexpensive remembrance—Special

SPECIAL—CUT GLASS TOOTH PICK HOLDER—Did you ever hear of such a price? Never mind how we do it, just come in and get one. Just as pretty and neat as they can be. Special tomorrow

SPECIAL—SALT AND PEPPER SHAKERS—Cut glass with non-corrosive top. Now isn't there some one you know who needs them? Better hurry, we haven't many. Special each

65c

40c

25c

YOU CAN SAVE BIG MONEY ON Rugs at Kahns'

Get right down and compare prices—That's the way to tell—go wherever you wish—San Francisco or Oakland—go to every store and get their prices—

We court comparison—We want it—we ask it—We know we can save you money and we want you to know it—

We sell rugs for $27.00 that you pay $30.00 and $32.50 for—We sell a $22.50 rug for $18.00—And these are our regular prices, too—Our assortment is complete, but our space is limited—We are going to have a magnificent rug department shortly, and until then we will make it well worth your time and trouble in choosing under somewhat cramped conditions; you simply cannot afford to overlook us when it comes to rugs—

KAHNS' SPLENDID MILLINERY STORE

Ever visited that big bus. millinery department on the Third floor of the Annex? It's the biggest millinery store in Oakland by long odds. Hundreds of hats are always on exhibition and those who know tell us the styles average the best in Oakland.

We are fortunate in having a splendid corps of makers and trimmers design many of our own models—others are reproductions of clever ideas picked up upon the world's fashion points—London, Paris and New York.

Our stock of trimmings is wonderfully complete, comprising everything in style

KAHNS' ARE HEADQUARTERS FOR FURS

"No need to go farther than Kahns' for furs" is getting to be a byword. Everybody, almost, seems to realize that fact—no matter whether they want a $125 mink scarf or a $2.50 tie, they find exactly what they want at Kahns'.

By far the greatest assortment in this city, in fact, one of the largest stocks in the State. See the big window of furs. That, in itself, is of interest.

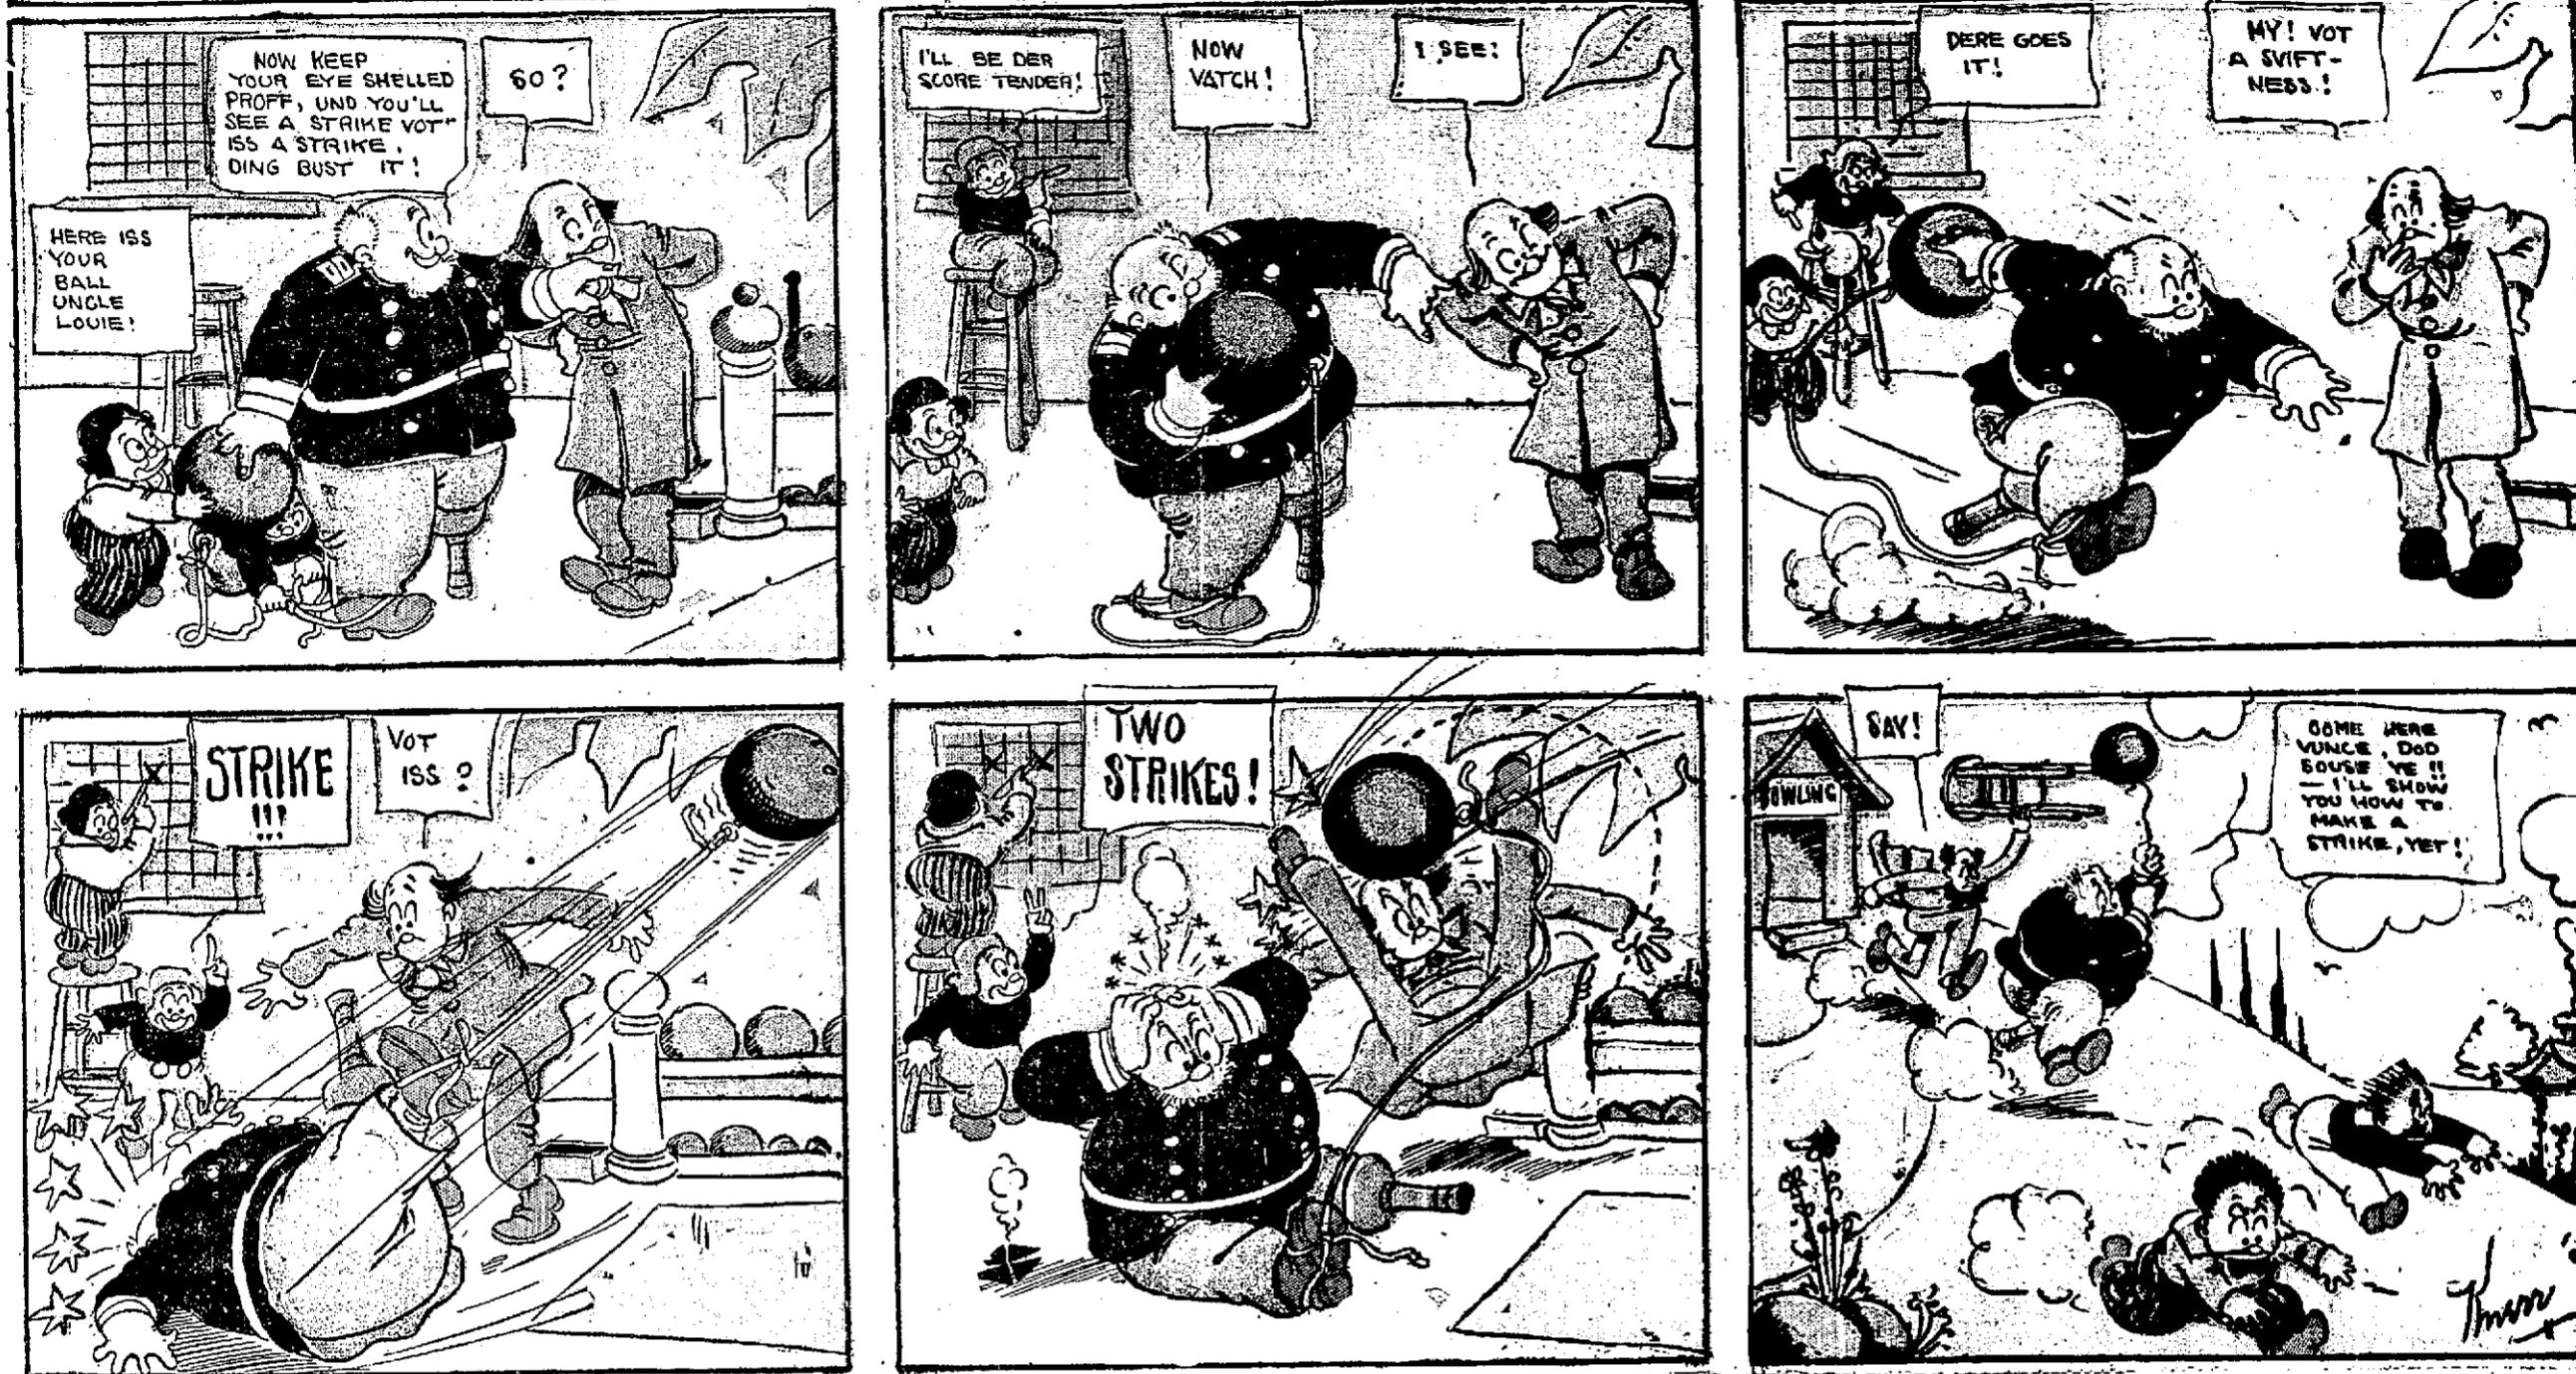

Kahn Bros

THE ALWAYS BUSY STORE

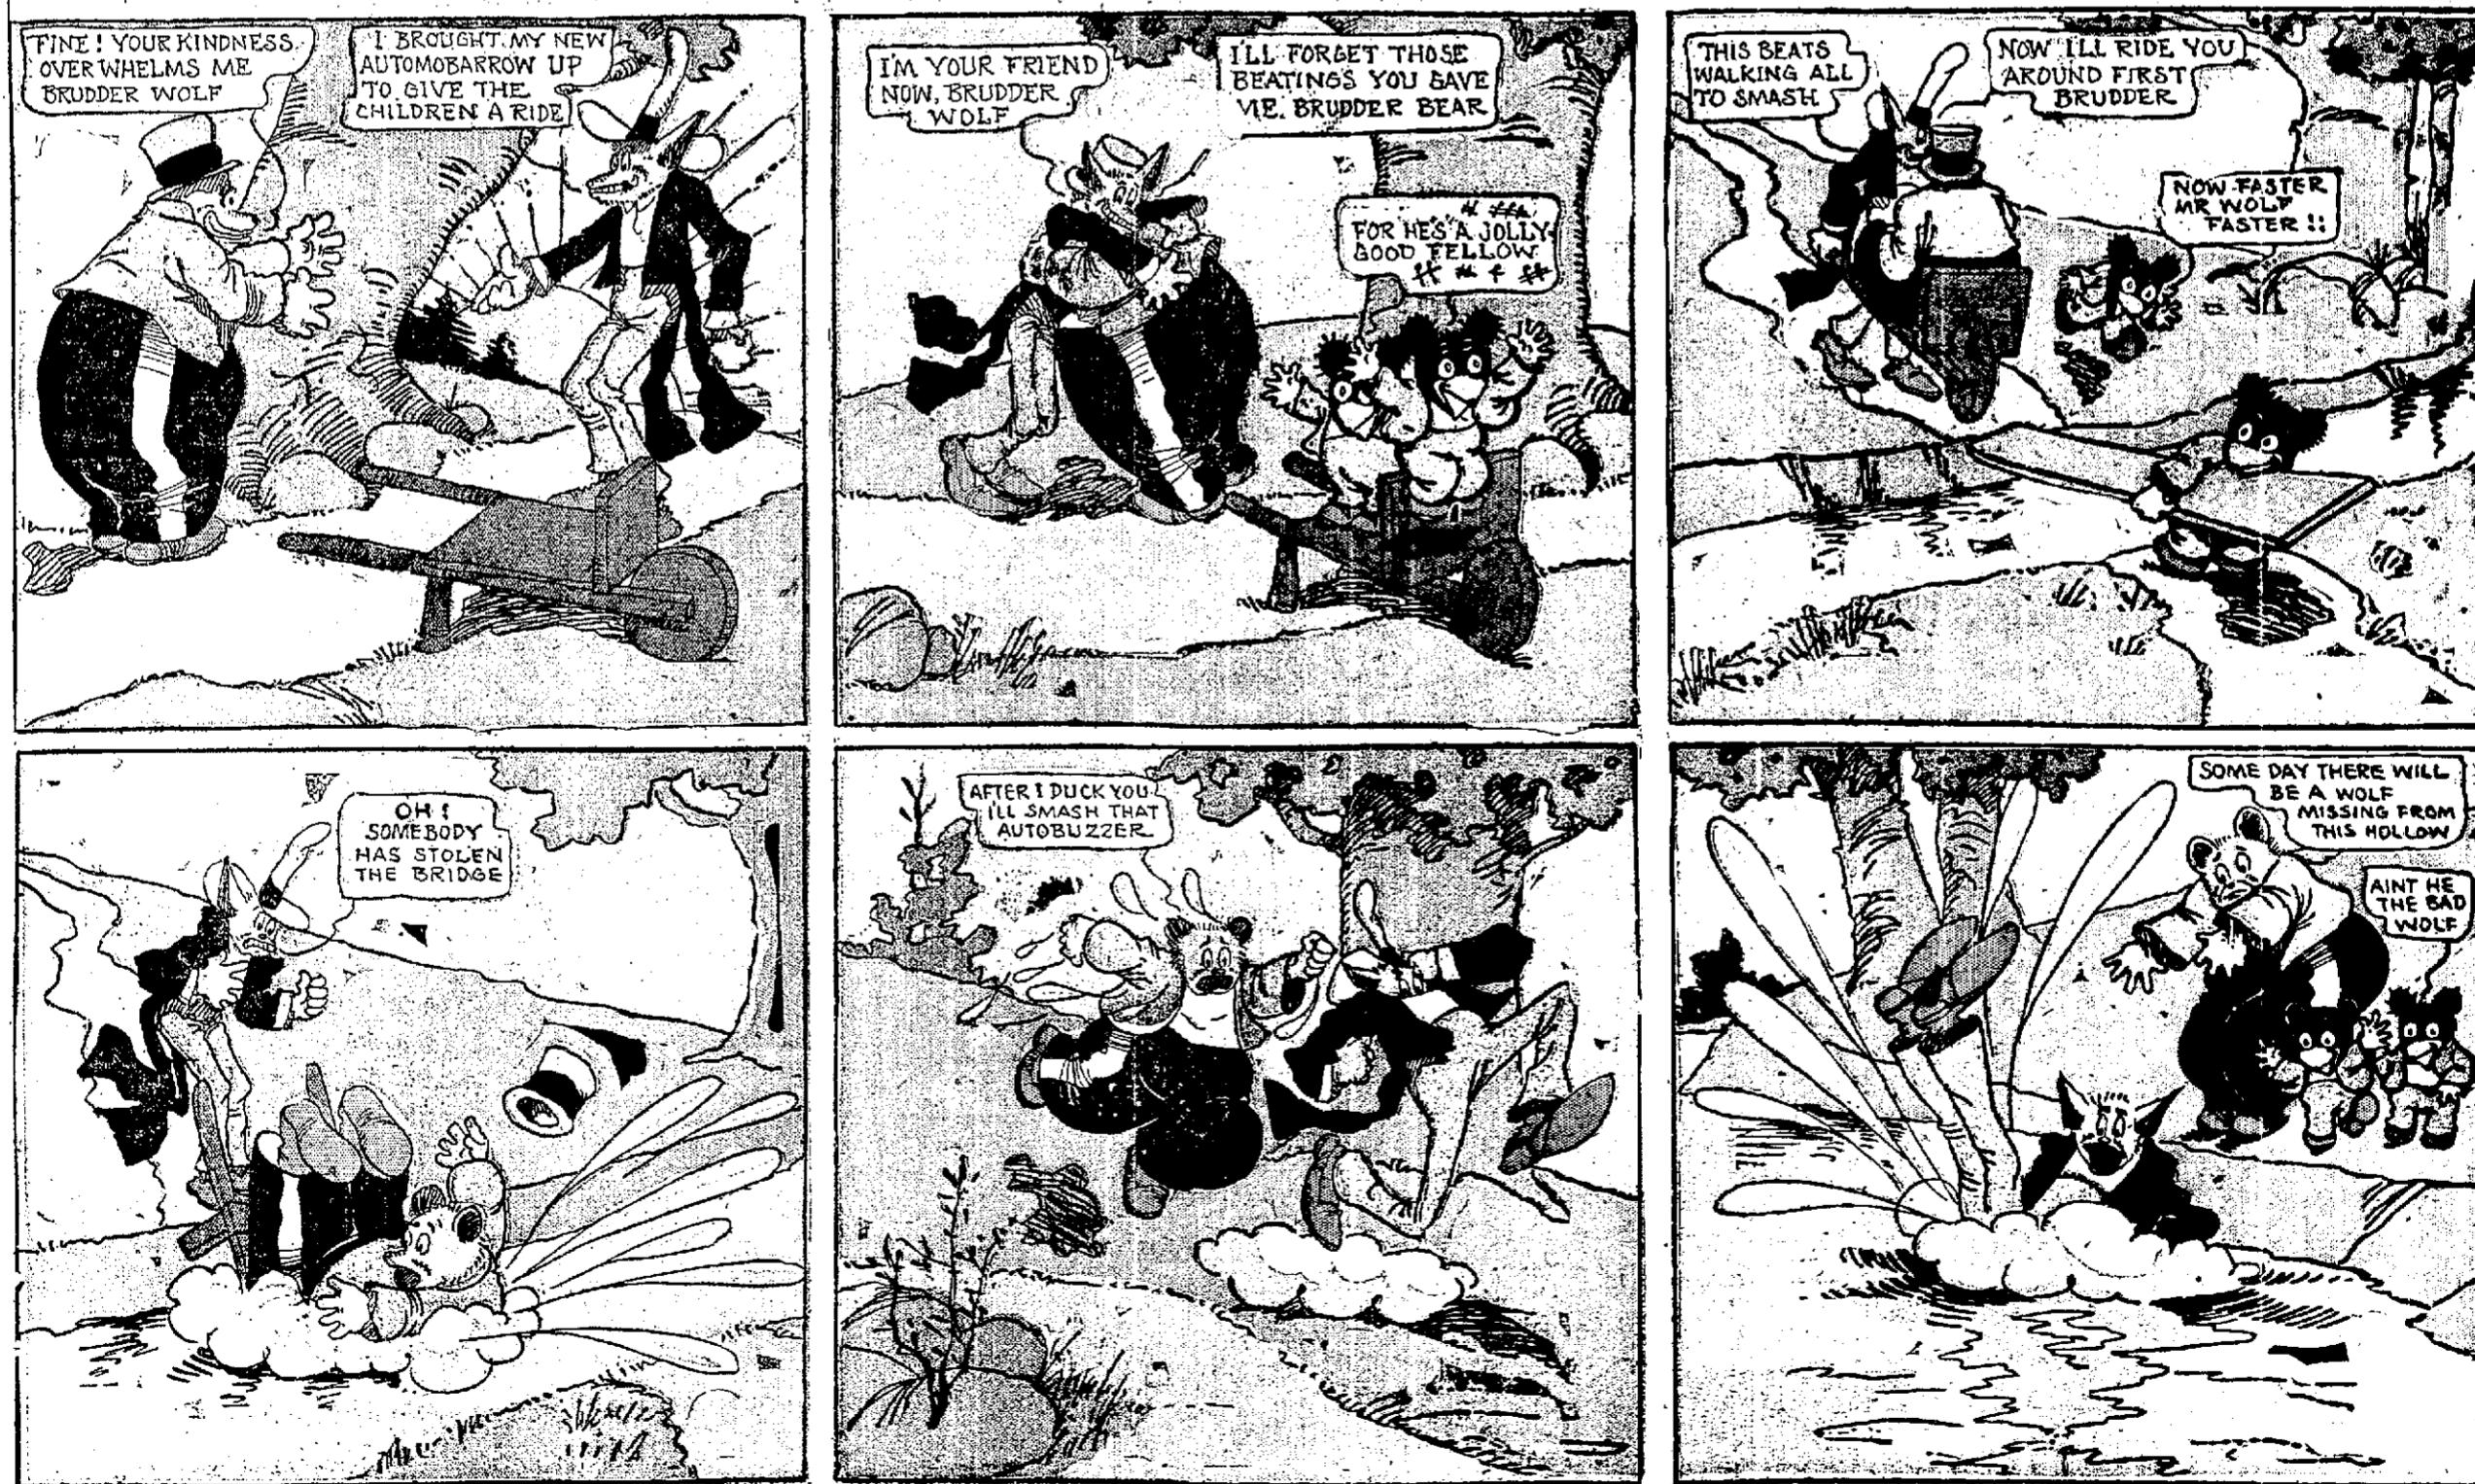

TWELFTH—AT WASHINGTON, OAKLAND

Comic Section THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE Sunday

Uncle Louie MADE A STRIKE VOT VAS A Strike, DING BUST IT

SPLASH! WASN'T IT MEAN of THE WOLF?

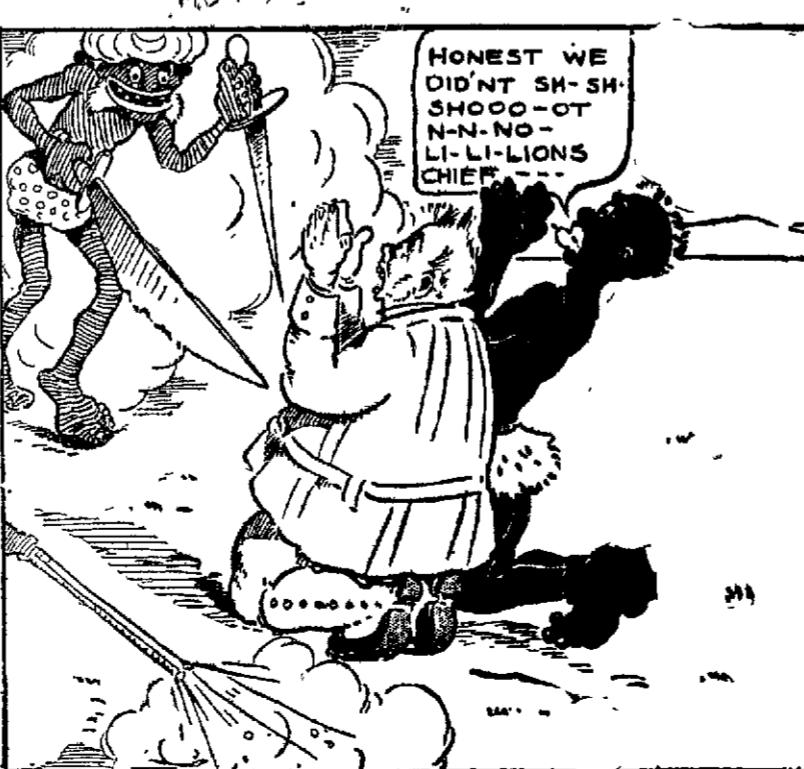

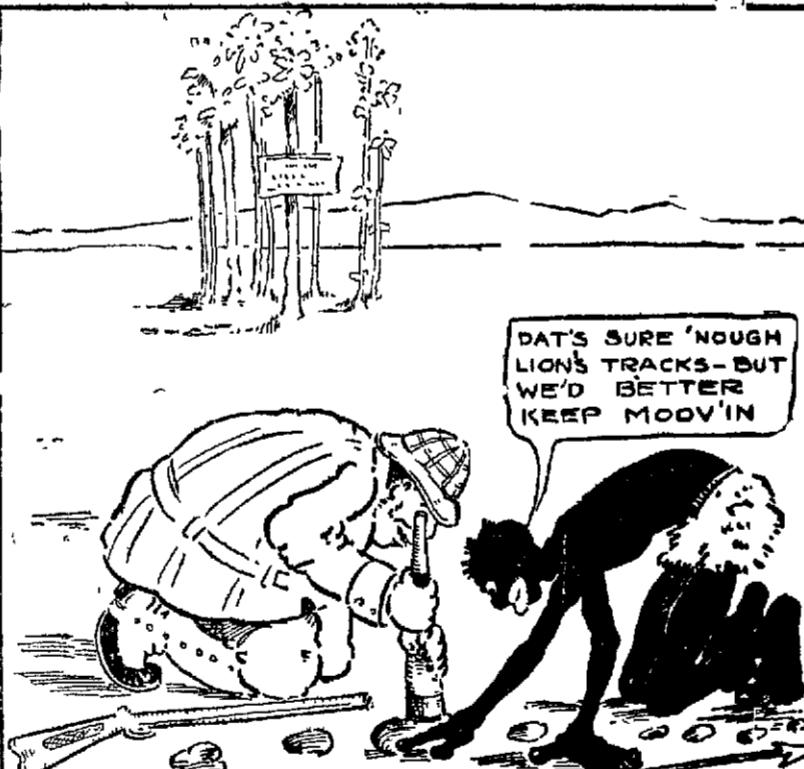

Thirsty Thomas GETS A COOL DRINK

J. GALLAGHER

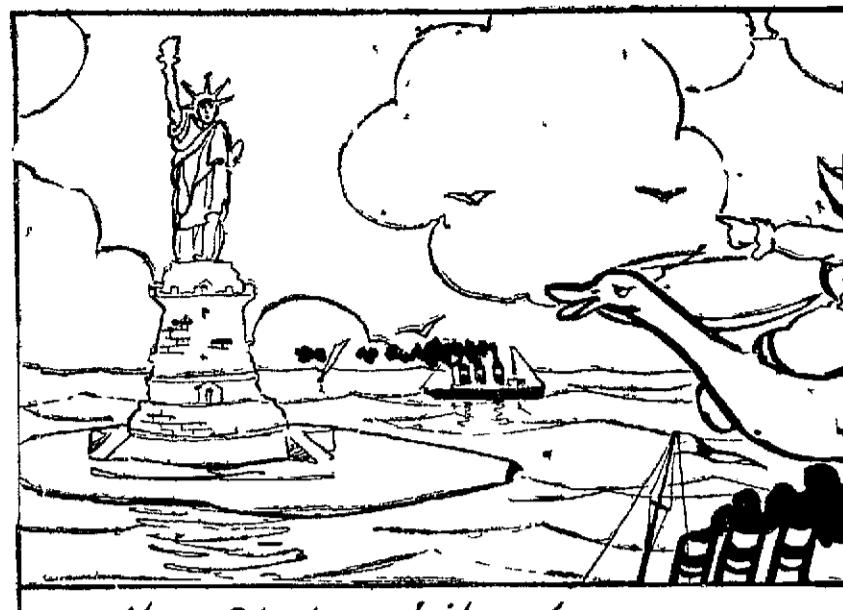

Mr. English SEEKS and FINDS A LITTLE TROUBLE~

A RESCUE FOR HANS and GRETCHEN

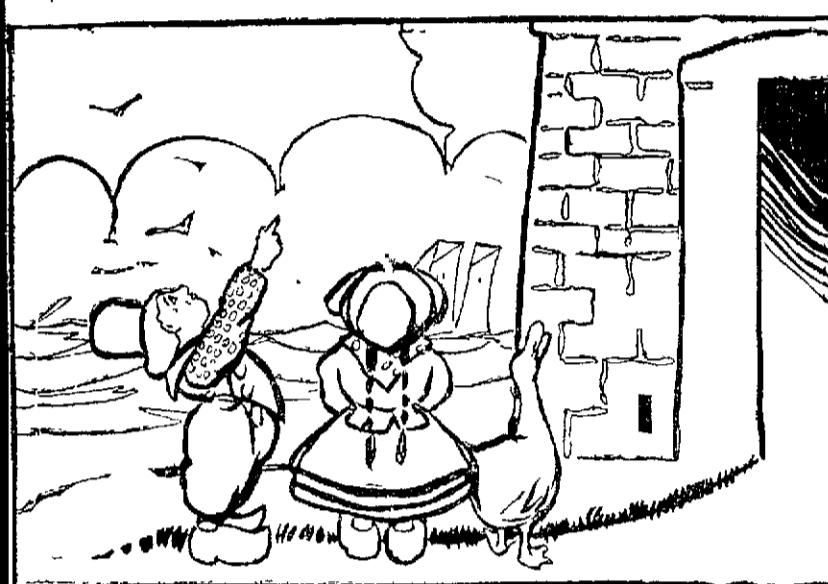

Said Hans to Gretchen "We will Fly
From the Sea Shore through the SKY"

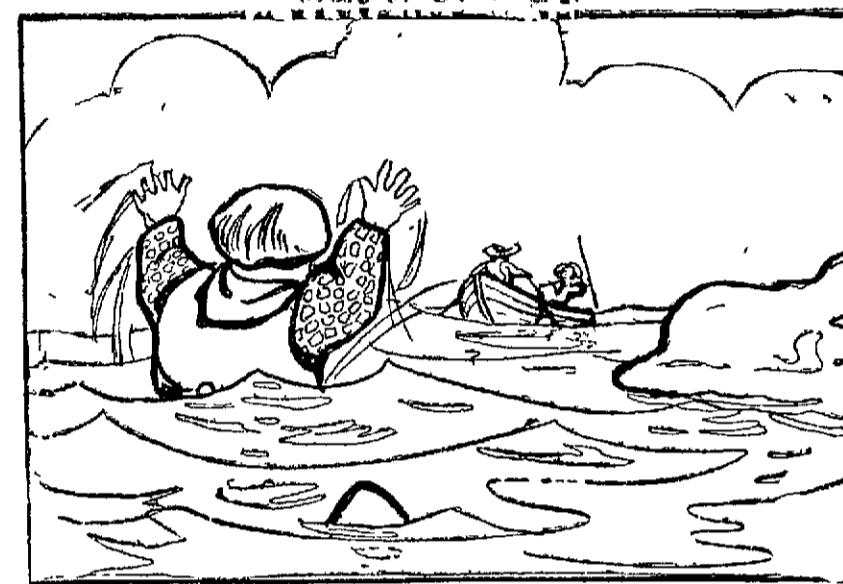

To the Statue Liberte
Where we'll rest a while and see

All the Vessels going past
Some with steam and some with MAST

We will climb this Statue Tall
Where the view is best of all

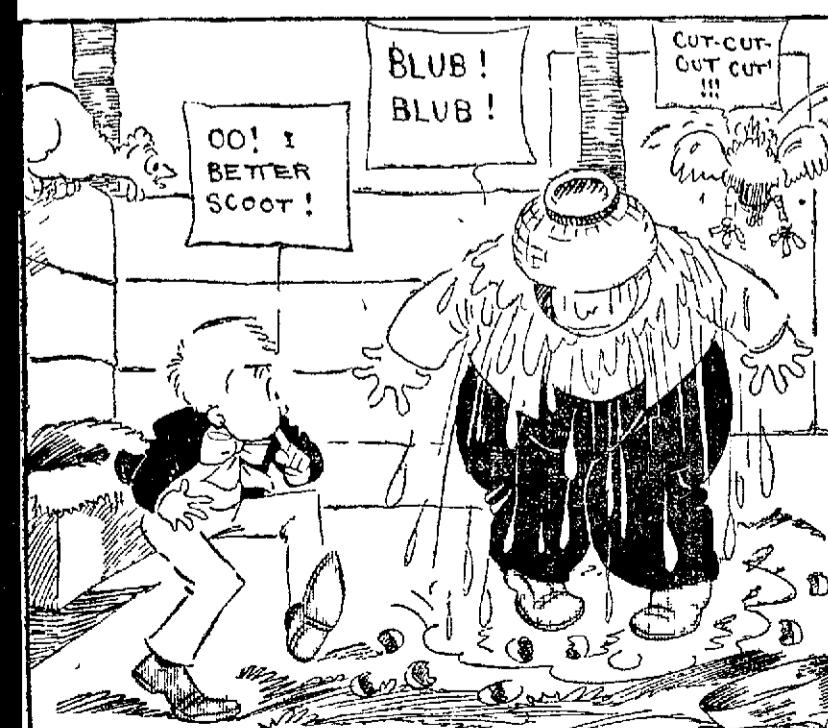

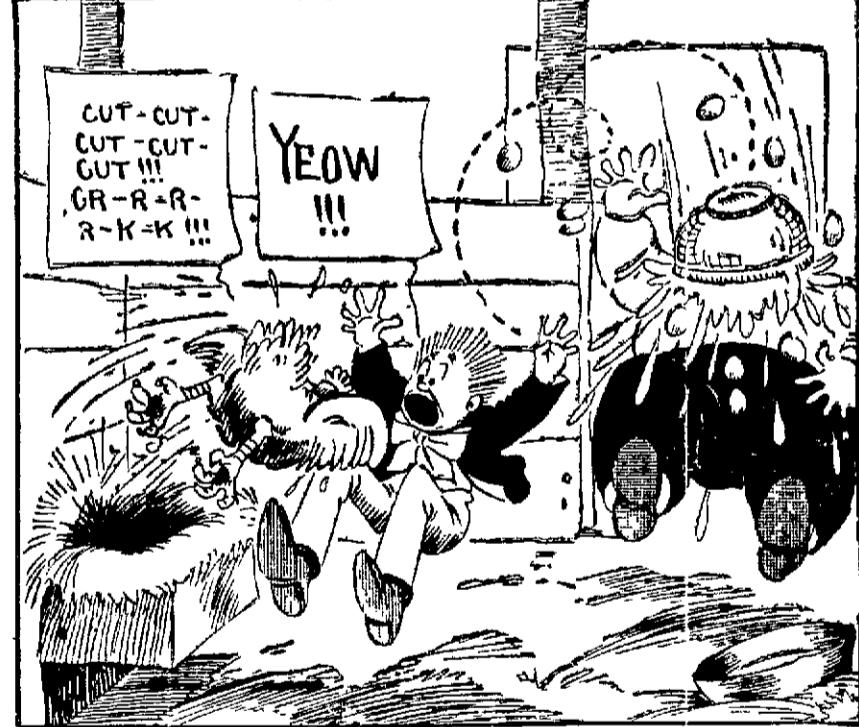

So they Climbed but sad to say
Hans fell off into the Bay

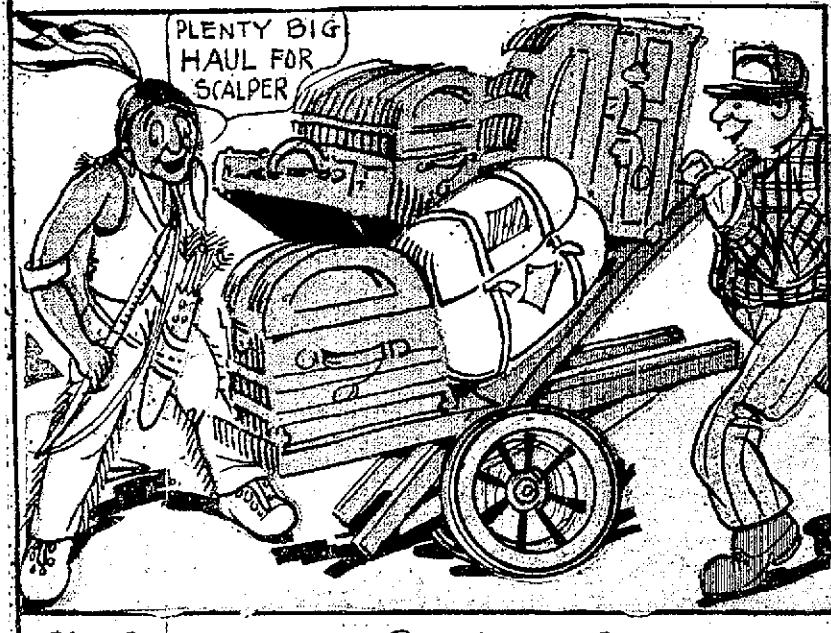

But was Rescued soon again
By Life saving Station Men

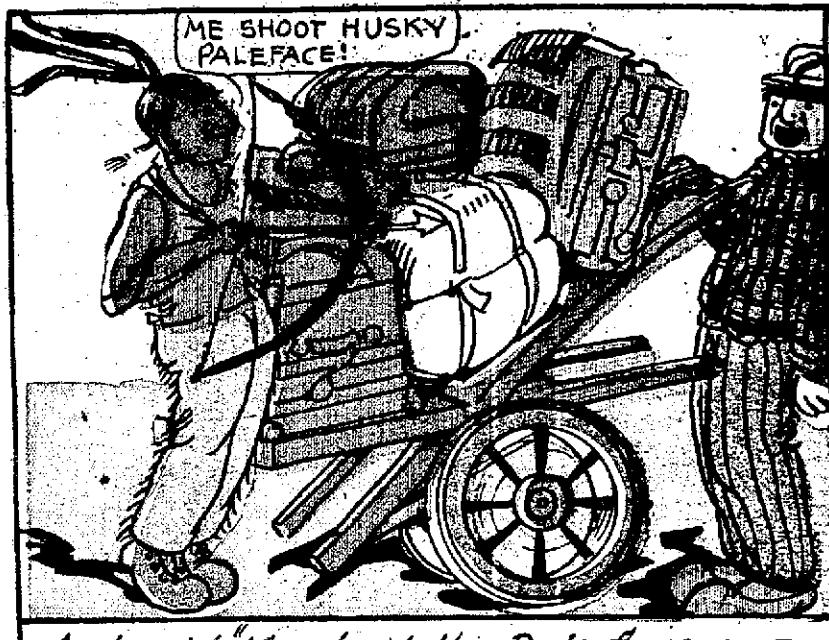

SCARY WILLIAM HUNTS EGGS AND ALSO GETS SCARED AGAIN

BIG SCALPER ON THE WAR PATH

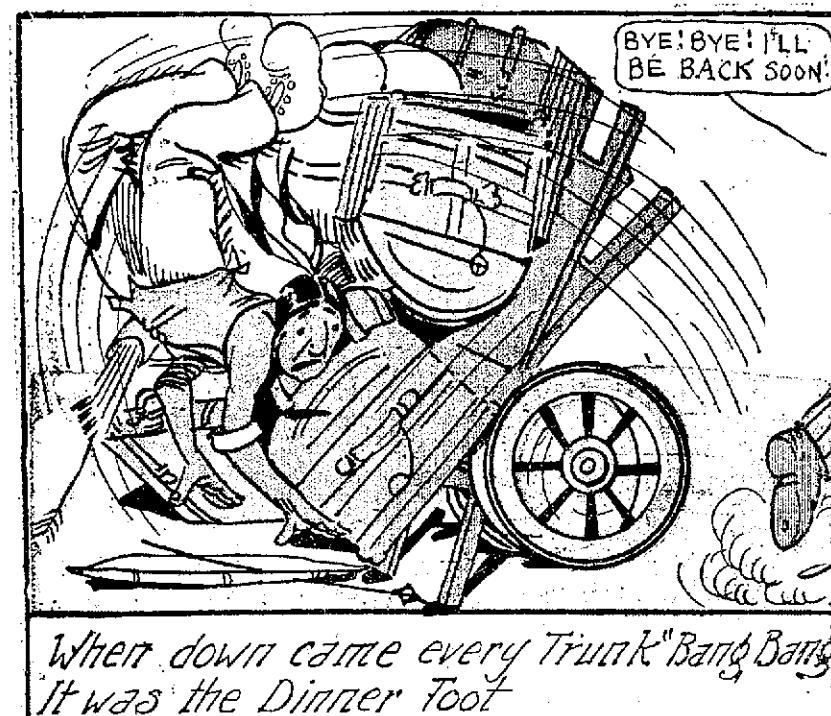

Big Scalper saw a Baggage Smasher
With a lot of trunks

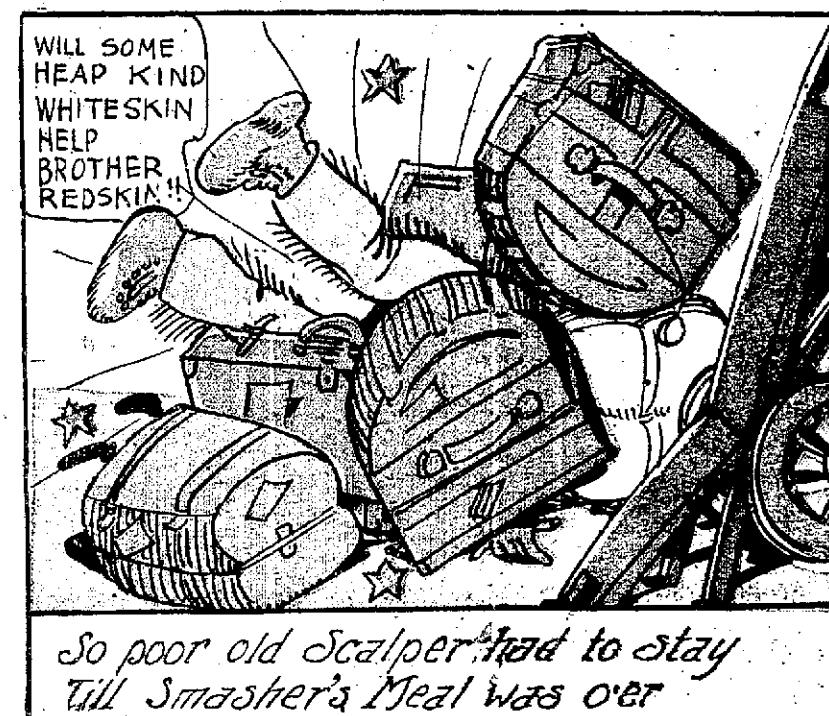

And said, "Me shoot the Pale face now,
Me get much Gold in Chunks

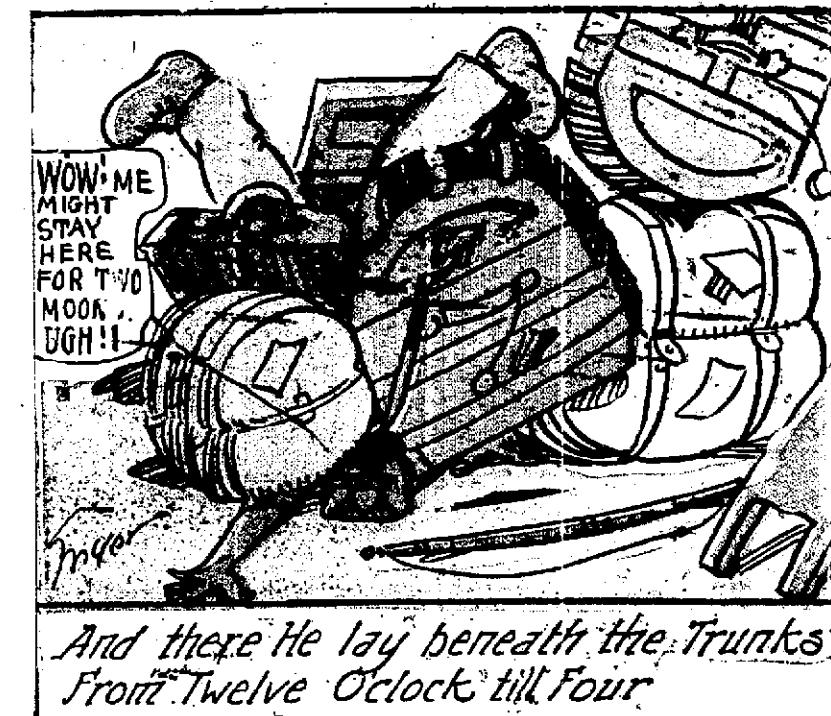

He Drew His Bow and Arrow
And was just about to shoot

When down came every Trunk "Bang Bang"
It was the dinner hour

So poor old Scalper had to stay
Till Smasher's Meal was o'er

And there he lay beneath the Trunks
From Twelve O'clock till Four

GEORGE HAS AN ADVENTURE IN THE JAPANESE TEA GARDEN

